JEROME'S REPLY TO HIS ACCUSERS

Denies All Charges and Says All Based on Mere Assumption.

SOURCE OF CAMPAIGN FUND

Did Not Know Whence Money Came No Evidence of Crime Against Hyde or Promoters of the Shipbuilding Trust.

ALBANY, N. V., March & District Attorney Jerome filed 15day with Judge Hewles his answer to the charges preferred by William F. King, ex-president of the New York Merchants' Association, and a committee of mineral and a committee of minority stockholders of the Metropolitan Street Railway Com-pany, in which the Governor is asked to

of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, in which the Governor is asked to remove Mr. Jerome from office. The answer is a general debise of the charges. The Governor said he would announce the procedure to be followed after he had examined the document.

The District Attorney's answer declares that the charges against him were based on assumptions which are purely gratuitous; that in each instance of alleged failure to prosecute, the matter did not, as a matter of haw, constitute a crime or, if the orime had been committed, it was by reason of some defect of evidence, such as the lack of corroboration with impossibility to sustain a prosecution; and that the law and the obligations of his oath of office alike forhade him to institute prosecutions in the absence of evidence to justify them. Each of the 25 charges against him was taken up by Mr. Jerome and answered in detail. Mr. Jerome and snawered in detail.

Where He Got Campaign Fund.

With reference to the charge which relates to Mr. Jerome's campaign fund, which was it charge of Howard S. Gaus, one of his assistants, Mr. Jerome stated that "save and except a few instances" he was not informed and did not know from whom the contributions to the expenses of his campaign were made. The answer sets forth also that the largest contributor to the fund, so far as Mr. Jerome knows, was Samuel Untermyer, who has been for a long time a personal rriend of the District Attorney. Mr. Untermyer's contribution was $5000. The charges against Mr. Jerome alleged that With reference to the charge which recharges against Mr. Jerome alleged that this contribution was improper on the ground that Mr. Untermyer was an attor-ney for James H. Hyde, ex-vice-president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. To this the reply is made that Mr. Un-termyer at that time dis not represent Mr. Hyde in criminal matters, and that neither before or since that time has any evidence been produced to indicate that Mr. Hyde had been guilty of any criminal set.

Denial is made that Mr. Gans, since ben an active practitioner of the law, has at any time received any favors, or been shown any other or greater courtesies or considerations than is shown to every gratteins lawyer. Denial is made also that any favors have been asked or received of the District Atterney from any correction.

Why High Financiers Escape.

With reference to the charge against with reference to the charge against the District Attorney to the effect that he had falled to bring prosecution for any alleged criminal conspiracy for the flotation of illegal, worthless and fictitious securities of the United States Shipbuilding Company in 1902, Mr. Jerome replies:

That while it was possible a crime had been committed and that certain persons commented with the enterprise had been guilty of procuring money by false representations, the legal evidence to prove the faisity of the representation could be secured only by taking the testimum of the witnesses in five different states.

Under the elementary criminal law, Mr. ons, when taker are not available either for preliminary steps to a prosecu-tion or upon the trial of a criminal case, and that he had no means of securing the attendance of wilnesses whose testimony and that he was, therefore, powerless to Still Has Some Friends.

In reply to the allegation that the District Attorney had lost almost completely the confidence of the people in the County of New York, the answer disclaims any ability to judge of this assertion, but sets forth, bearing upon the question, some of the numerous letters which he has been receiving since these charges have been tiled, containing assurances of confidence and expressions of approval of his course. The letters referred to are communications. The letters referred to are communica-tions from Joseph H. Choate, ex-Am bassador to Great Britain; General Benjamin F. Tracy, ex-Secrétary of the Navy and Edward M. Shepard.

Charles Drury, a tailor, is the only candidate in opposition to Wright, and Drury is not a formidable opponent. There is prevalent among politicians a belief that Drury was drawn into the contest by Republican politicians to em-barrass Wright and to make it impossible for the Democrats to take any part in for the Democrats to take any part in the Republican fight. Drury attempted, without success, to make attacks on Wright, but after two unsuccessful at-tempts to field the attention of his crowds, Drury had to give it up.

Prior to the time Wright was made grain inspector, in 1897, he lived at Day-ton, in Columbia County, During the time he was in state service he con-tinued in close touch with Eastern Washington politics and a recent straw vote on the East Side shows that Wright leads all other men suggested for the Demo-cratic nomination,

The official programme of the visit has not been allowed to be printed, and the houses along the streets through which the King is to pass, have been thoroughly searched. The peril to the King does not come from the Republicans, whose organization yesterday formally declared against a hostile manifestation, but from the Anarchist wing of the Carlists, who are conducting a campaign of bomb operations as reprisals for the alleged lit-treatment of their comrades who are confined in the Moot Juich Prison.

General Linares has declined an offer

SEATTLE. Wash., March 9.—(Special.)— That several school buildings in Seattle are fire-traps is the declaration of James Stephen, architect of the School Board of this city. The buildings which are con-demned are those which until recensive were outside the city limits, coming in by annexation.

annexation.

Aroused by the fearful results of the collinwood disaster, the School Board and the Fire Marshal have been making daily inspections, and while they have found the pupils fairly well drilled and inder such discipline as to enable them to vacate buildings in good time, they have found that numerous buildings are so constructed as to make them veritable bre-trans, and that only a very few of them have fire escapes.

A flagrant example is the building in that section known as Columbia, where a basement was found littered with trash of all kinds, too close to the furnace.

As the result of the inspection a meetng of the School Board was immediately called, and steps will at once be taken to remedy the conditions, which, it is de-clared, threaten the lives of hundreds of children of the city.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 3.—John F. Mr. Stevens says that the canal will not help the United States in its trade with South America, as practically ail of the inhabitants of the southern continent are east of the Andes.

Stevens also says that our commercial relations with the islands of the Pacific and the Far East will be little benefited. Our coal and wheat centers are inland. Their products have to be started on their way by rail. When once loaded on cars it would not be cheaper to ship to the Atlantic and then ship to the East by way of the canal than it would be to send directly to the ports on our Pacific Coast and then get on board ship. Furthermore Mr. Stevens believes that our coal supply is fast diminishing and that China will be the source of future coal supply. Siberis, he says, will be the wheat country of the future, with India a close second.

Mr. Stevens maintains that the Panama Canal will not meet expenses and will cost more than is expected. The date of the completion of the canal he fixes as January, 1915. The idea of the canal being of great value to us in times of warfare, since our navait forces can be quickly sent from one coast to the other, he says, is abaurd.
