HUNTERS TO GUARD GAME

SPORTSMEN ORGANIZE TO ENFORCE PROTECTIVE LAWS.

W. F. Lipman Replies to Warden Baker and Renews Charges of Neglect of Duty.

A number of Oregon sportsmen have become involved in a controversy with J. W. Baker, State Fish and Game Warden, and W. F. Lipman, one of their number, recently published a letter in which he openly censured the state official for alleged neglect of duty.

In answer to Mr. Lipman's letter, Warden Baker replied to the effect that wherever violations of the law were prevalent it was the sportsmen themselves who were responsible and asks why men of Mr. Lipman's character did not report any noticeable violations of the law when congnizant of the same. Mr. Baker uses some highly caustic terms in referring to sportsmen who fail to inform him of such violations. To Mr. Baker's letter, Mr. Lipman makes the following reply:

We knew, and have known for some time, that the game wardens were fully informed as to violations of the law in the matter of selling game in restaurants and hotels, and for that very reason a body of sportsmen have gotten together and purchased for themselves game in different restaurants and hotels in order to satisfy themselves that the law was actually being violated. Not having any organization, we could accomplish nothing, and had to be satisfied to leave the matter in the hands of the game wardens. Of late we have succeeded in organizing throughout the state, and intend to take it upon ourselves to see that no game is sold in violation of the law in this state. We have men in every city and town who will make it their business to look into such violations, and whether the game wardens do their duty or not, the lawbreakers will be brought to justice, and these men will continue to act in this capacity until we can get sufficient game wardens who will do their duty.

As far as the rest of Mr. Baker's letter, which refers to me personally, is concerned, it seems to me that it merely substantiates what I charged him with doing. For a great part of the time that Baker has been game warden, I have been shooting on Batchellor's Island, in the State of Washington, and when he charges me with being a "game hog," he does so in a futile effort to vindicate his own lax policy. If Mr. Baker is really sincere in his desire to uphold the law, he might satisfactorily explain how he came to ship an immense quantity of venison to James J. Jeffries and party on the occasion of the visit of that worthy and his friends to Oregon recently. Any further charges by the game warden I shall meet gladly and I can assure him that he will find the argument most interesting before it is concluded.

Fine Hindus $500 Each.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 10.—Police Magistrate Williams today imposed fines of $500 each on 18 Hindus who last week arrived in British Columbia and who were unable to pass the educational test provided in the provincial government's new Natal Immigration Act.

"American butter" is the name given in Syria to oleomargarine.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

JURY RETURNS VERDICT IN THE WYNNE CASE.

Charge of Murder in First Degree Not Sustained—Fifteen Years Maximum Sentence.

John Wynne, charged with the murder of W. H. Du Puls, was convicted of manslaughter in the State Circuit Court yesterday afternoon. The verdict was returned at 5 o'clock, after the jury had been out an hour and 45 minutes, and was not unexpected, as the best the prosecution hoped for was conviction of murder in the second degree. The time for passing sentence was not set by Judge O'Day, in whose department the case was tried. Under the verdict Wynne can be sentenced to from one to 15 years in the penitentiary, as the court may see fit.

The instructions of the court to the jury were brief. Judge O'Day finished his charge at 3:30, and the jury retired in the custody of Bailiff Hill, returning with the verdict at 4:55. Self-defense was Wynne's defense. Du Puls, he said, was a strong man, whereas he himself is a cripple. The shooting was done the night of December 11, 1907.

Judge Parsons, of Tacoma.

TACOMA, Wash., March 10.—Judge Galusha Parsons died today, aged 85 years. He was a native of Buffalo, N. Y., and practiced law there and later at Des Moines, Ia., and for the last 20 years in Tacoma. His widow, two sons and a daughter survive. The interment will be at Des Moines, Ia.

Printers Go Back to Work.

WALLA WALLA, March 10.—(Special.)—The strike in the composing rooms of the Washington Printing & Book Manufacturing Company came to an end this evening upon the arrival of State Organizer H. H. George, of Spokane. The printers returned to work under conditions that have previously prevailed and any differences between them and the company will be decided by the head officers of the International Union.

Chicago—The arrest and prosecution of one principal and the janitors and engineers of seven public and private schools was demanded by Acting Building Commissioner Robert Knight in a letter to George H. White, City Prosecutor. The offense is locking doors of schoolrooms.
