

AGREE TO SUPPORT GIVE TO THE PARTY

Majority of Hodson Republicans Come to Decision on Senatorial Question.

U'REN IS THE CAUSE

Withdrawal of Oregon City Man Brings Republican Factions Nearer Common Ground—Statement No. 1 to Be Ignored.

Withdrawal of W. S. U'ren from the contest for United States Senator caused members of the Hodson-Sichel-Balloy ticket last night to announce that they will vote in the Legislature for the Republican primary nominee for the Republican primary nominee in the general election, whether that nominee shall win against the Democratic nominee in the general election or not. This announcement was made by C. W. Hodson and Sig Sichel, with the assurance that J. C. Bayer will do the same. The 13 candidates for the House, on the Hodson-Sichel ticket, are expected to do likewise.

John Driscoll and John B. Coffey, candidates for the Senate on the ticket with Hodson, Sichel and Bayer, were surprised to hear of this new turn of affairs and remarked that they did not see how U'ren had changed matters much regarding the Senatorship, since they believe the Republicans would surely have repudiated him at the primaries. They would not answer whether Hodson's action meant a cleavage between themselves and the rest of the ticket. The Hodson ticket, if its other members shall follow Hodson's lead, now rests flatly on the platform of the Republican County Convention of February 23, which called legislative candidates to refuse to "take a pledge that would require them to support a Democrat, Socialist or Populist in the Legislature, and instead to vote for the Republican voters' choice for United States Senator." So long as it was possible for U'ren to withdraw from the contest, nomination members of the so-called Hodson ticket say that they would not bind themselves to vote for the Republican voters' choice in the Legislature, but would vote for U'ren, but if U'ren is not a Republican, but a Democrat-Socialist-Populist, as they did not wish Republicans to support.

Ignore Statement No. 1.

This declaration means that the members of the above-mentioned ticket will ignore Statement No. 1 and Statement No. 2 and take in their place a statement binding themselves to support the Republican voters' choice. That choice will be made by Republican voters at the primaries April 7. The declaration also means that the members of the ticket will ignore the result of the contest between the Republican nominees and the Democratic nominee in all probability Governor Chamberlain in the June election. The Republican nominee will be either Senator C. H. Fulton or H. E. Calk, since but two weeks remain for any new candidate to launch himself—a period regarded too short. It means that the Republican voters will not bind themselves to vote for a Democrat for United States Senator. This is the attitude also of Dr. Emmet Drake and E. H. Cook, who are members of the State Senate, of the Idleman-Davis-Gill element.

The effect of this announcement is to bring together the Republican voters on a platform, so far as election of United States Senator is concerned, the Hodson-Sichel-Balloy camp and a large part of the Idleman-Davis-Gill element. Some part of the last-named group still is boosting Statement No. 1, and may launch a Statement 1 ticket. To this part belong Mr. Idleman, chairman of the county central committee, Ben Selling, chairman of the recent county convention, Thomas McCusker, Dr. H. W. Cook and H. E. Calk. Mr. Hodson and Mr. Sichel authorized the announcement last night that they will vote in the Legislature for the "people's choice" of the Republican primaries. "Who are the people?" asked Mr. Hodson, and answered, "They are the Republican party because there are more of them than any other persons. Therefore the people will vote for the choice of the Republican primaries."

Purpose of the Pledge.

"My purpose in taking the pledge to 'vote for the people's choice' is to secure the election of a Republican Senator. So long as Mr. U'ren was a candidate there was danger of his being the choice of the Republican primaries, owing to the split vote against him, and even of the June election, I for one was determined to be free from any possible obligation to vote for him and I didn't want to be elected to the Legislature tied to that obligation. "The same sentiment is held by other candidates for the Legislature. We were resolved to take no chances with U'ren. He is no Republican. If Mr. Fulton or Mr. Calk shall be the primary choice for United States Senator I will vote for him."

LEAGUE TO USE BOYCOTT

Seattle Exclusionists Propose to Rid City of Orientals.

SEATTLE, March 12.—The boycott will be used freely in Seattle as the weapon of the Asiatic Exclusion League against the Japanese. The league was formed for the purpose of waging a campaign against Orientals, Japanese in particular. Little progress has been made in its efforts to drive out Japanese labor, and tonight the league decided to apply the boycott to such firms or business houses as refuse to discharge their Oriental help. The firms will first be given a chance to get rid of such help, and if they do not comply with the demand of the league, will be placed on a blacklist. Since the membership of the list is made up almost exclusively of trades-unionists, who know how to apply the boycott effectively, the action of the league is likely to prove serious.

SLAP AT SUPREME COURT

Judge Dooley Refuses to Rule on Industry Declared Lawful.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Abraham Tuel's release from the County Jail upon bail aggregating over $200,000, which he claims he can promptly furnish, was temporarily delayed today by the absence of Judge Frank H. Dunne. Judge M. T. Dooley, sitting for Dunne in the Tuel-Buller criminal libel trial, declined to act in Tuel's case.

Dooley, sitting for Dunne in the Tuel-Buller criminal libel trial, declined to act in Tuel's case. Henry Ach, leading counsel for Tuel, moved to withdraw the plea of guilty and dismiss the other extortion indictments, but Judge Dooley declared he had not been authorized by Judge Dunne to act in the matter and preferred not to do so. The court said, "Now that the industry these defendants were engaged in has been declared lawful, the indictments would in the regular order of things have been dismissed, but he continued the matter until Saturday morning. He also declined to consider the matter of bail for Tuel upon the other indictments.

Judge Lawlor's department Assistant District Attorney Heney stipulated that the affidavits and proceedings on the motion of the defense on indictment No. 222 might apply to all 14 indictments in the United Railroad trolley cases. Judge Lawlor said he wanted all affidavits in at the earliest possible moment, and continued the case until next Monday morning, at which time he expected both sides to have completed their evidentiary showing.

This brought a flood of objections from Ach, and Judge Lawlor modified his ruling to the effect that the evidentiary showing must be completed by next Monday, unless a proper showing is made to the contrary.

SAYS THEY WILL RECANT

CHAIRMAN THOMAS THINKS FAITHFUL WILL RETURN.

Believes Democrats Who Have Registered as Republicans Will Vote Party Ticket Next June.

That the many Democrats who are registering as Republicans in order to participate in the nomination of Republican candidates in the primaries, will return to the Democratic ticket in the June election is the firm belief of George H. Thomas, chairman of the county central committee of his party. Still he does not know how many Democrats can stretch their consciences so far as to swear on oath that they are Republicans.

"When I see good Democrats, church members and reformers, going to the County Clerk and swearing before Almighty God that they are Republicans, it does not seem to me that they will, perhaps I am too straight-laced. That's what some persons tell me.

"The reason for the apparent death of Democrats on the County Clerk's records is that Democrats find too much pleasure in the Republican primaries. But it seems to me that each party ought to settle its family rows in its own house, and Democrats in ours and Republicans in theirs."

Dearth of candidates for the Democratic ticket is making the leaders of the party anxious. Thomas, however, included, only three Democratic candidates have emerged from the woods in this county—Thomas O'Day for Circuit Judge, John M. Mans for District Attorney and Tom Word for Sheriff. Said Mr. Thomas yesterday:

"The direct primary law is on trial. Since the law is new and its workings probably imperfectly understood, I wish to state to the Democrats of Multnomah County through The Oregonian that any registered Democrat who registers as a Republican in order to become a candidate for nomination for any office to be filled. However, less than one month now remains in which to file and circulate petitions for such nomination."

"Only one Democrat has signified an intention of seeking a Democratic nomination for a strictly county office (that of sheriff) by filing a petition for nomination some 60 days of opportunity to become a candidate. The offices to be filled are County Commissioner, Sheriff, County Clerk, Treasurer, Assessor, Superintendent of Schools, Coroner, Justice of the Peace, Constable, State Senators and Representatives. The Democratic party belongs to all of its members. Do Democrats want a ticket?"

As to whether it will be necessary for the county central committee to fill up the party ticket for Mr. Thomas said that the committee will not be called for that purpose unless it shall appear that he could not be filled any other way. He added that committee recommendations would raise the cry of "machine."

LAUNCH BELL'S AEROPLANE

GUIDES NICELY UNTIL "TAIL" GIVES WAY.

Experiment in Flight by New Model Machine is Considered to Be Entirely Successful.

HAMMONDSPORT, N. Y., March 12.—Professor Abram G. Bell's new "Redwing" airplane was given its test flight over Lake Keuka today by F. A. Baldwin, the engineer in charge of its construction. The machine was piloted by the Aerial Experiment Association for Lieutenant Thomas Selfridge, U. S. A. The aeroplane, after gliding over the lake on Lake Keuka for about 200 feet, rose gently to the height of about ten feet and sailed at that elevation for a distance of 219 feet at the rate of from 25 to 30 miles an hour. After having covered this distance a portion of the "tail" gave way and the aerodrome was brought down for repairs.

BIDS OPENED FOR ELECTION TENTS, BOOTHS AND SUPPLIES

Negotiations between the county and city to purchase the necessary voting booths, the expense of which is to be borne jointly, are nearly completed. The City Hall committee of the Executive Board and County Clerk Fields met yesterday afternoon and opened the bids for the supplies. The contract will be let today by the Executive Board. The bids were below the figures anticipated by the officials, and by the purchase, it is said, they will save to the people a much public money.

TYPE OF ELECTION TENT TO BE USED AT COMING ELECTIONS.

The Willamette Tent & Awning Company submitted the lowest bid for tents, booths and tables, their figure being $2012 for 100. Jennings & Sons bid the lowest on chairs, and the Mount Hood & Company bid on stoves, each firm bidding $2.50 apiece for stoves. Each firm will receive an award for 25 stoves, if the recommendation of the committee is adopted. The Meier & Frank Company bid was the lowest for lamps, being finally agreed that Mr. Miller will purchase 100 lamps, and that the city will double receive the award. The total expense of fitting up the 103 booths is $2875, and the rental heretofore has been nearly that amount for one election, so that it is evident the city and county will effect great saving for the taxpayers within the course of a few years by the purchase.

and Power Company, seems to be at hand. During the session of the Council yesterday afternoon, a long discussion of the matter was had, during which Mayor Lane and Mr. Miller expressed their views. Mr. Miller agreed that Mr. Miller will draw up a proposed franchise, setting forth what his corporation desires, and that this will be submitted to the Council for early consideration, probably within the next two weeks. The Council granted, also, to the Mount Hood Company permits to cross over the Bull Run pipe-line at two points, one in Multnomah County, near Gresham, and the other in Clackamas County, near the confluence of the Big and Little Sandy Rivers.

Suspected Some Treachery.

Speaking for himself and the members of the Water Board, Mayor Lane said that the administration, insofar as it is represented by himself and the Water Board, has no desire whatever to antagonize the Mount Hood Railway & Power Company or any other corporation that seeks to enter legitimate business in this city and vicinity. He said the reason that there had been opposition to Mr. Miller's plans upon the part of the Water Board was that the company had existed all along that the company was seeking to tie up some of the Bull Run water rights that properly belonged to the municipality, and that the company did not like the manner in which Mr. Miller sought to secure rights-of-way over the city's watershed.

GIRL TIED HAND AND FOOT

Authorities Take Charge of Girl Mother Says Is Wayward.

On the complaint of some of the neighbors of the family of A. W. McLung, who resides at 1128 East Twenty-seventh street, the police visited the McLung house last night and took charge of Pearl Daisy, a 15-year-old girl, who was found tied hand and foot to a bedpost turned over to the Detention Home, and the case will be looked into by the juvenile authorities today. Mrs. McLung told the police that the girl, who was her own daughter, was incorrigible and would not obey either herself or her stepfather, and that she had been tied up to prevent her spending the night away from home, as she had done frequently before. She said that they had formerly lived in Colorado, and that while there the girl had been so wayward that she had been confined in the Home of the Good Shepherd there.

Mayor States Position.

"If Mr. Miller stipulate in his franchise that he will not now, or at any future time, under any circumstances whatever, attempt to use water from the Bull Run River that is needed by the city, then all my opposition to his project ceases." Mr. Miller, who had previously outlined the policy of his company to the Mayor and Council, replied that he is willing to draft a franchise, in which will be incorporated what he had said about the intention of the company with regard to Bull Run water. "I have been unable to ascertain why it is that there has been this suspicion in the minds of the Mayor and the members of the Water Board that we intended using Bull Run water that the city might need," said Mr. Miller. "It certainly never was and never will be our intention to do any such thing. We filed on the water rights there because we thought that at times there would be much water that the city could not possibly use. We will use the water of the Little Sandy River, but at certain times of the year that stream is low, and we thought we might then utilize the supply not required by the city in the Bull Run River. But we will never attempt to take any water needed by the city."

Work to Be Resumed. From what could be learned from officials of the Mount Hood railroad, it is believed that the two obstacles in the way of resuming construction of the road have now been removed. One was the stringency of the money market and the other the contention of several members of the City Council that granting right of way across the city's water supply

Ring Bell Four Times.

In the fourth inning McCredie's colts landed on Olmstead for four singles and a double by Walsh, and the bell tolled for us. Cooney led off with a fifth-inning biff past third and, while the inner works of the Sox were going crazy over Malloy's sacrifice, Foxy Cooney promptly stole third base on Malloy's sacrifice. Cooney's sacrifice cut off a clear interference and big Danzig, the new first baseman who arrived only yesterday, got on to left. McCredie came through with a single and on the throwback took second. Then came Walsh with his two-bagger that hit the fence in left and cleared the bases. Malloy scored, and Bassey made Purcell leave the ball away. He scored on Danzig's out.

Sox Nearer Reach Second.

During the game the Sox never got a man as far as second, and only three got as far as first base. Cooney had the Indian sign on them from the beginning and he looks like a corner. Danzig also made a good impression at first. Beginning with tomorrow, McCredie will split his team in two. They will be called the Dutch and the Irish. McCredie will manage one team and Mac Rae the other, and there will be a ball game every afternoon from now on.

LAST OF THE SOCCER SEASON

English and Scotch Teams Will Fight It Out Tomorrow.

With line-ups slightly rearranged from last Saturday, the English and Scotch soccer teams will close the association football season Saturday afternoon, when they will play the third game of the international series. This will have made about 15 regularly scheduled soccer games for the '07-'08 season, far more than ever were attempted before, but not over half what next year's plans call for. The cup finals are being played in British Columbia and around San Francisco bay, while the Northwestern League, on Puget Sound, has shut up shop till next fall, so that the association period is about over all along the Coast. Tomorrow afternoon's English-Scotch game will end the season. The remainder of the result. Should the English win, they will have a tie on the series, the points standing now: Scotch 3, English 1.

Solomon Beats Lawrence.

In the second game of the city billiard tournament, Henry Solomon, the champion of the last season, defeated E. R. Lawrence in one of the best-played games of the series. The final score was Solomon 50 to Lawrence 46. Solomon's high run was six while his opponent made but three. Solomon seems to have it on all the contestants so far and is likely to retain the championship without much trouble.

Why the
is to become the HELMAR

Every cigarette smoker knows the "Ramleh." Hundreds of thousands of men smoke them every day. Few smokers ever heard of a cigarette of that or similar name before the "Ramleh" was introduced—certainly none knew any cigarette that offered such an enjoyable originality of flavor and uniformly high quality.

Imitations invariably follow in the path of success, and the "Ramleh" has not escaped them. Cigarettes with name spelled differently, but sounding the same, have been pushed to the front in an effort to deceive the public and "catch" some of the enormous demand for this popular brand. One small manufacturer in Boston revived a brand known as "Ramley" and hurriedly imitated box labels to suggest the "Ramleh" design. The evident object was to trade on the success of the "Ramleh" or coerce us into buying his brand.

Every effort is made to deceive the public into buying these imitative brands for the genuine "Ramleh."

What is the result? Why, the way is thus laid open for the most flagrant substitution. You'd ask for the "Ramleh" and get a "Ramly" or some other inferior cigarette with a name that sounds the same.

So we are changing the name to "Helmars" which is simply "Ramleh" spelled backwards. The box looks exactly the same—and the distinctive quality which you so much enjoy is exactly the same.

The only change is in the name which will hereafter be "Helmars" instead of "Ramleh"—and this change is made to protect you against the numerous imitations.

Be sure to remember the change in name and look for the same familiar box. You can't forget the inimitable quality. Where once you asked for "Ramleh" you will ask for the "Helmars"—and be sure you get it.
