Portland stands first in the list of wheat-shipping ports for the month of February, according to statistics com-piled by the Government. Puset Sound is placed first by the Government statis-ticians but an error of nearly 600,000 bushels is responsible for that. While Puget Sound shipped 2,066,332 bushels of Puget Sound shipped 2,055,332 bushels of wheat, according to Custom-House figures, it is given credit by the Government bulletin with sending out 2,635,404 bushels. Never in the history of the Pacific Northwest have the wheat exports held up as well as this season. February broke all records for shipments to foreign ports and the March figures will not fall far behind those of the recording month. far behind those of the preceding month. Over 1,000,000 bushels have been set affoat from Portland so far during the present month and by the first of April that much more will have been cleared.
Flour shipments from Portland have not

Flour shipments from Portland have not been as heavy as usual. This is due to the slump in the Japanese market. Business has taken a turn for the better and exports of flour for the next few months will be much better. All available space on the steamship Arabia, scheduled to sall April 15, has been taken and reservations are being made for the June steamship.

Steam Schooner Will Not Take Passengers for Cut Prices.

The steam schooner Hanalei, from San Pedro and San Francisco, arrived up resterday with 35 passengers and 600 tons of freight. The Hanalei is scheduled to sail for the South again Saturday night. Testimony Regarding Ownership of Erickson's Saloon Is Sensational.

LICENSE MAY BE LOST

Hearing Begun to Determine Rights of Rival Claimants in Attach-Flaw in Liquor Permits.

Testimony regarding the ownership of streets was taken vesterday afternoon before a Sheriff's jury at the Courthouse before a Sheriff's jury at the Courthouse. It developed durins the progress of the trial that this, the largest saloon in Portland, has been running for some time without a license. While ownership of the place is said to have been vested in the Hugo Fritz Company, the city and government saloon licenses were issued to Hugo Fritz. This is contrary to a Federal statute, which provides that the license must be issued to the corporation doing the saloon business.

On the other hand, a city ordinance,

On the other hand, a city ordinance, passed in 1907, provides that no licenses shall be issued by the municipality to corporations, but specifies that before the law goes into effect corporations doing a saloon business shall name some member to whom the license shall be issued. Each time Pritz repressed by lisued. Each time Fritz renewed his li-cense he swore that he owned the Erick-son salown, according to yesterday's tes-timony. As the law is now in effect, and as the Hugo Fritz Company, which alleges that it is the real owners of the Erickson saloon, has never designated to what member of the firm a license should be issued, it appears that it cannot now do so, and that it will possibly be put out of business.

Two Women in Case.

The old saying that a woman is at the bottom of the trouble applies in the present case. But there are two women concerned instead of one. Frances Fritz, who was the first wife of Hogo Fritz, filed a suit against him January 20 to recover 200 damages. She had employed C. V. Dolph to act as her atterney. Mrs. Fritz hold Dolph that Fritz had obtained a divorce from her in the Circuit Court of Columbia County by perjuring himself. of Columbia County by perjuring himself.

Mr. Dolph was told that Fritz swore that he did not know the address of his wife, while in reality he did. She said she knew nothing at the time regarding the filling of the suit. She had advanced money to Fritz, according to her story, when he was in business in San Francisco, but his business there failed.

Then Fritz came to Portland, obtained more money from his first wife and.

Then Fritz came to Portiana, obtained more money from his first wife and, having secured a divorce from her, married again within two months, although the Oregon statute provides that six months must clapse after a divorce is obtained before a second marriage can be contracted. Mrs. Fritz No. 1 is said to have told Mr. Dolph that Fritz then obtained more funds from Mrs. Fritz No. 2.

fritz No. 2.

Mr. Dolph's testimony on the witness stand yesterday was to the effect that Mrs. Fritz came to him last January and said that Fritz told her that the suit she had filed against him was ruining his business. She told Dolph that she still loved Fritz and wanted to withdraw the suit. Mr. Dotph told her she was foolish to do so, but as she in-sisted, there was nothing else to be

Fritz Failed to Pay.

Fritz would not pay the money which he woman alleged he owed her, so she went to Mr. Dolph again, and on January 22 a second suit was filed. This sult was dismissed at her request, and nothing more was done in court re-garding the money until February 2t, when a third suit was filed. On March after hearing the evidence, the court awarded the woman $255 damages. A few days thereafter the Sheriff levied a writ of attachment on the liquors and cigars in Erickson's saloon, which had supposedly belonged to Fritz. It was then that the Hugo Fritz Company came upon the scene to demand the surrender of the goods, alleging that they were not the property of Fritz.

At the trial yesterday testificaty was given to the effect that John P. Sharkey purchased the saloon from Erickson on October 4, 1996, for $10,000. Sharkey then went to Blumauer & Hoch and to the Weinhard estate and obtained a loan of Weinhard estate and obtained a loan of $5600 from each of them. In return the Lemcke Company, then composed of Mr. Sharkey, George Lemcke, H. W. Lemcke and Hugo Fritz, gave two notes for $500 each, securing them by a mortgage on the property. It was agreed that the Weinhard loan was to be paid first from the proceeds of the business.

Sharkey is said to have represented to the mortgagees that he bought the

At the time Sharkey purchased the saloon from Erickson the latter told of the faithful service Fritz had rendered him and said he didn't like to see. Fritz discharged, whereupon Sharkey agreed that Fritz should be given a half interest in the business when it was organized, if Fritz would pay $500. It is said that Fritz never did this.

West Not Informed.

Sharkey afterward sold his interest in the property to C. E. West. Mr. West said on the witness stand yesterday that he paid $4000 for Sharkey's $10.000 worth of stock, consisting of 160 shares. He was employed as treasurer and book-keeper. He said he never paid any attention to the license until a short time ago. Although the two licenses were hanging on the wall, he said he had not noticed in whose name they stood. He didn't know, he said, in whose name the ownership of the saloon appeared in the court on technical grounds, merely a play for time. This charge was resent-ed by Attorney Harrison Allen, repre-senting T. T. Burkhart and John E. Attchison.

"I beg the court at this time to pass on these demurrers, so we can get them out of the way," said Mr. Manning. "It is our wish to get the case in shape for trial. It is absurd to ask me to come before the court and argue points of law that have practically been passed upon by your Honor. It is frivolous to raise them now, and, as your Honor well knows, these motions and demurrers have been filled only to bring about a delay in the trial of these cases. If it were some common criminal, charged with highway robbery, there would have been no long list of demurrers and motions in his behalf, and no delay of three or four months." "I beg the court at this time to

Mr. Allen then arose and said:
"The defendants are not here to be abused for standing up for their rights. The District Attorney ought to produce authorities here, instead of pitching into the defendants. I don't like it, and I don't think Brother Manning needs to put the court through any catechism." don't think Brother Manning needs to put the court through any catechism."

Attorney Wallace McCamant, on behalf of J. Thorburn Ross, said in his argument that the informations are not clear as to whether it is intended to charge the bank officials with having the money of the state in their possession as individuals, or as officials. In case the bank was in charge of the money, he said, the informations do not allege a crime was not compulsory.

Mr. Manning replied that the bank officials did their best to comply with the demand, even making the state a preferred creditor, so that the allegation that payment would not have been legal has no foundation.

COURT OVERRULES DEMURRER

W. A. Laidlaw Must Go to Trial With Other Defendants.

In the Federal Court yesterday Judge W. A. Laidlaw to the complaint in the $200,000, of which it is charged the farmers of Crook County have been defrauded by his irrigation schemes. Laidiaw will now have to go to trial with the other de-fendants. The case is the State versus the Three Sisters Irrigation Company, the Columbia Irrigation Company, the Ore-gon Trust & Savings Bank and W. A. Laidlaw.

The project in question is the irriga-tion of 27,000 acres of land under the Carey act, surrounding the town of Laidlaw, near the Deschutes River. The state allowed a charge of $14.75 per acre for putting water on this tract. The promoters had sold 18.000 acres on this basis when the farmers had the court stop the sale, two years ago, claiming only $10,000 had been spent for their benefit. An effort will now be made to recover the difference from Laidlaw.

ally illustrated in the, cure of their own cases the truth of what I claim, namely, that my treatment is as certain to cure as it is that the patient engages my services and follows my directions. My success is due not alone to education, experience, skill and scientific equipment, but to the fact that I limit my study and practice strictly to disceases and weaknesses of men. To make maladies alone I have earnestly and exclusively devoted 25 years of my life and on them all my faculties are concentrated.

I have limited my specialty in practice to only a few of the more important disorders, so that I could KNOW these thoroughly. My experience along this one path for twenty-five years qualifies me to say positively that such troubles as Spermatorrhoen, Lost Vigor, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Gonordhoen, Syphills, Stricture and "Wenkness" can be cured perfectly—so as to stay cured. Of course I use different methods than the ordinary physician. Most of these are original with me and were devised for just such cases as the ordinary courses of treatment fall to reach.
