McCOURT DUE HERE TODAY

WILL TAKE OATH AS UNITED STATES ATTORNEY AT ONCE.

First Business Taken Up to Be Federal Grand Jury Work—Ret-icent as to Plans.

John McCourt, United States Attorney for Oregon, will reach Portland today from his home at Pendleton. He will take the oath of office, either this afternoon or Monday, and immediately will assume the duties of the office. Mr. McCourt will retain temporarily Assistant United States Attorneys Tucker and Evans, who are acquainted with much of the evidence that is to be presented to the grand jury in the pending cases.
Probably the first case to be considered by the grand jury when it resumes its sessions Tuesday will be that in which E. H. Wells, Frank Caviness, J. N. Saylor and M. J. Dorsey are charged with using the mails fraudulently. These men are accused with having received through the mails about $1400 in spurious bank notes which were circulated in this city. The investigation of this case will be

PASTOR LEAVES IN HUFF

QUITS PIEDMONT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH MEETING.

Rev. N. S. Reeves Loses His Temper When Congregation Refuses to Indorse His Policies.

According to the reports submitted to the meeting, the church has been prosperous in all lines. Mr. Reeves, however, thought he detected a determined opposition to his policy in general, and especially toward his desire that the church should become self-supporting, and when the meeting was held Thursday night he spoke very plainly. He declared that he would not submit to the opposition that had manifested itself toward him and his work.
Having thus expressed himself, he left the church and meeting to take any further action it might see fit. Mr. Reeves last night said:
"I have not a single word to say that could be construed as a reflection on anybody or any member of the church, but this matter had to come to a head. I have sought to lead the church along high
