SEEKS TO TAKE LIFE FOR LIFE

Siletz Indian Makes Desperate Effort to Slay Man Who Killed Brother.

WHISKY CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Two Reds in Jail at Toledo as Result of Fatal Stabbing Affray During Drunken Brawl. More Violence Feared.

TOLEDO, Or., March 24.—(Special.)—Larkey Logan, an Indian prisoner, was the target today for four bullets fired from a revolver in the hands of Howard Garnier, brother of Willie Garnier, who died Saturday from the effects of knife wounds inflicted in a quarrel on the Siletz reservation last Thursday. That Logan was not wounded or killed was due solely to the fact that the arm of the would-be assassin was grabbed by his wife when the shooting began, and the aim was wild.

Marshall McElwain was escorting the prisoner from the Commercial Hotel back to the jail when the shooting took place. McElwain thanks his lucky star that he, too, has a whole skin tonight, for the bullets from Garnier's six-shooter sounded uncomfortably close to his head as they passed into the sidewalk between the marshal and his prisoner.

Deliberate Attempt to Kill.

Howard Garnier, wife and mother, had taken a position on the second story balcony of the hotel, where they awaited Logan's exit from the hotel, where he had been taken for his noon-day meal. All three were armed, and no doubt had every intention of doing Logan bodily harm when they first took up their positions on the porch roof. But the Indian wife's courage failed her, for she grabbed her husband's arm at the first shot, and perhaps saved him from a more serious charge than attempted murder.

When Sheriff Ross, who arrested Garnier, searched the three Siletz Reds he recovered four revolvers. Garnier and Logan are now in the County Jail awaiting the arrival of Federal authorities from Portland.

Whisky Root of Trouble.

Bad whisky is responsible for this recent bitter feeling among the usually peaceful Siletz Indians. Portland liquor houses are known to be shipping large quantities of whisky to the reservation, and Toledo bootleggers have been doing a thriving business unmolested for many months.

Drunken brawls have been frequent of late among the Indians of the reservation. The red men have a good supply of knives and revolvers and there is no telling where the trouble will end.

Willie Garnier was stabbed by Larkey Logan last Thursday night. The wounded boy was brought to the hospital in this city, but he died Saturday. Feeling among the two Indian families is very bitter, and culminated today in the attempted murder of Logan by the older brother of the deceased Garnier boy.

CRACK SAFE AT LEBANON

Robbers Do Bungling Job and Get Nothing for Trouble.

LEBANON, Or., March 24.—Burglars entered the Southern Pacific depot office, in this city, at about 3 o'clock this morning and blew open the office safe. The heavy iron door of the safe was blown from the operator's office through the waiting-room door across the building and hit the wall on the opposite side of the depot. The inner door of the safe was not opened and nothing was secured. The depot was entered by a window which was forced with a jimmy; the office door was pried open in the same manner.

The work was "raw," and the would-be burglars were novices in the business. They must have become alarmed and quit, for it would have been an easy matter to have gone through the rest of the door which separated them from about $100. No clew has been found as to who attempted the robbery.

APRIL 4 GALA DAY AT BAKER

Crowds Expected to Attend Horse Show and Farmers' Auction.

BAKER CITY, Or., March 24.—(Special.)—Preparations are now complete for Baker City's monthly market day and second annual horse show, which will be held on April 4. Max Zimmerman inaugurated the market-day movement here and the merchants have taken hold of the project with a vim that insures its unqualified success. An auctioneer has been provided to dispose of the produce, horses, cattle or any of the products the farmers have to sell. The merchants will make a special price on all of their goods for that day, and expect to do a big business.

Another event that promises to make the market-day plan more attractive will be the horse show, which is to be held on the same day. Last year this event was a great success. Arrangements are being made to accommodate the large crowd and the day promises to be a gala one for Baker.

ROW ON OVER FREE LUNCHES

Tacoma Restaurants Appeal to Council Against Saloons.

TACOMA, Wash., March 24.—(Special.)—Complaining that free lunches in saloons is unlawful and injurious to their business and that free-lunch counters have been established by the saloonkeepers to promote the sale of liquor, the restaurant-keepers of the city have petitioned the Council to pass an ordinance abolishing free-lunch counters and will make a desperate effort to win their point. Practically every restaurant-keeper of importance in the city has signed the petition.

There are many conjectures as to what course the Council will pursue in the matter, and the saloonmen declare they will fight the passage of such an ordinance should the Council appear to favor the petition. They say they will be aided by many business men who believe the free lunch to be doing greater good than harm.

Mead Addresses Newsboys.

ABERDEEN, Wash., March 24.—(Special.)—Governor Mead came here today at the request of Pastor Hause, of the Baptist Church, to speak to newspaper carriers. The Governor was the guest of the church society and spoke after a banquet to the young Americans. Later he talked at a public reception, at which he met many business men.

FORTY-FOOT FALL IS FATAL

La Grande Youth Loses Footing While Rolling Boulders.

LA GRANDE, Or., March 4.—(Special.)—Herry Lineberger, who fell from a high cliff in Ladd Canyon Sunday and has been in the hospital here for surgical care, died today. His funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Lineberger, with a crowd of young men, was rolling boulders down the precipice when his footing slipped and he fell a distance of 40 feet to a ledge, from which he rolled to the bottom of the hill, a distance of 200 feet. He leaves a father, mother, two brothers, Oscar and Roll; three sisters, Minnie, Helen and Christina, and a half-brother, Drumm Smith. He was 19 years old.

DEAD OF THE NORTHWEST

Frank Sully, of McMinnville.

M'MINNVILLE, Or., March 24.—(Special.)—Frank Sully, who died at St. Vincent's Hospital in Portland Sunday, was buried in Masonic Cemetery at this place today. Mr. Sully was born in Illinois in 1846 and came with his family to McMinnville in 1881. He bought a farm a few miles east of town and resided there until a few years ago when he moved to town. He had been ailing for the past year and recently went to the hospital for treatment. Mr. Sully leaves a wife and three children, namely: Mrs. H. C. Patty, of Amity; Guy L., living on a farm near here, and Miss Hope Sully, at home. A sister, Mrs. Ellen Babcock, also resides here.

Halsey's Record Egg Shipment.

ALBANY, Or., March 24.—(Special.)—One hundred and eight cases of eggs were shipped from the little city of Halsey yesterday, being the biggest single shipment of eggs ever made from any place in Linn County. The shipment was made by the business men of Halsey to Portland wholesale houses, and though different firms were interested all of the eggs went on one train. The shipment comprised 5400 dozen, or a total of 64,800 eggs.

ABERDEEN BURGLARS BOLD

CRACK POSTOFFICE SAFE AND GET $500.

Overlook $1500 in Time-Lock Compartment—Work Under Glare of Electric Lights.

ABERDEEN, Wash., March 24.—(Special.)—Burglars who broke into the postoffice early this morning smashed the safe, secured $350 in cash, a lot of registered letters and stamps valued at $250. They failed to get $1500 in gold.

The robbery is the most sensational ever committed on Grays Harbor. Although the building is surrounded by electric lights and an officer patrols a beat in the vicinity the thieves were not apprehended. Entrance was made through a door which leads into the private office of Postmaster Crammatte, in which the postoffice safe stands. The spring lock was pushed back without injuring the door, but the combination of the safe was forced out with a sledge-hammer, the drawers smashed in and other damage done. The money, stamps and registered letters were taken out. In a small time lock compartment was $1500 in gold which the robbers did not disturb.

That so much money was carried in the safe was due to a notice to Postmaster Crammatte, since the financial stringency, not to deposit cash in bank. Tonight a postoffice inspector and detectives arrived to investigate.

WILL RAISE $5000

McMinnville to Exploit Resources of Old Yamhill.

LOWNSDALE TALKS APPLES

Recovers Lost Art for Willamette Valley Farmers—Tom Richardson Gives Reasons Why Publicity Campaigns Pay.

McMINNVILLE, Or., March 24.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Yamhill County Development Association, held here today, voluntary subscriptions aggregating $3000 were pledged to be added to the funds that may be raised in other parts of the county for the purpose of thoroughly advertising the resources of Yamhill County in such a manner as may be determined by the executive committee of the Association. The sum pledged today is to be paid in monthly installments extending over a period of one year. McMinnville is determined to raise at least $5000 for this purpose.

W. C. Hagerty was chairman of the meeting, and H. H. Belt secretary. M. O. Lownsdale, president of the Willamette Valley Horticultural Society, made a telling speech in favor of co-operation in exploiting the wonderful resources of this county. He also spoke of horticulture, that up to within a very short time ago had well-nigh become a lost art in Yamhill County.

Results of Late "Apple War."

"Up to the late Oregon apple war," said Mr. Lownsdale, "you had forgotten that you could raise apples in Yamhill. You were told that this valley could raise apples 30 years ago, but not now, and you had not the courage to rise up and defend your own. Through no special gift of nature other sections of the state had corraled all the glory of horticulture, and every applebuyer was told to avoid the Willamette Valley."

Mr. Londsdale told how, single-handed at first, he had waged a campaign at great odds for Yamhill County apples, and how he had triumphed to the credit of this county and the entire Valley in the apple war that followed, until the progressive forces joined together in holding the great Willamette Valley Apple Fair last Fall and was able to show the goods, thus proving that the Willamette Valley had again come into her own.

Why Advertising Pays.

Mr. Lownsdale said that if the apple industry in this Valley was to be perpetuated the growers must be wide awake and not allow themselves to suffer the loss of any advantage gained by strict attention to the care of their orchards. Manager Tom Richardson, of the Portland Commercial Club, spoke along the lines of intensified horticulture, and said that the reason of the high price paid for the choicest of Oregon apples, conscientiously packed, was because they could be eaten in the dark with perfect safety.

Mr. Richardson also gave several good reasons why the counties of Oregon should spend money for advertising. He said that Portland was spending fabulous sums for advertising the state, realizing that the state's growth means Portland's advancement, and that the Portland business men who contribute to the advertising fund get back fully 60 per cent of every dollar paid for exploiting the resources of the state at large. Colonists rates made by the railroads were bringing people here in large numbers, and that in some of the counties where a special effort had been made to induce homeseekers the gain had been close to 60 per cent in the past five years.

GUNS BOOM FOR GEN. BRUSH

Formal Salute Greets New Commander at Vancouver Barracks.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., March 24.—(Special.)—Brigadier-General Daniel H. Brush arrived at department headquarters yesterday and a salute of 11 guns was fired in his honor. He relieved Colonel Thomas C. Woodbury, who has been in command of the department since last November. General Brush was accompanied by his personal aid, Lieutenant Walter S. Fulton. Colonel Woodbury left yesterday for Fort Lawton to take command of the Third Infantry.

Colonel A. B. Dyer, Fourth Artillery, will return this week from a two months' leave of absence spent in California, and will assume command of Vancouver Barracks, relieving Major Nichols.

In compliance with instructions from the Secretary of War, Lieutenant Lewis C. Rockwell, Third Infantry, Fort Lawton, and Lieutenant Paul H. Clark, Third Infantry, Fort Wright, Wash., and two non-commissioned officers from each of the forts, will proceed to the Presidio of Monterey, Cal., and report to the commanding officer of that post for duty in connection with the School of Musketry.

The leave of absence granted Captain William K. Moore, Coast Artillery Corps, has been extended two months on account of sickness.

Orders have been issued from department headquarters appointing a general court-martial to meet at Fort Worden on March 26, or as soon thereafter as practicable. Report has it that a second lieutenant will be tried, but no information can be secured at headquarters. The detail for the court is as follows: Major Morris K. Barrol, Captain M. C. Buckey, Captain H. W. Newton, Captain E. G. Abbot, Captain K. C. Masteller, First Lieutenant C. C. Burt, First Lieutenant J. C. Peterson, First Lieutenant H. S. Miller, Judge Advocate.

CAPTURES THIEVING CHINESE

Detective Woods Spoils Bold Coal-Stealing Game at Umatilla.

PENDLETON, Or., March 24.—(Special.)—By stealing 25 tons of coal from the O. R. & N. Co. and peddling it out in the little town of Umatilla, all within the last six months, Too Soon, a Chinaman, has performed one of the most remarkable cases of thievery in the history of Umatilla County.

When arrested this morning by E. B. Woods, the O. R. & N. detective, the Chinaman had 65 sacks of the railroad's best coal stored away in his little shack. It was only a matter of a few minutes until the detective had traced up 25 tons stolen and sold by the Chinaman to merchants, saloonmen, the school district and citizens generally.

The remarkable feature of the case is the fact that the Chinaman could sell this amount of stolen fuel in a town the size of Umatilla, where everyone knows every other fellow and every other fellow's business. The railroad company has been missing the coal from the yards for some time, but despite the efforts of the detective it was impossible to locate the thief until Woods caught him redhanded.

The detective brought his prisoner to the County Jail here this evening and will file a charge of grand larceny against the Chinaman.

COOS COUNTY REPUBLICANS REJECT DOCTRINE.

Convention Indorses Work of Oregon Delegation in Washington and Adopts Platform.

MARSHFIELD, Or., March 24.—(Special.)—The Republican convention of Coos County was held today at Coquille, the county seat. Deegates numbering 124 attended. P. L. Phelan, of Myrtle Point, was chairman. The delegates adopted a platform indorsing the Republican National platform of 1904, commending the work of the Oregon representatives at Washington, and instructing the legislative candidates not to subscribe to Statement No. 1. An effort was made to amend this latter clause and there was a lively and heated discussion, but Statement No. 1 was downed by a large majority. It was decided by resolution not to make any choice as to county candidates. Delegates were chosen to the state and Congressional conventions.

COMPANY LIABLE FOR NON-DELIVERY

Bungling of Long-Distance Message Costly to Pacific States Telephone.

SUPREME COURT DECIDES

Awards $1200 Damages to Addressee—Marshfield Operator Got Nurse When Stenographer Was Called For.

SALEM, Or., March 24.—(Special.)—In reversing the case of Frances McLeod, appellant, vs. Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Company, respondent, today, the Oregon Supreme Court asserted the right of an addressee of a message to recover damages from the company in case of failure to deliver the message, if the company knew the addressee was to be benefitted by such message. The plaintiff was a stenographer at Marshfield and an attorney at Port Orford desired to have her go there to report a case. He put in a long-distance call for her, explaining to the agent that Miss McLeod was a stenographer and what she was wanted for. The agent at Marshfield made a mistake and called Mrs. McLeod, a nurse, to the phone. When asked by the attorney to come and report the case, she replied that she was already working on a case and could not go. Thereupon another stenographer was employed her fees amounting to $1200. Miss McLeod then brought this suit for damages, but was nonsuited by Judge L. T. Harris upon the ground that she was not a party to the contract between the attorney and the telephone company and therefore could not sue for breach of the contract. In an opinion by Chief Justice Bean the Supreme Court holds that where the addressee is to be benefitted by the message and this is known to the company, recovery may be had for failure to perform the contract.

The courts have heretofore declared the liability of a telegraph company for non-delivery of a message, but this is the first decision in Oregon, and perhaps the first in the United States, declaring a telephone company liable to a person whom it negligently failed to notify of a long-distance call.

Other cases decided:

John Gaffney, Sr., respondent, vs. Michael Gaffney, et al., appellants, from Clackamas County. T. A. McBride, judge, affirmed; opinion by Justice Eakin.

F. J. Eldridge, respondent, vs. Hoefer & Zorn, appellants, from Marion County. Reversed and remanded January 7, petition for modification of decree granted; opinion by Justice Moore.

D. H. Simpson, appellant, vs. A. C. Miller, respondent, from Polk County. George H. Bennett, judge, reversed and remanded; opinion by Commissioner Slater.

Preston Richardson, respondent, vs. Annie S. Griggs, appellant, from Polk County. William Galloway, judge, reversed; opinion by Commissioner Slater.

Mrs. M. E. Hall, respondent, vs. Eugene O'Connell, appellant, from Coos County, L. T. Harris, judge, affirmed; opinion by Justice Moore.

HINDUS GIVEN LIBERTY

BRITISH COLUMBIA LOSES IN COURTS AGAIN.

Natives of India May Enter Vancouver Even if They Don't Come by Continuous Passage.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 24.—(Special.)—One hundred and forty-six Hindus, the majority of whom arrived from the Orient by the steamer Monteagle, and who were ordered deported because they had not come directly by continuous passage from the land of their birth, were today released on a writ of habeas corpus. The Hindus were held for deportation under the Dominion government's order in council of January 8, which was declared today by Justice Clement, of the Supreme Court, to be altogether illegal. Judge Clement said:

"The Governor-General, in council, cannot delegate his power in immigration matters to any minister or official, even though that official, as in this case, is the Minister of the Interior. The discretion as to what immigrants shall be admitted or refused admission must be exercised by the Governor-General, in council, solely."

Tonight it is announced that the Federal government will immediately pass a new enactment in terms similar to the legislation today declared illegal, but care will be taken that no official is "delegated" with power to enforce the provisions of the law in cases where the labor market of Canada is overstocked, as the present law reads.

ENGLAND WILL INTERVENE

Attempt to Settle Canada's Hindu Immigration Problem.

LONDON, March 24.—As a result of the representations regarding Hindu emigration into British Columbia, made at the Colonial Office recently by Mackenzie King, Canadian Deputy Minister of Labor, it is probable that a special commissioner will be sent over to Canada for the purpose of arranging the immigration difficulties along the lines of least resistance.

John Morley, Secretary of State for India, has received a telegram from the British East Indians residing at Vancouver, asking for protection as British subjects, and he declared in the House of Commons this afternoon that the Indian government and the Colonial Office contemplated sending an envoy to the Canadian government in the hope of bringing to an end, if possible, "this extremely difficult, intricate and possibly dangerous situation."

Bryan Pleases North Dakota.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., March 24.—If any resolutions instructing the delegates to the Democratic National Convention at Denver, are passed by the Democratic State Convention of North Dakota, which will convene at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Metropolitan Theater here, those resolutions will be for Bryan. That is the definite statement made by Bryan and Johnson delegates, who are now gathering in the Hotel Dakotah, which is the political center of the state for the Democrats.

Case Reverts to Commission.

SALEM, Or., March 4.—(Special.)—Under a section of the railroad commission law authorizing such procedure, Judge Galloway this afternoon referred the Milwaukie-Oregon Water Power Railway case back to the Railroad Commission for new trial. The Commission granted 5-cent reductions after a hearing, and the company appeal to the Circuit Court. There the company introduced material evidence which had not been submitted to the Commission and for that reason the case goes back to the Commission.

Another District for Cannon.

AURORA, Ill., March 24.—The Republican convention of the 11th district here today elected two delegates to the National convention and instructed them to vote for Speaker Cannon for President.

I had almost given up in despair, but knowing the virtue of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for sick headache, I concluded to try the Nervine. During June, 1906, I gave him a teaspoonful three times a day, then in July I gave it as directed, and I could see that he was improving, and he has not had a spell since August 28, 1906, and has taken no medicine since Jan.-07. I am writing the case just as it is hoping it will induce others to try it."
