SAY CASE IS STRONG

Counsel for Chinese Attack Police Court Jury System.

AGAINST OREGON STATUTE

Lawyers Expect Favorable Order From Court on Petition for Writ of Review and Cite Oregon Precedent.

That the trial of cases in the Municipal Court before a jury chosen by a policeman from hangers-on about the police station is against the Oregon statute is the contention of seven Chinese, who, through Lawyers John F. Logan and John C. Shillock, filed a petition for a writ of review with the Circuit Court yesterday. It is the contention of the petition that Municipal Judge Cameron exceeded his authority when he ordered Ah Sam, Ah Louis, Ah Yet, Lung Sing, Ah Wing, Ah Fung and Ong Fit, to be tried for visiting a gambling joint, before a jury composed of loafers about the Courtroom.

It is alleged that the Chinese contended at the time of trial that they had a right to go before a jury selected from a jury list, having deposited the $6 required by law in such cases. The court denied the demand. Besides Judge Cameron, the City of Portland and Clerk F. D. Hennessy are made parties defendant to the petition.

For several years the selection of juries for Municipal Court trials has been left to the Chief of Police, says Lawyer Shillock. The clerk has been in the habit of making out the subpenas for the six jurymen, leaving the space for the name blank. It was then a very easy matter for the Chief to send a bluecoat into the Courtroom, or down the street, to pick up a jury.

Mr. Shillock said last night that the power of "railroading" persons through had been accorded the Chief of Police for years. "He is given the chance to pick up a convicting jury or an acquitting jury at will," said Mr. Shillock. "An opportunity is also given for graft to play some part with the jury. I am sure my Chinese clients will be given another trial, as the Oregon Supreme Court has once ruled on a similar case, that of George A. Cusiter against the City of Silverton."

In the Silverton Police Court, in this case, the jury was called by the same method which has been in vogue in Judge Cameron's court. The defendant protested, but his protest was ignored. He took his petition for a writ of review to the Circuit Court, and was awarded a new trial, with the result that the City of Silverton appealed the case to the Supreme Court. There the decision of the lower court was sustained. In his decision Supreme Court Commissioner Slater said:

It seems to have been conceded by the court that the defendant in the action was at least entitled to trial by a jury; and, if he were entitled to a jury at all and made the proper demand for a selected jury, which we think the record shows, was entitled to have it selected as the law provided, and he could not be legally compelled, over his objections, to go to trial before a jury selected by the officer. The trial court, therefore, exceeded its jurisdiction in that respect, and the Circuit Court committed no error in setting the judgment aside.

RESIGNS AS ADMINISTRATOR

A. B. Manley Retires in Favor of Widow of Omer B. Wirt.

The estate of Omer B. Wirt, valued at $6000, is now in the hands of Sarah A. Wirt, the widow, who was appointed yesterday morning by Judge Webster, administratrix. A. B. Manley, who was appointed March 4 as administrator, resigned in favor of the widow without protest. He said that his petition that he be appointed administrator was filed at the earnest solicitation of the family of Wirt, who died February 27 last. Mrs. Wirt was in ill health, Manley says, at the time he was appointed, but since learning that she is able and willing to act as administratrix, he is in favor of her appointment.

The estate of Cinnie Nunan, valued at $5300, is now in the hands of Jerry Nunan, the husband. He was appointed administrator yesterday by the County Court.

The County Court has ordered that $400 belonging to Charles Scott be paid to the Benedictine Sisters' Sanitarium at Oak Grove, which is to care for the aged man the remainder of his life. The order was issued upon the application of Judge Boise, the guardian.

SAYS HUSBAND STARVED HER

Mrs. Ida Firth Charges Cruelty in Divorce Suit.

That her husband starved her into submission by locking her in a room without food for three days, is the assertion of Ida Firth in a suit for divorce filed against John E. Firth, in the Circuit Court yesterday. The incident occurred in January, 1904, only six months after their marriage, according to Mrs. Firth.

Mrs. Firth also charges that her husband often struck her with articles of furniture, that he refused to support her and that she was finally compelled to leave him. Mrs. Firth asks the custody of their 3-year-old child, Amy. They were married at Hammond, Ind., July 7, 1903.

SULKS; SHOOTS HIMSELF

Grants Pass Farmer Can't Stand the Scolding Given by His Wife.

GRANTS PASS, Or., March 26.—(Special.)—Under strange circumstances William Messenger, a farmer and highly respected citizen, met death on his farm, seven miles south of town last night about 7 o'clock. From what can be learned of the circumstances, it seems that he and his wife had a slight quarrel over his driving on some flower beds in the yard. After this incident, Messenger put his team in the barn, did his chores, and sat down by the fire waiting for his evening meal to be prepared. His wife noticed that he was still out of humor, but did not suspect that anything serious would happen. Without attracting the attention of the family, Messenger took a rifle from the wall, stepped outside and what followed remains somewhat obscure. But upon hearing the report of a gun his wife ran to the scene and found her husband dying from the effects of a gunshot wound. Relatives of the dead man believe that some enemy took foul advantage of him, but the Coroner's inquest reveals a suicide. He leaves a wife and two children.

Prison Cell Is Price of Oriental Supper

John McCormack Wines and Dines Two Friends, but Is Unable to Settle Account with Proprietor.

A DESIRE to treat his friends to a good supper combined with a woeful inability to meet the bill for the "spread" landed John McCormack, an East Side resident, in the City Jail last night, on a charge of disorderly conduct. McCormack invited two good looking women to dine with him and together they repaired to a Chinese restaurant on Burnside street, near Fifth street.

Here McCormack's spirit of hospitality waxed warm under the mellowing influence of numerous libations and desiring to initiate his fair companions into the mystery and luxury of a Chinese feast he ordered all kinds of expensive dishes popular with the ultra swell set of Chinatown. The two enjoyed the repast and made exceeding merry at the proprietor's expense.

When the waiter presented the bill, McCormack found that the sum total of his finances consisted of only a few cents. In response to reproachful looks and words from the Chinese proprietor, McCormack grew abusive and rough. Amid the deprecations of the Oriental and the chagrin of the two women who were forced to leave the place without an escort, McCormack was arrested and taken to jail by Policeman Harms.
