

SILVERSTEIN HAD NO ACCOMPLICES

Is Member of Anarchist Union, but Berkman Knows Him Not.

VIOLENCE NOT ADVOCATED

Silverstein Will Recover and Be Tried for Killing Hildebrand, Who Was Innocent Bystander. Trouble-Makers Warned.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Efforts of the police to connect Selig Silverstein, the Union Square bomb-thrower, with the groups of anarchists have been successful, but thus far they have been unable to prove the action of Sunday was prompted in any way by the associates. The developments occurred today after the arrest of Alexander Berkman, the anarchist leader and companion of Emma Goldman, who served 12 years in prison for shooting Henry C. Frick, the Pittsburgh capitalist.

Berkman Denies Violence.

Berkman was taken into custody on the strength of the card and a couple of circular letters found in Silverstein's apartments, all of which bore Berkman's signature. The letters were written in Hebrew and were requests for contributions for the defense of the two anarchists recently arrested in Philadelphia charged with rioting. The letters contained no statement of an incendiary character.

REFERS BILL TO COMMITTEE

Aldrich Measure to Be Treated With All Due Consideration.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Aldrich financial bill reached the House today. After lying on the table for a few minutes the Speaker referred it to the committee on banking and currency. Soon after, Chairman Fowler said he had called a meeting for Wednesday, and the bill will be treated with all the respect that is due to a measure coming from so great and distinguished a legislative body as the United States Senate.

SILVERSTEIN WILL RECOVER

Selig Silverstein, the bomb thrower, though said to be a sufferer from organic disease of the heart, is likely to survive the terrible injuries he suffered in the explosion. The physician in attendance announced today that a piece of the bomb he threw had been extracted from near his right ear.

Folio Commissioner Bingham said today that he wanted it understood that it is his intention to deal with an iron hand with all cases of riot or disorder, but that he will not interfere with any meeting so long as the participants keep within the law.

GILLETTE IS EXECUTED

Statement of Preachers Indicates That He Confessed to Them.

AUBURN, N. Y., March 30.—Chester E. Gillette today paid the full penalty for the brutal murder of Grace Brown. He went to his death in the electric chair at Auburn prison without signs of weakness and with the same lack of emotion which has characterized him from the day he was arrested charged with the crime. Gillette appeared to have been fully reconciled to his fate, and in a statement given out by his spiritual advisers immediately after the execution it is indicated that he had made a confession of his guilt. This statement was signed by the Rev. Henry McIlvray, of Little Falls, and the Rev. Cordell Herrick, the prison chaplain, who had attended Gillette since he had been in the death cell at the prison. It was as follows:

"Because our relationship with Chester Gillette was privileged, we do not deem it wise to make a detailed statement, and simply wish to say that no legal mistake was made in his electrocution.

"The electrocution was the most successful that ever took place in this prison. A current of 1800 volts at 7 1/2 amperes was held on one minute and three seconds and at 6:18 an examination of Gillette's heart showed him to be dead.

Rev. Henry McIlvray, of Little Falls, who had been with Gillette, was so overcome at the electrocution that he was taken from the death chamber before the contact was turned off. Fearful that he would collapse, he started for the door, leading to the prison yard. Keepers walked beside him.

The communication handed to Warden Benham last night by Gillette was as follows:

"In the shadow of the valley of death, it is my desire to do everything that would remove any doubt as to my having found Jesus Christ, the personal Savior and unfailing friend. My one regret at this time is that I have not given Him the pre-eminence in my life, while I had the opportunity to work for Him. If I could only say some one thing that would draw young men to Him, I would desire it the greatest privilege ever granted me. But all I can say is to whom I have believed and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day.

"I know that I have had an opportunity to know the joy and pleasure of a Christian life. I know they would do all in their power to become earnest, active Christians and would strive to live as Christ would have them live. There is not one thing I have left undone which will bar me from seeing my God, knowing that my sins are forgiven, for I have been free and frank in my talks with my spiritual advisers, and God knows where I stand.

"My task is done, the victory won.

CHESTER E. GILLETTE.

Mrs. Gillette, mother of Chester, made a statement today, in part as follows:

"Though it is a very hard thing for me to feel Chester was responsible for Grace Brown's death, yet it was the wish expressed to me continually by me that, if he was guilty, he should say so before the world, and in his triumphant death I feel that God has answered my dearest wish and prayer.

"I feel that he should have had another trial, but he could not have had an opportunity before an unprejudiced court and jury and were fair statements could have been made and considered, but my boy was ready to go and I have nothing to say against Governor Hughes' decision. I think he did what he thinks is just, but he has shown no mercy. God has not failed us and he never will those who trust Him. I trust that there will be a strong protest against capital punishment in this, that a young life recently given to God has been taken away the way when it might have been spared to be useful to the world in one of the darkest places of that world—a penitentiary.

SESSION WITH OUTLAW

Little Ote, After Turning Down San Jose Offer, Finds He Is Richer by $67—Team Glad to Go to Bay City to See the Fights.

BY WILL G. MAC RAE. SALINAS, Cal., March 30.—(Special.)—Manager McCredie and his training squad are off for San Francisco. They are going to romp over the Seal garden, if the weather will permit, until the opening game of the season, on Saturday afternoon, playing two games in the meantime with St. Mary's College. McCredie has figured that it would be good business to have his team get familiar with the San Francisco grounds, especially his pitchers, for there is a strong wind blowing over the bay which is a puzzle to the box artists until they get used to it.

Another reason for taking the team to San Francisco is the hard training is about over. The team, with the exception of Tom Madden, the catcher, is in the fettle. Madden had the stitches taken out of his injured hand, and while it may not be in shape to play in the Seal series, he will be in the game against Los Angeles, anyhow. The move to the Bay City will also give the members of the team a chance to see the battle between Battling Nelson and Abe Attell, and also that between Jimmy Britt and Paddy McFarland, which will please all of the players.

That little sketch between Ote Johnson and Amy Mayer, the San Jose mogul of the outlaw league, has furnished the boys with lots of fun. Johnson would have jumped all right but for the straight talk that little Billy Bloomfield gave him in front of the hotel. Bloomfield is "as game as a pebble, and he told Johnson, right to Mayer's teeth, that the latter was a creek, and had cheated every player that ever played in the Seal series, and followed Mayer, Elmer Stricklett and Johnson to the depot, with practically the entire team bringing up the rear.

The little California "swirler" walked alongside of Mayer clear to the depot, calling him all the names on the calendar, and he wasn't there with a come-back. Finally Johnson, who by the time began to see that there wasn't any one of them, or all of them, that he could not get along without. The lesson will undoubtedly have a good effect.

Just as soon as the picture-taking man can get the pictures out, the fans will get a chance to see a group of the 20 men McCredie has in training. They were taken Friday afternoon, just before they started for afternoon practice.

WILL WRESTLE IN PORTLAND

Roller, of Seattle, and McLagen, of Tacoma, Matched.

Dr. E. F. Roller, of Seattle, and Victor McLagen, of Tacoma, are matched to meet in a catch-as-catch can wrestling bout to be held in this city about April 15, and the Portland sports are commencing to all up and take notice. Dr. Roller is an aspirant for world's heavyweight wrestling championship honors, and his recent defeat of Jesse Westgaard at Seattle places him in line to meet the winner of the Gotch-Hackenschmidt bout, which is scheduled for the near future.

McLagen is new to the catch-as-catch-can game, as previous to locating in Tacoma, to which city he came from Europe, he had followed the Gracoco-Roman style. A few months ago he was defeated by Roller, but has since perfected himself in Roller's style of wrestling and hopes to defeat the Seattle football player and wrestler.

Dr. Roller is well-known in Portland through having participated in several sneak game like this. He knows, and so does everybody else that has watched him, that he is on his way to the big brushes, and he is not going to kill off his chances by jumping to any weak-kneed outlaw organization.

Johnson is also of big-league timber, and now that he has come to his senses and has seen how near he came to scrambling the eggs, we bet the outlaw manager that approaches him, for he will surely get a trouncing.

Johnson was going to take the hurdles, Manager Mac smiled and said nothing. He did not even ask anyone to talk with Ote. Instead, he got ready to write for a third baseman on whom he has a string. The only thing he said was:

"I want to lose Johnson, because his place will be hard to fill; but if he wants to take the chance of joining Benny Henderson and the rest of the Down-and-Out Club, it's up to him. It will cripple us in the opening game, but we have the money to buy a corking good man, and as sure as Johnson goes, I'll wire for him."

The calling of the Portland manager took the thing made not only the old members of the team sit up and take notice, but all of the youngsters. It was simply his way of impressing on the minds of the crew that there wasn't any one of them, or all of them, that he could not get along without. The lesson will undoubtedly have a good effect.

Just as soon as the picture-taking man can get the pictures out, the fans will get a chance to see a group of the 20 men McCredie has in training. They were taken Friday afternoon, just before they started for afternoon practice.

CHIT-CHAT OF SPORTING WORLD

Dope from the Players—Little Characteristic Traits of the Men Who Will Try to Win the Pennant for Portland.

BY WILL G. MAC RAE. SALINAS, March 30.—(Special.)—Casey, Johnson and Chit-Chat were going blackbird shooting one morning last week. After they had rented the firearms and purchased the ammunition, the pound-master rounded up the bunch and threatened to put them in the dog pound because they did not have a license.

Here's the joke of the season: Can any fan in Portland imagine Pat Donahue running a hundred yards in ten seconds? Donahue couldn't negotiate that distance in ten seconds unless he had an airship attachment.

According to the dope in the Boston paper from Little Rock, where the Boston team is in practice, Jimmy McHale looks to have a chance to make the team. Evidently the bean-eating contingent is depending upon McHale's footwork and not his batting ability.

Once more the Irish and Dutch are to have a contest. This time the Dutch will sure win, because they are going to have a Dutch umpire, and because they have been feeding on sauerkraut and wieners.

They call the park at Salinas Herbert's Park. This is a misnomer. To the ball-players it is suicide park, for every ball that hits the grounds bounces up and tries to knock the head off of the player who attempts to trap it.

STRIVES TO UNITE FAMILY

Resident of Cliffs, Wash., Hears of Mother Lost 30 Years Ago.

CLIFFS, Wash., March 30.—(Special.)—A long-lost son hopes to meet his mother, who has been looking for him for 30 years. Henry Daniels and wife came to Cliffs about three months ago, bought property and built their own comfortable home. He is a quiet, intelligent, hard-working, honorable gentleman, anxious to learn of the whereabouts of the remainder of the family, from whom he has been separated for years. Whether or not a few weeks has succeeded in getting hold of the right clew, through which to establish his identity.

This information comes from the superintendent of the Hudson County almshouse, of Snake Hill, N. J., which says that their records show that on October 17, 1878, John Henry Daniels, born at Jersey City, committed a family of Daniels to the almshouse—the mother, Maria, aged 25 years; Ira, aged 9; James, aged 8; Eugene, aged 3, and an infant, Frank, aged three months. The father's name appears to be Ezra, but nothing definite is known of him.

Later on the family was committed to the Hudson County almshouse, of Snake Hill, N. J., and finally to St. Mary's. There they became separated and lost to each other until in 1878, Ira, nicknamed Harry, and Harry and Eugene, nicknamed Joe, happened to meet in South Orange, N. J., and for a time worked together taking care of cows for the Stoton Hall College, but neither one knew what became of their mother. The boys separated there, and later on Henry drifted out West.

This information, just received, shows that the mother is still alive, and was in Snake Hill only recently looking for her long-lost boys. It appears that she has worked and worried a long time trying to locate them, that her reasoning has become somewhat impaired, Ira, or better known as Henry, hopes to arrange to go to New Jersey soon, and endeavor to locate his mother. In the meantime, if this article is read by any one who can throw any light on the subject, Mr. Daniels will appreciate receiving the information.

HAVE YOU $16.00 IN CASH TO INVEST? CAN YOU INVEST $10.00 A MONTH? DO YOU KNOW WHERE TO INVEST IT? WOULD YOU INVEST IF YOU KNEW?

That's the Whole Situation in a Nutshell

If you answer the first two questions in the affirmative, the second and the last one encouragingly, it is pretty near a certainty that you are willing to invest in a first-class bond proposition on easy terms. It is seldom that the small buyer has an opportunity to buy railroad bonds on small payments. This is one of the few. The principal difference between buying railroad bonds and railroad stock is that you have all the assets of the corporation behind the promise to pay 5 per cent per annum on the bonds, while the dividends from stock are uncertain. It is the difference between a long chance and a first-mortgage lien. That's some difference, isn't it? In other words, you get your money back when you buy good bonds, while stock, no matter how good the company may be, promises you nothing. Buying bonds is loaning money on good security, at a good rate of interest. The company takes all the chances—you none.

OCEAN SHORE RAILWAY BONDS

The bonds of the OCEAN SHORE RAILWAY COMPANY are secured by assets valued at over $4,500,000. These assets consist of over $2,000,000 in terminal property in the hearts of San Francisco and Santa Cruz; 80 miles of the best right of way in the United States; 34 miles of completed railroad, now in operation and already paying dividends; rolling equipment of every sort, and franchises that are very valuable. Besides all this, your investment will be in the bonds of a company that has the opportunity of becoming one of the wealthiest short-line railway companies in the United States. This is due to the wonderfully rich country through which the line passes. It has never been tapped by a transportation line. The bonds are $100, par value. You may purchase one or more at $92 cash or $96, payable $16 down for each bond and $10 per month. These bonds bear 5 per cent interest, payable semi-annually. If purchased at $92, they net 5 1/2%, and if bought at $96, they net 5.21%. There is scarcely another safe investment that does as well.
