tures of 99 persons who will attend the excursion to Salem tomorrow. There are only 105 available tickets and the other 15 will be in demand today, according to President Fries, who has charge of the list.

A brass band is to accompany the ex- curtion and the committee on arrange- ments expects to introduce features on the trip which will add much to the in- terest and pleasure of the outing.

The special cars of the Oregon Electric Rail- way will leave the station at the foot of Jefferson street, at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, and will run to Salem without stop.

Salem really men are prepared to re- ceive the visitors and will extend such attention to them as the limited time shall permit.

Mr. Fries received a letter yesterday from the Station Board of Trade advising him of the fact that the occasion would be taken advantage of by the Salem visiting men to get acquainted with the visitors.

The letter says, in part: "We have been advised that your board will visit Salem next Saturday, and I have endeavored to get our best men to the station of meeting you. They have appointed a committee of five to show you every little courtesy that will not interfere with your seeing the horse show."

Incidentally, I will say that I have made every effort to give an opportunity to get our real estate men acquainted with the visitors. We are not un- successful in this matter, and really hope to profit by your presence here.

Yours very truly, A. E. HOPPER, Secretary.

MISSING WOMAN FOUND Fears for Safety of Carrie Mesple Entirely Unfounded.

Carrie Mesple, the missing daughter of a rancher near The Dalles, who came to this city a short time ago for the purpose of undergoing a surgical operation and relatives imagined she had met with foul play, was located late last night by Detective Search. The young lady was restored to her sister, Mrs. J. H. Starnes, who had come to Portland in search of her, and when all the facts were learned the two ladies enjoyed a hearty laugh over a simple mistake.

It seems that Miss Mesple had written her relatives under date of March 23, that she had found a way to have an operation performed. She expected to enter a hospital the next day. She wrote that she would inform them as to whether the operation was successful. This she failed to do and fearing that she had met with the wrong kind of treatment or perhaps died under an operation her relatives became alarmed. As the facts in the case really were, Miss Mesple found the next day after her letter that an operation was unnecessary but had failed to write this information to her home. She had then delayed her return to The Dalles for several days to permit her to have several new spring gowns made up.

During the search the two sisters had been stopping in rooms only a few blocks away from each other.

Cleland made their arguments yesterday. Eaton is said to have become proprietor of a planing mill on the East Side. Mrs. Eaton charges that her husband once took one Hattie Webster out bicycling to a restaurant and to a dance. She further says that five years ago, when she went visiting to a Mrs. Elliott, on Russell street, she found her husband had preceded her and that he was chatting pleasantly with her friend. But according to Mrs. Eaton her husband's worst fault was his friendship with Marie Barhart Williams.
