MAGDALENA BAY, April 7.—Admiral Thomas has made a rather unusual pronouncement regarding publicity af-fecting the fleet.

pronouncement regarding publicity affecting the floet.

"It has always been my belief," he said, "that the public is entitled to know everything concerning the Navy that is consistent with its welfare. There are, of course, many matters of a technical nature which must be kept socret from foreign powers, but these are usually of a kind in which the country would not be interested particularly anyway.

"It is the people's Navy. This is the people's fleet. There is no reason that I know of why we should conceal from them what we are doing so long as essential military secrets are kept inviolate. I think it will be better for the people of the United States and heiter for the Navy if they know each other more intimately.

Enlisted Man Says Efficiency of the Navy Has Been Doubled.

SAN FRANCISCO, April L-Henry SAN FRANCISCO. April T.-Henry Sosvielle, chief master-at-arms of the battleship Rhode Island, the first enristed man to reach San Francisco from Rear-Admiral Evans' fleet at Magdaiena Bay, arrived here today on the hasilital ship Relief. In his opinion, that of a man who has served as a bluejacket in the Navy the cruise has helpad to increase the efficiency of both officers and men 100 per cent.

"All have enjoyed the cruise immensely and a great lesson has been learned by the men on all vessels. The officers and sailors have come to know one another better and as for the ships, they are in perfect condition," declared Servielle. An interesting incident of the cruise occurred at Punta Areusa. Two of the jackles on the Rhode Island took advantage of the occasion to go on a hunting trip. They secured permission to take the ship's cutter and left in high spirits. Before they had been long away from the ship, however, a squall arese and they had considerable difficulty in keeping the boat affoat. the boat affoat. At last a sudden gust of wind caught them as the craft struggled in the trough of the sea and the cutter capsized, throwing them into the water. They managed to cling to the bottom of the upturned boat, however, and were driven five miles away from either the shore or the Rhode Island before the weather cleared. They were seen from the shore by seaman James Blegler, who secured a lenky beat, and with a piece of board for an our, made his way to the men and effected their rescue. Captain Murdoch of the Rhode Island recommended Biegler to Rear-Admiral Evans for reward and the latter has reported the matter to the Navy Department.

and would continue to be useless Clapp said he was in favor of stopping the enlargement of the military establishment at once. He hoped the motion to reconsider would be pressed.

Replying to Beveridge, Hale said the eason given for this enlargement of the Army and Navy was that the country might have a "blg war.

Aldrich Wails About Deficit,

Aldrich expressed the hope that the utterances of the Senator from Maine would have the careful attention of the members of the majority, who, he said, were responsible for legislation.

he said, "expenditures this rear of $35,000,000 in excess of receipts Last year we had receipts in excess of ditures of $52,000,000, a difference of We are certain to have a large deficit in the revenues."

He added that there were pending in the Senate special bills involving mor han $100,000,000 and, referring to Bacon he said he was sorry to see an "economis n observation" advocating a bill to pay $10,000,000 for certain cotton claims, and were other bills taking money of the treasury that would insure an inreased deficiency.

Wants No More Soldiers.

Beveridge having said that an army 65,000 would be useless against a single army corps. Hale inquired:

"Where does the Senator think this imginary army corps is to come from? He added that a conflict of this country with another needing a large army war reactically impossible. He would have no nore soldiers, and said the Senator from ndiana would never see a war. He charindiana would never see a war. He characterized war talk as "sheer nonsense."

Warren defended the Army, and said much of its time was taken up with looking after river and harbor work, and that there was no country in the world with so small an army as that of the United States, excepting Switzerland.

Aldrich suggested that this country was etter protected naturally than any other. "Did not the Secretary of War." asked fallinger, "In a recent speech, favor a argo increase in the Army?" Warren said he did not know of such peech, but hoped that "the country yould grow fast enough and rich enough o feel like having an Army as large as was suggested. 'I hope not," said Hale.

During the debate on the bill, comments on the tendency of the Government to increase its expenses made by Teller of Colorado, who said Republican Convention Refuses to the Secretary of War had nothing to do with the enlargement of the army xcept to execute the laws enacted by Congress. So far as he was concerned ie did not favor the increase that had been made in the army.
"I have heard," he said, "that some members of the administration fear we will have a war with Japan. I do not think Japan is going to make war against us, and I am quite sure we are not going to make war against Japan. If you double the army you will simply make an incentive for some people to get up a disturbance in order to get higher rank."

INSPECTOR DOES THE WORK

Owner of Orchard Must Pay for the Spraying, However.

SALEM, Or., April 1. (Special.)— County Pruit Inspector E. C. Armstrong oday began a new phase of the war upon San Jose scale by hiring a gang of men to so into the orchard of Rev. F. M. to go into the orchard of Rev. F. M. George, near Liberty, and spray the trees. Heretofore enforcement of the law has consisted of chopping down diseased trees, but that course is pursued only in the case of trees that have been rendered valuables by disease and neglect. The George orchard is one of the most valuable in the vicinity of Liberty, but has become infested with scale. Mr. George sprayed 10 acres, but left 20 acres untreated. Mr. Armstrong will have it sprayed and charge the cost to the owner. When the work in this orchard is completed Mr. Armstrong will put the gang at work in other orchards in the vicinity.

BOSSES TURN DOWN TAFT

Delaware's Delegates Will Go to the Convention Uninstructed.

DOVER, Del., April 7.-The Repu lican state convention met today and elected a full delegation to the National convention. The delegates were not in-structed. The only show of a contest was over a resolution directing the Na-tional delegates to support Secretary Taft for the Presidential nomination. It was defeated overwhelmingly by a viva voce vote. The convention was in the control of the state organization, headed by United States Senators Dupont and Richardson.

The so-called administration faction, which was defeated at the primaries las which was defeated at the primaries list. Saturday, had only a comparatively small number of delegates in the convention. They favored instructing the delegates for Taft. The convention's work was practically performed by the county caucuses, it being the cuatom in this state by both parties to divide the six National delegates equally among the three tional delegates equally among the three counties and to permit the county dele-gates to make their selection in caucus. The state convention simply ratified the action taken by the county caucuses.

The platform adopted indorses the administration of President Roosevelt and the state administration and also comthe state administration and also comends the President's recent course the enforcement of his policies. It a Instruct National Delegates.

DOVER, Del., April 7.-The Republican state convention was called to order at o'clock with William S. Hilles, of Wil mington, as temporary chairman. After the announcement of the committee, a re-cess was taken. The delegation to Chi-ago was selected by a caucus and is as follows:

United States Senators Henry A. Dupont and Harry A. Richardson, Governor Preston Lea, Congressman Hiram R. Burton, Walter O. Hoffecker and John G.

The session of the convention was brief

The session of the convention was brief and uneventful, the work having been done by the county caucutes. The convention elected the National delegates which the caucuses had selected and also ratified the caucus selections for the State Central Committee. No instructions were given to the delegates and a resolution to instruction them for Secretary Taft was overwhelmingly defeated.

The platform which was adopted, endorses the Administration of Boosevelt and the State Administration and also commends the President's recent course in the enforcement of his policies. It also favors revision of the tariff duties as applied to trade with the Philippines. The remainder of the platform is devoted to local conditions and questions.
