BIG FIGHT ON IN SECOND DISTRICT

Ellis, Geer and Shepherd Each Claims Victory in Congressional Contest.

CENTERS IN MULTNOMAH

Ellis Forces, Admitting Weakness Here, Hope to Carry County Because of Divided Opposition Between Other Candidates.

A big fight is waging in Multnomah County among the three candidates for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Second district—W. R. Ellis, holder of the office, ex-Governor Geer and ex-Councilman George S. Shepherd. Geer and Shepherd are working as hard as possible, and Ellis is operating through his friends at arms' length from Washington.

Because Geer and Shepherd are on the ground, they are attracting the most attention in this county. As a matter of fact the Ellis forces do not regard this as their man's county, but they hope to carry it on account of the tussle between Geer and Shepherd. They figure that this tussle may prevent either Geer or Shepherd from winning Multnomah.

Geer and Shepherd Confident.

Geer and Shepherd each are confident of victory in this biggest political county in the state. The Ellis men, however, regard Geer as their more dangerous rival and wish Shepherd to pull away enough votes in his home county from Geer to give the county to Ellis. Shepherd will not admit that either of his opponents leads him in the race. He thinks that out of Multnomah's expected 13,000 primary votes he will receive more than either Geer or Ellis, and that while his two rivals fight themselves to a standstill in Eastern Oregon, he will come in for enough Multnomah votes to give him the nomination.

It will thus be seen that while Ellis expects Geer and Shepherd to defeat each other in Multnomah, Shepherd expects Ellis and Geer to cut down each other in Eastern Oregon.

Ellis has not been a strong candidate in this district, especially in Multnomah. But the vote opposed to him was split up two years ago and he was nominated. His friends hope for the same outcome next Friday. It is generally conceded that were Shepherd out of the race Geer would probably defeat Ellis. But the Shepherd men aver that were Geer out of the race Shepherd would win easily over Ellis.

Candidates Attractive.

Both Geer and Shepherd are giving close attention to Multnomah County. Geer has been here a week and will stay until the primaries. Geer has made a tour of nearly all the counties in the district. Shepherd recently made a trip to Eastern Oregon and then to Clatsop.

Geer's friends say that their candidate will carry nearly all Eastern Oregon. They point to the fact that two years ago in running for the nomination for Governor, he carried six of the ten Eastern Oregon counties and nine of the 13 counties in the district—Crook, Malheur, Morrow, Umatilla, Wallowa, Wasco, Multnomah, Clatsop and Columbia—all these without putting forth any especial effort. In that contest Geer carried Multnomah County against Withycombe by 1276 votes and lost the nomination in the entire state by 263 votes.

Geer sees that had he worked vigorously two years ago for Governor he would have defeated Withycombe for the nomination. Now he is resolved to put forth the effort that under similar circumstances would give him success.

WILL RECLASSIFY LANDS

Agents Investigate Character of Railroad Grant Holdings.

HELENA, Mont., April 12.—In compliance with the request of the Montana Mining Association through its representatives sent to Washington to interview President Roosevelt, Secretary Garfield and others, the Interior Department has begun an investigation into the mineral and non-mineral classification of lands included in Northern Pacific land grants in Montana and Idaho.

The railroad alleges that a strip of land ten miles wide and 24 miles long near the North fork of the Clearwater in Idaho has been classified as mineral, when in fact it is not mineralized. The same allegation is made in reference to large tracts in the Bitter Root and Cascade ranges in Montana.

Chief of Field Service Schwartz said that many complaints had been filed wherein it had been alleged that the railroad had secured much valuable timber and mineral lands under improper classification.

FRUSTRATE A JAILBREAK

Officers Exchange Shots With Unknown Men After Criminal.

HATTON, Wash., April 12.—(Special.)—A running fight took place here at 4 o'clock Sunday morning between Deputy Sheriff Harter and Marshal Tom Oehltree, during which they exchanged several shots with two strange men. The two officers were keeping watch on Dan Dawner, wanted at Coulee City, charged with safeblowing. They feared an attempt might be made to liberate Dawner.

At daybreak two men drove rapidly through town in a buggy and fled their team just at the north edge of town. They returned on foot and were cautiously making their way to the jail when spied by the officers. They reached the jail, were ordered to throw up their hands, but instead turned and ran to their team and succeeded in getting away.

CONVICTS TO WORK QUARRIES

SEATTLE, Wash., April 12.—(Special.)—Governor Mead today announced the appointment of a commission to advise with counties and municipalities throughout the state regarding the establishment of quarries for the production of crushed rock to be used in the construction of roads. These quarries are to be operated by convicts from the State Penitentiary. The commission is headed by Judge C. H. Hanford, of the Federal Court, its personnel being as follows: Judge Hanford, Judge Edward Whiteson, judge of the United States Court for the Eastern District of Washington; Samuel Hill, Joseph M. Snow, State Highway Commissioner; Professor Henry M. Landes, of the State University and State Geologist; John W. Arrowsmith, State Grain Inspector; Earl Bewers, County Surveyor of Boston County; Samuel C. Lancaster, consulting engineer of the Federal Good Roads Department, stationed in Seattle.

C., acting as judge-advocate and Commander C. A. Gove as president. A shortage of approximately $500 has been found in Paymaster Brown's accounts. The courtmartial is to be held behind closed doors, and the finding of the board will be dispatched to Washington in an official report. WOODMEN'S LOG-ROLLING

GREAT CAMPAIGN TO BE CONDUCTED IN OREGON.

Five Mammoth Initiations This Week Under Direction of Head Consul Boak, of Denver.

Under the direction of I. I. Boak, of Denver, head consul of the world, W. O. W., that order will hold five mammoth log-rollings in this state during this week. Mr. Boak is participating in the gathering of Woodmen in different parts of the state.

The first log-rolling was held at Medford yesterday. Today a similar gathering of Woodmen will be held at Roseburg and another will be held at McMinnville tomorrow. Portland camps will unite in a demonstration Thursday and Baker City members of the order will assemble at that city April 18. Large classes of candidates are to be initiated into the mysteries of the order at all these meetings by Head Consul Boak and associate head officers. P. L. Snodgrass, head banker of the Pacific jurisdiction, will accompany Consul Boak on his trip through the state.

Members of the fraternity in Oregon have been looking forward to the gatherings scheduled for this week for some time and they anticipate some of the most successful meetings in the history of Woodcraft in this state. A number of members of the order in Portland will go to McMinnville tomorrow and Woodmen will join the party at each station en route.

During the Portland meeting, 500 candidates will be initiated in special exercises to be held in the West Side Woodmen Temple, 128 Eleventh street. There will be special excursions from outside points to attend this demonstration.

OFFICERS OF W. O. W., WHO WILL CONDUCT OREGON LOG-ROLLING CAMPAIGN

I. I. Boak, Head Consul.

MAKE MANY OBJECTIONS

Land-Grabbers' Attorneys Try to Block Government Evidence.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The trial of Frederick A. Hyde, John A. Benson, Henry P. Dimond and Joost Schneider, who are charged with a conspiracy to defraud the Government out of valuable land, is punctuated with numerous objections from the attorneys for the defendants to evidence which the Government is endeavoring to introduce. The principal objection thus far has been that the alleged illegal acts in regard to which witnesses have testified occurred more than three years prior to the finding of the indictment in 1904, and are therefore barred by the statute of limitations. While United States District Attorney Baker has secured the admission of the evidence thus far, a hard legal battle is expected when the final arguments are heard on the motion to strike out all evidence of this character.

The witnesses today were George C. Brown, of the Oregon State Land Office; Thomas McCusker, of Portland, Or., and Don Alexander.

Mr. Brown testified as to the methods prescribed by law for the purchase of school lands in Oregon. He said there was no law limiting the amount of such lands that one man may acquire by assignment.

Mr. McCusker testified that he had been engaged by Schneider, one of the defendants, to aid him in securing applications for school land in Oregon from persons having the right to purchase an allotment of such land. Upon receipt of an assignment of each application to Schneider, the witness said, $5 was paid to the applicant. The application called for 320 acres, and the assignment usually was made at the time the application was signed. The Government brought out the fact that the applicant did not pay for the land before assigning it to Schneider.

Local Twirler Proves Enigma to the Visitors—Portland Bunches Hits in First and Third—East Side High Defeats Hill.

Hill Military Academy	0	2	.000

The Portland High School (West Side) defeated the Lincoln High School, of Seattle, in a splendidly-played game of baseball on the Vaughn-street grounds yesterday afternoon by a score of 4 to 2. Hickson, the Portland High School pitcher, was steady throughout the game and managed to keep the Seattle hits so well scattered that the visitors were kept safely in storage during the entire game. The Seattle twirler was found for bunches of hits in the first and third innings, when the Portland boys chased over four runs, which proved enough to win, as the visitors connected but twice with the register, once in the fifth and again in the sixth canto, but after that period the Portland boys fielded splendidly and Hickson was as stingy with hits as most of the politicians are with "good" campaign cigars.

The ball park to witness the contest, for the occasion was marked by a double-header. In addition to the Portland-Seattle game, the East Side High School met and defeated the Hill Military Academy nine in the regularly scheduled Interscholastic League contest. The score was 8 to 4. It would be hard to say which game attracted the greater attention, for the rooters for the East Side-Hill Military contest made just as much, if not more noise, than did the West Siders during their victory over the Seattle lads.

The Seattle boys played a fine game, and in spite of their defeat, are deserving of considerable praise.

The defeat of Hill Military by the East Side High was due principally to the wildness of the cadet pitcher, Mays, who started the game, but was succeeded by Merchant in the fifth inning. The line-up for the Hill-East Side game was as follows:

Hill Military.	Position.	E. S. High.
Mays, Merchant	P.	Houck
Shear	C.	Montague
Baker	1B.	Graham
Merchant, Thorne	2B.	Hewett
Huston	3B.	Morrow

Seattle High School Beaten.

PULLMAN, Wash., April 13.—(Special.)—The Washington State College baseball nine today defeated the nine of the Seattle High School with a score of 10 to 4. Root and Weller, for the W. S. C., each made a three-bagger hit. Martin and Million, for Seattle, made two points each. Batteries—W. S. C., Thompson catcher and McCully pitcher. Seattle High School, Hemenway and Beebe, catchers, and Belford pitcher. Hits off McCully, 4; off Belford 6. Strikeouts, Belford 9, McCully 6. Umpire—Cariach.

WRESTLER M'LAGLEN IS HERE

Will Meet Dr. Roller at Heilig Theater Tomorrow Night.

Portland wrestling fans are inclined to believe that Dr. Roller will have a full night's work on his hands when he tackles Victor McLaglen, the big English wrestler whom he is scheduled to meet at the Heilig Theater tomorrow night. McLaglen arrived in Portland yesterday from Tacoma, and the sports have had a good chance to size him up. He is as big as a whale and as strong as a lion, and if he does not give the Seattle crack a good time of it, it will not be because he lacks anything in the matter of strength.

McLaglen will tower over Roller fully three inches, as he stands six feet three in his stockings, while the doctor is six feet flat. In weight McLaglen will have an advantage of fully 20 pounds, an important factor in a wrestling match. The English Hercules will also have a long ways the better of it in youth and strength. Roller is past 32 years of age, while McLaglen is just 11 years younger. McLaglen has taken excellent care of his physical training since he was 14 years of age and is a perfect specimen of manhood.

Willamette 3; Whitman 1.

SALEM, Or., April 13.—(Special.)—Willamette University defeated Whitman College at baseball today by a score of 3 to 1.

Employes' Basketball Game.

The Olds, Wortman & King baseball team defeated Lipman-Wolfe's nine Sunday in a spirited game at East Twenty-second and Sandy Road. The batteries were Van Dorn and Johnson for Olds; Wortman & King's and Hewett and Angell for Lipman & Wolfe. The victory was a decisive one, Olds, Wortman & King winning by a score of 24 to 16.

Will You Submit to a Democratic Newspaper Selecting Your Republican Candidates?

Whose business is it as to who shall be your nominees, and who should have the selection of them?

Why not give this impertinent "rooter" a crack on the nose, just to remind it that Republicans can get along without its advice in naming party nominees?
