DEATH OF MRS. RALPH RUFFNER.—Mrs. Ralph Ruffner, who died yesterday morning at a local hospital, was the wife of the city ticket agent for the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad. The death followed the birth of their first child, the infant also dying. Mr. Ruffner's fellow railroad men are expressing their sympathy with him in his misfortune. Railroad men will send a floral piece to the funeral. Mrs. Ruffner's maiden name was Scott, and with her mother, she came to Portland about a year ago from Beatrice, Neb. She and Mr. Ruffner were married soon after. The couple lived at 390 East Tenth street, North, and it is expected the funeral will be held from the residence and that interment will be in Riverview Cemetery. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

FUNERAL OF CHARLES A. WALKER.—The funeral of Charles A. Walker, who died Friday at his home, 1009 Taggart street, was held yesterday afternoon from the Hawthorne Park Presbyterian Church, East Twelfth street. There was a large attendance of friends. Many beautiful floral pieces were received. O. M. Scott, John M. Lewis, R. R. Steele, D. T. Van Tine, M. V. Harrison and C. T. Miller were pallbearers. Rev. E. Nelson Allen conducted the services both at the church and at the Portland Crematorium.

REV. G. A. LEARN TO GO EAST.—Rev. G. A. Learn, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church, of Sellwood, who recently was appointed superintendent of the Baptist Home, at Kodiak, Alaska, will leave for Boston, Mass., Thursday, April 16. During his absence from Portland he will deliver addresses at Buffalo, Rochester and Oswego, N. Y.; New York City, Paterson, N. J.; Philadelphia, Washington, D. C.; St. Louis, Oklahoma City, Los Angeles and San Francisco. On his return to the Coast Rev. Mr. Learn and wife will sail from Seattle, June 10, for Kodiak, Alaska, where he will assume his duties as superintendent of the Baptist Home, an appointment he received from the Women's Home Mission Board.

BUTTERFLY COLLECTION SHOWN.—Beginning tomorrow April 15, the Sellwood branch library will have on exhibition for the ensuing two weeks a beautiful collection of butterflies and moths loaned by Mrs. W. M. Ladd. This collection is educational and is well worth seeing. The butterflies are from all parts of the world and include walking leaves and sticks. The gypsy moths, to exterminate which Massachusetts appropriated $1,000,000, will also be shown. Attendance at the library for March was 2560, circulation of books was 2142 and largest daily attendance was 170. For March, 1907, attendance was 762.

DR. PATTON WILL NOT COME.—At the meeting yesterday of the Presbyterian Ministerial Association, the plan of bringing Dr. Patton, of Princeton, to Portland to deliver a series of lectures, was reluctantly relinquished. The ministers do not feel able at the present time to support the undertaking. Attention was called to the meeting for the eradication of the saloon to be held tonight in the Hawthorne Park Church. The resignation was accepted of Rev. B. E. S. Ely as chairman of the association.

EAST SIDE PUSH CLUB TONIGHT.—The United East Side Push Club will hold its first meeting for the month tonight, at the Sargeant Hotel, Grand and Hawthorne avenues, at 8 o'clock. As there is a movement to change location of the Madison-street bridge to a point three blocks south of the present structure this question will be discussed. The rock-crusher situation, Rose Festival, second Bull Run pipeline and the project of improving streets by districts will be considered.

NEW MEMBERS FOR CLUB.—At the meeting yesterday of the board of governors of the Portland Commercial Club, 12 applications for membership were passed upon. A communication from the Board of Trade relative to changing the name of the Custom-House District from "Willamette, Or.," to "Portland," was read, and it was decided to take the matter up with members of the state delegation in Congress, urging that the change referred to be authorized.

SELLWOOD FERRY SCHEDULE.—Secretary J. F. Campbell, of the Sellwood Board of Trade, has received notice from Judge L. R. Webster, that the County Commissioners have decided to run the Sellwood ferry, from 6 A. M. to 8 P. M., as soon as a pilot can be secured and other arrangements completed. The new schedule will greatly accommodate the public. It starts the ferry an hour earlier in the morning and operates two hours later in the evening.

ANNEXATION MEETING TONIGHT.—An annexation meeting will be held tonight in the Nashville hall on the Mount Scott railroad. Several addresses will be delivered. Some of the candidates also will be present. It will be held under the auspices of the Mount Scott Annexation Club.

DR. AUSTIN PROMISES FIGHT.—Warrants of arrest for six dentists, who are practicing their calling in the city without certificates from the State Dental Board, were issued out of the Municipal Court yesterday. The list of defendants is made up of P. L. Austin, J. E. Marstrum, J. R. Arnold, H. Pelpp, and Newton and Rupe, whose full names are not known to the authorities. The warrants were issued at the instance of Dr. J. M. Yates, representing the State Dental Board, of which he is a member. Dr. Austin, proprietor of the Union and Chicago parlors, denounces his arrest as having been inspired by unfounded ethical theories, based on the fact that he does extensive advertising of his calling. He has been arrested four times in the past two months and has one case before the Circuit Court, on appeal, at this time. He says he intends fighting the matter through to the end as he feels the attitude taken by the State Dental Board regarding him is unfair inasmuch as he had been a practicing dentist for 19 years past.

CHORAL SERVICE AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.—A Passion week choral service will be rendered in the First Congregational Church on Wednesday evening, April 15, at 7:45 o'clock, by Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer, soprano; Mrs. W. A. T. Bushong, contralto; Dr. George Ainslie, tenor; W. A. Montgomery, baritone; Miss Elizabeth Sawyers, organist. Rev. Luther R. Dyott, D. D., will deliver a brief address. The following vocal numbers will be given: Tenor and bass duet, "So Thou Liftest Thy Divine Petition" (Stainer); contralto solo, "The Palms" (Faure); quartet, "Thy Hallowed Presence" (Carter); soprano solo, "King Ever Glorious" (Stainer). Also the organ numbers: Prelude, "Romance" (Svendsen); postlude, "March" (Thayer). The public is cordially invited to attend as this is practically the first public appearance of Mrs. Bauer since her illness, great interest has been aroused among her friends in the occasion.

RALLY AT Y. W. C. A. TOMORROW.—There will be an interesting rally of the members of the Young Women's Christian Association, Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. This will be the regular quarterly meeting, though very little business is to be transacted. As the cornerstone of the new building is to be laid the following day, this event will be the chief subject of discussion. The programme will be as follows: Piano solo, "Spring Song" (Gregg), Miss Bessie Bridwell; vocal solo, "Chain of Roses," Miss Zeta Hollister; flute solo, Miss Inez Bushnell; address, Miss Frances Gage; vocal solo, Miss Laura Cleland. All women interested in the laying of the cornerstone are asked to assemble at the Y. W. C. A. rooms, Wednesday as near 5 o'clock as possible, that they may go over to the site in a body.

COLLEGE NEEDS FUNDS.—Dr. E. W. Riley, president of McMinnville College, appeared before the Baptist Ministerial Association meeting yesterday for the purpose of acquainting the ministers with the financial affairs of the college and to secure the co-operation of the Portland Baptists in the maintenance of the institution. There has been some talk of closing the college at the end of the school year in June, owing to lack of funds. An effort is to be made to raise $40,000 in Portland to enable the institution to continue its work next Fall. Interest is to be enlisted through an excursion to McMinnville on May 1, when the visitors will be given an opportunity to see the work of the school.

BANKING BUSINESS INCREASING.—Messrs. Hartman & Thompson, bankers, Chamber of Commerce building, have doubled the amount of floor space heretofore occupied by them. The ground floor front, on Stark street, just west of the main entrance, has been newly fitted with heavy oak furniture and handsome electric fixtures. The entrance to the bank is in the main corridor, as before. The steady growth of this firm, not only in its bank, but in all its departments—bonds, insurance and investments, made necessary the removal from the cramped quarters across the hall, which was accomplished without an hour's interruption of business.

GASP AT STENOGRAPHER'S BILL.—A bill for services as official stenographer to the recently-decapitated special committee on investigation of "trusts" was presented to the City Council, at its adjourned meeting, held yesterday afternoon. When an item for $10 a day was read, some of the Councilmen nearly fainted. In a great desire to save the taxpayers' money, they cried out loudly against this seemingly overcharge, and finally referred it to the committee on judiciary. The bill was drawn in favor of Emma J. Baker, a stenographer in the offices of Councilman Vaughn, chairman of the late lamented special committee.

"ACCIDENT," THE VERDICT.—An inquest into the death of little Lucile Durst, the 3-year-old daughter of J. Frank Durst, of Woodstock, was held yesterday afternoon by Coroner Finley. The jury found that the child's death, which occurred on Sunday from a gunshot wound, inflicted by her 16-year-old brother, was entirely accidental. The boy was unloading a gun when the child approached a tent in which he was seated. He fired quite by accident and without knowing of his sister's presence or of any possibility of danger to her, it was shown.

DEATH OF JAMES R. POLLOCK.—News of the death of James R. Pollock, of Buffalo, N. Y., was received in Portland yesterday. Mrs. Pollock was formerly Mrs. Emma W. McKenzie, a teacher in the Couch school in Portland. She has many friends in this city who will regret to hear of her bereavement. Mr. Pollock was a son of Governor Pollock, of Pennsylvania, about whom an article to the effect that he was responsible for placing the motto "In God We Trust" on the United States coins was recently published in The Oregonian.

PETITIONS READY FOR COUNCIL.—At the meeting of the Montavilla Board of Trade last night it was reported that petitions were ready to be submitted to the City Council for the annexation of a strip east of Montavilla, one-half mile wide and two miles long. The committee on arrangements for a float for Rose Festival parade reported that $200 had been subscribed for this float, which will represent a battle-ship. The meeting was well attended. C. T. Evans presided.

THIRD MRS. RIHORN HEARD FROM.—Information has been received by the District Attorney's office, which is alleged to show that William V. Rihorn, who is now a prisoner in the County Jail awaiting trial on charges of nonsupport and bigamy has a third wife instead of two as was first supposed. The third deserted wife is Miss Corda Ware and resides in Frankfort, O.

DEATH OF MRS. ELLEN NUGENT.—The funeral of Mrs. Ellen Nugent, who died April 11, will be held at St. Joseph's Home, Sunnyside this morning at 9 o'clock. She was 60 years of age. Members of Marie Stewart Court, No. 566, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, will attend the funeral. The interment will be in Mount Calvary Cemetery.

CANDIDATE FOR CONSTABLE.—C. L. Myers was mentioned in The Oregonian yesterday as a candidate for Constable in Woodlawn District. This is incorrect. Mr. Myers is a candidate for Constable in Portland District. The name of Fred L. Olsen was also inadvertently omitted as a candidate for Justice of Peace in Portland District.

"La Belle Marie" at the Lyric

A SENSATIONAL drama with melodramatic tendencies is "La Belle Marie," which the Allen Company played in a most excellent manner for the first time last night in the presence of a well-pleased audience at the Lyric. The play was used for a number of seasons as a starring vehicle by Agnes Herndon and has met with considerable success.

It tells the story of a woman wronged consecrating her life to avenging herself and those dear to her. In the title role Verna Felton has great opportunities to display her unquestioned ability as an emotional actress. In the first act she is trustingly sympathetic and in the others the personification of clever woman's wit directed in the most cunning manner to secure the undoing of the man who has ruined her life. There are a number of very strong situations in which Miss Felton rises to the demands in a manner calculated to arouse enthusiasm.

One of the gems of the performance is the work of William Blake as John Ingleside, the old miller, although he appears only in the first act. Mr. Blake is a character actor of unusual importance and is gaining in favor every week.

Reveile Urquhart gives a good account of himself as the wayward but honest-hearted half-brother to the author of all the misery. This latter part is an exceptionally powerful one and it is to be regretted that Charles Ayres is not more convincing. He is never at ease during the entire five acts and never gets into the spirit of the part. Forrest Seabury has another chance to shine in light comedy as the light-hearted commercial traveler. Ella Houghton is sweet and ingenuous as his sweetheart and Mrs. Clara Allen is satisfactory as the old mother. The scenery is good and the offering as a whole meritorious.

At the Vaudeville Theaters

Pantages.

PANTAGES is on hand this week with a list of attractions that ought to make good before the most exacting audience. The bill has all the essentials—novelty, action, variety, and a big feature. It is a vastly better show than the one of the past week, seeming to measure up to the rather high standard which the Fourth-street house has been setting for itself this season.

In Dun Fulana, the "educated" horse, there is presented an act that will appeal to the interest of young and old and middle-aged. Rarely indeed is such an exhibition given of intelligence in one of the lower animals. Dun Fulano, an exceedingly handsome black horse, appears to understand perfectly what is being said to him, and he obeys all commands without hesitation. One of his more remarkable performances is that of helping his trainer on with an overcoat and then taking a whisk broom in his teeth and brushing the garment.

The O'Brien troupe of five acrobats can be classed with the best ever seen here, not even excepting the Florenz troupe. They add a new feature to their turn in the form of a big brass cannon, from which one of the troupe, a girl of 18, is fired across the stage. She appears to enjoy the sensation.

Tarra Mahoney, Irish story-teller and comedian, does some funny and effective work. He appears without make-up. Winifred Stewart, woman baritone, is perhaps the best singer of that class ever seen here. The Waldron brothers, Dutch comedians, manage to hold up their end of the bill very well. Jean Wilson sings a new illustrated song effectively, and the biograph presents a motion picture version of Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter."

Grand.

IT is a notable array of vaudeville talent that the Grand offers its patrons. In fact almost any number on the bill would have served as a headliner two or three years ago, when the public was less exacting in the matter of entertainment. It is an evenly balanced programme, and while there are two acts that stand out by contrast with the others, it is rather because of their excellence than on account of the inferiority of the others.

The place of honor is given to the Doria Trio of operatic singers, and certainly no vocalists of their class have ever heretofore graced a local vaudeville stage. Their repertoire includes selections from a number of the more familiar grand operas, which they do splendidly. They are great favorites with the audience, and deserve to be.

A decidedly unique turn is contributed by Rialta, a beautiful model, whose face and figure fairly fascinate the eye, with the assistance of J. Louis Mintz, called "The Artist's Dream." Gladys Van, for a number of years a strong favorite with Murray & Mack, and who was the heroine of a sensational affair with Ollie Mack here last Fall, introduces a pleasing singing and dancing act. Johnnie Lefevre and Francis St. John, who were recently with "The Mayor of Tokio," are entertaining with their bits of musical comedy.

Leonard & Ward, the original Hebrew father and son, are funny, while Frank Odell and Rose Kinley do a clever act called "Pierot and Pierotte." Harry Cantor and Alice Curtis do some good dancing, and F. F. Montressa, with his novelty "The Sleeping Beauty," holds the attention. Same bill all week with daily matinees.

SCHOOL OFFICIAL IS SHORT

Jackson County Superintendent Decamps—$1000 Unaccounted.

TACOMA, Wash., April 12.—(Special.)—Rumors recently have been to the effect that many taxpayers in Jackson County were desirous of having the county books experted, yet considerable surprise was expressed today when it came to light that the books of ex-School Superintendent Patrick Daily were showing a shortage of nearly $1000. Mr. Daily resigned his position as a county official several months ago and his present whereabouts are not known.

FREE TELEPHONES CUT OUT

Pay Station to Be Installed in Seattle Drug Stores.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 13.—(Special.)—No more public telephones in Seattle drug stores. Both the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Company and the Independent Telephone Company have issued orders that no more free talk goes, and within the next 30 days drug store telephone conversations, unless paid for, will be a thing of the past. About 50 nickel-in-the-slot machines have been installed in the last few days, and 100 more have been ordered.

"There has been entirely too much hot air passing over our wires in the last ten or twelve years," said a telephone company official. "Seattle, to the best of my knowledge, has been the only city of any size on the Coast where the drug stores have given absolutely free telephone privileges to the public."

CAKE SPEAKS FIRST TIME

M'MINNVILLE, Or., April 13.—The most enthusiastic meeting of the present campaign was held here tonight when H. M. Cake, candidate for Republican nomination for United States Senator and champion of Statement No. 1, addressed a large audience. It was Mr. Cake's first appearance here during the campaign and his coming was the occasion of a large gathering of his supporters.

Mr. Cake spoke at length on various topics of public interest, and refrained absolutely from any personalities or crimination. He believes in Statement No. 1 and the popular election of United States Senators, he said, because he believes in the people.

THE BARRIER

"Better than The Spoilers"

Those who first read this big new novel discovered that it was even better than "The Spoilers." Now the newspapers are spreading the fact. The first critical reviews of THE BARRIER praise this triumphant love story of Alaska in glowing terms. This corroborates the statements already made—and it will be your verdict, too. Yes, it's bigger and better than "The Spoilers," but you will find the same clash of elemental passions, the same struggle between the forces of law and lawlessness—and the same dashing romance. THE BARRIER is the one novel that everybody will read and talk about from this time on.
