

JAIL FOR BIGAMIST

Rihorn Pleads Guilty and Is Sentenced to One Year.

HE HAS HAD THREE WIVES

Divorced From First, His Efforts to Obtain Legal Separation From Second Fail—Refuses to Support No. 3—She Complains.

William P. Rihorn, otherwise known as Pearl Williams, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon to a charge of polygamy, which had been preferred against him on the complaint of his third wife and was sentenced to serve one year in the County Jail. Rihorn is said to have secured a divorce from his first wife and to have made efforts to obtain one from wife No. 2, who is now in the East.

It appears that the divorce papers, as issued from the Oregon City Court, were imperfect, and that the divorce was not valid. Rihorn is said to have corresponded with Anna H. Sanderson, a schoolteacher of Pueblo, Colo., and to have induced her to come to Oregon and marry him. Then she discovered that while she had married Pearl R. Williams, his real name was not Williams, but Rihorn, and that he had been married before. At this she became indignant, especially when he persisted in leaving her for days at a time without food or funds. She consulted with District Attorney Manning and a charge of nonsupport resulted, which was changed later to polygamy. He was sentenced by Presiding Judge Sanderson, of the Circuit Court, yesterday.

Henry E. Roberts must serve a three-year term in the Salem Penitentiary because he stole a cooking range and other household effects, including beds, mattresses, tables and chairs, from Jennie Lang. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Judge Gantenben yesterday. The theft occurred January 18. A charge of malicious destruction of property had also been preferred against Roberts, but this was dismissed upon the motion of the District Attorney.

C. O. Strong pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon to stealing between $50 and $100 from a residence at 300 East Sixteenth street, on April 4. The money was the property of Ora C. Baker. A plea for leniency, on account of Strong's youth, was interposed by Deputy District Attorney Adams. Strong will be sentenced Saturday.

SUIT FOR $20,000 DAMAGES

Case of Cooper vs. Paquet on Trial Before Judge O'Day.

A jury in Judge O'Day's department of the Circuit Court is hearing the testimony in the case of Mae Cooper, formerly Irwin, against Joseph Paquet. She is seeking to recover $20,000 for injuries sustained in jumping from the second story window of a burning roominghouse at East Morrison and Water streets the night of February 11, 1906. It is alleged that Paquet violated a city ordinance in not providing proper fire-escapes.

The chief question raised by the defendant is whether this building was a two-story or three-story building. It will be the endeavor of Paquet's attorneys to have the court direct a verdict in his favor on the ground that the building was an included among those for which the ordinance required fire-escapes.

Their Objects to Sale of Property.

Mary Loumena, one of the heirs of the estate of Guglielmo Cassinelli, has filed in the County Court her objection to the sale of personal property belonging to the estate in order to pay Pietro Cassinelli $400. The latter is a son of the deceased who has not yet reached his majority. He is alleged to have worked for his father, and the $400 is demanded as payment for his services. It is alleged that his father had a right to his work without compensation. Six hundred dollars is now in the hands of the administrator. It is alleged that the claims against the estate amount to $1500. The latter amount includes the son's claim.

Will of Charles M. Cartwright.

The will of Charles M. Cartwright was admitted to probate in the Circuit Court yesterday. It provides that Charlotte M. Cartwright receive $100 a month during her lifetime. The estate is worth $60,000. A portion of the property is set aside for the support of the widow, and the remainder divided among the three children, Effie J. Van Houten, Edith M. Moser and James H. Cartwright. James Cartwright has been appointed executor.

Verdict for Brewing Company.

A verdict for the Olympia Brewing Company was returned yesterday by the jury which had been trying the case brought against the firm by the Olympia Bottling Works. The bottling company sued to recover $45,000 damages, with the allegation that the brewing company had failed to perform a contract. This contract was shown to be wanting in some particulars, and the court instructed the jury to find a verdict for the defendant.

Estate Bequeathed to Husband.

The estate of Katherine Frommet is to go to her husband, Frank J. Frommet, according to the will, with the exception of a small sum to the children. The value of the estate is $1600.

STRENGTHEN BRIDGE PIERS

Rock Will Be Dumped About Supports of Morrison Span.

The County Commissioners are to take immediate action to strengthen the foundation of the Morrison bridge, according to Commissioner Lightner. Mr. Lightner said yesterday that it would be impracticable to use rock from Kelly Butte, because large rock must be had, and there is no means of transporting this from the county quarry. Mr. Lightner is of the opinion that the most practicable plan will be to purchase the rock from a quarry near the river and transport it to the bridge on barges. It will then be dumped in about the bridge piers, which have been denuded at the base by the current of the river.

SOME REASONS WHY

W. H. Hurlburt Is the Strongest Candidate for State Railroad Commissioner.

There are many reasons why W. H. Hurlburt is considered the strongest candidate to be voted for at the primary election this afternoon for the office of State Railroad Commissioner and why, in the opinion of intelligent voters, he should be elected.

In the first place, he is most admirably equipped for this important office by education and training, having had over 25 years' practical experience in the railroad service and in every department—construction, operating and traffic. He has thus acquired a fund of expert knowledge that most prove of great value to the Commission.

W. H. Hurlburt.

In the second place, Mr. Hurlburt is not the candidate of any class, clique or community and if nominated and elected will be in a position to deal with all interests with absolute fairness. In the third place, Mr. Hurlburt has been a resident of Oregon for over 17 years and has always been an active and enthusiastic promoter of the state's industrial and commercial interests. He believes in a "Greater Oregon" and also believes that the transportation companies should do their full share towards the development of the state.

In the fourth place, Mr. Hurlburt's personal character is above reproach. His record since a resident of Oregon is an open book. Mr. Hurlburt is not connected with, or interested in, the transportation company, either directly or indirectly; neither has any small clique of jobbers, desirous of playing the dog-in-the-manger act, any interest in him.

It might also be said in behalf of Mr. Hurlburt, and to his credit, that he is not being supported by the officials of any defunct title and trust company, neither has he ever been a member of a railroad commission that, on account of its alleged utter uselessness and worthlessness, was abolished by the State Legislature.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB FORMED

McAllister Is Elected President of East Side Organization.

A Democratic Club was organized last night at a well-attended meeting held in the hall at Grand avenue and East Pine street. It is called the East Side Democratic Club, and its constitution declares that Jacksonian Democracy is its fundamental principle. Officers were elected as follows: President, E. R. J. McAllister; first vice-president, J. D. Welch; second vice-president, A. N. Short; secretary, W. J. Regnar; assistant secretary, P. Henz; treasurer, Robert D. Inman. Mr. McAllister delivered an address, in which he said that any Democrat who had registered as a Republican ought to be ashamed of his act, and declared that the time had come when Democracy should stand for something in this city and state, and that he expected to see the party become united and harmonious. Mr. McAllister mentioned William J. Bryan as the peerless leader, and declared that he was the greatest citizen of the world. The speaker said that with Secretary Taft as the opposing candidate, election of Mr. Bryan as the next President was very probable.

OPEN KAMM TRACT

Council Will Force Dedication of Streets.

BAKER LEADS IN MOVE

Main and Fifteenth Streets Are Ordered Extended and Same Policy May Be Followed Elsewhere in the City.

Councilman Baker has begun a movement to open streets through various tracts within the city limits, and the first piece of closed property to be acted upon is the Kamm tract. This is in the heart of a handsome residence section, and embraces a considerable area. The Council adopted a resolution by Mr. Baker instructing the City Engineer to open Main street from Fourteenth to Chapman, and Fifteenth from Salmon to Jefferson. This will make a thickly-populated territory lying beyond more easily accessible.

Efforts have been made for years to open streets through the tract, but Jacob Kamm has always successfully fought the proceedings. Now, however, it is believed that the Council will force the issue, and that this important improvement will be made. It means a great deal to residents living west and north of the tract under discussion. As the matter now stands, there is no means of access except by a roundabout way, which works a decided hardship upon hundreds of people every day. Aside from the fact that the tract as it now is works a hardship upon a large number of people, Mr. Baker contends that the time has come when every similar tract in the city should be opened up, as a matter of good policy. He declares himself in favor of opening streets through every closed piece of property on both sides of the river. There are many tracts of land, in some instances embodying a large number of acres, which are enclosed and through which there are no thoroughfares. There seems to be a strong sentiment in official circles for an aggressive policy in this matter, which will open up to the public all of these pieces of property.

Factional Vote on Franchise.

A fight between rival factions in the City Council is promised as the result of an application by the wholesale furniture firm of Peters & Roberts for a permit to lay a spur from the United Railways Company line on Front street to the company's establishment on Davis street. The minority members of the Council, as represented on the street committee at the meeting yesterday afternoon, favor granting the petition, while the majority representatives oppose it. A tie vote resulted and the petition will go to the Council without recommendation.

MANY REAL ESTATE SALES

Transfers Filed During Day Amount to More Than $100,000.

Real estate transfers exceeded $100,000 yesterday in the recorded amounts, and the total would be probably 50 to 75 per cent higher if the actual considerations had been named in the records. The largest item was that of $22,500 for the Shogren flat building on Eleventh street, which was transferred from Miss May Shogren to Miss Charlotte Carlson, being lot 2, block 255, city. Miss Shogren built the # Important!

The State of Oregon stands on the threshold of its complete development, the City of Portland on the eve of becoming the metropolis of the Northwest, if not of the Pacific Coast, provided they receive at this time no injury in the house of their friends.

To displace Senator Fulton by an untried man would be such an injury. The State and City need all his talent, all his capacity, all his influence with his brother Senators—and he has abundantly shown that he has all three—to secure for the Columbia River the Government appropriations that are absolutely needed to give the same deep-water facilities to ocean-going ships that are now afforded by Puget Sound. When that is done, the shorter haul will of itself establish Portland's future.

A new Senator, however able, would take his place at the foot of all committees, would have to MAKE friends instead of finding them there to greet him; would be without influence, and for two years (under the unwritten law of the Senate) without power of speech, whereas Senator Fulton already holds important positions on leading committees, and has shown his ability to speak and to care for the interests of the State and City.

He has the esteem of his associates in the Senate and the confidence of the community in which he has lived. The Secret Service force of the United States has apparently been engaged for years in a microscopical investigation of his past without making a single disclosure that any fair-minded man would deem worthy of the slightest consideration.

He authorizes the statement that he believes in the popular election of Senators, as he believes in the people's rule in all things wherein they express themselves, and, while he doesn't believe that it is his part, himself a candidate, to dictate to candidates for the Legislature what statements they shall sign or what pledges they shall give, he binds himself to observe the people's will, and, if defeated at the polls, not to carry the contest further.

date about two years ago and sold at a handsome advance. D. E. Keasey sold to Lena Riveria the westerly 65 feet of lot 2, block 3, in Grover's Addition, on Hawthorne avenue, west of Skyland, for $6000. The proposed excursion of the Realty Board, announced to take place next Saturday afternoon, has been postponed until Saturday, May 2, at the request of D. E. Keasey, the host, who has advised the officials of the board that he could not make the arrangements he desired to carry out before the later date. Secretary Rountree will send out notices within a few days to members of the excursion.
