LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 17.—(Special)—Dolly Gray at his best, tells the story of today's ball game, and while the Beavers had several chances to score, these were only chances for they could do nothing with Gray's pitching and the fine fielding of the locals. A thousand fans saw the conquest and the pleasure of the victory was not as great as the joy of seeing that Gray had "arrived" again.

The game was a hot potato for features and the fans were kept on their toes from start to finish. In the first inning Perine called McCredie safe at first on an attempted double play from Dillon and Dillon coasted so that Perine threw him out of the game. Wheeler took his place and distinguished himself by beating out a line hit towards first, making Walsh get an error on a bad throw, and finally stealing home from third while Garrett was winding himself up to pitch.

Bush Ellis made a great running catch back of third base and Smith electrified the fans in the first inning with a triple over first base that scored three runs. In the first, Bernard's pass, Oakes' sacrifice, Dillon's single, Brashear's hit by pitcher, and Smith's triple made three runs. The next came from three strikes. The next from a single, two sacrifices and a steal, and the final from two singles, two steals, two errors and a sacrifice.

Quirk, who pitched for Oakland, was wild at times, and San Francisco put up the best game in the field. Sutor and La Lange, and Quirk and Statters were hitless.

OREGON GETS HER REVENGE. Hangs It Over Whitman Team by Score of 5 to 1. UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., April 17.—(Special).—In the second game between Whitman and Oregon, the varsity this afternoon defeated the sons of Marcus by the decisive score of 5 to 1. Whitman secured her only run right off the reel. Brown was hit, and sacrificed to second, and scored on Coleman's error.

In the fourth Oregon counted four runs coming through a combination of infield errors and timely hits by Clifford and Coleman. Oregon's last came in the sixth from Clarke's smacking double and a pretty single by Houston.

Clifford pitched a steady game for Oregon and got sweet revenge for the defeat of 6 to 1 which Whitman gave him last year. Dutcher, pitching for the Missionaries, performed creditably, but received poor infield support. Each team secured five hits. Whitman made seven errors to Oregon's two. The varsity pitchers deserved shutouts in both games. The Whitman players are regarded as some of the most gentlemanly ever visiting here.

PENDLETON DEFEATS PIERSON. Score of 67 to 62 in Track Meet Between High School and Academy. PENDLETON, Or., April 17.—(Special).—Pendleton High School defeated Pierston Academy, the preparatory school of Whitman College, in a track meet here today, by 67 to 62. The day was blustery, the track in poor condition and at times all the contestants slipped. Martin, Whitman College's crack sprinter, was the star for the visitors and carried off the most individual points, beating Jay, of Pendleton in the 100-yard dash. The points Jay would have won easily, but two of his events came at the same time. They each took five firsts and Martin took one third. The visitors were superior on the track, but were woefully weak in the weights and jumps. The Walk Walla boys were ahead up till the end of the race, when the pendulum swung toward Pendleton and remained there.

TABLOID OPERA SINGERS

Pollards Will Not Be Allowed to Appear Here, Says Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull.

SHE QUOTES OREGON LAW

Child Labor Commission Says There Is Growing Sentiment Against the Appearance of Children in Public Entertainments.

Portland theatergoers are not to have an opportunity to see the Pollard Lullaby Opera Company, if the Child Labor Commission can prevent it. Announcement was made in the papers some days ago that Manager Baker was in negotiation with the Pollard company to give a four-week season in July. When the announcement attracted the attention of Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull, Child Labor Commissioner, she wrote a letter to the theater management that the proposed appearance of the talented little people would not be permitted.

Mrs. Trumbull said yesterday that it was clearly within the duties of her office to stop any infringement of the child labor law, and that children under 14 years are forbidden by the Oregon law from being engaged in any remunerative work after 6 o'clock in the evening.

"The law," she explained, "makes no exceptions. There is a growing sentiment in favor of a strict enforcement of the law on this subject. The Juvenile court could even prohibit amateur performances given in the evening, if participated in by children. It does not alter the case that California inspectors evade the law and allow the children's opera company to appear in that state. That is their affair, and should not influence the enforcement of law in this state."

"I have a letter from Edgar T. Davies, chief of the child labor department in Illinois, informing me that children are not permitted to appear in public entertainments in that state. The law is strictly and impartially enforced there. This office takes the initiative in these cases, it not being necessary for a complaint to be filed with me before steps in preventing the employment of children after 6 o'clock."

Oregon's Child Labor Law. The child labor law was passed in 1901 and amended in 1905, defining more clearly those employments from which children are barred. The juvenile court act was passed in 1903 and amended in 1907, providing for permits for children in case they have passed 14 grade in the public schools.

Before the passage of the child labor law in 1902 the Pollards appeared at the Baker, when the members of the company were from 6 to 10 years of age, and Mr. Baker said yesterday that no criticism was raised, but on the contrary the audience were much pleased with the performances.

"It was a fact then, as now," said he, "that a matron takes charge of the little people at a school, and the company takes the initiative and instruct them daily with probably greater care to their education than could be given them in the public schools. The children belong to good families and their moral training is carefully conducted. Many of the members after reaching maturity have either adopted the moderately remunerative work or married in their own country of Australia and are now highly-respected members of society. Not a single member of the company has turned out badly, as I am credibly informed, and why a point should now be strained to deprive the people of Portland of the opportunity of witnessing the entertainments given by these little men and women is something I cannot see either the sense or justice of."

John P. Logan, in discussing the matter, quoted the law on the subject, an extract from which reads: "And any child under the age of 14 who is found begging or selling any article, or singing or playing any musical instrument upon the street, or giving any public entertainment, who becomes pauper or is used in any person so doing shall be amenable to the law."

Mr. Logan said: "Absurd Construction," Says Logan. "In my opinion, in order that the law quoted be made to apply to such entertainments as that given by the Lullaby Opera Company, it is necessary to give an absurd construction, which is contrary to the principles of law as laid down by the best authorities. Observe that the practice of street singing, begging and the like are prohibited in the context. The phrase, public entertainment, coming in that connection, it strikes me, refers to entertainments given on the public streets; otherwise the words, in public halls, theaters, churches, schoolhouses, etc., would have been designated if entertainments in those places were to have been included in the restrictions."

"I fancy everybody will agree that such a construction would be an absurd one. Literal construction would put a stop to Sunday school, public school, church and other entertainments of that character which children would be taken part after dark. It would interfere with carrying out proposed plans for our coming Rose Festival. A large disconcertion should be left to the court, so that the spirit of the law may be enforced rather than the letter, and its soul should not be evaded out."

Milton W. Seaman tells of a local case that aroused much comment: "A widow with five children had been able to add to her resources by bringing three of the children to various theaters, when occasion required appearance of little ones in the cast," said Mr. Seaman. "The Child Labor Commissioner forbade their appearing and thus the widow was denied the small addition to her living expenses this engagement brought in to the family's meagre resources. She endeavored to repair the loss by doing sewing, but the strain was too severe on her eyes and she was compelled to give that up also. When it became known that she was sorely pressed for means to live, members of the theatrical profession frequently raised purses for her benefit. When the Commissioner was informed of the widow's state she is said to have replied: 'If these people are objects of charity, let them apply to the Board of Charities for assistance.'"

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Is the original remedy that "kills the dandruff germ"

Edna D. Allen.

WITHOUT dandruff the hair must grow luxuriantly, except in chronic baldness, which is incurable. Dandruff is a contagious disease, caused by a germ or microbe. To cure dandruff, this germ—a tiny vegetable growth—must be destroyed and kept out of the scalp by Newbro's Herpicide.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

A woman to be pretty must have pretty hair. Beautiful locks have a subtle charm, for the poet says, "fair tresses man's imperial race ensnare." The unpoetic and intensely real dandruff microbe makes the hair dull, brittle and lustreless with later dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Newbro's Herpicide destroys this enemy of beauty and enables the hair to resume its natural luster and abundance. Almost marvelous results sometimes follow the continued use of Herpicide. Overcomes excessive oiliness and makes the hair light and fluffy. It contains no grease or dye. Stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Discriminating ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its almost magical effect upon the scalp, and also for its excellence as a regular hair-dressing. It is delightfully fragrant and refreshing.

"I have found Newbro's Herpicide excellent for the hair. The first application stops itching of the scalp and leaves the hair soft and silky." (Signed) EDNA D. ALLEN, Syracuse, N. Y.

TWO EVENTS IN PROGRESS

J. G. MACK & CO.'S OPENING OF MUCH IMPORTANCE.

New Store Occupies Quarter-Block and Contains Unrivaled Stocks of Fine Carpets, Draperies, Etc.

The opening of the new quarters of the J. G. Mack & Co. carpet and furniture establishment, at Fifth and Stark streets, last week, marked two events in Portland's business progress. One, the movement northward of the finer retail trade and the other the enlarged scope of one of the city's leading establishments.

The building now devoted to the business occupies the entire quarter block on the southeast corner of Fifth and Stark streets, into which they moved last week, and where the building is now filled up with lines of carpets, draperies and furniture of a character that at once places the big establishment as one of the show places of the city.

Big Carpet Display-Room. The second floor has a carpet display-room, 50x100 feet, where every grade of floor coverings is shown to advantage.

STRONG AS A MULE. Farmer Gets Power from Food.

Anyone can better his condition, if eating improper food, by changing to the right kind.

It is becoming well known among all classes of people in this country, that strength of mind and body come from the nourishment that is taken into the system in the form of food.

A cowboy whose stomach got all out of order on a ranch, went to farming and incidentally found the cause of his trouble and the way out of it. He writes: "I was raised on a cow ranch, lived like the rest on beef and potatoes, often eating too much until my stomach became so weak and I was so run down I had to quit the job."

"Then I tried farming but did not get any better. My nerves were all unstrung and I could not sleep at night. A year ago I saw an ad. about Grape-Nuts being such a wonderful food, and told my wife I was going to try it."

"So I bought a box of Grape-Nuts and by the time I had used this food two weeks, the weakness began to leave my stomach."

"Now I weigh 184 lbs., and am as strong as a mule. We eat Grape-Nuts for breakfast, and I also take some as a lunch between meals. I must say that Grape-Nuts is the best food there is, and nearly everyone in town, seeing my improvement, has taken to eating it."

located the draperies display-room. This room has a color scheme worked out in browns and is admirably adapted for the purpose. Harmonious hangings in its findings and decorations produce a restful and inviting effect.

The third floor contains bedroom and dining-room sets, from the moderately priced to the most elaborately carved and artistic. Mahogany, carved oak, colonial, old French, Elizabethan period—all the best examples of furniture in single pieces and sets are shown.

Fine Stock Selections. Selections for the stock installed in the new quarters of the house were made with the knowledge in mind that Portland buyers of furniture and decorations have become very critical—more so than in the Middle West, in fact. The making of beautiful homes has become a study, and Portland today demands for its homes nothing of a laundry description, but demands the artistic, the suitable and the excellent, which Mack & Co. have striven to offer in their complete and varied stock.

In the illumination of the big store, several new electrical effects have been employed. Reflected lights from the ceiling send a flood of illumination on the show-rooms windows, and a swinging electric sign above the entrance, in script, without a visible background, produces a remarkably effective appearance.

A feature of the business to be conducted by the house is in assisting purchasers of art furniture and decorations. A water-color design for interiors will be submitted upon application of intending buyers, which will be appreciated and will aid in producing results of the most satisfactory nature.

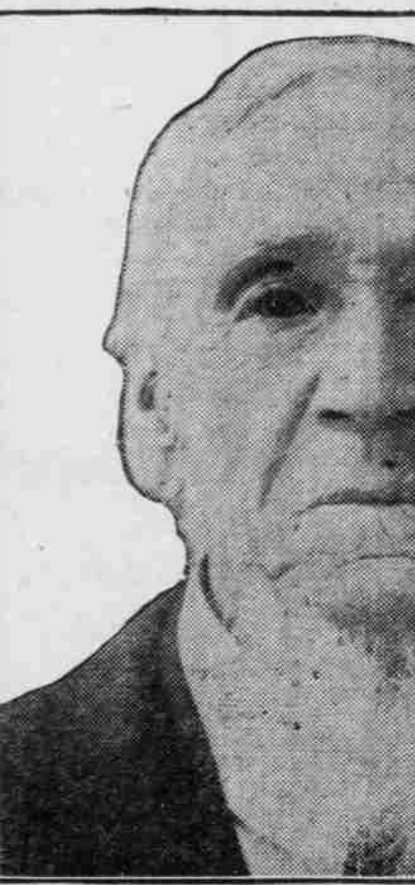

DAVIS ESCAPES FOOTPAD. Thug Pursues Would-be Victim to Latter's Front Door.

An attempt to hood up W. L. Davis, of 983 Commercial street, son of L. M. Davis, candidate for nomination as State Senator, was made last night at the corner of Commercial and Shaver streets.

The scene of the occurrence was within half a block of Mr. Davis' home. His would-be assailant came up behind him in a dark place, running on his tip toes. Mr. Davis glanced over his shoulder in time to see the thug reach toward him with what appeared to be a stout cane or cudgel. At this he darted forward and the thug gave pursuit. Just at the entrance to his home Mr. Davis slipped on the watery sidewalk and fell. He shouted for help and his father hearing the cry rushed to the front door in time to see the supposed thug running at the top of his speed, through the muddy street to the opposite sidewalk. Here he turned and ran north. The man is described as being about 38 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches in height, was dressed in a gray coat and dark trousers and wore a cap. Owing to the darkness neither Mr. Davis nor his father got a good view of the man's features but he either wore a full beard or had his face fully covered with a mask. Mr. Davis was unharmed and lost nothing.
