NO WOOL MARKET

Neither Buyers Nor Sellers Show Interest.

VALUES ARE NOMINAL

Shearing Delayed by Rain—Farmers Are Holding Their Clips—Further Decline in Mohair—Board of Trade Transactions.

The rain has stopped wool shearing in the Willamette Valley. Only about 500 mutton sheep are reported shorn to date and the wool from these sheep is being held in the country. There is practically no market at present and quotations are entirely nominal. Advices from the East indicate a stagnant demand for coarse wools and it is said foreign wool of the same quality can be landed at Boston at a less price than growers ask here.

Some shearing is being done in Eastern Oregon in favored localities, but there is no market there any more than in the Valley. Whether growers will take the opening prices offered, hold their wool or consign it remains to be seen.

Shearing is making satisfactory progress throughout other parts of the West, though trading is slow everywhere. A great deal of the Arizona early wools has been moved on consignment and reports from Nevada, Utah and other sections are that supplies are also being consigned in lieu of a satisfactory price agreement between buyer and seller. Advances of 8 to 10 cents are being made in Nevada. In Western Idaho growers are said to be asking 16 to 18 cents. Reports from several sections state that the wools are heavier this season than last. It remains to be seen whether growers will, as a rule, be willing to consign their wool, for it is reported that many are disposed to hold supplies rather than sell them at the prices bid or consign them.

The spot market in the East is not very active. Advices from Boston are that that market is well cleaned up on Eastern Oregon staple and clothing and there is little Valley wool left unsold. About 320 bags of pulled have been sold at 36c.

In territory wools, further sales of half-blood are noted, a line of 300,000 pounds being closed out on the scoured basis of 54c and 100,000 pounds at 52 to 54c. Buyers have bid the basis of 50c but holders have not accepted. The large sales of last week were on the basis of 51 to 53c and it is said that a large Rhode Island mill took on upwards of a million pounds in that range. There is a more settled feeling than since the first of the year with 58 to 60c considered a fair selling basis to be quoted for fine staple and 50 to 53c for good clothing wools. The sales of the week include a number of small lots of clothing at prices running from 14 to 18c, for fine and fine medium.

A steady business in new Arizona wools is being accomplished on the basis of 50c, according to the buyer, and 52 to 53c in the opinion of the seller. Two clips of a total of about 75,000 pounds are reported sold at 20c in the grease.

WHEAT HIGHER AT BOARD OF TRADE

All Grades Quoted at One Cent Advance. Changes in Produce.

Wheat prices were advanced one cent all around on the Board of Trade yesterday as a result of the great strength displayed in the Eastern and European grain centers. The other cereals were quoted firm but were not advanced. In the produce list eggs were lifted half a cent to 17 cents, and broilers and fryers were quoted lower.

The following offers were posted:

Offers to sell—1 car sawed shingles, $2.25 f. o. b. Portland; 1 car sawed shingles, $2.15 f. o. b. Portland; 2 cars No. 1 white oats, $28 f. o. b. Portland; 200 cases gallon tomatoes, $2.50; 50 cases 2½ pound tomatoes, $2.87½.

Offer to buy—1 car No. 1 white oats, $27.50 f. o. b. Portland.

MOHAIR QUOTATIONS AGAIN LOWERED

Absence of Demand From the Mills—Conditions in the East.

The mohair market continues in a very depressed condition. Because of the absence of demand in the East, local dealers have further reduced their bids to 18@18½ cents. Buying is slow at this price. Conditions in the East are thus described in the Boston Commercial Bulletin in its latest issue:

There is not even a ripple to disturb the calm placidity of a market absolutely without activity. Business is almost at a standstill, for manufacturers are not receiving orders for goods, while at the same time it is understood that they have substantial stocks of hair still unused in their mills. However, prices show no material change, although quotations are only nominal in the absence of actual trading.

Foreign advices state that Bradford is flat, with nothing doing. Cape firsts have been freely offered for sale, but no business resulted. It is considered uncertain when improvement in the situation will be noticeable.

In Constantinople values are being held in abeyance, owing to the lack of activity, while Cape firsts are especially depressed.

Hair is still arriving at the primary American markets, but Eastern dealers are displaying little or no interest in the arrivals. At the present time there is a variance between prices wanted by growers and those dealers are willing to pay.

EGG RECEIPTS ARE FALLING OFF.

Market Improves With Better Local and Northern Demand.

Receipts of eggs are gradually falling off and the market is strengthening as the end of the flush season approaches. The demand, both local and shipping, is good. The market was quoted firm on the street yesterday at 17@17½ cents. Orders were in from the North at the lower figure, which were not filled.

Poultry receipts were not heavy nor was the demand urgent and previous prices were generally obtained except in the case of small chickens, which were about 50 cents a dozen lower.

Some large shipping orders for butter are being filled and this keeps the market fairly well cleaned up and steady.

Storm Interferes With Fruit Trade.

The wet weather interfered somewhat with trade in the fruit and vegetable line. A car of bananas was received in the forenoon, but their condition was not as good as the preceding shipment. A car of oranges was due last night. Receipts of strawberries were light and they moved at unchanged prices. No berries will be in today, owing to rain in California.

The steamer brought up a general assortment of Southern vegetables. Local rhubarb is now coming in freely and sells at 4@4½ cents.

Potatoes Advance $2 a Ton.

TACOMA, Wash., April 23.—(Special.)—The feature of the markets today was an advance of $2 a ton in the price of the best Yakima potatoes, making the quotation now $20. Spuds of the next best grade are being offered at $18 a ton. Home-grown spuds are also becoming scarcer and this market has strengthened so that an announcement of an advance in the price of them is expected to be made soon.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK MARKET.

Prices Quoted Locally on Cattle, Sheep and Hogs.

The strong demand and comparatively light receipts of cattle caused an advance in prime and medium steers yesterday. The market is very strong at the advance and another rise in prices is probable in the near future. Sheep prices, on the other hand, are on the down grade and as shorn sheep begin to come in more freely, a lower range of values can be expected. The best grade of wethers was lowered in price yesterday. Spring lambs are easy in price, though not many are coming in alive. Hog receipts continue short of the demand and prices are strong. Receipts yesterday were 200 cattle, 104 sheep and 8 hogs.

The following quotations were current on livestock in the local market yesterday:

CATTLE—Best steers, $5; medium, $4.50@4.75; common, $3.50@4; cows, best, $4; common, $3.50@3.75; calves, $4@4.50.

PRICES ARE BID UP

Comprehensive Advance in the New York Market.

ABSORPTION IS VERY GOOD

Union Pacific Rises to a New High Level for the Year—Good Effect of the Pennsylvania Bond Flotation.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Prices of stocks underwent a comprehensive uplift today, the movement showing a certain soberness and restraint. Though trading was not animated, stocks were absorbed with determination and the bidding up of prices went aggressively on through such obstacles as arose.

The Pennsylvania bond issue was the main topic of consideration. It developed today that the price of 96, mentioned yesterday, is that at which the bonds are offered for subscription and the deductions to be made for bankers' compensation are understood to bring the price realized by the railroad company to below 93. The premium over the allotment price immediately established in the outside market, where the bonds, when issued, sold as high as 99¼, was a reflection of the confidence inspired by the powerful auspices under which the issue is made. The selection of a first mortgage bond to effect the Pennsylvania financing is significant of the necessities which are recognized in the present investment situation. Early in 1907 Pennsylvania stockholders authorized $100,000,000 each of new stock and convertible bonds and large portions of this authorization remain unissued. The present situation calls for a first mortgage bond with fixed interest ahead of all stock and junior bond issues in order to attract the requisite means.

The stock most affected by the Pennsylvania incident was Union Pacific. The obvious explanation is that the Union Pacific's banking affiliations are the same as those which have enlisted the powerful foreign aid which has assured the success of the Pennsylvania bond flotation. As authority has been asked already of Union Pacific stockholders to issue bonds on unmortgaged lines now owned, the bearing of these facts on the position of the company is clear. Union Pacific rose to a new high level for the year and led the whole market in point of activity. United States Steel was laggard in the day's rise. Prices ended at the highest of the day and with some heavy buying in progress.

The bond market was firm in tone. Total sales, $4,252,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

HORSE SHOW MONTH EARLY

Portland Hunt Club Fixes Dates for Autumnal Social Events.

At a meeting of the exec[illegible] of the Portland Hunt Club, [illegible] day afternoon in the Hunt Clu[illegible] dates of the next Portland horse [illegible] were fixed. The show will be held [illegible] tober 8, 9 and 10. Because the new race track, now under construction by the County Club, will not be ready for the annual June meeting, which has always been a club feature, it was decided to postpone the race meeting until the new track is ready. The horse show this year will be a month earlier than last.

When President T. S. McGrath last year decided to give Portland its first horse show, there was only a short time in which to get the show together. In spite of the financial flurry the show was a grand success, both socially and financially. This year, with more time to give to the almost countless details, the show should be even a greater success.

After settling the details of the horse show dates, four new members were elected: Mrs. George Willard Brown, George Willard Brown, Ralph Hohn and Paul Wessinger.

Farnum Sued for Divorce.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—A special to the Chronicle from New York says:

Dustin Farnum, the young actor who was mentioned by Howard Gould in his answer to the suit brought by his wife, Katherine Clemmons, for separation, is being sued by his wife, Agnes Johnston Farnum, for absolute divorce. The papers were handed to Justice Dowling in the Supreme Court, and in response to requests of counsel for both sides, former Lieutenant-Governor M. Linn Bruce was appointed referee. A friend of Mrs. Farnum stated that this action antedates any publication of the disagreement in the Gould family.

The bank at Bremen, Kan., having been burned, experts in the Treasury Department at Washington have figured out that a quart of ashes sent on for redemption will be worth about $4000.

TWO CENT ADVANCE

Wheat Prices Are Climbing at Chicago.

MARKET STRONG ALL DAY

Improved Inquiry From Exporters Helps to Stimulate the Demand. May Option Leads in the Rise.

CHICAGO, April 23.—Wheat opened strong, with the May delivery showing a gain of 1c compared with last night's close. The July and September options were a trifle higher at the start in sympathy with May, but later weakened somewhat because of the favorable outlook for the new crop. An improved demand from exporters helped to stimulate demand late in the day, and the market closed strong, with prices at the top. May wheat opened ⅛@1c higher, at 96⅝@97⅛c, advanced to 98⅝c and closed at 98⅝@98¾c; July opened ⅝@¾c higher, at 87½@88c, sold off to 87⅛c and then advanced to 89⅞c, where it closed.

Corn opened dull, but the market later became active and prices advanced nearly 1c from the low point. The market closed strong at the highest point of the day. May opened a shade higher at 66⅞c, sold off to 66⅝@66¾c, then advanced to 67⅝c. The close was at 67⅝c. July opened unchanged, at 62⅝c, sold at 67⅛@66⅝c, and then advanced to 63⅛c. The close was at 63⅛c.

Trade in oats was dull. May opened ⅛c higher, at 53½c, sold between 53⅛c and 53⅝c and closed at 53⅝c. July opened ⅛c higher, at 45⅛c, advanced to 46c and closed at 45⅞c.

Provisions were firm the greater part of the day, notwithstanding the 5c to 10c decline in hogs. At the close July pork was up 30c, lard was up 17½c and ribs were 15c higher.

SAYS GREEKS ARE NOISY

Hotel Proprietor Petitions Court to Restrain Billiard Players.

That it is the habit of a band of Greeks to congregate every night in the pool and billiard hall at 289½ Burnside street, and to engage in wordy discussions, much to the annoyance of neighbors who are trying to sleep, was the statement made yesterday before Judge Gantenbein in the Circuit Court. Alexander E. Chisolm and Caroline E. Wilson were the complaining witnesses, and Peter Rossos, proprietor of the billiard hall, was the defendant. Chisolm is the proprietor of the Hotel Phillip, on Burnside street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, while Mrs. Wilson owns the block on which the hotel stands. The billiard hall is on the ground floor of the building.

Chisolm said that the noisy Greeks sometimes remained thoroughly awake, and kept would-be sleepers in that condition until 4 A. M. For this reason, he said, about six rooms directly above the billiard hall could not be rented. Chisolm and Mrs. Wilson sought the court for an order restraining Rossos from permitting his countrymen to be so noisy at unseemly hours.

McKenna Sued for $217.

The suit of the Ames Mercantile Agency against C. E. McKenna and the C. E. McKenna Company was tried before Judge Bronaugh, in the State Circuit Court, yesterday. The agency sued to recover $217.65 on a note. McKenna claimed a credit of $100, alleging that he had paid it to the company, but that it had been applied on another transaction. This contention was sustained, but the court did not render a full decision in the case, which will be done later.

Awakes to Find His Clothes Missing

Thieves Steal Alex. W. Miller's Apparel During Night, but Fortunately Overlook His Only Remaining Suit.

If the horde of thieves now operating in the city continues to grow bolder it will not be safe for any one to disrobe before retiring. Alex. W. Miller, an employe of the Western Union Company, with a room at the California House, is convinced that this condition already exists.

Miller awakened yesterday morning and reached for his trousers. They were gone. He reached for his vest. It was gone. His coat was likewise a minus quantity.

The phenomena was not hard to explain, for on looking about the room, Miller observed that the bureau drawers were on the floor and that the place had been rifled from one end to another. He had nothing of value but the clothes available to the thieves, so they took his apparel.

The robbery might never have been known to the police, except for the fact that Miller had a second suit secreted under his bed in a suitcase. The thieves had not investigated this. So the victim was not compelled to remain inside for fear of being arrested for going out dishabille. He dressed and hurried to the station, where he communicated the fact of the visitation to Captain Baty. The Captain instructed the morning shift to watch the pawnshops for the missing apparel, which was Miller's best. Miller suggested that he would sleep with his clothes on for the next few nights. He might be completely isolated from the world should a second visitation occur.

BABY IS RAFFLE PRIZE

Aberdeen Theater Arouses Indignation by Advertising Scheme.

ABERDEEN, Wash., April 23.—(Special.)—Considerable agitation has been stirred up by the offer of Manager Goldsmith, of the Empire Theater, to give away at Friday night's performance a live baby. The parentage is said to be respectable, but the impression is that it is a foundling. The daily newspaper tonight condemns the plan of disposing of the child and suggests that the local Humane Society take action to prevent the raffling of the infant. The plan is to give the baby to some person who has a ticket and the drawing number.
