DECRIES A JUBILEE

CELEBRATE HIS BIRTHDAY

Various Cities to Do Him Honor. New Novel Announced by Novelist for Posthumous Publication Dealing With Sex Problem.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 26.—Although in deference to the wishes of Count Tolstoi, the plans for an international celebration at Yasnaya Polyana this Summer of the writer's 50th birthday, to which delegations from Russia and abroad have been invited, have been abandoned.

Reason for Declining.

Tolstoi's reasons for declining the honor are given in a letter to Michael Serkhovich in which he writes: "I address myself to you with a very great request, namely, to stop the plan of a jubilee celebration, which will give me nothing but pain, and what is worse, the consciousness of evil doing. You know that, particularly at my age, when I am so near death, nothing is more precious than the love of my fellow men, and I fear lest this affection suffer from this jubilee. I received yesterday a letter in which it was said all members of the Orthodox Church (from which Tolstoi, as is well known, was excommunicated) would be affronted by this celebration. I had never thought of it in that light, but what was written was correct. Not only among the orthodox, but also among many others, the celebration of my jubilee would provoke evil feelings.

New Novel Written.

"Those who love me (I know them and they know me) need no outward forms to express their affection. Therefore, do what you can to prevent this celebration and free me from this sorrow. I shall ever be thankful.

Count Tolstoi has, it is said, written a new novel, which will only be published after his death. It is entitled "Father Sergius." It has for its hero a young guard officer who retires from the world and becomes a monk on learning of the unchastity of a young girl with whom he has fallen in love.

CAST OFF FOR LOVE

Romantic Story of Tallmadge Delafield Ends.

CONDUCTOR ON O. R. & N.

Born in Upper Circle in New York. Ruined on Stock Exchange. Comes West and Marries and is Disowned by His Family.

TACOMA, Wash., April 26.—(Special.)—Unable to hold his own in the mad struggle on the New York Stock Exchange, disinherited and disowned because of his marriage to the girl he loved, there died Friday in a dingy room in the Lawrence Hotel in this city, a man whose life history reads like a romance.

His parents were leaders in Knickerbocker society and after graduating from Cornell young Delafield was a plunger on the Stock Exchange and failed. Humiliated, he left New York secretly and came West to Portland, where he met and married Rebecca Birdsall, and was disinherited by his aristocratic parents.

When death came Friday, friends wired the news to one of the sisters, Mrs. Anna D. Morgan, a society leader of Burlington, Vt., and Camden, S. C., and wife of Clarence Morgan, professor of transportation in McGill University. It is tonight there had been no answer. Word may come from another aristocratic sister, Mrs. Robert Scott Boyd, of New York.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

The cost of interments has been greatly reduced by the Holman Undertaking Company. The company has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking Company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When a casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embalming, hearse to cemetery, outside box or any articles that may be required of us, except clothing, caskets and carriages, thus effecting a saving of 25 to 50 per cent. over the usual charges.

BOSTON, April 26.—Conditions governing traffic in intoxicating liquors in many portions of New England will become considerably disturbed May 1, when changes in local option take effect and temperance workers are pointing to the general situation as an index of spreading sentiment against the saloon. In Vermont only 27 cities and towns will legalize the sale of liquor this year, as compared with 32 licensed cities and towns five years ago.

Terence Crofton, 39 North Fifth street, was severely injured last night at 10 o'clock, by being thrown from a car, near the corner of Third and Alder streets. Crofton was about to alight from the car when a sudden jar threw him against the car steps with such force as to knock out two of his teeth and badly lacerate his lower jaw. He was immediately taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, where his wounds were dressed. An examination showed he was not seriously injured.

THIEF TAKEN TO PRISON

Old Offender Passes Through on Way to Penitentiary.

Deputy Sheriff Blakely, of Pendleton, passed through Portland yesterday with George Miller, a desperate criminal, who is under sentence of 3 1/2 years for robbing a boxcar in Eastern Oregon. Miller was loaded with iron and wore the Oregon boot, for he is known to be a desperate man, and is said to be one of four men who escaped from the Folsom, California, prison several years ago. He was arrested by Special Agent Woods, of the O. R. & N. Co., for participating in a boxcar robbery near La Grande some few months ago, and was tried and sentenced at Pendleton.
