MONTAVILLA BOARD MEETS.—At a meeting of the Montavilla Board of Trade last night it was decided in the interest of harmony to turn the matter of preparing a float for the Rose Festival over to the citizens of Montavilla. This action was taken at the suggestion of H. B. Dickinson at the meeting last Friday night when he addressed the Board of Trade. He then urged that it was a matter for the whole suburb to handle. The Board of Trade had secured $175 in subscriptions toward a float, but decided to surrender the movement to the citizens on the suggestion of Mr. Dickinson. At this meeting the committee on electric lights reported good progress. Messrs. Morelock, Armstrong and Craddy were appointed to attend a meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the Chamber of Commerce building, in the interest of the clearing-up movement.

METHODIST CONFERENCE MEETS. — The 12th annual session of the Oregon conference of the Free Methodist Church will convene Wednesday in the Free Methodist Church, East Mill and Ninth streets. It will continue over Sunday. Superintendent W. T. Hogue, of Evanston, Ill., will preside, and is expected to arrive today from Everett, Wash., where he has closed the Washington conference. The Oregon conference will open Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Business will be transacted in the morning and the afternoons and evenings will be devoted to general religious services.

PLANS IMPORTANT MEETING.—The United East Side push clubs will hold an important meeting tonight, at the Sargent Hotel. Cleaning-up day for the East Side will be considered and some other matters will come up. A full attendance of delegates is expected.

WILL CLEAN CITY.—All push clubs on the East Side and elsewhere are requested to send three delegates to a meeting to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms this afternoon at 4 o'clock, to consider the matter of cleaning up the city preparatory to the Rose Festival. Presidents of clubs are asked to appoint these delegates where their clubs have not yet acted so all the clubs may be represented at the meeting this afternoon. Several of the clubs have already taken up the cleaning-up question.

START ODDFELLOWS BUILDING. — Contractors Seaton Bros., who secured the contract to do the excavating for the new building for Orient Lodge, I. O. O. F., on East Sixth and Alder streets, started work yesterday morning. The cottage, a landmark which has stood on the ground for years, was torn down. Contracts for the basement walls will be let by the time the excavating is finished.

BUYS PERKINS SALOON.—The five-year lease on the Perkins Hotel saloon was transferred yesterday, by George Schultz to L. Matlock, of Heppner. The consideration was $10,000. It is Mr. Matlock's intention to remodel the premises and install fixtures which will make the bar one of the most elaborate and complete in the city. Mr. Matlock will take possession on May 1.

RALLIES ON EAST SIDE.—A prohibition rally will be held tonight at the Montavilla Methodist Church on Hibbard street. J. R. Knodell, of the Anti-Saloon League, and Rev. Andrew J. DEATH OF MISS BYRNE.—Miss Helen Byrne, aged 23 years, died at noon yesterday, at the home of her mother, 395 Eugene street. Miss Byrne was born in Portland and attended the Chapman school, afterwards graduating from the Portland Business College. She was known among her classmates for her lovable disposition and kindly and sympathetic nature. She is survived by her mother, one sister, Miss May, and three brothers, William, Daniel and John J., Jr. The funeral cortege will leave the family home at 8:45 o'clock tomorrow morning and proceed to the St. Mary's Church, corner Williams avenue and Stanton street, where solemn requiem mass will be held. Interment will take place in Mount Calvary Cemetery.

LAST WEEK OF EXHIBITION.—This is the last week of the present exhibition at the Museum of Art, as the galleries will be emptied next week to prepare for the exhibition of the Arts and Crafts Society to open May 15. The carbon photographs now on the walls illustrate admirably the great portrait painters among the old masters. An acquaintance with these famous works is important and the opportunity thus given to study good reproductions easily and with pleasure is an educational advantage that should not be neglected. The loan of Japanese color prints and other objects shown in the case will also be returned after this week.

FREE METHODISTS HOLD CONFERENCE.—The 12th annual session of the Oregon conference of the Free Methodist Church will be held this week, at their church, on the East Side, corner East Ninth and Mill streets, commencing at 2 P. M. Wednesday and holding over Sunday. Bishop W. T. Hogue, of Evanston, Ill., will preside. The mornings of each day will be devoted to business sittings and the afternoons and evenings to religious services. All these meetings are open to the general public. Bishop Hogue is expected to arrive today from Everett, Wash., where he has just closed a session of the Washington conference.

WORK ON PENNOYER BLOCK.—Work of a preliminary character was started yesterday on the new Pennoyer Block, where the Trustee Company of Portland is to erect a building to occupy the entire block for Olds, Wortman & King. Trees surrounding the site are being felled. President J. B. Melkle of the company said yesterday that excavation would begin as soon as some minor drawings and details of the plans are finished. These, he said, would be completed in a week or ten days, when a force of workmen would be put on.

ROOMWORKERS BUSY.—Gus Magnuson and Linus Carlson, boarders at the Victoria Hotel, at Seventh and Glisan streets, received a visitation during the early hours of yesterday morning from someone who took what money they had, amounting to $45. The thieves took nothing but the money and worked so noiselessly that neither of the victims had any idea of the visit until the money was missed at getting-up time.

CHOOSES ITS OFFICERS.—The congregation of Machzikai Horavi elected its officers for the coming term at the First-street synagogue last Sunday. Rabbi Abraham I. Ovsovity and the following officers were elected: President, H. Newman; first vice-president, A. Hurwitz; second vice-president, E. Razumni; treasurer, J. Rosencrantz, and secretary, M. Weinstein.

Y. W. C. A. DRAMA TONIGHT.—An entertainment which promises to be interesting will be given by the girls of the Y. W. C. A., at the association headquarters tonight. A drama is to be given by the Cafeteria staff, in which various domestic calamaties befall Mr. Brown. A candy booth, with old-fashioned home-made candies, will be another feature.

NEW GOAL A HIGH SCHOOL

Milwaukie Citizens Call Mass Meeting to See if Feasible.

Next Saturday night at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting of the voters of Milwaukie school district No. 2, in the schoolhouse, to consider the advisability of purchasing another site for a schoolhouse, with a view to converting the present site and building into a high school. The directors of the district had already employed an architect to prepare plans for a four-room addition and an assembly hall to the present building, but suspended operation at the request of a number of leading citizens, who are looking ahead to the time when a high school will be needed for the north end of Clackamas County. They think now is the time to secure ground for a new grammar school building further south and more central to the district than the present location. Besides the present site, which consists of only one block, is not large enough. The plan is to purchase two or more acres and start a schoolhouse on it instead of building an addition to the old schoolhouse. J. W. Grasley, member of the School Board, said yesterday that the growth of the district was remarkable, 20 new pupils having come in the past month.

CAPTAIN HOBSON FRIDAY

Brilliant Congressman Will Speak on Needs of Navy.

Next Friday night, May 1, Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, the present Congressman from Alabama, will deliver a lecture at The Heilig Theater, Fourteenth and Washington streets, taking for his subject "National Defense." This brilliant young Congressman and naval officer has been pronounced by the press and public throughout the United States as one of the most able orators in Congress.

Mr. Hobson is undoubtedly better qualified to give a talk on his chosen subject than any man in public life today, having the experience he has had. It has been some time since Portland enjoyed a good, patriotic talk and as this is quite timely, a big audience will surely greet Captain Hobson.

BY ARTHUR A. GREENE

A GREAT many people in this town have kept their calendars marked up against the coming of that inimitable team of blackface comedians, McIntire and Heath, and their bountiful helping of musical comedy, "The Ham Tree." Last year it came for the first time and the theater-going element went slightly daffy about the show. It was therefore but perfectly natural that on last night, which marked the beginning of a return engagement, the crowd could hardly wait until the doors of the Heilig opened. It was a typical first night audience, and I'm quite sure there were only two empty seats in the house after the first curtain rang up.

"The Ham Tree" is positively unique. It is one stage success that has been followed by no spurious imitations, because, forsooth, there are only two of them—count 'em, two—men on the stage like McIntire and Heath, partners for 30-odd years. They have not changed their lines materially since the time of their debut, if I'm correctly informed. I recall that they flourished more years ago than I care to recall. They have always been distinct, the best exponents of that variety of entertainment supplied by white men with their faces done up in burnt cork. They told their old jokes last night in the same old way, and everybody from the gallery to the orchestra laughed immoderately, just as they did that Fall when Cleveland beat Blaine. Their peculiar charm is that they get their best effects from jokes and stories which would be dreary as a Coroner's inquest if they came from any one else. For instance, that one about the bridle and the bit.

As last season, these eminent artists are surrounded by an excellent New York company, equal, with one exception, to that fine organization which distinguished the show last year. Frederick Bowers, the composer and hip-hurrah tenor robusto, is not in evidence, and his successor, Philip W. Smith, lacks a good deal of being his equal. Almost all the others, down to and including the members of the chorus, were here last time and have in no way deteriorated. If anything, the performance last night was an improvement, with the one exception noted. That wonderful chorus is still wonderful, the sweep and swing of things is just as exhilerating, the principals sustain their parts after their wonted manner, and a fine entertainment is the result.

"The Ham Tree" is one of those attractions which we occasionally get which absolutely commands attention. It has no purpose beyond amusing an audience to the full limit for two hours and a half, but in this instance it performs its mission. The dialogue of the stars and the work of the chorus alone are sufficient to make the offering one of the most signal successes in its line, while in addition there are a half-dozen mighty interesting members of the supporting company, not to mention Belle Gold, who, with the other good ones, made the town sit up and look about, last year. This advice is sound. Go and see "The Ham Tree." Unless you are hopelessly liverish you will be as much as 99 per cent perfectly delighted. There will be repeated performances tonight, tomorrow night and a Wednesday matinee.

"From Sire to Son," at the Lyric

THE fascinating drama of Western life entitled "From Sire to Son" is the vehicle in which Miss Verna Felton and the Allen Stock Company inaugurated another big week's business at the Lyric Theater last night.

The play itself is fairly well known to the Portland theater-goers, for the author, Milton Nobles, and Dolly Nobles have presented the piece here on several occasions, and it has also been presented by other stock companies, but at no time any more intelligently than the Allens produced it last night.

Miss Verna Felton, the talented young leading woman of the company, is cast in the dual role made famous by Miss Nobles years ago. In the curtain-raiser, she appears as Mabel Armitage, wife of a mineowner, and is killed in the attempt of Jonas Hardy, the scheming and villainous former partner of her husband, to end both her life and that of Alfred Armitage, the husband. Miss Felton then essays the role of the daughter, who has not seen her parents since early childhood, and who is kidnaped by the villain. Her emotional work is exceptionally good.

William Blake has the happy faculty of pleasing, no matter how cast, in each weekly production, and as Alfred Armitage renders his lines pleasingly. Revelle Urquhart has become a great favorite with the Lyric patrons, and, cast as Hamilton Mandrake, son of Dr. Mandrake (played by Forrest Seabury), handles his few lines creditably. Mr. Seabury as the doctor, Mrs. Allen as Mrs. Stockup, his fiancee, and Irving Kennedy, as Peter Grimes, contribute to the comedy vein running through the piece. George Mortimer makes a capital villain, and dainty little Ella Houghten essays a short part quite well. Miss Thompson, as usual, is charming as Aurelia Stockup, daughter of a fond and doting parent. Mr. Walling and Mr. Ayers, the latter as the fearless Sheriff of Yuba, are clever actors, and render their lines very well.

The feature of the moving pictures contributed between the acts is one depicting a baby show. Every night this week and the usual matinees.

Adler Examination Today.

Adolph Adler, charged with attempting to extort money from Sig Sichel, will be given a preliminary examination in the Municipal Court today. An effort will be made to have him examined as to his sanity before the case comes to trial. Adler pretends to believe he will not be punished for his conduct. At the time he made a demand on Mr. Sichel for $400 he aided in bringing about his own arrest, saying he was the tool of a secret order of Nihilists who compelled him to do their bidding.

Pastors Oppose Sunday Funerals.

That funerals should not be held on Sunday when not absolutely necessary, was the opinion expressed at the meeting yesterday of the Presbyterian Ministers' Association. After discussing the question a resolution was passed requesting the undertakers of the city, where it falls in their power, to refrain from placing funerals on Sunday. It is hoped that the resolution will be indorsed by the general association. The remainder of the session was devoted to the reading of a paper by Rev. J. A. P. McGaw, moderator of the presbytery, on "The Higher Criticism." Rev. Henry Marcotte was elected to serve the unexpired term of Rev. B. E. S. Ely, Jr.

"HIP-O" JOHNSON CAUGHT

Noted Cattle Rustler Wanted in Alberta Arrested in Montana.

HELENA, Mont., April 27.—"Hip-O" Johnson, alleged head of a noted band of cattle thieves, who has been a fugitive from justice for more than a year, was arrested at Belt, Mont., last night by Deputy United States Marshal Hagler, at the behest of the Canadian Northwest Police. He was taken to Butte today, where tomorrow he will be arraigned before Federal Judge Hunt.

He made a sensational escape from jail at McCloud, Alberta, in August, 1904. He was badly wanted, having led the Canadian authorities a chase extending from Montana to Mexico, and all intervening states, as well as Nevada and Arizona.

May Dismiss Suits.

Unless counsel appears for either of the litigants at the next term of the Federal Court, Judge Wolverton yesterday announced he will dismiss three suits that have been pending in his court for some time. The three cases are: Mary Rees et al., of Pittsburg, Pa., against Jacob Kamm, for $7231, alleged balance due on a contract for machinery; Herman Cramer against the Singer Manufacturing Company, for infringement on a patent; C. H. Bruschke against the Pacific Coast Lumber & Furniture Manufacturing Company of California, involving the performance of a contract.

Surprise for Dr. Wilson.

A surprise birthday party was tendered Dr. Clarence True Wilson by the members of the official board of Centenary Methodist Church and their wives, last night at his residence, on East Oak street. A short musical programme was rendered by Walter H. Holt, Mrs. E. S. Miller, Mrs. C. R. Thoburn and Mrs. Northrup. Refreshments were served.
