SUIT OVER EAST SIDE FILL

INMAN-POULSEN COMPANY OPPOSED TO WORK.

Attorney Brings Suit Against City to Have Contract for Job Canceled.

Councilman George S. Shepherd filed suit for the Inman-Poulsen Lumber Company against the City of Portland, in the Circuit Court yesterday. The complaint asks that the city be cited to show cause why the contract for the $20,000 fill on East Sixth street should not be rescinded. In case sufficient cause is not shown, the mill company asks that the court restrain the city from having the fill made. The City Engineer estimated it would cost about $20,000 to fill East Sixth street from Sherman to Division. Nearly all the property abutting on this portion of Sixth street is owned by the Inman-Poulsen Company. That firm estimates the fill will cost $30,000, and strenuously objects to paying the assessment. It had been expected that the city would be the first to take action in the matter, as it was known that the mill people did not propose to make payment without a fight. The complaint states that the mill-owners were never notified that a fill was to be made, the first intimation they had of such an improvement to the street being when the Pacific Bridge Company commenced the work. Notice of the improvement was published in the Portland Daily Abstract, but according to the contention of the Inman-Poulsen Company, that paper is not the official paper of the city, and does not have a general circulation. They assert that the notice was never seen by them. Another alleged ground for ceasing work upon the fill is that East Sixth street at this point was never dedicated. For this reason, it is asserted, the street should be vacated by the city.

R. C. McKinney Wants Divorce.

R. C. McKinney, the step-father of Goldie Ellis, against whom a bigamy charge was placed recently, has filed a divorce suit in the Circuit Court. He alleges that at the time he married his wife, then Ada E. Lothrop, he did not know that she was the wife of Rollin C. Lothrop. Kinney says his wife subsequently went to Denver, Colo., and secured a divorce from Lothrop. It was granted October 21, 1904. She married Kinney in Portland, October 15, 1902.

Judge O'Day Hears Testimony.

Judge Thomas O'Day, of the Circuit Court, heard the testimony yesterday of Charles S. Fisher and Edward Barrett against C. A. Adams, Jr. and Norman D. Evans. They are seeking to recover $385.00 and $100 attorneys' fees for excavating a basement on lot 5, block 32, Portland. The defendants assert that the laying of the cement in the basement was improperly done. For this reason they refused to pay but $50, while the price contracted for was $155.00.

Candidates File Acceptance.

F. J. McHenry, candidate of the Socialists for the office of Representative from Multnomah and Clackamas Counties, has filed with County Clerk Fields against C. A. Adams, Jr. and Norman D. Evans. They are seeking to recover $385.00 and $100 attorneys' fees for excavating a basement on lot 5, block 32, Portland. The defendants assert that the laying of the cement in the basement was improperly done. For this reason they refused to pay but $50, while the price contracted for was $155.00.

Sues for Building Materials.

William Vatz has filed suit in the Circuit Court against Ard M. Haradon to recover $1194. He alleges this amount is owing for material which was furnished in building a house for his radon.

Says Husband Left Her.

In a suit for divorce filed in the Circuit Court yesterday, Minnie M. Stuck alleges that Daniel Stuck deserted her in July, 1906. The couple were married at Vancouver, Wash., on March 17, 1902.

WAS HERE 20 YEARS AGO

M. H. Kimmell, Oregon Pioneer, Feels a Stranger Now.

M. H. Kimmell, of Astoria, Ind., in company with his brother, O. Kimmell, and the latter's wife and daughter, is at the Perkins. Mr. Kimmell's last visit to Portland was in 1887, and he feels that he is an accredited Oregon pioneer in spite of the fact that he remained but a short time. He came to the city as a very young man via the Isthmus route, in 1853, and after a short stay in California he came to the city, then a ragging village of 3000 people, on the Astoria bar. He was following the trade of a tinsmith and there being but three tin shops and hardware stores in the town, he failed to find employment. After spending a short time here, Mr. Kimmell went to the Dalles, where he spent the Winter of 1854. He helped to organize the company of Wasco and identified himself with the interests of the town up the Columbia. Later he went into the Indian service and was for a brief period farmer on the Yakima reserve at Fort Simcoe. Mr. Kimmell, who is now well into the 70s, is a well-proportioned gentleman of surprising activity considering his age. He is now a retired capitalist of Albion, Ind., and with the party which accompanies him, has spent the Winter in Southern California. Today he will go to the Dalles by boat, and returning here Saturday, will remain over Sunday before continuing the trip to Indiana. He naturally feels a stranger in a strange land after such an absence and says he can hardly appreciate the fact that the present Portland is the result of an industrial evolution of 50 years.

BIG REWARD FOR FUGITIVE

Salt Lake Auto porties Offer $500 for Joseph Cordova.

Five hundred dollar reward is offered for the arrest of Joseph Cordova, alias Joe Garcia. This offer has recently been made by the Salt Lake City authorities, who want to bring him to justice for murdering Police man Charles S. Ford, on the morning of September 24, after holding up a saloon. J. Sullivan, who also took part in the shooting, was convicted on March 23 of murder in the first degree, with a recommended sentence from the jury that leniency be shown. He was sentenced to life imprisonment. Sullivan was arrested January 4, last, in Portland by Police man Joe Anderson. He was at the time going under the name of Thomas DeWard. Cordova is described as being 26 years old, 5 feet 8 1/2 inches tall, in his stocking feet, weighs 175 pounds, complexion, Indian; black hair, brown eyes, four large scars on top of his head, two vaccination marks on left arm and with various tattoo marks on his person. He is said to be a porch-sitter, usually operating between 6:30 and 7:15 in the evening while the family is at dinner. He is said to be an expert shot, a good dresser and is very proud of a lock of hair in front, which is long and inclined to be wavy.

ADDS TO TRAVELING ELDERS

FREE METHODIST CONFERENCE INCREASES NUMBER.

Gathering Is Expected to Reaffirm Its Opposition to Wearing of Ornaments.

At the session of the Free Methodist conference yesterday morning, in the First Church, East Ninth and Mill streets, Bishop W. T. Hogue presiding, it was decided to increase the number of traveling elders to three, and to undertake extension work in Eastern Oregon. Standing committees for the ensuing year were appointed. The election of the three elders, usually the most important action outside the stationing of ministers, resulted in the election of N. Weiler, W. N. Coffee and D. W. Cook. The stationing committee will assign districts to these elders, but Mr. Weiler will undoubtedly be given the district east of the mountains. The following standing committees were elected for the ensuing year: Education—O. N. Blair, H. E. Kreider, W. N. Coffee; reform—W. J. Johnson, J. F. Lewis, G. W. Bondurant; publication—D. W. Cook, Wesley Neet, J. H. Brown; Sunday schools—E. D. Blackman, R. A. Trullinger, E. L. Harrington; state of the work—Elders W. N. Coffee, N. Weiler, D. W. Cook; examination of quarterly conference records—H. J. Blair, W. H. Connel, D. M. Cathey; conference minutes—Secretary H. V. Haslam; conference minutes fund—N. Weiler; ministerial relations—J. H. Brown, W. J. Johnson, D. W. Cook, G. W. Bondurant, Thomas H. Symms, W. E. Goode; resolutions—W. W. Gatts, G. W. Bondurant, J. F. Eads; church extension—W. E. Goode, D. W. Cook, John Glen, D. M. Cathey, Thomas H. Symms; chairman of committees education, H. E. Kreider; reform, D. W. Cook; publication, J. F. Lewis; Sunday school, E. L. Harrington; state of church, the three elders. Professor A. Beers, of the Seattle school, was introduced to the conference and made an honorary member. Cyrus Cook was received from the South Dakota conference. J. H. Hockett was transferred from the Texas to the Oregon conference. D. J. Goode, of Salem, withdrew from the conference. E. W. Achilles, of the Columbia River conference, was made an honorary member. J. S. Mowery, of the Wesleyan Church, was accorded the privileges of the conference. E. L. Smith was received from the Washington conference. In the reports from ministers in the field of support received it was disclosed that the highest sum paid any one minister during the year was a little over $300, and that was paid to W. N. Coffee, preaching elder for the Portland district, and the others received sums ranging from $200 to $260 per annum. Ministers of the Free Methodist Church do not receive a salary, but trust to the Lord to provide what is necessary for their support. They do not take into consideration the matter of support, but go anywhere they are sent without a murmur, no matter how unpromising the field may be. How they manage to subsist on the support as reported yesterday is one of the mysteries, and yet every report submitted was full of hope and cheerfulness. This conference will doubtless do as all the other conferences have done—reaffirm its opposition to secret societies and declare for plainness of dress, condemning all unnecessary ornaments, and for prohibition of the liquor traffic. Last year the conference declared against gold-rimmed spectacles. Bishop Hogue wears

JAPANESE BARON LANDS

Sakatan, Financier, Will Tour the United States and Europe.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 29.—Baron Sakatan, Japan's former Minister of Finance, accompanied by well-known Japanese financiers, arrived on the steamship Kaga Maru this morning. Baron Sakatan is accredited by Japanese newspapers with an official mission to secure another foreign loan for Japan. Asked regarding the reports, he said: "The newspapers say many things. My sole object is to travel for pleasure, as is that of the party accompanying me. Some, though, may have come to do some business. We go to Seattle, thence to Chicago and New York, where we will remain three weeks, then cross to London and after some time there and in other European capitals, will go to St. Petersburg and from there home by the Trans-Siberian Railroad. This is my first foreign trip and I am looking forward to my visit in the United States with great pleasure." Baron Sakatan revised Japan's financial system, secured the adoption of the gold standard and managed the financing of the wars with China and Russia. He resigned his portfolio as Minister of Finance a few months ago.

THIRTEEN DAYS ARE LEFT

Registration Books Will Be Closed Finally on May 15.

Stirred by thoughts of the approaching general and Presidential elections, 135 foreigners declared, during April, their intention to become citizens of the United States. This is the largest number known to have taken out declarations in one month in Portland. The next largest number was in March, when 110 took out declarations. There are but 13 days in which voters may register for the general election on June 1. The books close May 15, at 2 P. M. Registrations continue to come in slowly. There were 19 yesterday. The total is now 3164; 24,700 Republicans, 620 Democrats and 266 miscellaneous.

CLEAR THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, pomam, the new skin remedy, has in its extraordinary accomplishments exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset. In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. A muddy or sallow complexion is noticeably improved by a single application. Those who use pomam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Portland at the Skidmore Drug Co. and other lead drug stores. Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 22 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City.
