Handicapped by the strains of the merry-go-round march acress the street, faithful Democrats attended exercises last night at the opening of the Democratic campaign in this city. The exercises were held at Jenos' Hall, at Front and Gibbs streets, Seuth Portland. The programme was enlivened by a quartet that did creditable work, and their numbers were encored. Among these speaking were E. S. J. McAllister, A. speechmaking was inaugurated by Mr. McAllister, who spoke with especial emphasis in independent of the candidacy of Tom Word fer Sheriff and John Manning for District Attorney. The speaker declared that the service of such an official as Manning challenged the attention of every voter of lenged the attention of every voter of the district and suggested the question why the voter should not support the choice of the party. Mr. McAllister, referring to the career of District Attorney Manning, insisted that the record of that efficial, who stood for special crisilers to home cattiled him to vial privileges to none, entitled him to re-election,

A. King Wilson, Statement No. 1 candidate for the Legislature, in opposi-tion to C. N. McArthur, regular Re-publican nominee, presented his claims the suffrages of the voters of the two counties on the ground that it was a question of the people and not the Legislature electing Senators.

Oglesby Young, for Railroad Com-missioner, denied that he was a habit ual seeker for office and premised that, while the Railroad Commission cost, while the Railroad Commission cost the people $25,00 a year, if elected, he would give the people something for their money. Ed Cahalin, while he considered himself eligible to election as Justice of the Peace, made a plea for the election of Tom Word for Sheriff and John Manning as District Attorney, Tom Word promised to perform his duty if the voters of Multneman County decided to elect him as Sheriff for another term. Mr. Word explained that he hased his principal claim to election as Sheriff to the record he had made for closing up gambling and other illegiti-mate games, most of which was accomplished at his own individual cost,

Manning Stands on His Record. District Attorney John Manning, the next speaker, was received with applause. The presentation of his claims to reelection were received enthusiastically.

Mr. Manning briefly reviewed the history of the collapse of the Title Guarantee & Trust Company, how he had succeeded in saving to the depositors about $1,800,000 and at the same time secured the con-viction of the president of the wrecked Referring to the work of his ofice, Mr. Manning stated that he stood altogether on his record as a recommen-dation for further continuance in the of-The enthusiasm with which he was received left little doubt as to the strong support Mr. Manning may expect in the

Would Bring in Fleet.

John A. Jeffrey, candidate for Con-gressman from the Second Congressional District, was the last speaker of the evening. He first espoused the cause of Tom Word for Sheriff and District Attorney Mauning for re-election, and then as-sured his auditors that, if elected, the people of Pertland could expect that more than a cance would be ordered up the Willamette River to this city if they should see fit to send him to Washington as a member of Congress.

Fails to Recover Damages.

A verdict for the defense was reported by a jury in the United States Court yesterday in the suit of the Michael Welsh estate against the Bar-ber Asphalt & Paving Company. The administrator of the estate sued to re-cover $7500 damages for the death of Weish, which was alleged to have re-sulted from defects in the hoisting ma-chinery of the defendant company by which Welsh was employed. The de-fense contended that the death of Welsh was due to contributory negligence on the part of the deceased and his fellow-employes.

PREDICTS A "WET" OREGON

Writer Thinks That Prohibition Is Already on the Wane.

PORTLAND. May 5.—(To the Editor.)—
To carry the whole State of Oregon for prohibition in 1910, is the announced intention of Rev. J. R. Knodell, a young gentleman whom I understand to be the salarled superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in this state. Of course, as Mr. Knodell makes his living by this prohibition agitation, it is but natural that he should speak confidently of his ability to put some 10.000 men out of employment here. May I be excused for doubting if all the alleged evils of the liquor business ever caused as lition movement has now reached high water mark.

During the past month, the Anti-Saloon League has been defeated in Maryland, New Jersey, New York State, Pennsyl-vania and Wisconsin. The probabilities are that it will be defeated in the near future in Louisiana, Florida and possibly in North Carolina.

in Louisiana, Fiorida and possibly in North Carolina.

One of the most significant things that has happened for some time was the admission. April 6, by Rev. P. A. Baker, National superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, at Plainfield, N. J., that the tone of the press is changing. Mr. Baker declared that newspapers all over the country that have been friendly are now turning against the Anti-Saloon League. He accounts for it by declaring that the liquor morchants have bribed the newspapers. This is an old charge, and has been the means of frightening many editors in the past, but it begins to look as though the stander was losing its effect. In any case, it is interesting to know that Mr. Baker should feel it necessary to recognize publicly the change in the tone of the press and to try to account for it.

Manufacturers, merchants and labor unions in different portions of the country have gone on record publicly within the last 60 days as believing that prohibition is a mark of a stagnant community. For four years past, the only persons who have is a mark of a stagment community. For four years past, the only persons who have dared to express such ideas publicly have been the Muor merchants, and their small voices have been drowned in the clamor and riot of professional prohibitionists, and the sensational, self-advertising, money-the sensational, self-advertising grabbing preacher,

I do not think that Oregon is going dry in 1919. The pendulum has started to swing the other way. It may even be that in two years Rev. Mr. Knodell and the other professional agitators who now draw sallaries from the Anti-Salcon League, will be earning their living in some other way.
