NATIONAL FOOD FAIR.—Probably on account of the meeting this year, at Boston, of the National Retail Grocers Association, the annual Food Fair, at that city, is to be made more of than ever before. The Food Fair will not open until September 28 and will continue until October 31, but its promoters are communicating with all cities in the country that have sent representatives to the grocers' meeting, calling particular attention to the scope of the coming Fair. The Chamber of Commerce received a circular yesterday from the Fair management requesting co-operation in making the Fair representative of the food products of the country.

WRITES FOR OREGON VIEWS.—John C. Pierson, principal of the Bolcott (Wla.) High School, has written to Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce requesting photographs of several of the pictures used in the Chamber's book on Oregon. He also asks for copies of ten photographs reproduced in the Oregonian in the big annual number issued January 1. Professor Pierson will use these pictures in connection with his public and school lectures, in the form of stereoscopic views. By this means some of the striking features of natural scenery and agricultural progress of Oregon will be shown in various places in the Middle West.

PROGRESS OF REGISTRATION.—Only eight days remain in which voters may register for the primaries. The total registration of voters now stands at 23,887, of whom 21,929 are Republicans, 6,330 Democrats and 1,644 of miscellaneous party affiliations. There were 47 registrations yesterday, 35 of them being Republicans, five Democrats and six miscellaneous. Twelve voters came in to have changes made in their addresses. The books will close at 12 o'clock Monday P. M. Beginning Saturday night County Clerk Fields will keep the books open each night until 9 o'clock at night.

BUILD AT FIFTH AND STARK.—Tenants now occupying the buildings on the 10x130 lot at the northwest corner of Fifth and Stark streets have been notified by the owner, Gay Lombard, to vacate by June 1. Lombard said yesterday that the old buildings would be torn down soon after the date named, but beyond that he was unprepared to say what might be done. He has attached across the front of one of the buildings announces that the owner will build on the site a structure for lease for a term of years to a desirable tenant.

BAN ON TOBACCO-USERS.—Mrs. M. L. Hidden had charge of the programme at the meeting of Central W. C. T. U. yesterday afternoon. She spoke on the injurious effects of constant use of patent medicines and drugs. She also commended the formation of an organization of young women pledged not to keep the company of men who use tobacco or liquor. Next week there will be a business meeting and a parliamentary drill in charge of Mrs. Christian.

JOSEPH BUCHTEL IS ILL.—Joseph Buchtel, a well-known pioneer, is confined at his home on East Second and East Hoyt streets, with rheumatism. He was attacked last Friday and has not since been able to leave his house. He was unable to attend the celebration at Champego Saturday, where he was to preside as chairman.
