MAN FROM IOWA AMONG VICTIMS

Another Corpse on Guinness Farm Identified by His Two Sons.

WILL SOON TRY LAMPHERE

Prosecutor Says Proof Is Complete That He Murdered the Guinness Family and Aided in Murder of Helgelein.

LA PORTE, Ind., May 7.—The identification of another of the bodies dug up on the Guinness farm near here is that of Ole B. Budsberg, of Iola, Wis., and evidence that he, like Andrew Helgelein, of Mansfield, S. D., had been brought into Mrs. Bella Guinness' net through matrimonial advertisements, was one of the clarifying features of today's developments of the case. The identification of the bundle of bones and flesh as the remains of Budsberg was made by the man's sons, Mat Budsberg, aged 29 years, and Oscar H., two years his junior. The young men arrived here this afternoon.

The soaking rain which fell continuously for 24 hours prevented further excavation about the farm, and Sheriff Smutzer devoted his day to unearthing possible evidence which may be used in the trial of Ray Lamphere on the charge of having caused the death of Mrs. Guinness and her three children. The result of his investigations was such that Prosecuting Attorney Smith announced that he will seek the immediate indictment of Lamphere and will endeavor to have the case called for trial at the next term of court, which is scheduled to start May 11.

Evidence Against Lamphere.

Bessie Conklin, of Michigan City, Ind., has been arrested and is held as a witness against Lamphere. It is said that Lamphere, while talking to Miss Conklin, made threats against Mrs. Guinness, and said that he had information which, if disclosed, would hang Mrs. Guinness.

"He told me that Mrs. Guinness had to be good to him or he would make it hot for her and send her to the gallows," said Miss Conklin to Sheriff Smulzer. She also added that Lamphere was "crazy jealous" over Mrs. Guinness.

The Coroner's verdict on the three children of Mrs. Guinness will find that they were struck on the forehead with a hammer before being buried. There is a large hole on the forehead of each child.

Will Convict Lamphere.

Mr. Smith said:

Lamphere will be on trial within three weeks. So far as the state is concerned, the case is complete, and I am ready to present the evidence in court. I am satisfied that we have collected testimony of such a character that Lamphere's responsibility for the deaths in the house will be established beyond a reasonable doubt.

We will produce witnesses to prove that Lamphere was seen around the Guinness house before the fire broke out, and that he was seen running away later. We shall also prove that he set fire to the place in revenge for action taken against him by the woman after they had fallen out, and that this disagreement was due to a quarrel over the murder of Helgelein, in which crime Lamphere was implicated, according to our evidence.

Attempt to Take Corpses.

During the Sheriff's absence this afternoon two men, thought to be from Michigan City, caused considerable apprehension by breaking into the carriage-house on the Guinness farm, where the nine cadavers have been kept since the exhumation. The men raised a window on the south side of the building, and one of them had already made his way into the morgue when discovered by a watchman. It is thought that the men were merely led by a morbid curiosity to view the grewsome skeletons stored in the carriage-house.

Lacking the excitement which attended the discovery of the bodies yesterday and Tuesday, the rumor-mongers of the town made use of their opportunity to start many wild stories about the streets. These false sensations followed each other at intervals all day, but none of them bore the test of investigation.

Coroner Mack put in a busy day taking lengthy depositions from the father, sister and brother of Jennie Olsen, and also from Asle K. Helgelein, of Mansfield, S. D. These documents detail at length the known relations between Mrs. Guinness and these two of her victims. Helgelein's case proves of especial interest in that it confirms many of the previous reports regarding the methods by which Mrs. Guinness drew the South Dakota farmer into her web.

How Helgelein Was Trapped.

The Olsen testimony detailed the early life of Mrs. Guinness' foster daughter, and also revealed that the woman had refused at one time to return the girl to her father.

One of the subjects discussed tonight by officials connected with the case was the correspondence between Mrs. Guinness and Andrew Helgelein. The latter's brother brought several of these missives with him from Mansfield, S. D. They reveal thoroughly the guiles by which Helgelein was induced to enter the trap prepared for him. Endearing terms are numerous in the missive, and in the later ones are explicit directions as to the methods by which Helgelein was to collect his resources. In addition, such phrases as "We must pray God to protect us from evil" are in evidence.

Asle K. Helgelein told the Coroner that not only had his brother been in communication with the woman, but also that she had written to him after Andrew disappeared, in an attempt to induce him to visit this city.

"Sell your brother's stock and come here, and we will hunt your brother together," was the gist of the epistles written in Norwegian, and as yet only partially translated.

The Coroner is not yet convinced of the identity of the bones as those of Helgelin and turned them over to an undertaker for preservation.

Why She Hated Lamphere.

Lamphere has revealed that his former employer had urged him to insure his life in her favor, asserting that Mrs. Guinness had offered to pay the premiums on such a policy, provided that he agreed to marry her. He also said that he believed his refusal to fall in with her plans had caused the enmity which she later manifested towards him, resulting in his arrest on three occasions and his trial before a lunacy commission on the fourth.

Lamphere says there was one room in Mrs. Guinness' house which she always kept locked. This, it is suggested, is where she killed her victims. In the basement was another locked room, which is believed to have been a temporary morgue.

BAIT HELD OUT TO VICTIMS

Letter Written by Mrs. Guinness to Would-be Husband.

WAUPACA, Wis., May 7.—The letter which Carl Peterson, of Waupaca, received from Mrs. Belle Guinness, the alleged La Porte murderess, has been translated from Norwegian into English, as follows:

Dear Sir—As I some time ago received from you a letter in answer to my advertisement in the Scandinavian, I will with pleasure answer the same.

The reason I waited for some time is that there have been other answers to the same advertisement. As many as 50 have been received, and it has been impossible to answer all. I have picked out the most respectable, and I have decided that yours is such.

First, I will tell you that I am a Norwegian and have been in this country for 20 years. I live in Indiana, about 59 miles from Chicago and one mile north of La Porte. I am the sole owner of a nice home, pretty location.

There are 75 acres of land, also all kinds of crops, improved land, apples, plums and currants. I am on a boulevard road and have a 12-room house, practically new, a windmill and all modern improvements, situated in a beautiful suburb of Chicago, worth about $15,000. All of this is nearly paid for. It is in my own name.

I am alone with three small children, from 5 to 11 years old. The smallest is a little boy. The two largest are girls, all frisky and well. I lost my husband by accident five years ago, and have since tried to get along as well as I could with what help I could hire. I am getting tired of this, and I have found that it is not well to trust others with so much. It is too much for me to look after things, and things are not as I want them anyway.

My idea of them is to take a partner to whom I can trust everything, and, as we have no acquaintance ourselves, I have decided that every applicant I have considered favorably must make a satisfactory deposit of cash or security. I think that is the best way for parties to keep away grafters, who are always looking for such opportunities, as I have had experience with them, as I can prove. Now, if you think that you are able to in some way put up $1000 cash, we can talk matters over personally. If you cannot, it is not worth while to consider. I would not care for you as a hired man, as I am tired of that and need a little rest in my home and near my children. I will close for this time.

With friendly regards,
(Signed) MRS. P. S. GUINNESS.

DIG FOR BODIES IN CHICAGO

Police Will Search Near Mrs. Guinness' Former Home.

CHICAGO, May 7.—It was determined that tomorrow a squad of laborers shall be sent to the premises once occupied by Mrs. Bella Guinness, in this city, and see if any bodies were buried there before she moved to La Porte.

Coroner Hoffman today began a search of the records of the Coroner's office and the Police and Health Departments to ascertain, if possible, whether Max Sorenson, the first husband of Mrs. Guinness, was murdered.

It has been found that Carolina Sorenson, a daughter of Mrs. Guinness, died August 24, 1896, and that an infant died April 10, 1896. Coroner Hoffman is seeking also to ascertain whether there was any insurance money involved.

Bait to Catch Victims.

Following is Mrs. Guinness' "matrimonial advertisement," with which victims were lured to death:

PERSONAL.—Comely widow who owns large farm in one of the finest districts in La Porte County, Indiana, desires to make the acquaintance of gentleman equally well provided, with view of joining fortunes. No replies by letter considered unless sender is willing to follow answer by personal visit.

HIS MEMORY POOR

G. H. Umbsen, Who Paid Ruef Bribe, "Forgets" on Stand.

CAUTIONED BY THE COURT

Judge Dooling Compelled to Reprimand Unwilling Witness Against Boss Grafter—Makes Startling Change in His Testimony.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—G. H. Umbsen, a prominent real estate man, again occupied the witness-stand today in the trial of Abraham Ruef. The direct testimony of Umbsen, who, on behalf of the Parkside Realty Company, negotiated with and employed Ruef as an attorney to gain a trolley franchise from the Schmitz Board of Supervisors in 1906, wanted by the realty company, was weakened somewhat upon cross-examination by Henry Ach, chief counsel for Ruef. This caused Assistant District Attorney Heney to have the witness tell again upon re-direct examination, the story of employing Ruef and the payment to him of $15,000 of the $30,000 fee demanded by Ruef.

Without offering any explanation other than that he was mistaken, the witness said the $30,000 drawn by the Parkside Company to pay Ruef when the franchise was obtained, was deposited with the Union Trust Company on March 17, 1906. One-half of this amount, said Umbsen, was paid by him to Ruef on May 23. Umbsen had testified upon direct examination that the money was placed in his own vault, and upon digging the safe out of the ruins after the big fire he had found the currency intact.

Umbsen was a very poor witness. Much of his testimony was vague and indefinite when he was asked for details. He qualified many of his answers with "I think," "I am not sure," "It may have been," causing Judge Dooling to repeatedly take a hand in the examination and caution the witness that it was facts that he was being asked for.

H. Van Luven, assistant cashier of the Union Trust Company, was placed on the stand for a few minutes during the afternoon to produce a cashier's check for $15,000 indorsed by H. B. Umbsen, a brother of G. H. Umbsen. The latter was then recalled.

In order that the trial may be finished as soon as possible, Judge Dooling held a night session tonight, when counsel for the defense took Umbsen in hand for further cross-examination.

DISCUSS CIVIL SERVICE

National Reform League Is in Session at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Measures for enforcing civil service laws, and the difficulties to be overcome in applying such laws to a service already in existence, were discussed at tonight's session of the second biennial meeting of the National assembly of civil service commissions which began here today. Well-known merit board officials from all parts of the country are in attendance. The discussion was led by Elliot H. Goodwin, secretary of the National Civil Service Reform League.

Speaking as a man actively associated with the work of civil service reform, Mr. Goodwin, in his address on "Enforcement of Civil Service Law, Federal, State and Municipal; Violations and Prosecutions," called attention to the comparatively brief tenure of office of the average civil service commissioner. To this brief tenure of office he ascribed many of the shortcomings in the enforcement of the laws. He said in part:

The lack of tenure operates in two ways to the detriment of the enforcement of the laws. It is continually bringing in new and untrained men and it leaves the thoroughly honest and efficient commissioner alone and forlorn on a lofty pedestal, supported only by such civil service reform sentiment as may exist in his community.

The remedy is two-fold. I believe in a term of office for civil service commissioners and removal only for causes stated and after an opportunity to answer the reasons assigned for removal.

Corporation Counsel Edward J. Brundage delivered an address of welcome, to which response was made by President Charles S. Fowler, of Albany, N. Y. Later in the day addresses were made by Elliot Lower, president of the Chicago City Civil Service Commission, who spoke on "The Practical Administration of Civil Service Laws."

Charles Fowler, president of the assembly; F. E. Doty, of Wisconsin, and Frank N. Higgins, chief examiner of the United States Civil Service Commission, also spoke.

TAFT EXPLAINS HIS VISIT

Mission to Investigate Treaty Problems and Boundary Disputes.

PANAMA, May 7.—Secretary Taft in his reply to questions as to whether he came in connection with the relations with Panama, the United States and Colombia, said:

"I have not come to make any treaties, but there are situations leading up to possible treaties that have to be investigated. Then there is considerable agitation, if I can judge by the correspondence, over questions that have arisen between the Isthmian Canal Commission and the Republic of Panama.

"I have also come to see about the boundary differences between Panama and Colombia, and to look into the matter of the seizure of the town of Jurado by the Colombians."

EXPLAINS COLOMBIAN AFFAIR

State Department Says No New Demands Are Made.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—That the Republic of Colombia has twice made demand for arbitration of her claim of $10,000,000 from the United States, and twice has been refused, was made known at the State Department yesterday. It was added that these demands and refusals were ancient history, and that no fresh representation had been made on the question. This information, perhaps more in detail, will constitute the answer to Mr. Bacon's resolution of inquiry, adopted by the Senate yesterday. The basis of the Colombian demand is expected to be the damage she claims to have sustained in the separation from her territory of what is now the Republic of Panama, made possible through the recognition by the United States of the Panama Republic. The basis of the refusal of the American Government to comply with this demand is that the recognition of the new republic was a question of policy and therefore not properly the subject of criticism by another nation, and certainly not a question which this Government could permit to be made the subject of decision by an arbitration tribunal.

BOTH M'KEES TO BLAME

LEGAL EXPERT OF COURT RECOMMENDS DIVORCE.

Finds That Most Serious Charges and Counter-Charges Are Not Sustained.

PARIS, May 7.—The legal expert of the court presented his conclusion in the McKee divorce case today. His finding was in favor of granting a divorce, holding both Mr. and Mrs. McKee responsible. Formal judgment will be rendered May 14. The suit was brought in this city by Mrs. Hart McKee, formerly Mrs. Hugh Tevis.

In presenting his findings the legal expert retraced the history of the McKee marriage and described both McKee and his wife as "spoiled children of fortune," who had fallen desperately in love with each other. Marriage the day after his divorce was atonement for whatever had occurred before marriage.

He said Mr. McKee was a man of uncontrollable temper who always had been interested in occultism and magic; that he had been guilty of great brutality towards his wife, and that the repeated scenes of violence had seriously affected her health. Nevertheless, the law expert concluded, the charges that Mr. McKee had tried to starve his wife, maltreated her child, stolen her jewels, etc. had not been substantiated.

As for Mrs. McKee although she perhaps had been guilty of lack of tact, the charges that she had had unlawful relations with her chauffeur and an Italian nobleman had not been proved. In his final conclusion that the divorce should be granted in favor of neither the husband nor the wife the legal expert says such a decision would avoid dishonoring two families who enjoy a good reputation in America, and that it would also spare the children.

The expert found that the French courts are competent to try the defamation suit against Colonel Baxter, Mrs. McKee's father, which has grown out of the divorce case, but he declared that neither Colonel Baxter nor his wife was involved in the divorce issue.

STORM SWEEPS CHICAGO

Gale Blows Down Live Wires and Imperils Many Lives.

CHICAGO, May 7.—One man was killed, many pedestrians were put in peril by falling live wires and others were blown down and injured during a terrific wind and rain storm which prevailed today. In outlying parts of the city windows were broken, wires carried away and trees blown down. The Weather Bureau reports the wind's maximum velocity at 40 miles an hour, but along the lake shore its force was much greater.

John Lucas, 65 years of age, was blown down and died of heart disease, superinduced by this rough treatment.

Wires of the fire alarm and police telegraph system were badly crippled and telephone communication with the life-saving station at the mouth of the Chicago River was lost. It was reported from the water works cribs in the lake that the sea running today was the highest in several years. Only two steamers put out from this port this morning and came back for safety.

Unroofs Houses in Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 7.—A heavy wind and rain storm swept over this county last night. Near Choatesville, the wind unroofed a number of houses and demolished a residence occupied by Jesse Collins and family of five. All of the members of the family were injured, but none fatally. The residence of Melville Collins was blown 20 feet from its foundations. Barns were demolished and telephone lines were blown down all over the county.

Sues Defaulting Clerk.

OREGON CITY, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—Suit was instituted here today by School District No. 105, of Willamette, against Otto F. Olson, for $5425.27, this being the amount that Olson is alleged to be short in his accounts when he was arrested for embezzling the district funds. Olson was sent to the Penitentiary last Tuesday.

SICK HEADACHES

Distressing Attacks to Which Many Women Are Subject.

What the Tonic Treatment Has Done to Correct the Cause of This Recurring and Painful Illness.

There are few ailments that cause more genuine misery in the home than the attacks which are generally termed sick headaches. These attacks are often periodical and when the mother of a family is prostrated at intervals there is not only her own suffering to consider but the discomfort caused the other members of the household. Too often the recurrent symptoms become so regular and familiar to those about her that the sufferer gets but little sympathy in her awful suffering.

Sick headaches arise from a variety of disturbances confined to the stomach and digestive tract and most of them can be cured or relieved to a marked degree. The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has been successful in a large number of cases, one of which is that of Mrs. Mary A. Terry, of 721 East Main street, Clinton, Ill. She says:

"For thirty years I was subject to sick headaches. They began when I was a young girl and would occur as often as two or three times a week, seldom missing one. When these attacks came on I would get very sick at my stomach and vomit. The strain was so great that the blood-vessels in my head would swell up, my eye-balls would feel hot and the muscles in my neck stiff and sore. During these spells the pains in my head were intense and throbbing and would sometimes last for three days. I would be unable to sit up, being often confined to my bed.

"All of my mother's family were subject to violent headaches and the doctors told me I inherited it. They said I was in a bad condition and that it would take some time to cure me. They never gave me more than temporary relief and after years of doctoring I gave them up and started taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began to get a little better after taking a few boxes and steadily improved until I was cured. I have felt well since and never have any more trouble with my head. I have always recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone suffering as I did, for I have the greatest confidence in them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

HONOR FRANCIS JOSEPH

Royal Relatives Celebrate Austrian Emperor's Diamond Jubilee.

VIENNA, May 7.—The heads of the princely house of Germany, led by Emperor William, have assembled in Vienna to present their congratulations to Emperor Francis Joseph on the occasion of the diamond jubilee of his reign as Emperor-King of Austria-Hungary and to inaugurate a series of festivities with which the jubilee is to be celebrated throughout the dual monarchy.

Emperor William and the Empress arrived at the Meidling railroad station this morning from Pola, where they landed yesterday from the imperial yacht Hohenzollern. The Royal visitors were met and welcomed at the station by Emperor Francis Joseph, who accompanied them by train to another station near Schoenbrunn Palace, known as Penzing. Here there was a great gathering of notables to receive the German Emperor and his wife. All the Austrian Archdukes and Archduchesses and the principal officials, the members of the German Embassy and the Burgomaster of Vienna were on the station platform when Emperor Francis Joseph alighted from the train and was followed by Emperor William. This unique gathering of royalty attracted a host of visitors into Vienna. The city has been bedecked with bunting, and triumphal arches span the principal thoroughfares.

The imperial guests were given a magnificent reception. Shortly before noon all the royal visitors were driven out in carriages to the palace and assembled in the great crimson drawing-room, where they were joined by Emperor William and the Empress.

The procession, composed of German Princes, all in brilliant uniforms and headed by Emperor William and his wife, then proceeded to the Marie Antoinette Salon, where Emperor Francis Joseph awaited his visitors.

Emperor William made a speech in which he tendered Emperor Francis Joseph the congratulations of those present upon the 60th anniversary of the beginning of his reign

S. C. SPENCER POISONED

Prominent Attorney Is Suddenly Taken Violently Ill.

Schuyler C. Spencer, a prominent attorney, with offices in the Chamber of Commerce building, who resides at 74 Johnson street, was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital last night suffering from an acute case of ptomaine poisoning. Mr. Spencer was driven to the hospital by his physician, Dr. J. R. Wetherbee, who had been hurriedly called from his office in the Marquam building to the Spencer residence. Dr. Wetherbee found Mr. Spencer in such a critical condition that he immediately hurried him to a private room in the hospital, where heroic efforts were resorted to in combating the rapidly working poison.

The cause of the poisoning was not definitely determined last night, but it was believed that some fresh crabs which Mr. Spencer had eaten at dinner contained the poison germs.
