

MARTIN WILL BE INDICTED TODAY

Formal Charge of Murder of Nathan Wolff to Be Filed by the District Attorney.

NO PRELIMINARY HEARING

Prisoner Will Be Removed at Once to County Jail to Await Trial.

Wife Calls on Suspect Again. Her Sister to Be a Witness.

Edward H. Martin will be indicted today on a charge of murdering Nathan Wolff. An information was prepared last night by District Attorney Manning and is ready for filing with the State Circuit Court the first thing this morning. Martin will be held for trial without the formality of preliminary examination. As soon as the indictment is perfected he will be taken to the County Jail to await trial.

After hearing the circumstances thus far developed concerning Martin with the murder, Mr. Manning decided at once that the evidence was sufficiently complete and definite to warrant holding the suspect. He expressed the opinion that, barring unforeseen developments, conviction of Martin will be a certainty when the case comes to trial.

Sarah Griffin, Martin's sister-in-law, will be one of the most important witnesses for the state if present plans do not miscarry. Inasmuch as the wife's testimony could not be used without Martin's consent, even should she be minded to tell all she may know, Miss Griffin's evidence would be quite as important as that of Mrs. Martin's as showing Martin's guilt. She is expected to appear at midnight following the tragedy, home at midnight following the tragedy.

Heard Martin's Talk With Wife.

It developed yesterday that Miss Griffin has told the authorities in detail of Martin's arrival home a few minutes before 12 o'clock of the night in question. She heard Mrs. Martin ask him what had become of the clothes he wore away earlier in the day and how he came by the cuts and scratches on his face, head and hands. She heard Martin's lurid story of having been attacked by highwaymen and his later story of a fight over a game of cards in which he claimed to have been struck with a chair. She has told of Martin's lurid details of his conduct. Mr. Manning caused the issuance of a subpoena for Miss Griffin yesterday, and expects to use her testimony. It is doubted, however, whether she can testify as to any conversation which occurred between Martin and his wife.

Mrs. Martin visited her husband again in his cell early yesterday afternoon, but as on the occasion of her previous visit, she remained only a few minutes. The visit was accompanied by J. P. Kavanaugh, who is acting temporarily as her legal adviser. The lawyers who will handle the case have not yet been named. That is not likely to be done until the elder Martin is definitely heard from. It is suggested that an Eastern lawyer may come here to take charge of the case.

Father of Suspect Located.

Hugh Martin, the father, was located yesterday. Word to that effect was received early in the day by Mrs. Martin. The message was from the elder Martin's New York agent. It was not stated where the father is located, although it is known he is somewhere in Europe on a pleasure trip. The telegram from New York advised Mrs. Martin that the father would communicate direct with the prisoner.

Mrs. Martin assured her husband that she would stand by him in his trouble, when she visited the cell yesterday. The police gave them no opportunity to talk. Mrs. Martin remained only long enough to assure the suspect that she believed him innocent and said competent counsel would be provided.

Denies He Borrowed Revolver.

The statements of Mrs. Grubb, of 149 Pennoyer street, that Martin borrowed a revolver from her the Friday of the murder, is vigorously denied by Martin. He says he can easily account for his whereabouts at 4 o'clock, when Mrs. Grubb says he was at her place. He says he was talking with Municipal Judge Cameron at 3:30 o'clock, in front of the Chamber of Commerce building, although Judge Cameron says he can remember no such meeting.

Mrs. Grubb declares that she was not mistaken. Martin told her he was a military man and as such was greatly interested in target practice. He asked her for her revolver for a few days, and she gave it to him, together with a number of cartridges, so she says.

Martin ate the first food since his arrest last night. During the four days of confinement he had miced at the coarse jail food, but was not able to eat. Chief Gritzmacher consented to let Martin have fresh milk and cookies last night, as he had asked for them repeatedly. When they were given him, he ate half a dozen cookies and drank a bottle of milk.

SAY THEY RECOGNIZE MARTIN

Baker City People Declare He Went by Name of Major Adams There.

BAKER CITY, Or., May 8.—(Special.)—There seems to be little doubt in the minds of the people of this city that E. H. Martin, who is under arrest in Portland, on suspicion of being the murderer of Nathan Wolff, is none other than Major Adams, who gained considerable notoriety in this city last summer by his queer actions.

The descriptions of the men tally exactly and the Major's bearing plainly indicated that he had been a member of the Army. He usually carried a large cane with which he was doing all kinds of tricks and was continually quoting Shakespeare or making a flowery speech. He appeared to be a brilliant and accomplished man and always had money. He was taken in by the police twice for being a nuisance, but never created any trouble.

Major Adams did not drink much but appeared to be under the influence of morphine. He said that his father was a multi-millionaire and that he was out

GOOD THINGS IN PORTLAND MARKET

BY LILIAN TINGLE.
WITH the early summer fruits and vegetables coming in, one by one, the housekeeper's visits to the market increase in interest and pleasure; though the pleasure for any woman who is at all dainty and fastidious in regard to her food supplies is at times marred by the carelessness of those dealers who prefer to keep fresh and vegetables low down on the sidewalk. Probably, however, this would quickly be changed if even half a dozen good customers would draw attention to the matter and point out its obvious undesirability.

California strawberries seem to be plentiful and fairly good, costing from 12 1/2 to 15 cents a box, or three boxes for a quarter, in the smaller size. Oregon berries cost 25 cents as yet. The cherries to be seen are still small and lacking in certain attributes of the cherry "wot is a cherry"; but they are improving in appearance and cost now from 10 to 25 cents a pound. Loquats, at 20 cents a pound; mangoes, at 50 cents each, and pineapples, at 40 to 60 cents, give variety to the fruit stalls, while the new "Charley's nuts" from Brazil (like "Charley's Aunt"), add another tropic touch, besides being "good eating" when properly treated.

Green lima beans are to be seen now, as well as the wax and string beans that were in for the last few weeks. Tiny French carrots, nearly-skinned young turnips and the "elephant" bean suggest various dainty "macedonies" and here to buy a mine. He left here the latter part of the summer and went to Spokane.

MARKET WIRE TO RESUME

Direct Service From East to Be Re-established to Portland.

A direct market service over a leased wire is contemplated by R. W. McKinnon, of the firm of Logan & Bryan, grain and stock brokers of Chicago and New York, who was in the city yesterday, about six years ago, and established the business now conducted by the Overbeck & Cooke Company, but since the dull market following the financial crisis last Fall the leased wire service has been suspended. Now that times are improving, and the demand for stocks and bonds is steadily increasing, Mr. McKinnon believes his firm is justified in again establishing a leased wire service.

While in Portland yesterday Mr. McKinnon interviewed a number of prominent bankers and grain dealers and without exception they assured him that the Portland business is of sufficient importance to warrant facilities equal to those of any other city in the West. During the telegraphers' strike last summer, the Logan & Bryan operators remained at their post throughout the trouble, and for a number of days the only market reports received at Portland were those which came over the Logan & Bryan wire to the Overbeck & Cooke Company.

It has been three years since Mr. McKinnon's previous visit to Portland, and like all others who return after a prolonged absence, he was astonished at the growth of the city, especially in the downtown business districts. He left last night for San Francisco and will return East from there. Unless unforeseen obstacles arise the leased wire service will start June 1.

WORK FOR EARLY CLOSING

Woman's Club Favors Policy for Business Houses.

At the meeting of the Woman's Club yesterday afternoon it was resolved that support be given to the movement to close stores and business houses at 6 o'clock. Delegates were appointed to attend the forthcoming meeting of the Consumers' League and the associated organizations which are working for this end, and the club members pledged themselves to do all possible for its accomplishment and establishment as a permanent custom.

It was also resolved to present a petition to the Board of Education, to be submitted at the next election of school directors, urging the establishment of free kindergartens, for children under 4 years old, as part of the common school system of this district. In connection with the movement displacing women in railroad offices, the club protested against any attempt at discrimination against women who have proved themselves equally faithful and efficient with men, in the fields of labor they have entered.

Arrangements were completed for the annual election of officers, which takes place May 22, the result of the ballot for nominations, held at the last meeting being as follows: President, Mrs.

"Russian" salads. Good artichokes are again to be had at three for 25 cents. Asparagus costs 10 to 12 1/2 cents a pound and new Oregon peas 20 cents. There are plump and handsome green peppers at 10 cents each and attractive cucumbers for 15, 25 and 35 cents and plenty of nice head lettuce, endive, watercress and radishes. Rhubarb is large and plentiful and you get from four to six pounds for 25 cents.

Spring ducks are $1 each and Spring chickens at 50 and 75 cents are very charming, but hardly the thing for large and hungry families. Substantial (sometimes too substantial) "chickens" at 18 to 20 cents (with plenty of gravy and old-fashioned dumplings or biscuits) are more suitable for such cases. Turkeys are of course quite out of season, such as there are being 25 cents a pound and inclined to "scrawny" in outline. Fish is very good and various in kind this week. Shad is very cheap at present (15 to 20 cents each), and striped bass is cheaper than usual. Sea trout are plentiful at 20 cents a dozen. Maryland soft-shell crabs, three for $1, will be welcomed by some people; others will be glad to see New York clams—in addition to our own (like "Charley's Aunt"), add another tropic touch, besides being "good eating" when properly treated.

Green lima beans are to be seen now, as well as the wax and string beans that were in for the last few weeks. Tiny French carrots, nearly-skinned young turnips and the "elephant" bean suggest various dainty "macedonies" and here to buy a mine. He left here the latter part of the summer and went to Spokane.

SHOWS DIVIDE TERRITORY

Norris & Rowe Circus the Only One to Play in Portland This Year.

The Barnum & Bailey circus played an extended engagement at Madison Square Garden New York City, this spring. The Ringling Brothers circus began their season at the Coliseum, Chicago. It is reported that their business was very large. The Greater Norris & Rowe circus, museum, menagerie, hippodrome and concert of nations, began their season in San Francisco this year. In 30 days the big show played to 270,872 paid admissions. The press of the city were enthusiastic in their praise of the new big show.

By arrangement of the three big circuses, each of them opened their season in the metropolis of the various sections of the country that they will play. Barnum & Bailey circus will play the New England States; the Ringling Brothers the Middle West and Southern States, and the Greater Norris & Rowe circus the territory west of the Rockies. Thus each section of the country will have one of the big shows this year.

It is estimated that with the three big circuses of the country, the Ringling Brothers, the Greater Norris & Rowe, and the Barnum & Bailey shows, there are 1800 people, 100 horses, 100 elephants, 175 cars, besides hundreds of other animals used. It costs about $12,000 a day to operate these shows. They are about of equal size and importance this year.

It is estimated that the distance covered by the three big shows this season will exceed in the aggregate 45,000 miles. Each show will travel on three special trains, it is said.

The Greater Norris & Rowe circus will exhibit at Portland, Monday and Tuesday, May 11 and 12.

The County Court has already decided that in view of a petition presented at the last term the local option question should be voted upon in June throughout the county. Cornelius went "wet" at its recent municipal election and South Forest Grove is considered a "dry" precinct with sufficient votes to make Cornelius "dry." These two precincts have been joined for a special vote. The other
