EXCHANGES WITH TACOMA PASTOR.-Dr. W. A. Moore, of the First Christian Church of Tacoma, will exchange pulpits Sunday with Dr. Muckley of the First Christian Church, Park and Columbia streets. Dr. Moore is said to be one of the most able preachers of this denomination. His church won the late Bible school contest by having the largest attendance during the pass six months. tendance during the past six months, while the church at Portland won in the way of offerings. Dr. Moore will tell the Portland church next Sunday how to draw crowds, and Dr. Muckley will tell the church at Tacoma how to increase its finances.

its finances. special meeting of the City Council com-mittee on judiclary was held late yes-terday afternoon, to consider the proposed ordinance relative to the Mount Hood Railway & Power Company, which seeks rights along the Bull Run River, con-trolled by the municipality. The company wishes permission to use the excess water. or the amount not now or to be in fu-ture required by the city. This involves a very important legal question, and it will be difficult, it was found, to properly protect the city. The matter will be con-sidered further at a later meeting.

NOT GUILTY OF STEALING PIANO.—Miss M. L. Crawford, a manicurist, was acquitted yesterday afternoon of a charge of stealing a piano. During the morning session of the Circuit Court she broke down and wept, and Deputy District Attorney Haney requested that the court order an adjournment until the afternoon. This Judge Bronaugh did. It was charged that Miss Crawford disposed of a $225 plane she had bought from Martin Johnson, on the installment plan. A small amount was paid down, and, it is era-House, New York City, will be heard

Thinks Public That Likes "The Ham Tree" and Williams and Walker, Would Appreciate Him the More

BY ARTHUR A. GREENE. ILTON LACKAYE, who is "Bill" to his intimates, and William Casin, who is "Bill" to his intimates, both friends from antiquity, held a rethe Hellig last night. I happened in while the actor was telling the singer that he thought of blacking up next year in order that the public might appre-ciate his efforts the more, since they were so devoted to "The Ham Tree" and Williams and Walker.

and Williams and Walker.

It is something of a liberal education to listen to Mr. Lackaye in his ordinary conversation. Incidentally I learn from him that he is considering a new play for next year, much as he loves "The Bondman," and that it may be one submitted to him by Edwin Milton Royle, who is responsible for "The Squawman" and "Friends." It is also possible, however, that he will find some proper however, that he will find some proper vehicle during his trip abroad the com-ing Summer, when he expects to keep his eyes open for something which can be translated into the English. In the interim, however, Mr. Lackaye will continue in that justly celebrated literary gentleman, Hall Caine's, thrilling play, "The Bondman. LONG LIST OF BURGLARIES

Three Youths Arrested and Charged With Many Crimes.

Three young men, all under 25, are in he City Jail accused of a series of at least a dozen burglaries during the past few months. Their arrest was made by De-tectives Price, Coleman and Hellyer, after several days of hard work.

Articles stolen from White's drugstore and from the Hudson Arms Company's place on Third street, were found in their researches and the three detectives bone possession and the three detectives hope to place a number of other charges against them. They gave their names as Frank Barghers, Arthur Flood and Will Shirley. All were well dressed and looked little like thieves. From the fact that they had been working at intervals, kept good hours and operated with great caution their capture was difficult and the three officers are being commended on their sleuthing on this case. Formal charges will not be made pending further in-
