ARMY DISCIPLINE UNDER ASSAULT

Warren Resents Rayner's Championship of Colonel Stewart.

THREAT TO ROOSEVELT

Maryland Senator Admits Telling President He Would Move Resolution Unless Inquiry Ordered. Motion Sent to Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Rayner today called up in the Senate his joint resolution directing the President to appoint a court of inquiry in the case of Colonel W. E. Stewart and said that, if he could be assured of a report during the present week, he would not object to sending it to the committee on military affairs. He said he was willing to change the resolution, making it merely an expression of the opinion of the Senate and having it request instead of directing the President to appoint a committee on inquiry. Warren, chairman of the committee, said:

"The resolution is not only a reproof to the President, but it is an attack on the discipline of the army and, in a way, of the navy also."

He objected to establishing a precedent by which Army orders to officers may be held up by appealing to a Senator.

This statement was accompanied by a motion by Warren to refer the resolution to the military committee, a motion which followed a suggestion by Aldrich that unanimous consent be given to consider the resolution at this time. The discussion was on the motion to refer it.

"The right of a man to a trial before punishment and the attitude of the President that he holds a constitutional office as Commander-in-Chief of the Army, in which he is not responsible to law," declared Bacon, "are questions of importrance in this case. So far as the officer is concerned," he added, "I am not favorably impressed with him. He has not been a desirable officer."

Rayner asked Warren whether, if the resolution should be referred to the committee on military affairs, he would be permitted to appear before the committee and submit some further authorities on the subject. Rayner said he had modified his resolution to express the opinion of the Senate that Colonel Stewart was entitled to a court of inquiry and to "request" the President to grant the court of inquiry.

Did Not Threaten Roosevelt.

Something of a sensation was created by Warren asking Rayner "whether he had approached the executive with a threat that, if this man was not removed from Fort Grant, this resolution would be presented in the Senate."

"I utterly deny that proposition," replied Rayner, "and I hope the executive has not made such a statement."

He added that he had not seen the President for two years until two weeks ago, when he was requested to go to the White House and that, when he responded to the invitation, the President showed him voluminous typewritten matter about Colonel Stewart. He had not "threatened" the President, only stating that unless the court of inquiry was ordered he would offer a resolution in the Senate.

"As if anybody could threaten the President," exclaimed Rayner, amid laughter.

Warren said this question was suggested by newspaper reports only.

Rayner stating that Colonel Stewart had been sent to a fort up in the clouds, 2000 or 3000 feet above the sea, Warren interrupted with the remark that many Senators lived in altitudes higher than Fort Grant.

No Right to Punish.

Five times, said Rayner, the President repeated in his letters that his treatment of Colonel Stewart was a punishment, which, he added, "under the laws of this country he has no right to inflict, yet he is proceeding by punishment to drive him into retirement."

Taliaferro of Florida had a letter read showing that Colonel Stewart had been ordered away from Fort St. Francis, St. Augustine, merely because of a protest by the State of Florida, which has control of Fort St. Francis. He had received a letter from the President in which the latter said the punishment inflicted upon Colonel Stewart was incident to the discipline of the Army and concluded by saying that, as commander-in-chief, he neither could nor would surrender the right to exercise judgment. He expressed the opinion that a court-martial might be necessary to provide punishment for Colonel Stewart.

The resolution was then referred to the committee on military affairs, Warren saying Rayner would be welcome to appear before the committee.

Roosevelt Explains Action Toward Stewart—No Race Distinction.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Light on the precise attitude taken by President Roosevelt in the case of Colonel William F. Stewart, of the Coast Artillery, has been given to certain of the President's friends in Congress, and the prediction is made that the recent speech of Senator Rayner, of Maryland, may be replied to with vigor. It is explained that in detailing Colonel Stewart to Fort Grant, Ariz., without command, the President has taken the one course open to him in desirably avoiding any procedure which might result in the punishment of Colonel Stewart by depriving him of his pay upon retirement.

In giving effect of his determination to eliminate Colonel Stewart from commanding troops, for the good of the Army, it is explained that the method adopted by the President is regarded as most direct and at the same time legally justifiable. Should he, as demanded by Mr. Rayner, order a board of inquiry, the finding of such a board would go to the President for review. He might approve or disapprove the finding and might make any order with reference thereto which seemed in his judgment to be warranted.

In his present action the President has before him, according to information obtainable, reports from sources which he considers equally competent and reliable military sources as would result from a board of inquiry. On these he has acted, and the justification for his action is declared to be for the good of the Army.

It is also pointed out that the President has made not the slightest distinction between the subject of his action when that subject was the negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Infantry involved in the Brownsville affair and when it was Colonel Stewart, an officer and member of an honored Maryland family.

OVER 64 CENTS A BUSHEL

R. C. McCloskey Gives Figures on Cost of Raising Wheat.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 13.—(Special.)—By the testimony of ex-Senator R. C. McCloskey, of Garfield, the State Railway Commission probably will be largely influenced in its decision in the wheat rate hearing, brought by farmers in the vicinity of Ritzville. The hearing, which was begun Monday in Ritzville, was continued in Spokane today and will be finally concluded in Olympia. The Commission seeks to establish the profit in raising wheat after the railroad haul and other expenses are figured.

McCloskey was sought as a witness both by the plaintiffs and by the railroads, and his testimony is, therefore, considered as favorable to the defendants as if he had been supoenaed by them. His testimony was all carefully given from compiled statistics taken from his own experience. He is one of the largest and most representative farmers in Whitman County, having formerly been president of the State Wheatgrowers' Association.

According to Mr. McCloskey's figures, it costs $14.19 an acre to produce wheat on Summer fallow land with a yield of 35 bushels an acre. In this expense he does not include interest on his land, which he values at $55 an acre. Adding the item of interest at 7 per cent, it brings Mr. McCloskey's figures up to over 64 cents a bushel as the cost of producing wheat.

RAINS HELP DRY FARMERS

Insure Crop Where None Was in Prospect—Stock Helped Also.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., May 13.—(Special.)—Inquiries made from here today by telephone and telegraph through the dry farming belt from this city to the Columbia River regarding the recent rainfall resulted in the receipt of encouraging reports. From most of the points in the belt come statements to the effect that while the crops of grain will be greatly below the average of last year—an unusually favorable season for the dry farmer, there is a prospect of at least a harvest. The unusually dry Winter was followed by an almost rainless Spring and only during the past few days has there been any precipitation worth mentioning. In some sections the farmers are looking forward to a loss on the year's operations, but the amount of the loss has been greatly reduced.

The late rains have been very grateful to the stockmen of the valley also. Owing to the dry Winter and Spring the hills were almost bare of feed and a movement was started a few days ago to endeavor to have the Forestry Department open the reserves for the livestock two months earlier than usual. Cattle and sheepmen complained that unless this should be done they would have very heavy losses. But now reports from the ranges are that a new crop of feed is sprouting and the stock will have a better chance than was anticipated.

The late rains and cold weather have not been favorable for the orchardists, many of whom complain that the early peach crop has been lost owing to the fact that the sap could not run in the trees freely. On the other hand, Horticultural Inspector J. M. Brown, who has just completed a tour of the orchard sections, declares that the fruit crop this year, taken all around, promises to be the heaviest on record. He also reports that the orchards are free from pests, due to energetic sprinkling.

"BEAVER" MAKES APPEARANCE

Annual of University of Oregon Published by Junior Class.

UNIVERSITY O FOREGON, Eugene, Or., May 13.—(Special.)—The Beaver, which is the annual publication of the junior class of the University of Oregon, is off the press and in the hands of the first subscribers. The publication's mission is explained by the greeting of the student body of the University of Oregon, which reads:

To the student body of the University of Oregon: We, the class of 1909, present to you this record of the school year of 1907-08. In it are chronicled happenings of interest to the student body as faithfully as we could record them. Anf if, in time to come, these pages shall lead you back along the paths of memory to the enchanted land of college days, and make you know again the joy you knew when walking 'neath the Condon Ooaks, or floating upon the mill race, then will the mission of the Beaver be complete.

The book contains interesting articles and records of student body proceedings, some excellent cuts of student body organizations, officers and familiar scenes. The books are bound in both paper and leather covers.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE APPEARS

George Knowles Is Independent Statement No. 1 in Lane.

EUGENE, Or., May 13.—(Special.)—Tomorrow George Knowles will file his petition as an independent Statement No. 1 candidate for the office of State Representative. This will put three candidates in the field who have signed the statement, one Republican, one Democrat and one independent. The two other Republican candidates are unpledged.

Just what effect the candidacy of Knowles will have on the June election is a little difficult to determine. The three Republican candidates, Bean, Calkins and Eaton, are working in harmony and the Republicans of the county expect to elect their ticket in full. There are three to be chosen from the five. On the other hand, both Edmundson, the Democrat, and Knowles, the independent, will probably get the full vote of the Democrats on account of the Statement No. 1 position and a number of Republicans who do not care to support anybody but a Statement No. 1 man.

ADMITS HE WILL BE ELECTED

overnor Imparts Confidential News to Hood River Audience.

HOOD RIVER, Or., May 13.—(Special.)—Governor George E. Chamberlain, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, addressed the largest audience tonight that has assembled for a political meeting in Hood River during the present campaign. The Governor arrived here this afternoon from The Dalles and spent his time until evening in getting acquainted with Hood River's business men. At 8 o'clock he was escorted to the Operahouse by prominent Democrats, headed by the Hood River Band.

Previous to his address, V. C. Brock, chairman of the meeting, introduced Ogilevie Young, Democratic candidate for Railroad Commissioner, who made a short talk. During his speech the Governor said that he placed the good of the state above partisanship or politics and told the audience confidentially that he was going to be elected.

Training School for Y. W. C. A.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 13.—(Special.)—The Pacific Northwest Institute and Training School will open at Long Beach, Wash., June 13. The school is conducted by the Y. W. C. A. of Oregon, Washington and Idaho and its object is to train men for the work of the association. Heretofore similar work has been carried on at Lake Geneva and Silver Bay, but any large attendance from the Pacific Coast has been prohibited by distance and expense.

NO CONFESSION OBTAINED

LA PORTE OFFICIALS DENY STORY ABOUT LAMPHERE.

Attorney for Accused Farmhand Also Says Client Has Not Admitted Guilt.

LA PORTE, Ind., May 13.—Denials by La Porte officials that Rev. Dr. T. A. Schell had revealed to them the substance of his conversations with Lamphere and the discovery of evidence that Mrs. Bella Gunness was aided by an accomplice in luring her victims to the farm were the chief developments in the case today. The denials came from Dr. C. S. Mack, Coroner; C. E. Smutzer and R. S. Smith, Prosecuting Attorney. In addition, H. W. Worden, attorney for the prisoner, issued a formal statement that he had given his client strict instructions not to discuss the charges against him, and concluding:

"The fact is that Lamphere has never made a confession to anyone, and never will. He has nothing to confess."

Coroner Mack has received and made public the results of his investigations on all the known bodies except that supposed to have been Ole Budsberg, of Iola, Wis. The four burned bodies found in the ruins of the house are dead issues, so far as further investigation by the Coroner is concerned.

None of the other bodies has been identified to any degree, and it is scarcely likely that they will be, being decomposed fragmentary masses of flesh and bone. What developments do come probably will be in the direction of establishing identity of more of the mysterious men who were seen to enter the farmhouse but never to leave it. Yesterday three such persons were connected up with the Gunness woman, the evidence regarding John Moe, of Elbow Lake, Minn., and Henry Gerholt, of Scandinavia, Wis., being almost conclusive. The fate of George Brady, of Tuscola, Ill., is less certain. Moe was traced to the farm by means of the banking transactions which preceded his visit.

Coroner Mack today received from Osage, Kan., inquiries concerning Emil Tell, who left that city about a month ago to come to La Porte.

One of the watches found in the ruins of the Gunness home was shown today to be a watch of Ole Budsberg, one of the supposed victims of Mrs. Gunness, from Iola, Wis.

OFTEN HAD ROLL OF BILLS

Schell Tells of Lamphere's Wealth and Prodigality.

BALTIMORE, May 13.—Rev. Dr. E. A. Schell, of La Porte, Ind., speaking again today about the "Gunness farm tragedy," denied that he had said that Ray Lamphere helped to kill the Gunness children, but had no part in the slaying of any men except Helgelein. He said:

"Mrs. Gunness, as I said yesterday, was an attractive woman in her way. She dressed richly, and even, you might say, in good taste, but her manner of talking and her speech itself—her vagaries of grammar—betrayed a low origin. She could best be described as 'Mrs. New-Rich.'

"Lamphere is a man who drinks hard, and has borne an unpleasant reputation. He was the son of a drunkard, and a man to be pitied because of his ancestry and training, or lack of it. On two or three occasions recently he has come into town with a roll of bills, which he has generally managed to get rid of in a day or a night. Some time ago I constituted myself a sort of civic league and went after certain saloonkeepers in the town who were violating the law, and I found a slot-machine running in one of them in which Lamphere had lost $50 a night or two before. They say he lost it playing the slot-machines, but the suspicion is that he got drunk and was 'relieved' of his money.

"The house in which Mrs. Gunness lived had borne a bad name for years, a house of crime, and 20 years ago a place of resort for the gilded youth of Chicago, which was only 59 miles away, and for some men of wealth and prominence who were not exactly youths. When the woman who ran it sold it, another took it up and it became a disreputable house of cheaper grade.

"Three years ago, when Mrs. Gunness came from Boston and bought the house, people thought its character would change because at that time she was looked upon as entirely respectable. The place was a rather imposing one for the neighborhood, the house being worth $7000 or $8000 and the farm containing 75 acres."

SHEA WILL NOT HEAD BOLT

Alaska Republican Convention to Name Corson Delegate.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 13.—A cable to the Post-Intelligencer from Ketchikan, May 13, says:

The Alaska Republican convention met at 9 o'clock this morning and took an adjournment of one hour in order to give the committee on credentials time to report. Under the findings of the committee one-half the Fairbanks vote is given to each side. In the Ketchikan contest, the Irving delegation for Governor Hoggatt is declared legal. Delegate Boyd, of Douglas, an anti-Hoggatt man, is given a seat. The Nome contest is divided between the three contesting factions and each one gets a portion of the delegates from the Nome precincts.

Delegate Perkins today approached Mayor Shea, of Skagway, and asked him as the chairman of the Sheldon faction, Sheldon having been deposed as chairman yesterday and Shea appointed in his place, to call a rump convention. Mayor Shea declined and stated he would remain in convention and not permit his name to be used in a bolt.

John W. Corson will be nominated for delegate to Congress on the first ballot, with practically no opposition.

CHERRY CITY IN FESTIVAL

Salem Will Be Represented in Rose Festival Parade.

SALEM, Or., May 13.—(Special.)—Salem will be represented at the Rose Festival in Portland during the first week of June. This was definitely decided at the meeting this evening of the Board of Trade. It developed that it was now too late to enter a float, as had been planned, so the Board of Trade decided that it would have to adopt some other method to advertise the Cherry City.

It was also voted to celebrate the Fourth of July in a fitting and appropriate manner. Details as to the participation in the carnival and the celebration on Independence day were left to the executive committee of the Board.

Only Three Precincts to Vote.

ASTORIA, Or., May 13.—(Special.)—A telegram was received from St. Helens this afternoon stating Judge McBride had granted the motion to quash the writ of mandamus heretofore issued by him, directing the County Court to call a local option election in Astoria precincts 2 and 3.

Judge McBride held that signers of a petition have a right to withdraw their names and sustained the action of the County Court in permitting the withdrawal of signers and then denying the petitions on account of their insufficiency. This decision means that the only local option contests in Astoria will be in three precincts which are now "dry."

China and India contain more than half of the world's population.

FORAKER ADMITS DEFEAT

POSTPONES ACTION ON BROWNSVILLE RIOT BILL.

Opposes Motion for Immediate Action, Saying He Could Not Win This Session.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Further consideration of the Brownsville affair was today postponed by the Senate until December 16 next. This decision was reached after an extended exchange of views among Senators. Foraker, after urging the appointment of an early day for voting on his bill, moved that it be taken up next December. After a motion by Culberson, Texas, to vote on the bill next Saturday, was laid on the table. Foraker's motion was adopted by a vote of 62 to 6.

Foraker gave out a statement saying that, while he could not have passed the bill now, he thinks he has insured its passage by the postponement.

FEUDAL CASTLE RESTORED

William and Wife Attend Ceremonies at Old Alsatian Redoubt.

STRASBURG, May 13.—The German Emperor and Empress, accompanied, among others, by the Viceroy of Alsace, representatives of the Federal Council of the Reichstag and the Alsace-Lorraine Provincial Council, today attended the inauguration of the restored Hohkoenigsburg near Schlettstadt, in Lower Alsace.

The Hohkoenigsburg, which was considered one of the largest and most picturesque remnants of feudal times in Germany, passed into the possession of the Emperor in 1899, and his majesty immediately commissioned the well-known authority on ancient castles, Professor Bodoe Ebhardt, with the complete restoration of the ruins. The castle can be traced to the thirteenth century. The Swedes destroyed it in 1633. The late restoration cost $550,000. A brilliant ceremony was carried out today.

OIL TANKS SPREAD FIRE

Explode at Deming, Killing Manager and Damaging Railroad.

ALBUQUERQUE, May 13.—Storage tanks of the Continental Oil Company at Deming, N. M., exploded today, causing a fire loss that will run into thousands of dollars. J. G. Clark, manager of the oil company, received injuries from which he died.

Rolling stock and tracks of the Santa Fe Railroad and the storage house of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company suffered considerable damage.

AT THE GRAND

This afternoon and balance of week.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Will Cure You of

BLOOD HUMORS

Manifesting themselves in pimples, boils, eczema, scrofula and other eruptions—and of all Spring ailments, nervousness, biliousness, indigestion, headache, loss of appetite, lassitude and that tired feeling.

Its great record of cures establishes the fact that it is the best blood-purifier, appetite-restorer, nerve-strengthener, liver and stomach tonic.

"My father has taken Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier and tonic in the spring, and other members of the family have also taken it when run down and out of order generally. It soon makes them feel all right again, and they regard it as excellent." Mrs. Rilla Hiscox, Toulan, Ills.

In usual liquid form or in chocolate-coated tablets called Sarsatabs. 100 Doses One Dollar.
