INVITATION FROM TACOMA.—The Tacoma Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade have invited the members of the Portland Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club to the festivity incident to the reception of the Atlantic fleet, at Tacoma, May 27-30. The occasion promises to be one of the most significant in the history of the Pacific Northwest.

WAREHOUSE SITES IS SOLD.—One of the most important warehouse corners in the terminal district has been secured by W. S. Bridges, who yesterday made the Portland Trust Company $130,000 for the east half of lot 5, block 184, Couch addition, being the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Marshall streets. The site is a four-story brick building on the site, 90x50, and the purchaser took over the property as an investment. The price paid is considered about the present value of the class, though similar sites in that locality are held at somewhat higher figures.

NOT IN FEEL TOWER.—The proposed continue of fuel cables will include all the firms in the city engaging in that business. Among those who are averse to the scheme is The Eagle Creek Fuel Company. The officers of that company assert that they are in no way identified with the fuel trust and have no sympathy with the movement to raise the price of fuel. They have expressed the opinion that the present price of fuel is entirely satisfactory to them, and that conditions at the present time do not warrant the contemplated advance.

ENTERTAINMENT

ENTERTAINMENT.—No man in the business is better liked by newspapermen than is N. K. Clarke. He is never so busily engaged that he cannot spare a few minutes to talk with a reporter what there is in sight in the way of a "story," and as a result reporters are his sworn friends. Mr. Clarke not only knows how to live out news, but last night he showed some of the "boozers" that he knows how to order a good dinner. Half a dozen men employed on the newspaper were Mr. Clarke's guests at the Portland grill, and during the dinner it was learned that when the Coriellus opens, next week, the manager and the proprietor intend to make a feature of the grill, where music and good cooking will be enjoyed.

EMMA GOLDMAN TO LECTURE.—Emma Goldman, lecturer and writer on the philosophy of life, will deliver a series of addresses in Portland on the doctrine advanced by her. The "Message of Anarchy" will be the title of her Monday night, April 22, in Arion Hall. C. E. S. Wood will preside. Miss Goldman's closing lecture will be given in the City Hall and will deal with "Trades Unionism and Anarchy."

ARRESTED FOR STEALING GAMBLES.—Thomas Wallace, until yesterday employed as a waiter on the steamer T. J. Potter, was taken into custody on a warrant sworn out by Judge Cameron in the Municipal Court, charging him with larceny. Wallace, who was locked up in the City Jail in default of $100 bail, is accused by J. J. Anderson, captain of the Potter, of having stolen a pair of marine field glasses. Both leaders will be allowed fifteen minutes for rebuttal. E. P. Lockwood, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. educational committee, will preside.

IT WOULD BE EARLY SETTLED.—If there was a man like Smith in every town in the United States, the world would be easily settled for there wouldn't be any Beef Trust. Smith is doing the meat business of Portland because he is keeping the price of meat at a reasonable level. The other markets and giving folks a variety of choice and fresh Oregon meats. OUTS BILL FOR LIGHTING

EXECUTIVE BOARD REDUCES CLAIM BY $2812.

Stands by Mayor Lane in His Controversy With Portland Railway, Light & Power Co.

Upon recommendation of the lighting committee, the Executive Board, at its regular session yesterday afternoon, voted to cut the March bill for street lighting filed by the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, from $800 to $518, and thereby is insured a light. Although President Josephson, of the company, said that the board could not act on what action he will take, it seems certain he will put up a legal battle to force the payment of the original claim.

Another feature in the "lighting war," as it has been termed, is that, although the contract of the company expires December 31, 1908, and although the City Council has authorized the Executive Board to advertise for bids for municipal electric lighting for periods of two and five years, the Board has not done so. This is because Mayor Lane is making a desperate effort to shut the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company out, in order to get a city distributing system installed, which would allow the city to buy current from the lowest bidder.

Mayor Lane refused to sign the warrant for the March lighting bill of the company, as he had previously made an investigation which led him to believe that the present arrears in service were not owing the light called for in the contract. He asserted his authority on this by summoning before him employees of the company, who he placed under oath and interrogated. From them he learned nothing that would aid him in the contract. He then withdrew his signature from the March warrant. It remains unpaid. President Josephson made formal demand for payment, and the demand was referred to the committee on street lighting, the members of which presented a voluminous report yesterday afternoon, stating that they had found that the full candle-power called for in the contract was not given, and they recommended deducting from the bill the difference, which was ordered done. The report stated that the candle-power given by the company's present lamps is 100, whereas the contract calls for 200.

The action of the Executive Board yesterday, it is believed, will precipitate a fight in the courts, and a pronounced attitude between the city administration and the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. President Josephson, before his departure for the East, declared that the rights now being furnished the city are far better than any before provided, and that Mayor Lane's allegations are absurd.

SENTENCED TO BE HANGED FOR KILLING HARRY LOGAN.

Highwayman Who Shot Railroad Engineer Displays Little Emotion When Doom Is Pronounced.

Joe Anderson, alias Joe Britts, was sentenced by Judge Bronaugh in the Circuit Court yesterday to be hanged June 26. He is to remain in the County Jail for 25 days, then he will be taken to Salem by the sheriff. As is usual, the date for execution falls on a Friday. Anderson was convicted during the February term of court of killing Harry Logan on the Fourth-street bridge in South Portland, last Fall. Attorney John A. Jeffers asked for a stay of sentence of 30 days, in view of the present condition of the record, and because the case is on appeal to the Supreme Court. The Court replied that it would grant the stay.

WEARING DAY FOR WILSON. Tossed About on Cross-Examination Between Hency and Ach.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—At the end of a conference held today between the attorneys and Judge Dooling, just before the adjournment of the Ruff trial, it was announced by Assistant District Attorney Hency that he expected to have all his evidence in tomorrow, and would then wear the cross-examination. He is pretty well understood that the defense will introduce no witnesses. This being the case and the defense resting, arguments will be heard before the judge. Another subpoena to attend court as a witness was served today on F. A. Melrose, who said he was a Deputy Sheriff in Los Angeles, Cal. He was called by the prosecuting officials that he was employed by the United Railways, a charge that Melrose indignantly denies.

It was another wearing and uncomfortable wear to the office and told me to see the Supervisors who were at the precinct and tell them that they should not take the Pacific States money. He said if Halsey got the board away from him it would mean his own political suicide.

Wilson told of conversations he had held with Ruff when the two telephone companies were having their battle over franchises.

"I saw Ruff," testified Wilson, "and he told me that the Pacific States money were his friends and that he wanted me to help them. He said, I think, that he was their attorney, and I told him I was glad, as they were my friends. Later Ruff called me to his office and told me to see the Supervisors who were at the precinct and tell them that they should not take the Pacific States money. He said if Halsey got the board away from him it would mean his own political suicide."

Any Color, Just So They're Mauve

Local Beau Brummel Warns Against Bad Firm in Socks—A Man Wore Black With Tan Shoes. Awful!

SOCKS seems to be a funny sort of name. Just why the words should make people laugh is funny. Why folks should laugh when anybody says "socks" is funny. But that has nothing to do with the fact that black socks don't go with tan shoes. And still that is the advice sock-sellers are supposed to have issued this sartorial ultimatum, and their stand on the question is accepted by wearers of socks as final.

The shoe man has nothing to say. He will tell you that any old kind of sock will be right with the shoes he sells, whether black or tan. He will tell you that a man who goes into convulsions if a man dare wear black socks with tan shoes.

This is the season when the young man's fancy turns to socks. The time has arrived when Oxford ties are abroad in the land, but black socks are taboo with tan shoes. Pink, brown, speckled, polka dot, embroidered, gray, elephant's breath, plain red or any color is regarded as an exotic, but black hoes—no, not your life. Your theatrical man may on a pinch wear white, but even on Second street white socks are going out of fashion. Pale blue seems to be the real thing in Chinatown, and devotees of Oriental styles are beginning to fall into line.

At the hotels, where men may put their feet on the rails, the prevailing color is a sort of delicate mauve; crushed strawberly also secure to make the lining, the dear things. However, the oil strandy, black, is relegated to the rear, and if one would be in the style nowadays, wear picture-socks.

IMITATES GASPIE THUG. Bartender Assaults Hatter Who Refused Him a Dollar.

Arrid Jarvi, 24 years of age, a bartender formerly employed at the saloon at Sixth and Couch streets, who, to use his own words, was "out on a tender" last night in the City Jail after a brief career in a mild and unsuccessful imitation of Jack "The Splitter" La Rose. While the charge filed against him at the police station by Patrolmen Golden and Amundson, who arrested him, was simply "drunk," his victim, Abraham Rosen, of 269 Sheridan street, who conducted a hat store at 205 Burnside street, sent word that he would appear before Judge Cameron in the Municipal Court today for the purpose of swearing to a complaint against Jarvi for assault and battery.

"Whoop!" said Jarvi, so the story goes, as he approached Rosen's store, to wear money and I've got to have it. See, you give me a dollar and be d— quick about it, too."

Rosen replied by saying that if he did not go on and attend to his business he would call the police. Angered at the refusal, the bully felled the storekeeper to the sidewalk with a single blow. Stunned and in pain, the prostrate man tried to rise when the bully tried to set upon him again. This was prevented, however, by passersby who had witnessed the incident from the opposite side of the street and who ran across to interfere.

Seeing that he was beset by a crowd, Jarvi took to his heels and ran. The policemen here have into view, joined in the chase and overtook the man at Sixth and Couch streets.

CLEANS UP WORK RAPIDLY

House Diverted by Sherwood's Virtulent Attack on Kiefer.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The work of cleaning up in the House preparatory to adjournment May 23 proceeded at a rapid pace today. With only a short time allowed for debate, military academy appropriation bill and the omnibus public building bill were passed, leaving of the supply bills only the general deficiency bill to be considered. This probably will be taken up on Monday. In addition, $25 private pension bills were put through.

A bitter and sensational attack on ex-Speaker Kiefer, of Ohio, by his colleague, Sherwood, was a feature of the day's proceedings. The speech was in reply to a speech of General Kiefer. Sherwood declared that Kiefer's speech had been inspired by jealousy and charged that 23 years ago Kiefer had left the House of Representatives under a cloud.
