KABNER ACKNOWLEDGES RECEIPT.—Otto Kleiman has just received, through L.
Lohan, German Consul in Portland, the precious Williams' acknowledgment of receipt of the resolutions of congratulations on his birthday, adopted many months ago by Multnomah Council, No. 1481, Royal Arcanum, the city's remarkable feature of the matter is the route the resolution took before they finally reached the German Emperor. The resolutions were first sent to the German ambassador at Washington, D. C., and by him sent through the German Consulate at Seattle to Ambassador Tower in Berlin. By Mr. Tower they were promptly returned to Portland without having been presented to the Emperor. The resolutions have crossed the Atlantic and the Atlantic ocean twice, and again reached to His Majesty, but this time through the Emperor's Secret Service Bureau, and finally reached him.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST SALOONS.—At a meeting of the Anti-Saloon League, held Monday night in the Centenary Methodist Church, on East Ninth street, plans were outlined for a campaign to be undertaken on the East Side in the cause of prohibition. Rev. E. Nelson Allen presided at the meeting, which was largely attended. A fund of $500 was raised to carry on the campaign. A committee of 30 was appointed to investigate the saloons in the vicinity of the East Side. Other committees were chosen, of which the following are chairmen: Finance committee, Lewis Montgomery; public meetings, Rev. J. F.
Gormley; press, Dr. E. C. Cline.

FUND TO FIGHT SALOONS.—The anti-saloon forces are preparing to make a hot fight in the precincts on the East Side where the saloon men have petitioned for a local option election June 1. At a temperance meeting, held in Centenary Church Monday night, $500 was raised for this purpose. It was decided to hold street and mass meetings on the East Side during the closing week of the campaign. The opening mass meeting will be held next Monday night in Centenary Church. Among the speakers will be Rev.
C. E. Cline, Rev. J. F. Gormley and Rev.
E. Nelson Allen.

MANY LUNCHEON GUESTS.—The main dining-room, as well as the ladies' dining-room, in the new Commercial Club quarters were again crowded yesterday during the luncheon hour. Between the hours of 12:30 and 2 the billiard and pool tables in the billiard room were constantly in use. Visitors were present from Oregon towns, as well as from California and Eastern states. The ladies who have visited the dining-room and parlor provided refreshment in the new quarters have expressed highest appreciation of the facilities furnished them.

ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP CHILD.—An unknown man yesterday afternoon attempted to carry off the 5-year-old daughter of Mrs. Vera Romachotte, who lives at 381 East Market street. The child was playing in front of her mother's door when a man suddenly seized her and started to carry her down the street.
Mrs. Romachotte, hearing screams, started in pursuit, and the man, seeing her, dropped the child. The police are investigating.

OPPOSES NEAR SIDE STOPS.—The Sellwood Board of Trade at its meeting Monday night adopted resolutions condemning the new rule that stops streetcars on the near side of the streets, and will ask the City Council to take some action requiring the streetcar company to return to the old rule. It was set forth that in the suburbs and on streets which do not have hard pavements the new rule seriously inconveniences the public.

SPECIAL SESSION OF COUNCIL.—A special meeting of the City Council will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, particularly to consider the application of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for a permit to lay a loop track around the site of the coming livestock show at the Sandy road. Other business will receive attention, however, as the official call will include general business.

STUDENTS TO HOLD DEBATE.—The advisability of striking out the right to appeal to the initiative and referendum from the State Constitution is the question to be debated by the Enkinson Society of the East Side High School and the Tolozan Society of the West Side High School Friday, May 22, at 8 o'clock, in the assembly hall of the East Side High School.

CONSUMERS LEAGUE TO MEET.—The Consumers' League will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Unitarian Chapel, at which the committee recently appointed to confer with the businessmen of the city in regard to the closing will render a report. All those interested in the movement to secure early closing will be welcome.

ers to the carelessness of the motorman, occurred at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Jefferson and Fifth streets, and resulted in painful injuries to John Swanson, an aged man, employed as a driver for the Poor Farm. The wagon driven by Swanson was struck by the car

SON OF A. W. WILSON DIES

Death in Family of Portland Pastor in Brooklyn.
Woodford Wilson, elder son of Rev.
A. W. Wilson, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, Sixth and Montgomery streets, died in Brooklyn, N. Y., Monday at midnight. A message received by the session of the church Monday gave the first intimation that the children of the pastor were sick. This telegram stated that both Woodford and the younger son, David, had been stricken with scarlet fever.

Yesterday the president of the church organization received this message:
"Brooklyn, N. Y., May 18.
R. F. Barnes, Custom House, Portland, Or.—Woodford died at midnight, Interment Tuesday. Inform Mrs. Woodford." The following reply was sent at once:
"Rev. A. W. Wilson, 165 S. Elliot Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.—Congregation greatly shocked. Session extends sympathy officially and personally.
R. F. BARNES,
J. T. TATE,
L. E. SPESER."

Mr. Wilson has been pastor of the church here for five years, his former charge having been in Brooklyn.
While there he was married and when he moved to this city with his wife, Mrs.
Woodford, came to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson. She it is who is referred to in the telegram.
The father has been gone for about two weeks, the pastor intending to attend the general assembly of his church at Pittsburg after a visit with friends and relatives in Brooklyn.
When they left home the children were not very strong, but were not thought to be particularly ill. The boy whose death was announced yesterday was 4 years old and the other one 2.

F. H. LEONARD TO SPEAK

Will Deliver Two Lectures on Christian Science.
The First and Second Churches of Christ, Scientist, of Portland, jointly, have heretofore given but one lecture semi-annually. Two lectures, however, are to be given Sunday afternoon and evening, May 24, at 3 and 8 o'clock, respectively, at the Helix Theater. These have been planned as the result of the growth in the number of inquirers about what Christian Science has to offer, and because many people were unable to gain admittance at previous lectures.

The lecturer, Frank H. Leonard, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is an accredited member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, Mass. It is said that he can testify to the healing power of Christian Science, having been restored to health after all other remedial means had failed to cure him.
The lectures are for the purpose of correcting the impression of Christian Science that may have been gained by the individual, and also to explain in a brief way what Christian Science is. The public is cordially invited. Admission free and there will be no reserved seats.

looked by people of discernment. You

At the Vaudeville Theaters

Pantages.
THE vaudeville which the Pantages management is offering at the Marquam continues on the up-grade, the programme which began a new week yesterday afternoon being a capital one, among the best many good ones seen at the big Morrison-street theater since the shows were moved in. There are three acts which crowd each other rather closely for headline honors, these being the Bell Trio of vocalists, a somewhat famous attraction which has been attracting attention through the big circuits. The singing of these three and their selection combine the rare qualities of appealing to those educated musical tastes and those who simply like a "good tune" without knowing particularly why. On their initial local appearance the turn-out with immediate approval and a number of encores were demanded.

The second of the features is the sketch presented by Lee Morrison and his talented company. It is seldom indeed that we have an opportunity of seeing really first-rate actors in vaudeville sketches, but in this instance the people and the character of their work entitles them to high consideration on their merits. It forms a most pleasing departure from the stereotyped sketch.
Milo, Camille and her troupe of trained dogs, with special reference to a pack of leaping greyhounds, constitute the third of the trilogy of good numbers. Always a trained-animal show is certain to please an audience. All ages and conditions of amusement seekers rise to the occasion, particularly when the animals are trained to watch a company of finely trained dogs, such as the one under consideration. The stunts performed are not especially novel, but the manner in which they are performed in all dog shows, but just the same, the canine actors were the pets of yesterday's performance.

The Marion sisters, a duo of pretty girls, attractively dressed, have a pleasing presence and play the piano excellently.
Bert Wiggins, a juggler, with a line of tricks, and Corbin are banjo artists.
Wise and Milton, a team of untaught Americans, are satisfactory in a comedy musical act, and Crawford and Meeker seem to please. Jean Wilson sings uncommonly well a grand ballad about a leaving mamma because he finds her corage bouquet of violets crushed. A strange man is calling who wears a noticeable white scarf, and is being something of a Sherlock Hawkshaw discovers violet stains on the "old school-ma's" vest. He puts two and two together and staggers, and is applauded for his dinner-jacket, to find her in the cold and unsanitary ground. If Jean ever does anything like that again he shall be struck on the ankle with a piece of birchwood. He may feel badly, but has no right to be sad.

The array of moving pictures is up to the standard.
Grand.
DON'T miss Harrigan at the Grand this week. He's a comedian who comes and a juggler who juggles.
In fact, although he's billed primarily as a juggler, his monologue seems to be more important part of his turn. And this is no reflection on the way he handles cigar boxes and a lighted lamp and a plug hat, either. He's all the goods. And the audience likes him.

There are several other acts on the bill worth while. Robert Henry Hodge and company present an evo-luted comedy called "The Troubles of Bill Elliot." Hodge does a first-rate piece of character work as a crusty old woman-hating bachelor, and Blanche Craig as the plotting landlady is good. Miss Ellsworth and May Stewart take care of their parts acceptably.

The Earl Sisters, two little girls who sing and dance, were applauded more for their earnestness and their fresh young voices, rather than for what they did.

People who thought everything new in trick bicycle riding was exhausted long ago ought to see Wilson, who is billed as "The Great." He shows something novel. His act is well timed as to length and you don't get tired.

Fred G. Bauer returns to the sickly sentimental in his illustrated song this week, but that probably is not his fault. The song is called "My Virginia." The slides are rather commonplace. One thing about Bauer's singing, every word is distinct, and he has a tenor voice.

TRAGEDY ENDS ROMANCE

Rev. Hiram Vrooman's Flance Drowned at Winchester, Mass.
Friends of Rev. Hiram Vrooman in this city and state will be shocked to learn that Miss Alice C. Loud, of Rockburg, a suburb of Boston, whom Mr.
Vrooman was to have married June 2, was drowned a few days ago at Winchester, a seaside resort, while bathing in the surf. Miss Loud went to Winchester to rest a few days before beginning preparations for her wedding.
She went bathing alone and was drowned. Her body was recovered the next day among the rocks. It was thought that she was caught in the un-derflow, as the place where she was drowned was considered treacherous.

While on a visit in the East he received a call to become pastor of a church in Providence, R. I., which he accepted. Announcement of his approaching marriage with Miss Loud was received by his Portland friend several months ago, and they had sent as a wedding present a beautiful silver set.

TO THE BEER BUYING FAMILIES OF PORTLAND
For several years there has been a constantly increasing demand, in Portland, for "Astoria Beer," made by us, but correctly named PALE BOHEMIAN. The people seem to have discovered in PALE BOHEMIAN a characteristic we have always endeavored to maintain—PALATABILITY. This feature and its absolute, virgin purity, have accentuated this demand wherever PALE BOHEMIAN is served. For the sake of economy, therefore, and to expedite the delivery to families, we have arranged to provide selling facilities in Portland. Those who are impressed by the individuality of PALE BOHEMIAN and prefer to serve it, rather than a commonplace beer, may order it in case lots at the prices quoted below, by telephoning to the local office.
