Delegates From Wide Field Attend Session of Episcopal Department.

BISHOP SCADDING IN CHAIR

Rev. A. A. Morrison Delivers Address of Welcome and Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd Speaks on Worldwide Evangelization.

Addresses detailing the importance of missionary work and reviewing what the Episcopal Church is doing in this field marked the opening session of the Eighth Missionary Department conference at Trinity Church last night. Right Rev. Charles Scadding, bishop of Oregon, presided as chairman of the conference which will begin its business sessions at St. David's Church this morning. This conference will be attended by delegates from all points on the Pacific Coast, from Alaska to Southern California, including Honolulu and the Philippine Islands and as far east as Utah.

Rev. A. A. Morrison, rector of Trinity Church, cordially welcomed the visiting bishops, clerical and lay delegates and remarked that such a gathering was of importance, not because of its magnitude, but because of the great work it represents and which is a measure of inspiration to all associated with the conference.

"If the visitors to our city and state," said Dr. Morrison, "can only grasp an idea of the opportunities which are open for further work in this state alone, we can feel that the hospitality we have so gladly extended has been well directed."

The opening address was given by Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, general secretary of the domestic and foreign mission board of the church. In discussing the subject, "What This Church Doing for the Evangelization of the World?" Rev. Mr. Lloyd told briefly of the efforts of its missionaries in China, Japan and Africa. The scope of the missionary work being directed by the Episcopal Church was further explained by Rev. H. G. F. Clinton, rector of St. James' Church, Vancouver, B. C., who said that this church had placed missionaries in practically every country that was reached by the commerce of England and was doing its full share towards evangelizing the world.

Right Rev. Franklin S. Spalding, bishop of Utah, pointed out that missionaries were the measure of Christian vitality and the attitude of the church toward missions was an unfailing evidence of its life and usefulness. "It is not the amount we give toward missions," said Dr. Spalding, "but the amount that we have left that counts."

Programme for Today.

The sessions of the convention today will be held at St. David's Church, East Morrison and Twelfth streets. There will be no business session tonight. Instead, the eighth department dinner will be held in the ballroom of the Commercial banquet rooms at 7 o'clock. Bishop Scadding will act as chairman and toastmaster. The usual programme of toasts will be given and one general subject for discussion substituted. "The Strategic Value of the Eighth Department From a Missionary Point of View" will be the subject. The first speaker and present the subject. He will be followed by other speakers, including Rev. A. A. Morrison, rector of Trinity Church, Portland; Rev. J. D. Lloyd, Seattle; Judge George H. Williams, Portland; W. D. B. Smith, Portland; Bishop F. W. Keator, Olympia; Bishop Robert L. Paddock, Eastern Oregon; Bishop James B. Funsten, Bishop Franklin S. Spalding, Utah.

SESSION OF THE CLERICUS

International Delegates Meet at St. Stephen's Church.

Topics of interest to the church and the Sunday school were discussed by capable speakers yesterday at the sessions of the international clerics of the eighth missionary department of the Episcopal Church. The business sessions of the conference were supplemented during the noon hours by a trolley ride to Council Crest and the serving of luncheon by the Woman's Guild of St. Stephen's parish at St. Stephen's Church, where the meeting was held. It was voted to hold next year's conference at Victoria, B. C.

The day's services were inaugurated with Holy Communion at St. Stephen's Church, Rev. H. M. Ramsey, vicar of St. Stephen's being the celebrant. During the morning session, "Church Discipline and the Definition of a Communicant," was the subject of an exhaustive discussion in which several of the delegates participated. Rev. A. A. Morrison, rector of Trinity Church, of this city, introduced the discussion. Other speakers were Rev. H. G. F. Clinton, of Vancouver, B. C.; Bishop Robert L. Paddock, of Eastern Oregon; Bishop Henry D. Robinson, of Nevada; Bishop Franklin S. Spalding, of Utah; Bishop Charles Scadding, of Oregon; Bishop L. H. Wells, of Spokane; Bishop W. F. Nichols, of California; and Bishop James B. Funsten, of Idaho.

"Sunday School Work" was the subject of the opening discussion at the afternoon session. In this connection Rev. H. Beacham, of Vancouver, B. C., read a paper on "The Sunday School, Its Relation to the Church; Our Responsibilities; Organization; Methods." The speaker asserted that the church was not living up to its divinely imposed responsibility for the religious training of the youth. This responsibility, he pointed out, was the greater for the reason that many parents, either on account of indifference, lack of time or inability from personal knowledge, had neglected this important duty and had shouldered it on the church.

Mr. Rosenthal, representing the Field and Work Society, was allowed ten minutes in which to present the merits of his organization which proposes a new solution to the problem of the unemployed. Opportunity for the unemployed to enter in an honorable way what they desired, rather than the gratuitous contributions from charitably inclined people, explained Mr. Rosenthal, was the principle on which the society was formed. It proposes a co-operative plan by which those needing assistance are given an opportunity to work for the necessities of life. The society depends for support on the assistance of those who aid the dependent class by fixed contributions to charity.

Rev. H. M. Ramsey, of St. Stephen's Church, and Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, general secretary of the diocesan convention, discussed "Liberation of the Physician," by Dr. Beckman, the German theologian and his criticism of the New Testament. The conference was concluded with evensong and a sermon by Right Rev. Henry D. Robinson, Bishop of Nevada.

During the day of Oregon clerics held a meeting, transacted some business and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, Rev. J. E. H. Simpson; secretary, Arch-Deacon H. D. Chambers.

PENDULUM IS SWINGING

Public Sentiment Now Thought to Favor Corporations.

CHICAGO, May 20.—"The pendulum of public opinion, which has swung so far from sympathy with corporate management, is going the other way, and conservative methods are already out of fashion." This was the keynote of the address of T. C. Martin of New York, discussing rates, franchises and regulations at the convention of the National Electric Light Association yesterday.

"No question during the last year have had greater attention," he continued, "on the part of the electric light companies than those which concern relations with the municipality or the state. It was inevitable that the attempt to control such corporations in the interest of the public should come, for as the desire for these necessities of modern civilization increased there came also an unhealthy process of stock jobbing and stock watering."

Of course, this explanation has overshoot its mark, and it is now seen, for example, that public service commissions cannot be constitutional unless they protect the interests of the corporations as well as the public.

Chicago Subway Bonds.

NEW YORK, May 20.—A new financing of the Chicago Subway Company has been made public here in a circular proposing a 20-year issue of 5 per cent first lien bonds to be dated June 1, 1908, redeemable at 104. Provision is made for subsequent issues bearing a lower rate of interest and maturing later than June 1, 1928.

The Chicago Subway Company, in which E. H. Harriman and the Armour's are largely interested, compares the Illinois Terminal Company and the Chicago Warehouse & Terminal Company. It is proposed to exchange the new bonds for the bonds of the Illinois Terminal Company, which were issued December 1, 1903, bond for bond, and the coupon on this issue, due June 1, will be purchased at par for cash. A redemption of the bonds is provided for, as is also the sale, lease or other disposition.

Mile of Idle Engines.

CHICAGO, May 20.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Elkhart, Ind., says: One mile of idle railroad engines was photographed in the yards of the New York Central line here yesterday by order of the company. The locomotives numbered 120, and represent a cost of nearly $1,000,000. It is understood the company proposes to exhibit the photographs in the houses of the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission and in the conference with the merchants and other organizations that are making contests for reduced rates.

LADD PROPERTIES DEEDED

Corporation Takes Over Extensive Holdings of the Estate.

Deeds are now being executed covering the property of the Ladd estate to the Ladd Estate Company, the corporation formed during the past week to handle the holdings of the Ladd family. The estate will remain intact and the proceeds to the property will be given shares in the corporation. Only members of the family may hold stock.

The step has been taken for convenience in handling the various properties. The methods to be followed in caring for the estate had become too cumbersome. The making out of deeds and other legal papers was tedious and difficult. The death of a member of the family would also involve long and tiresome proceedings to straighten out the property. All this will be avoided by the plan just adopted.

The inventory value of the Ladd estate is between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000. The actual value of the property is very much larger. The incorporation of the estate and the subsequent incorporation are distinct corporations. The capitalization of the Ladd Estate Company is $2,000,000.

Old Clock Strikes Thirteen.

LONDON, May 9.—A curious feature of the clock first erected at his Worsley depot in the 18th century by the Duke of Devonshire, and replaced after renovation, in the entrance to Lord Ellesmere's new hall (Worsley), is that it is so designed originally as to strike 13 at 1 o'clock, and still does so.

WILLIAM BARKER, PHOTOGRAPHED IN JINRIKSHA IN CITY OF NIKKO.

William Barker, a popular young Portlander now making a tour of Japan with his mother and sister, writes to a Portland friend as follows: "Now, don't you wish you had come to the land of the heathen. How do the cherry blossoms and my rose-like-complexion appeal to you (the photograph is tinted). The contented, satisfied expression on the face of the one in the rickshaw is the result of a very strenuous luncheon (tiffin I mean) on the porch of the Grand Hotel about an hour previous."

REVIEWS POLICY IN OFFICE

MANNING SPEAKS TO VOTERS AT TROUTDALE.

Declares He Will Enforce Sunday Closing and Continue Prosecutions of Bank Officials.

TROUTDALE, Or., May 20.—(Special.)—District Attorney Manning and other candidates addressed the citizens of Troutdale last night. All the speakers were well received, and the reception tendered the District Attorney was in the nature of an ovation. His address was greeted with much enthusiasm, and the number of times that his remarks were interrupted with applause seemed to indicate that the audience was in entire sympathy with what he said.

Mr. Manning reviewed, in a general way, some of the events of his administration, and said that he offered himself as a candidate upon the fairness and impartiality of his record as a prosecutor. He declared that he had recognized neither race, rank nor station in dealing with lawbreakers.

"My election or defeat means little or nothing from the standpoint of the individual," said Mr. Manning, "but I submit that some of the principles of law-enforcement for which I stand are put directly in issue before the people of this county. I have closed the saloons on Sunday, and if I am re-elected, I shall keep them closed as long as I am in office. If I am defeated, I am unable to say what will be the policy of the District Attorney's office, but I do know what it will be if I am elected."

"On the question of Sunday saloons, the issue is now squarely before the people, and it is up to the law-abiding and honest citizenship of this county to determine at the polls June 1 whether the course I have pursued in that respect is to be upheld or repudiated."

"What I have done for the people in the bank disasters is well known. I claim no credit for myself, for I did only what I saw and believed to be my duty; but I want to submit to you, upon the proposition that I tried to do what I thought to be right, and for the better interests of all concerned."

"In the prosecutions that followed investigation of the wrecked Title Bank I did that which my sworn duty as an officer directed me to do, and I speak of it here and now only for the purpose of calling your attention to the fact that I have sought to be sincere and honest in discharging the duties of the office. I want to say here, once and for all, that if I am re-elected, these prosecutions will be pushed through to the end. The remaining cases are now set down for trial and will be tried when the time comes."

DECRY A LARGER NAVY

Peace Conference at Lake Mohonk Begins Its Session.

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., May 20.—The friends of peace and arbitration were called upon at the opening of the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration today to oppose the clamor to place the United States on a war footing commensurate with the martial nations of Europe.

John W. Foster, ex-Secretary of State and presiding officer, declared that the dispatch of the battleship fleet to the Pacific and "senseless rumors of a coming war with Japan" have caused this awakened spirit of militarism. Colonel Foster favored obligatory arbitration of international disputes.

The programs of the Mohonk Conference includes the presenting of the result of the second Hague Conference, and of the recent Central American Peace Conference, and of a discussion of the relations of colleges to the arbitration movement. The speakers will include Baron Takahira, the Japanese Ambassador, James Brown Scott, delegate to the late Hague Conference, was one of the speakers today.

ROSEBURG WILL SEND ROSES

Ladies' Auxiliary of Commercial Club Promises Bouquets.

ROSEBURG, Or., May 20.—(Special.)—Roseburg will not have a float in the Portland Rose Festival, but Roseburg roses will be there in large quantities and of every description and variety. This was decided upon at a meeting last evening of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Commercial Club, who originally took the idea and will carry it to completion. The women will gather all the roses in Roseburg and take them to Portland and distribute them. Large bunches will be placed in the leading hotels and bouquets will be given to visitors. Every bunch will have a card attached bearing the name "Roseburg."

Rose Show at Oregon City.

OREGON CITY, Or., May 20.—(Special.)—The definite date for the second annual exhibit of the Rose and Carnation Society will be determined at a meeting to be held next Saturday afternoon. The Rose show will probably be held near the middle of June, as the blooms are late this year. The strawberry-growers of Canby have offered to assist in the show by the exhibition of their famous fruit.

Permit for Grandstand.

The City Council, at its special meeting yesterday afternoon, granted the Rose Festival Association a permit to erect a grandstand on the Penney block, bounded by Morrison and Alder, and West Park and Tenth streets. This will enable the organization officials to arrange for invited guests a convenient place where all of the parades during Festival week may be reviewed.

Will Maintain Rose Booths.

The Peninsula Rose Festival Association executive committee has completed arrangements for maintaining two rose-booths during the Festival, one at the Union depot and the other at the Penney building. Young ladies will be in

SEE BALL TICKETS

Arrangements for Rose Festival Function Completed.

MANY GUESTS OF HONOR

Fifteen Hundred Special Invitations Sent Out to Larger Cities and Towns—Cowboy Parade for Night of June 2.

Beginning today, tickets for the Rose Festival Grand Ball, to be held at the Armory, Friday night, June 5, will be placed on sale at the Woodard, Clarke & Co. store, and all those who have not received the special invitations may purchase tickets there. During the past few weeks invitations have been sent out about 1500 in all to the leading cities and towns in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and California. A limited number going to each place. In sending out the invitations to people of Portland, the ball committee used the lists of all those who had contributed to the general festival fund, but all others who desire to attend will be supplied with souvenir invitations with each ticket purchased.

The anticipated Rose Festival headquarters yesterday, will probably result in the addition of another interesting and spectacular feature to the "Spree of the Golden West" street pageant, on Tuesday night, June 2. The suggestion comes from an "ex-cowboy," and he says he will "round up" a "bunch" of "real gang" if the Festival will "only say the word." The writer of the letter says he has been out of the saddle for some time, but knows where he can pick up a crowd of cow-punchers who still have enough of the real regalia of the plains to make a showing that will open the eyes of the city gypsies.

His plan is to enter a detail of cowboys in all the trappings of the "cow country," mounted on their cattle ponies, in some one of the parades of the week. The festival executive committee will endeavor to secure a delegation large enough to warrant its appearance in the "Golden West" parade in order that the cowboys who have never visited the cow country a life-like representation of the cowboys in action.

Calls for Volunteers.

In line with this, the festival urges every cowboy or ex-cowboy in this part of the country, who is willing to help this plan along, to send in his name immediately, and an effort will be made to get hold of a real old-fashioned stagecoach and have it entered in the same division with the cowboy division. This section will occupy its proper historical position in the line of march.

Nearly 100 automobiles already have been entered in the decorated motor-car parade, which is to be the longest and the four that will be held. The entries include all sorts of cars, from the small electric runabouts to the massive six-cylinder touring cars, and as the parade will carry with it a large number of handsome trophies, competition in all classes will probably be keen.

The holding of the two great 100-mile and 200-mile road races here during Festival week, will bring into the lists of the competitive automobile parade entries not only from Portland, but also from Seattle, Tacoma, Everett, Astoria, San Francisco, Oakland, and even Los Angeles. In other words, it will be the most comprehensive street pageant of the west.

Yesterday H. W. Stone, general secretary of the Portland Y. M. C. A., notified the Rose Festival that the doors of the Y. M. C. A. would be opened to the use of the cruiser and torpedo boat flotilla which has been ordered here for the Festival. Mr. Stone, in concluding his letter, said:

Guests of the Y. M. C. A.

"In behalf of the Y. M. C. A., I wish through you, to extend the full courtesies of our building, including the symphony hall, pool-rooms, bath, swimming pool, etc., to the use of all the uniformed sailors while they are in Portland."

Last year, when the cruiser Charleston was here, many of the sailors took advantage of the similar offer which was extended, and efforts will be made by the Festival management to have the street scene of the city and the local hotels and other places of amusement extend similar courtesies, just as has been done in all the cities on the Pacific Coast visited by the army of the sailors to top a meeting of the East Side Business Men's League, at the East Side Athletic Club's gymnasium tonight, the final details of arrangement for the big celebration across the river will be arranged. All standing and special committees are expected to turn in final reports, so that the League may know exactly where it is to spend for decorations, how many organizations will take part in the fun and frolic, and just what the various improvement organizations have undertaken to do to make the East Side's demonstration a success.

SLASHES THROAT IN CAR

William M. Welch Makes Unsuccessful Attempt at Suicide.

Crazed by a protracted spree of three weeks' duration, William M. Welch, of Salt Lake City, 51 years of age, and a cripple, made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a pocket knife a few minutes before the car was started on its crowded streetcar of the Mount Scott line, which was just leaving the waiting-room at First and Alder streets.

Passengers intervened in time to save his life. The car had just started, when someone within the car screamed:

"For God's sake! There's a man in here cutting his throat!"

The car was brought to a stop and Welch was found sitting near the front of the car with a gash three inches long slit across his throat and the blood streaming from the wound. He was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital and will probably recover.

Mrs. Dunlavy's Optimism.

PORTLAND, May 19.—(To the Editor.)—A careful reading of Mrs. Dunlavy's optimistic letter in today's Oregonian leads me to suggest that it would be well for friends of the equal suffrage movement not to take her words too seriously. It is little wonder, after her long and strenuous struggle in the midst of so many obstacles, now happily almost overcome, that she is, perhaps, overconfident, and my object in writing this is to urge every voter to do his duty and prove himself worthy of the confidence reposed in him by Mrs. Dunlavy and her 6,000 women adherents in Oregon.

Protest Against Car Service.

Complaint was made to the City Council yesterday afternoon by representatives of the merchants who are organized in the Union and East Burnside street, that the present streetcar service is ruinous to the merchants. Owing to the fact that a bridge is being constructed across Sullivan's gulch on Union avenue, the cars are being run but one way across the Burnside-street bridge, and the merchants voted to request the company to remedy the situation.

Elder at San Pedro.

SAN PEDRO, May 20.—The steamer Geo. W. Elder, Captain Jensen, from Portland via San Francisco, brought passengers and 1000 tons of grain and freight to Los Angeles, and will depart on the return trip tomorrow. The steam schooner Raymond, Captain Johnson, finished discharging her cargo today and left for Gray's Harbor to reload.

charge of these booths and roses will be distributed from the depot booth to guests who arrive on the overland trains. Local post clubs and the Real Estate Club have elected a committee to collect funds with which to issue a souvenir descriptive of the Peninsula. They will work in conjunction with the association. Preparations will be made to deliver fresh roses to these booths twice a day. In order to handle the business of the executive committee the following officers were elected at a meeting Tuesday night: President, W. J. DeFord; secretary, M. C. VanTyne; treasurer, J. F. Hendricks. The next meeting will be held in the rooms of the St. John Commercial Club Monday night, May 21.

Bed-ridden Sufferer Completely Cured by Use of D. D. D. External Wash.

One of the most remarkable Eczema cases ever cured by the well-known D. D. D. Prescription has just been recorded in Chicago.

Mrs. Hilda C. West Madison street under date of Dec. 9, 1907, writes as follows:

"I suffered three years with Weeping Eczema. It started with a little spot on my knee and spread fast over my whole body. I spent hundreds of dollars and went to every good doctor I could find, but getting no relief. Nothing would stop the awful itching and burning. I tried to stay in bed from the middle of May to the middle of July. Then I tried D. D. D. Prescription. This is the 4th of December and I am entirely free from the terrible disease. D. D. D. saved my life."

"When I began this treatment, people were afraid of me I looked so terrible. My husband was the only one who would take care of me. D. D. D. stopped the itch at once so I could sleep, which I had not done before. When began to get better I told my husband and now my skin is clear and white, not a spot anywhere."
