

SAILORS KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Two Men of Atlantic Fleet Meet Tragic Death at Bellingham.

BOTH MEN WERE POPULAR

Pleasure of Fleet's Visit Marred by Accident in Northern City—Men Fall From Fender of Swiftly Moving Car.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., May 22.—A serious accident, attendant upon the visit of Rear-Admiral Sperry's fleet, occurred here this evening and resulted in the death of J. J. Staub, a seaman on the New Jersey, and the fatal injury of P. Lullinski, a third-class master-at-arms, on the same vessel and the lightweight champion of the Navy, who died at St. Luke's Hospital at 9 o'clock tonight.

The accident occurred upon the Lake Whatcom street line. The line had been heavily patronized all day, carrying seamen and visitors to and from a pleasure resort on the shore of the lake, where free entertainment was being provided for the sailors. So great was the crowd that passengers were riding all over the car and on the fenders.

Crushed Beneath the Wheels.

Among those riding upon the fender were Staub, Lullinski and two companions. Two on the outside felt the fender giving and leaped clear of the track, but Staub and Lullinski were unable to escape and were dashed under the wheels. Staub was caught by the front wheel, which tore his stomach wide open and came near severing the body in two. He was dead when picked up.

Lullinski was still conscious when he was dragged out from under the wheels. He had in some manner missed the front wheels, as the trucks threw him between the rails. He was hurried to St. Luke's Hospital upon a special car. His head was badly battered and a deep gash was cut in the right thigh.

Car Ran at High Speed.

The car was running at a good rate of speed when the accident took place, but the motorist under control and it stopped. It was necessary to back the car up in order to rescue Staub, who was dead.

Staub, who was 28 years old, had only three months more to serve in the Navy before his four-year enlistment expired. He enlisted at Detroit, Mich. He had been upon the New Jersey for more than a year.

Lullinski had been a sailor for about 25 months. He joined at Chicago, where he had acquired some fame as a fighter. Both were popular with their fellow seamen and the accident has caused universal mourning, the blue-jackets weeping and cheering as they waved to the pedestrians upon the sidewalk.

Staub's body will be taken aboard the New Jersey and transported to Bremerton, where it will be laid to rest in the Naval Cemetery, unless his parents request the remains sent home. As soon as possible, the body will be taken aboard the hospital ship Relief.

Mirth Turns to Grief.

The car under which Staub was killed and Lullinski hurt was coming in from Lake Whatcom, loaded down with blue-jackets, and was closely followed by another small car, also crowded. The passengers were laughing and cheering as they waved to the pedestrians upon the sidewalk.

Suddenly the front car jolted and in a moment the happy crowd was down and where there had been nothing but mirth a minute before sorrow reigned. An immense throng collected in a short time.

Thirty-Five Hundred Sailors and Marines March at Bellingham.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., May 22.—The first division of the Atlantic battleship fleet today furnished the citizens of Bellingham one of the most interesting spectacles in the history of the community. Thirty-five hundred sailors and marines paraded through the principal streets to martial music before an estimated 100,000 people. The day was the crowning one of Rear-Admiral Sperry's visit to this port.

From every village, town, city and farm in the Northwest, the citizens and British Columbia, men, women and children began to arrive early this morning in special trains, steamers and wagons, and the parade started at 10 o'clock, the visitors outnumbered the citizens.

Following Lieutenant Badley of the National Guard of Washington, and his aides, appeared the colonel of local police in new uniforms. Preceded by a marine band came the automobile carrying Rear-Admiral Sperry, who smiled to the waiting crowds as every new tribute was made manifest.

On Rear-Admiral Sperry's right rode Captain MacRae. Carriages containing naval officers followed. Then came the sailors and marines with bands of music interspersed.

All day launches were crowded carrying people to and from the vessels. A business was stimulated and at nine all the streets were lined with a tired but happy crowd of people.

The chief social event tonight was a huge dance at the Hotel de Ville. The Patriand rink, where last night the enlisted men danced with the fair daughters of Bellingham. Fireworks were discharged by Japanese and Chinese residents. At the theaters the sailormen are guests of the city. While the illuminated warships were a wonder and delight.

WILL ADD TAXES

Northern Pacific Holdings Assessed as Farm Lands.

CUTS DOWN RIGHT OF WAY

Washington Railway Commission Refuses to Concede Road Shall Have 400-Foot Right of Way Across the State.

OLYMPIA, Wash., May 22.—(Special.)—One finding decided upon by the Railroad Commission concerning only the Northern Pacific will add millions of dollars to the taxable property of the state if it is followed by the State Board of Tax Commissioners in assessing the road.

The Railroad Commission has informed the Northern Pacific that it will hold that only 100 feet of the right of way grant for its original line is utilized for railroad purposes. The original right of way grant to the railroad from the Government was a 400-foot strip over all public lands crossed by the railroad. The Great Northern and other railroads, which have no right of way grant from the Government, have acquired a rule not more than a 100-foot right of way, and the Northern Pacific in building its branch lines has been content with that wide a strip.

Heretofore railroads have been assessed on their right of way at a fixed valuation per mile. The Northern Pacific on its own line has been assessed on a valuation of $14,500 per mile and the other railroads paid on the same valuation, yet the Northern Pacific's right of way was four times as wide as that of the other railroads.

The finding hits the Northern Pacific in two ways. It will reduce the valuation of the road to be fixed for rate making purposes which the railroad desires to be high, and yet add to the taxable property of the road. The 300-foot excess will likely hereafter be assessed similarly to the farm or business property, adjoining.

In some places this 400-foot strip has developed into exceedingly valuable business property. The Northern Pacific located its line through Spokane, for instance, where there was no city there. The Spokane Hotel is located on this strip along with other business property. It has been the custom to assess the improvements in Spokane on this strip but allow the land itself to be included in the right of way valuation. The land thus excluded from the right of way in that city is found by the Railroad Commission to be worth about $30,000.

A peculiarity of the right of way grant to the Northern Pacific is that it cannot sell any portion of it. "It puts us in the position of simply having to hold the land for tax assessment purposes," says the objection made by Attorney B. S. Grosscup of the Northern Pacific. The Railroad Commission, however, claims that the land can be sold to owners of adjacent farms outside of the cities and for business purposes within incorporated towns.

The 400-foot strip extends practically unbroken across the state, inasmuch as the road when built was across Government land almost wholly.

GOVERNOR EXPLAINS PARDONS

Addresses Good Audiences at Canby and Oregon City.

OREGON CITY, Or., May 22.—(Special.)—Governor Chamberlain spoke for an hour and a half to a well filled house at Canby this afternoon, laying special stress on what he would do for Oregon if elected to the United States Presidency. A. King Wilson, of Portland, followed the Governor with a short talk on State-mandate No. 1.

A large delegation met the Governor at the 4:30 o'clock train in Oregon City. He addressed a large crowd at the opera-house tonight, reiterating all that he had said in the afternoon, also emphasizing his views on the reclamation project. He made a special point of his recent work in compelling the Portland General Electric Company to pay revenue to the state on the Oregon City locks.

In speaking of his pardons he said that he had been obtaining pardons from Democratic and semi-Democratic Representatives in Congress, citing Texas and Mississippi among other states.

It is a purely anti-saloon organization and is formed for the purpose of preventing the saloon forces from swamping the honest voters on election day.

Having been apprised by their detectives of the intention of the liquor forces to vote a large number of Greek railway workers and others, the anti-saloon forces are taking this action to prevent it. Members of the league will be stationed at nearly every polling place in the county.

ROLLER WINS OVER BEELL

Seattle Wrestler Wins Easily With Flying Falls Not Barred.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 22.—(Special.)—Dr. B. F. Roller won his second match with Fred Beell tonight in two straight falls. He got the first fall with a scissors hold in 46 minutes and 5 seconds and the second with a bar lock in 23 minutes and 37 seconds. In the match a week ago flying falls were barred, but Beell was anxious for another match, which flying falls were to be allowed, and Roller granted it. The men spent little time on the mat tonight, both keeping much on the defensive in the last five minutes of the second bout, however, Roller took the aggressive, viciously. Beell broke two bad holds, but could not get away the third time. Roller's victory was clean-cut and decisive. His next match will be with Goch, if they can agree on a date, which they have been unable to do thus far.

CURRY DRY, YET VERY WET

PECULIAR CONDITIONS IN THE SOUTHWESTERN COUNTY.

Whisky Imported by the Demijohn and Drunkenness Said to Be Not Uncommon Among Indians.

WEDDERBURN, Or., May 22.—(Special.)—Curry County has been in the hands of the prohibitionists for the past two years, and demijohns have been the order of the day and night. Whisky is being shipped on almost every stage from both north and south and is very easy to get. Those desiring saloons have again petitioned for an election, and notices are now up calling for a submission of the question at the election on June 1.

To be sure the friends of prohibition are many, and it is a question with all the evidences against the ineffectiveness of the prohibition laws as they exist if the "wets" can muster the strength to return to the saloon. The prime mover in this action is Gold Beach, the county seat. The law as it stands affects the whole county, that is, it is a county law, all precincts having decided to eschew the saloon.

There is little doubt that Gold Beach precinct will go dry. It is expected that Port Orford will also vote against the saloon. It is a very peculiar situation. The man who wants plenty of whisky and finds it easy to get, votes prohibition. The total abstainer votes for prohibition, for the reason that if he is known to be a demijohn at one time, and for that reason want the fire water sold over the counter. Little is being said pro or con concerning this feature of the election except in quiet way. The precinct of Harbor will have a saloon. This will, if predictions are true, make two saloons for this county.
