ACUTE STAGE IS REACHED

F. A. Seufert Says Lower River Canners Are Publishing False Diagrams of Fishwheels Which Damage His Business.

War between gilinets and wheels in the salmon fisheries of the Columbia River has reached such an acute stage that Wheelmen say gilinetters have resorted to misrepresentation of wheela in order to injure them before the voters of the state. As a result, F. A. Seufert, of The Dalles, wheelman and canneryman, has threatened to sue for damages, members of the so-called Columbia River Salmon Protective Association for publishing a diagram representing wheels, including Seufert's, as practically blocking passage of salmon up the river and over Ceille Falls. As the wheelmen are fighting abolition of their apparatus in the election next Monday, when an abolition bill, presented by gilinetters, will be voted on, Mr. Seufert declares the diagram false and damaging to his business:

The president of the association is George M. Orton, of Portland, and the treasurer is F. F. Reach. In addition almost completely exhausted, he was overpowered by four policemen and bound hand and foot.

Anderson went totally blind as the result of a premature explosion of dytoria, secretary; John H. Smith and Frank Kankonen, of Astoria; T. A. McBride and C. G. Huntley, of Oregon City; W. I. T. B. Kay, of Salem; James A. Lackey of Ontarlo, and William Miller, of Mr. Seufert thinks the members of c committee have been imposed on gill-netters, and in order to prove tmem that wheels do not close the river to salmon, he has offered to pay the round-trip expenses to The Dalles of the members of the committee for an inspection of the wheels, provided they will make public their true observations. He says they will find wheels covering but a small part of the river's width.

"All I want told is the truth," said Mr. Seufert yesterday. "The truth will show that the wheels which take but 5 per cent of the salmon catch are not exterminating the salmon, as the gillnetters, who take 65 per cent, allege. I find that none of the members of the executive committee of the association have examined the wheels and that they are depending wholly on the misrepresentations of the Astoria gillnetters."
