500 DECORATED VEHICLES IN LINE

Splendid Pageant Assured for This Feature of Rose Festival Parade.

CHERRY FLOATS OF TOKIO

Japanese Entries Will Be Replicas of Features of National Festival. Water Carnival Will Have 100 Illuminated Canoes in Line.

With the Rose Festival almost a week away, the committee in charge of the parade of floral decorated vehicles, comaway, the committee in charge of the parade of floral decorated vehicles, competitive floats and riding clubs, announced yesterday afternoon that there would be not under 500 entries in this one pageant. Of this number about 150 will be by members of the Riverside Driving Club, with decorated pleasure vehicles, 150 by members of the Junior Hunt Club and close to 200 by members of the Portland Hunt Club. There have been more than 50 entries of saddle horses and posles from owners not affiliated with the hunt clubs and a considerable number of vehicles not belonging to members of the Driving Club, from Portland and many points in the state. Chairman W. M. Davis said that he aimed to have between 550 and 700 entries in this classy event, and would rely strongly upon private owners of horses and vehicles in Fortland and outside of the city to swell the number of the necessary 150 or 200. That this will be done is almost a certainty, for every mail is bringing in applications for entry blanks.

All those who plan to enter decorated carriages and other pleasure vehicles are requested to send their names in to Chairman W. M. Davis, seventh floor Chamber of Commerce, so that they may be supplied with the official colors of the Riverside Driving Club, which will be furnished free of charge.

Japanese Floats From Tokio.

Japanese Floats From Tokio.

The Japanese colony will enter two of the most artistic and beautiful floats in this parade that one could imagine. The Nipponese merchants of the Northwest, together with other prominent members of the Japanese colonies at various points, have subscribed liberally for the points, have subscribed liberally for the two magnificent floats, which were so naively described by M. Fujlyama on the editorial page of yesterday morning's Oregonian. These floats, according to the committee which is preparing them, are to be evidence of the good-will feeling which all enlightened Japanese entertain for Americans, and unusual effort is therefore being made by the Mikado's subjects to make their part of the marade as beautiful as if not more Mikado's subjects to make their part of the parade as beautiful as, if not more beautiful than, any of the others. Those who have visited the workshop at Tenth and Davis streets, where these won-drously pretty floats are being con-constructed, declare that nothing like them has ever been exhibited in any demonstration on the Pacific Coast, and this opinion is based upon a comparison of the finest entries that have appeared in the floral feasts and carnivals that California cities hold.

The mere fact that the two pieces The mere fact that the two pieces will be exact replicas of those which form the chief features of the great National festival held at Tokio each year will lend added interest to the parade, for it will be the first time that a reproduction of the world-famed "Cherry Blossom" parade of Tokio has ever been attempted on American soil.

Traveling Men to Have Float.

Added to this, the Festival commit-tee of the Travelingmen's Protective Association notified the general com-mittee that it would enter a floral float in this parade upon which $600 would be spent in decorations alone. The design of this float is not made known, as it will be constructed under the direction of an expert designer and decorator from the East. It will prob-

Two local fraternal organizations have already filed applications for a chance to decorate the wagons donated by the B. & O. T. Company for this parade. President Lewis H. Adams, of the Transfer Company, has deposited with the finance committee of the Festival $100 in goold, which will be awarded to the society which decorates in the most artistic manner one of these six trucks. The two organizations which have put in their bids are Independence Lodge, Degree of Honor, A. O. U. W., and Fidelity Lodge of the same order. These lodges will appoint committees at once to secure wagons and will

GRAND MARSHAL ROSE FESTIVAL STREET PARADE.

F. O. DOWNING, MOUNTED ON HIS FAMOUS THOROUGHBRED, "STIMY."

F. O. Downing, one of the most enthusiastic horsemen of the Northwest and a prominent member of the Portland Hunt Club, has been selected as grand marshal of the Rose Festival street parade of floral decorated veixcles, competitive floats, equestrian clubs, etc. This splendid pageant, which will contain more than 20 divisions and will embrace not less than 600 decorated saddle - horses and ponies, pleasure and commercial turnouts of every kind and description, with many decorated feature floats, will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, June 4. It will be not less than five miles in length and promises to be one of the most spectacular pageants ever devised on the Pacific Ceast. Grand Marshal Downing will select his official staff and aldes within the next two or three days. He will lead the parade mounted on his famous thoroughbred, "Stimy," upon which he is shown mounted in the accompanying picture.

Dearth of Young Women

One of the most trying problems which the vehicle and saddle horse committee has had to contend with has been the securing of a sufficient num-which the venicle and stadies hold be committee has had to contend with has been the securing of a sufficient number of young sirls properly garbed to ride in these exhibits. It seems that there is a dearth of young women, and Chairman Davis is thinking of issuing a call for more volunteers, as several hundred will be needed in order to carry out the committee's plans.

One division of the Venetian water carnival, which is to be a long procession of public and private pleasure and commercial craft on the river on the night of Wednesday, June 3, will consist of more than 100 illuminated and decorated cances. Entries in 780 cances were recived by Harry C. McAillister, chairman of the committee, Saturday and yesterday, and many more have sent in for entry blanks.

Mr. McAillister has also secured a large launch, which will be turned over to the Admen, and will carry about 100 delegates to the convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association, together with a band of 20 pleces. The convention will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, and the entire party will be in the line of march of the water carnival.

The list of entries in the automobile parade of Thursday morning now exceeds 360 and they are conling in in a most satisfactory manner.

CHAUFFEURS OF PORTLAND PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF THEIR COMRADE

FLORAL TRIBUTE OF THE AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS AT FUNERAL OF JESSE SCHAFER.

The funeral of Jesse Schafer, the young Portland chauffeur who lost his life in the Willamette River at Salem Saturday, when he succeeded in saving the life of Miss Olive Drummond, was held from the home of his mother at Russellville at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The funeral was remarkable for the splendid tribute paid by his former comrades and associates, who attended the funeral with their automobiles. In addition to the long line of automobiles, the comrades of Young Schafer presented a handsome floral piece bearing the title, "From the Licensed Chauffeure of Portland in Memory of Our Late Comrade." This floral piece was a beautiful offering and is shown in the accompanying photograph. The interment took place at Multnomah Cemetery, and after the last rites had been performed, the automobiles and mourners flied slowly away.

Mother-in-Law and Son-in-Law Vociferously Assert Claims in Contention.

POULTRY FIRST OFFENSE

Cunningham Leads Righteous Life, but Keeps Chickens and Falls in Law's Clutches-Bad Marksmanshp Costs Dearly.

Mother-in-law and son-in-law paid their respects to each other at noon yesterday in such fashion that the police had to be called in to terminate the exchange of domestic confidences. The grocery store at 551 Morrison street was the scene of hostilities, as well as the cause of the difficulty. Mrs. Allce A. Wimer was asserting her claim to ownership of the grocery, while her daughter's husband, J. J. McIneroney, was disputing that claim.

The police arrived shortly after a personal encounter had occurred between the two. The son-in-law must have been worsted in the store, an object of abject fear. He appealed to Patrelman Thorpe for protection, but the officer said he could not see there was any great danger and refused to arrest Mrs. Wimer.

Thorpe for protection, but the officer said he could not see there was any great danger and refused to arrest Mrs. Wimer.

Taking the cue from the arrival of a police officer, who had been summoned at the son-in-law's solicitation, Mrs. Wimer hurried to the Mimicipal Court and secured a warrant of arrest for Melneroney on a charge of striking her. She also complained that he had plotted to take her grocery store away from her and that the trouble was brought on merely because she went into the store and attempted to take possession.

Mrs. Wimer had a remarkable story of domestic duplicity. She told the authorities that some weeks ago she was taken ill and was not able to attend to the little store. She was afraid to trust the place to her husband, as he is not given to thrift, she said, and so decided that her daughter had best take charge for the time being. In order that the daughter might have control over the finances of the store she made out a bill of sale and gave it to the daughter—but only for exhibition purposes.

Yeaterday she went around to renew possession of the place and found the daughter's husband installed, she told the authorities. Her little grandchildren were playing in a barrel of flower and had been throwing rice about the floor in the absence of their father, she said. He returned shortly, and when she began taking of the business affairs of the store, told her she had nothing further to do with the place.

The conversation that followed could be heard from the Multnomah Club, several hundred feet away. Accounts differ as to the climax. Mrs. Wimer says her son-in-law seized her and threw her into the street. Mcineroney says his motherin-law precipitated the encounter by springing upon him, tearing at his hair, kicking him and attempting to claw his face. Only by the most dexterous manipulations was he able to save himself, he said. As to Mrs. Wimer's charge that he wrongfully has possession of the store, Mcineroney said he bought the place from his mother-in-law and paid her in full, so and Fremont streets, in Cooks Second Addition to Albina, will doubtless learn with some surprise today that he is regarded as a lawbreaker. The police tried to apprise him late yesterday of the fact, but didn't succeed in locating him, and the attempt will be renewed today.

So far as known Cunningham has observed the ten commandments to the letter and probably is unconscious of having ever done a wrongful or unkind act in his whole lifetime. The charge, however, is a very serious one—that of allowing his chickens to run at large. It was sworn to yesterday by one of his neighbors, Mrs. J. L. Hamilton. Mrs. Hamilton has a garden, or rather has been attempting to have one. But the Cunningham chickens have managed to get inside the garden, whereupon the Cunningham chicagens have managed to get inside the garden, whereupon the garden would immediately reciprocate by getting inside the chickens. Mrs. Hamilton complains that she asked Cunningham to keep his poultry

A Course of Treatment That Really Cures Indigestion Instead of Morely Believing Symptoms.

Believing Symptoms.

There are plenty of remedies by which you can relieve for the time heartburn, pain and gus on the stomach and can smother nervons sensations and induce artificial sleep. But when you take your next meal all your troubles begin afresh. There is only one sensible thing to do. Strengthen the stomach and do away with the necessity for drugs and artificial foods. The stomach, once in proper condition, will do its own work better than any process devised by man can ever do it. When it is again strong don't abuse it. Learn to choose rational food in general, and to study the effect even of that, as yours may at best be a freakish stomach.

Morris street, Indianspolis, Ind., tried a treatment that has cured thousands and says:

"About four years ago I began to have stomach trouble, which I always thought was brought on by irregular eating and sleeping while working on the street railways in this city. My condition kept growing worse. I had severe cramps in the stomach if I ate the least thing, even a drink of water would cause them. The cramps often doubled me up so that I couldn't straighten up for some time. Often they would last all day, causing me to go to bed. I didn't have much of an appetite and I was constantly belching gas and sour fluids after everything I ate. I was troubled a great deal with constipation and dizzy spells. My blood seemed to be out of order and I had becanches which seemed almost like neuralgis. I was in a bad state and was in bed for over a week at one time.

"The doctor's medicine did me no good and upon advice of a relative I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Although I had been sick for nearly three years, I felt better right away after taking the pills. My appetite picked up and I haven't had a dizzy spell since. My bowels are regular and I feel fine in every way. I recommend Pink Pills to everybody I can."

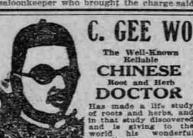

While so promptly effective, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are entirely harmless. Every dyspeptic should read "What to Eat and How to Eat." Write today for a free copy of the booklet.

I treat for real and lasting cures. Every remedy I employ has its part in bringing pos-itive and permanent results. Under my treatment the patient who notes improvement in his condition can feel assured that real bene-fit and not a temporary drug effect has been obtained, and can continue with confidence that a thorough cure is being accomplished. My success as a specialist is due to the fact that I accept no incurable disease and al- 3 ways treat with a cure in view, never resorting to the use of a remedy that brings out temporary encouragement to the patient.

"WEAKNESS"

I have conclusively demonstrated the fact that derangement of the mazeu-line functions is a curable aliment. That there has been considerable diversity of opinion upon this point among the profession is but an evidence that functional weakness has not been thoroughly understood and has been unscientifically treated. Though commonly regarded as a nervous disorder, it has never yielded when treated upon this theory. I have assortained by the closest observation in thousands of cases that only in rare instances is the general constitution or nervous system involved to any noticeable degree whatever, and that "weakness" in all its phases is merely a symptom of nervous disorder. In by far the greater, number of cases the functional derangement is due to a single cause, a chronically inflamed condition of the prostate gland, brought on by early dissipation or lingering as a result of some improperly treated contracted disorder. Such cases may show temporary improvement under stimulating processes of treatment, but ultimate relapse is certain to follow all such methods. The only radical cure is the absolute removal of the abnormal condition responsible for the functional disorder, and this I positively accomplish through carefully directed local measures. My treatment is en tirely distinctive and original. No other physician employs like methods or approaches my success in curing. The results I obtain are thorough and lasting and strength and vigor are restored in the full and normal degree.
