TRIED AND FAILED

John G. Helfrich and His Wife Cannot Live Together.

WOMAN GRANTED DIVORCE

Given Ranch in Spokane by Court. Helfrich Denies Leaving Work and Going to Ball Game - Carolyn Averill Asks Divorce.

Mrs. Beadle L. Helfrich was granted a divorce yesterday afternoon from John G. Helfrich. In granting the decree Judge O'Day, of the Circuit Court, said that it was apparent that the couple could never live together again, for they had tried and failed since Judge Poin-dexter of Spokane denied a decree two years ago.

Mrs. Beadle L. Helfrich was upon the witness stand all yesterday morning. Regarding his wife's allegations that he left her to do the heavy farm work while he went to the ball game, he said he only went once a week, and that the work was always done first. He said his wife did not care to go with him.

Helfrich said that his wife became ill after carrying several sacks of bran in the barn to show how strong she was. He was closely cross-questioned by Attorney Giltner, counsel for Mrs. Helfrich, notwithstanding Attorney Mal-ark's objections and the Court's ruling that the questions were immaterial.

Amusements

Musical Comedy. There is only one place in Portland where musical comedy, the most popular form of amusement, can be found.

"Under Two Flags" Tonight. Everybody says that the Allen Company is giving its very best performance in "Under Two Flags" at the Lyric this week.

Go to the Oaks Today. It is like fairyland out at the Oaks these beautiful sunny days. You should go out there this afternoon or tonight and enjoy the greatest amusement resort in the West.

COMING ATTRACTIONS. Seats Selling for Drows. Seats are now selling at box office the Hellic Theater, Fourteenth and Washington streets, for John Drew's "The Famous American Actor" who will present his latest comedy success, "My Wife."

"The Halfbreed" Next Week. Special arrangements have been made with Oliver Morosco, owner of the big drama, "The Halfbreed," for the Baker Stock Company to present it in Portland next week.

Musical Comedy at the Oaks. Commencing next week the famous Allen Curtis Musical Comedy Company will open a season in the great amphitheater at the Oaks. The company is the best known in the country.

New Stock at the Lyric. Commencing next Monday night the Lyric will throw open its doors to a new stock company, the Bunick-Atwood organization, direct from St. Louis, where it has had a great season.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS. Hardeen at Panjages. Hardeen, the wizard of locks, who is appearing as the Panjages feature at the Mar-quess Theater this week, is attracting thousands by his weird acts.

Superior Acts. There is at the Grand this week a vaude-ville entertainment of the highest grade. There is not a "filler" on the programme, each act being by Sullivan & Considine, being up to the well-known standard of merit which the Grand insists on.

BANK WILL CHANGE

Bankers & Lumbermen to Be Nationalized.

WITHIN THE NEXT 60 DAYS

Institution That Has Been in Existence Two Years Will Form Corporation in Conformity With the Federal Law.

The Bankers & Lumbermen Bank will be nationalized as soon as the necessary details can be accomplished. The concern will be known as the Lumbermen National Bank of Portland. Its capitalization will be the same as now, $250,000.

The bank is now two years old, and has had a very successful career. It has already been conducting its affairs in conformity with the National Banking act.

"The tendency at present is toward National banks," said Manager J. A. Keating. "People prefer this style of banking, particularly since the recent panic. The National banking method of making loans is undoubtedly safer and has the confidence of the public to a greater degree than the custom of other banks."

Officers of the Bankers & Lumbermen Bank are: President, G. K. Wentworth, Chicago; vice-president, J. A. Keating; cashier, H. D. Story; assistant cashier, F. A. Freeman. Directors are: G. K. Wentworth, president; Charles S. Russell, P. S. Brumby, Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, George G. Bingham, Lloyd J. Wentworth, J. E. Wheeler, George L. McPherson, John A. Keating, vice-president; Robert T. Platt, H. D. Story, cashier.

The condition of the bank at the time of the last call of the Controller of the Currency, May 14, was as follows:

TALKED WITH MURDERESS

Kansas City Man Insists Mrs. Gun-ness Is Still Alive.

LA PORTE, Ind., May 26.—Mayor Darrow today received another letter

FUNSTON VISITS PORTLAND

GENERAL IS ON PRIVATE MIS-SION TO IDAHO.

Senior in His Rank in Army De-clines to Talk on Subjects of National Import.

BY ARTHUR A. GREENE. It develops after a good many unnum-bered ages that the Sphinx is a garrulous old plaster of Paris cloak model.

The stocky, square-shouldered man who in his plain, nondescript "cits" and derby hat, attracted little attention at the Portland last night, is an heroic figure in our military life.

The General has a lot of friends in Portland and he inquired after many of them, John F. Carroll and several others and he looks back upon his stay at Van-couver Barracks as one of the pleasant-est incidents of his Army career.

General Funston, senior in his rank of the United States Army, to talk. General Funston, who is "trimble" to his very particular friends, arrived in Portland yesterday on his way to Idaho, where he is going on private business which could not by any stretch be made of official interest.

The soldier, bearded like a pard, may beat his sword into a pruning-hook and had no time to consider whether the audience looked at him or not. That's characteristic of the man. He was born 300 years late, for a more death-and-danger-ignoring knight never jugged around a suit of armor.

Now he is commander of the Department of California and on his way to Idaho, on the unromantic mission of looking after irrigated lands for his own private benefit and profit. He will leave Port-land tonight and will probably spend a day or two here on his return to San Francisco.

and return to the soil whence he came.

I tried to persuade him on the score of being fellow Kansans and friends of some years standing to talk for publica-tion about things—and things which con-cern our attitude toward Japan and other people with whom we may have trouble some of these fine mornings.

A convict in the Chester, Illinois, prison has written that Mrs. Guinness was a fence for a gang of Chicago cut-throats and robbers. He says he is in possession of valuable information which he will divulge to the proper of-ficials.

Governor Hanly, of Indiana, has sent Sheriff Smuts a letter from Emma Kight, of South Coventry, Conn., telling of a strange woman in that town who resembles Mrs. Guinness.

He is the most democratic of military commanders. But he is on private busi-ness bent and, besides, it is nobody's business what he thinks of the enemy in the Orient.
