T. J. Cleeton and C. N. McArthur addresset the meeting.

Mr. McArthur, candidate for joint representative of Clackamas and Multnomah counties, spoke about 15 minutes. He lauded the principles of his party, urged the voters to see to it that Republicans and only Republicans represent the state in Washington after the coming election, and set forth the policies that he would favor if elected. Mr. McArthur advocated conservation of water power and the ownership of the same by the state. He made a strong appeal for the election of Cake for United States Senator.

Mr. Cleeton ably answered the Democratic argument made by Chamberlain in his recent speech here.

Judge Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton, spoke here last night on the issues of the campaign. Mis principal theme was the importance of sending to the Federal Senate from the State of Oregon the candidate whose politics are in accord with those of President Roosevelt and the majority party in Congress. He successfully refuted the argument that delegations divided politically are as successfully in sevided politically are as successful in sevided. vided politically are as successful in se-curing appropriations and legislation as are those wholly of the majority party. He dwelt upon the National importance of a Republican victory in Oregon, the first state election preceding the Presiden-tial campaign. WASHINGTON, May 26 .- In the curse of the consideration of the concourse of the consuleration of the con-ference report on the military academy appropriation bill in the House today. Heated Discussion in Presbyterian Assembly.

CHURCH LEADERS REVOLT

Declare Too Much Power Is Given Administrative Committee - Use of Bible in Schools Urged by Speakers-Educators Scored.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 25.—Discord entered for the first time into the proceedings of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of America, while the report of the committee en administrative agencies was under discussion. It was apparent, during the heated discussion of the report, that there is in the general assembly a strong sentiment in favor of reorganization of the administrative agencies of the church by changtrative agencies of the church by chang-ing the personnel of this important com-mittee, although a motion to that effect was defeated. It was declared that too much power was given to the 21 members of the committee and that no officer of any loard of the church except the moderator should belong to the administrative agencies committee.

Religion in Public Schools.

During the discussion of the report of committee on colleges the speakers essed dissatisfaction that Bible study and Christianity are not given more prominence by the public schools of the country. One cited an instance of objection being raised to the singing of Christian carols in a public school.

Dr. William McKibben of Cincinnational and the college teachers must be men said that college teachers must be men of the right character. "I do not subscribe to the belief that there is any affinity between learning and impiety," he said. He said there was an instructor in Cincinnati who teaches philosophy in the classroom and free love outside.

Scattle as Meeting Place.

Dr. Mark A. Matthews of Seattle urged parents to send their boys and girls to the Presbyterian college. He insisted that the colleges had the right to demand that the colleges had the right to demand the money and students from the church members necessary to their support.

Seattle, Denver and Oklahoma City have entered the campaign for next year's assembly and Seattle seems to be favored by most of the commissioners.

Presbyterians Discuss Work and Learn of East's Provincialism.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 26 .- Every field of home missionary work was con sidered today by the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. Reports were submitted on the progress of the missionary efforts of the church among laboring men, immigrants, the Indians and all other classes at home which the church is trying to reach, and a general discussion of the subject of home dissions followed.

The Board for the first time in three ears reported a debt of more than $47,000, but it was explained that this was due to the assumption of the work of the Cumberland branch of the church. It was shown that during the last year there had been an increase of about $26,000 in gifts for home missioners work. sionary work. The financial panic is believed to have been responsible for the fact that the increased gifts did not largely exceed the increased appro-priations.

Work of Home Missions.

In its report the board says:

The work in the Cumberland branch of our church has been rendered peculiarly difficult by the suits entered by the anti-unionist in so many of the courts in the South. These suits are still in process, and the uncertainty which prevails as to the issue has interfered seriously with our work in nearly the entire field. Notwithstanding, much has been accomplished by the organization of presbyteries, the gathering together of acaticred congregations and the guickening of religious interest by evangelistic services very widely held. The development of the department of church and labor has attracted the attention both of other denominations and of the public press. The reception accorded our ministers in the shop meetings is not without significance. The workingman have a new conception of both the character of the minister as a man and of the nature of the gospel which he preaches. The fact that workingmen will attend a conference of employers and employee under the auspices of the shurch proves their condence in us. Beports from our ministers indicate that the workingmen are responding to their appeal.

The board has at work 1530 missionrers indicate that the workingman are re-sponding to their appeal.

Dr. John Dixon, of New York, secretary of the board, said that the Board of Home Missions had raised more money during the last year than in any other year of its history, having raised a total of $1,170,000. He said that the Western states were doing much for the work, but that the Atlantic Coast states had fallen off somewhat in their financial support.

"If you want provincialism," he said, "go to the Atlantic Coast. I don't believe there is an editor or a reporter on any New York paper who ever saw the Mississippi River."

Commissioners from the West are waging an active campaign to secure the next General Assembly for Seattle.

The General Assembly today took up the report of the college board and expressed its gratitude to John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegle for their generous gifts to Presbyterian colleges.

Only Christian Teachers.

The board in its report says:

The board has made an unceasing effort that only Christian men and women should occupy the chairs of its colleges. It has insisted that this was demanded by the very nature of the Christian college. As a small college, its first characteristic was likely to be the personal influence exerted over the students by each professor. The results have been very gratifying. Careful statistics show a total of 943 faculty members, with 902 of these, or almost 96 per cent, members in good standing of evangelical churches. Most of those, moreover, who are not professing Christians are leosely connected with the institutions as teachers in the nonscholastic departments.

some colleges in Securing material aid by creating self-perpetuating boards of trustees and thus removing their official connection with the church. The board hereafter will only co-operate with institutions that are able to give some real guarantee of the continued Christianity of their educational work.

In discussing the scarcity of ministers some of the speakers blamed state universities and other undenominational institutions of learning for turning the thoughts of students from religious to commercial currents.

Dearth of New Ministers.

"With 4,000,000 Presbyterian communi-cants," said Rev. S. W. Sneed, of Pitts-burg, chairman of the board of educa-tion, "we have only 117 men in training for the ministry. Many colleges are tion. "we have only 117 men in training for the ministry. Many colleges are yielding to the feeling against the ministry by putting Greek and Latin in curriculum as elective courses, and many even resent the imputation that they are denominational institutions.

"Fathers and mothers," continued Mr. Sneed, "should be taught that it was wrong to take their children to baptism with the mental reservation that they should never enter the ministry."

Rev. Joseph W. Cochran, of New York, corresponding secretary of the board of education, said:
