STOPS RUNAWAY.-But for the nerve of Earl Buxton, 803 Third street, scrious con-sequences might have followed the runsequences might have tollowed the ran-ning away of a heavy team of horses be-longing to R. Feliman, of Beaverton, early yesterday afternoon. The team was left standing in front of the Barnes Market on Third street and becoming frightened dashed south on Third street Several persons were nearly run down by the galloping horses and the swerving wagon. At Taylor street Buxton ran out and failing to stop the team from in front, caught hold the endgate of the wagon and swung inside. Climbing to the wagon and swing inside. Chibbing to the scat he got the reins and soon had the horses under control. Fellman, running after his horses, was quickly on the scene. He was promptly arrested on a charge of leaving the team untied. On leaving ball for his appearance in court today, he was released.

today, he was released.

STAMP SALES INCREASE.—'The sale of stamps at the Portland Postoffice for the month of May will show an increase of 15 per cent over the sales for the corresponding month a year ago," said Postmaster J. W. Minto, yesterday. "Our figures show that at the close of business last Saturday the receipts from stamp sales were $500 in excess of the sales for the corresponding period in 1907. The surprising part of the situation is that the great increase originates almost exclusively at the stamp window, where clusively at the stamp window, where the sales range from a cents to $1. These figures unmistakably prove a gradual and centinuing growth in population." The stamp sales for April exceeded those of the same month last year by 12,5 per BIDS ASKED FOR LUMBER.—Bids have been asked, through the Portland Cham-ber of Commerce, by the Isthmian Canal Commission, of Oregon lumber manufac-turers for 1,000,000 feet of Douglas fir for turers for 1.000,000 feet of Douglas fir for use in the canal zone. Portland sawmill men will submit bids, which must be flied at Washington not later than June 15. Smaller lots of lumber are often asked for by the Canal Commission but Portland mills do not care to submit bids for there is no regular steamer line between Portland and the Isthmus ports and it would hardly pay to charter a steamer for a small shipment. The 1,000,000 feet just asked for will make only a small cargo.

Indian War Verenans' Day.—Indian War Veterans' day, June 10, will be celewar veterans day, June as, will be cele-by a banquet for the Indian War Vet-erans of the North Pacific Coast, given by the Sons and Daughters of the Indian War Veterans. Mrs. C. Henry Cham-breau, president of the order, will su-perintend the banquet and entertainment. Emil Theilhorn's Orchestra will furnish the music during the day.

United Spanish War Veterans Not in Politics,—O. L. Parsons, trustee of the United Spanish War Veterans, yesterday made the statement that the United Spanish War Veterans has no connection with the so-called Bolo Club which is reported to have made certain political inforsements. Mr. Parsons further says that the United Spanish War Veterans as an organization takes no part in politics and makes no indorsements for office.

Will, Hold Final Meeting.—The Mon-O. N. G. MILITARY SERVICE.—The Third Regiment. Oregon National Guard, Bat-tery A. Field Artillery, Hospital Corps and Camp Young, Spanish War Veterans, will hold their annual military service on Sunday night at 8 o'clock, in the First Presbyterian Church, Twelfth and Alder streets. Chapiain Gilbert will deliver the address. The public is cordially invited. ments for office.

WILL HOLD FINAL MEETING,—The Montavilla Home Training Circle will hold its final meeting for the year tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Montavilla schoolhouse. Rev. F. S. White, Presbyterian minister, will deliver an address. This will be followed by election of officers. The reception, which the circle had intended to hold, will be omitted. FUNEAL OF HERSWAT RUSK.—The funeral of Herbert R. Rusk, aged 23, who died in Walla Walla, was held yesterday (Sunday) morning from the family home, near Milwaukie. Have Those Anti-Saloon Canvassers Seen You Yet?

A story is told of a lusty young fellow, crossing his father's farm with a pitchfork on his shoulder, when he was attacked by a vicious bull. The young man stood his ground, using the pitchfork deftly on the bull's face and eyes. Soon the astonished brute began to bellow with pain. "Bellow," said the six-footer, "but I should like to know who forced this fight."

Who invoked the pending vote in certain precincts on the East Side for prohibiting the saloon? The saloon-keepers themselves did it. They filed the petition for the vote to be taken next Monday, and now wish they hadn't. The East Side belongs to the people, and not to the saloons. The saloons are going to move.

A man-to-man canvass the last ten days in those precincts shows, of three thousand men interviewed, four hundred are out and out for the saloon, three hundred non-committal, with the rest of the three thousand going to vote "dy."

"Won't they colonize those precincts

"dry."
"Won't they colonize those precincts and swear in a gang, like they did in Sellwood?" Well, hardly. A camera will be at each polling place and each man photographed who swears his vote in, with each man who swears for him, and if anything goes wrong, something will be doing.
