Hopmen all over the state are intersted in the outcome of the litigation between the Krebs Hop Company and T. A. Livesley & Co., of Salem. The latest phase of the case was heard by Judge Galloway Monday and Tuesday, and was taken under advisement. This case, which is one of the most famous of the many Oregon hop suits, was begun in 1906, when the Krebs company sued the Livesley company for $4000, the first installment of the purchase price of a five-year contract for 100,000 pounds of hops yearly at 14 cents a pound. They secured judgment in the Circuit Court of Marion County, when the case was appealed to the Supreme Court, which affirmed the decision of the lower court, and later denied a petition for a rehearing. Lives-ley then went before Judge Galloway to control and temporary in ley then went before Judge Galloway in equity and secured a temporary in-junction restraining the issuing of ex-ecution, contending that he had no remedy at law. He alleged that the Krebs Company was insolvent and there-fore unable to collect any judgment. At the hearing before Judge Gallo-way this week. T. A. Livesley & Co. produced a deed given by the Krebs company to Ladd & Bush, showing on its face absolute conveyance, while Krebs, in rebuttal, produced an agree-ment between his company and the Salem bank showing that when the in-debtedness was paid the deed would be ments of any kind against them. This is only one of several suits of Krebs against Livesley on the same contract. The others are in the Supreme Court and this one will probably go there. The Krebs company yesterday filed an attachment for $8000 on Livesley's big hop farm, bringing the total of attachments up to $18,000.

At Denver, in the snow, more than 50,000 people were present in one day to see the exhibit of the livestock of this country. At Fort Worth, Texas, they had an attendance equaling twice the population of the town, while at Kansas City and Chicago the greatest events in those two cities throughout the year are the great livestock gather-ings.

Lard Eaters Should Stop and Think!

There must be something in all this Pure Food Talk. We hear the term "Pure Food" on every hand-Pure Food Shows, Pure Food Laws and Pure Food agitation of all kinds. It simply means that people are awakening to the fact that they that they cannot be too careful about the purity of their food and the ingredients which enter into its making.

One of the most fruitful sources of indigestion in the past has been the use of lard. Nine times out of ten, the lard which you buy is not fit for any human stomach. Its source is suggestive of uncleanliness and unhealthfulness. It makes greasy, indigestible food, and food which is bound eventually to interfere with digestion.

COTTOLENE is the only rational frying and shortening medium. Wherever exhibited in competition with other cooking fats, it has always been granted highest award. It contains no hog-fat, but is a pure vegeta-ble product, made from the choicest cotton seed oil, and is every bit as pure and healthful as the purest olive oil.

For frying and shortening, you should use nothing but COTTOLENE. It is more healthful than lard; it will go farther than lard, one-third less being required; and it will make your food more appetizing and digestible.

Buy a pail of COTTOLENE to-day, use it according to directions, and you will never go back to lard.

Cottolene is Guaranteed We hereby authorize your grocer to refund your money in case you're not pleased after having given COTTOLENE a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk COTTOLENE is packed in pails with a patent air-tight top, to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome; also to prevent it from absorbing the disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.
