Dr. Koch, German Scientist, at Molokai Settlement.

Finds Unfortunates Well Taken Care of and Contented as Can Be Expected-Refuses to Talk About Possible Experiments.

HONOLULU, May 31.-Professor Dr. Robert Koch, the eminent German bac-teriologist, who, for some time has been staying in Honolulu, on his trip around the world, returned here today around the world, returned here today from a visit to the famous leper settlement on the Island of Molokai, whither he went for the purpose of investigating the method of treating leprosy, which has long been a perplexing problem in these islands and in the Orient. Dr. Koch was taken to Molokai as the guest of the German Consul, William Pfotenhauer, on the Chilean steamer Keau Hou, especially chartered for the rip, and was accompanied by Dr. Waltrip, and was accompanied by Dr. Walter Brickerhoff, in charge of the Federal Leprosarium; Dr. L. E. Cofer, president of the United States Marine Hospital Service at Honolulu, and H. Focke, Chilean Consul here.

Focke, Chilean Consul nere.

In. Koch made a most careful examination of the settlement, taking many notes on what he saw and questioning many of the unfortunates, but was reticent in expressing himself ex-cept on the general conduct and condi-tion of the camp. As to the scientific treatment of the dread disease and whether a permanent cure might be discovered as a result of experiments now being made by scientists, he de-clined to be quoted.

Patients Well Provided For. *

'I visited the settlement," said Dr Koch, "principally to learn three things, namely: The method of ad-ministration, the contentment and surroundings of the lepers, and whether climatic, racial or other conditions re-sulted in special forms of development of the disease. As a result of my visit I found the type of disease the same as that existing in leper stations of other countries which I have visited. The buildings, general arrangements and equipment compare favorably with those existing in the great lengt settle. those existing in the great leper settlements in other parts of the world. I consider the patients well provided for in every respect, especially in treatment and nourishment. The lepers have every reason to be as well satisfied and contented as could be ex-

helr isolated and almost hopeless

Dr. Koch took notes on everything he saw and made a thorough inquiry into the individual and hopeless cases He visited first the buildings being erected for the Federal Leprosarium, and then the Baldwin Home for Boys. He examined many of the patients, questioning them regarding their age and the length of time they had been in the settlement. From the boys' home, GOES AFTER INFORMATION

In the settlement, From the Boys home,
Dr. Koch went to the Bishop Home for Girls, which is in charge of the Franciscan Sisters, and thence to the Bayview Home, where patients in the most advanced stages are cared. He conferred at length with Dr. W. J. Goodhue, the settlement physician, regarding the treatment and progress of the disease, displaying much interest in Dr. Goodhue's experience. Dr. Koch questioned Dr. Goodhue at length as to the administration of the settlement, the contentment of the lepers, and how they liked the treat-ment. He asked why an exact census ment. He asked why an exact census of the lepers in the islands, as shown by nasal secretions or by other eff-clent means, had not been made. It was explained that public sentiment among Hawailans would not permit of this. Dr. Koch declared such an examination which is now made in Germany would be valuable as either would be valuable as either. many, would be valuable as giving precise data, from which to judge of the offectiveness of segregation.

Dr. Kuch visited the grave of Father Damien, who gave up his life in the service of the lepers, and talked with Brother Dutton, Father Damien's companion.

CUPID USES A REVOLVER

Bullet Brings About Reconciliation Between French Couple.

PARIS, May 30.-(Special.)-M. Charles Leriche, a "lyric artist," whose name has been more widely illustrated by his sisterin-law, Augustine Leriche, one of the most joyous comic actresses in Paris, was walking home the other day when he met his wife, also an "artiste lyrique." There would have been no cause for alarm in the meeting but for two reasons. One was that divorce proceedings were pending between them; the second, and more immediately disturbing, reason was that she carried a dainty revolver. M. Leriche murmured something and made off. His wife went after him and fired al school, located at Westminster, Md. twice, one bullet hitting him in the addressed the conference

Advocate.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 31 .- (Special Correspondence.)-If the members of the General Conference were badly frostbitten by the address of the Rev. Collins Denny, representing the Meth-odist Episcopal Church South, they were surely thoroughly thawed out by the warm, brotherly spirit manifested In the address delivered by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Lewis, who is the chairman of the General Conference of the Protest-ant Methodist Church, now in session in Pittsburg.

Early in the session, this General Conference sent a commission to bear a message of fraternity looking toward union to the quadrennial conference of the Protestont Methodist brethren. This commission, composed of Bishop War-ren, the Rev. Dr. J. F. Goucher, and the Hon. John P. Dolliver, was received at Pittsburg with every indication of brotherly consideration and fraternal regard. After the commission had re-turned to Baltimore, the conference at Pittsburg serviced in the conference at Pittsburg appointed the chairman, Rev. Dr. I. H. Lewis, the Rev. Dr. Reynolds and Mr. Brown, Controller of the State of Maryland, as fraternal commission-ers to this General Conference. This commission appeared on the platform

Painter Pictures Tory Leader as a Limp, Backboneless Monster-The Duke and Duchess of Connaught Suffer Severely.

This does not denote a healthy state of that another flery outburst is but the British art-when an American trained in Florence and Paris completely domi-nates the scene. In answer to the question it may be said that this year Mr. Sargent has done his worst least by the Duke and Duchens of Con-naught and Arthur Balfour, whose por-trait was painted for the Cariton Club. that has so quickly established it as a popular feature of the Rose Festival attractions. The enormous grandstand at Twentieth and Washington streets will today be enlarged to accommodate the thousands who will flock during the week to see the much-talked-of spectacle. New features are promised for tonight, including the first appearance of Jean Weitzman, the daring figure, leaning for support upon a marhigh-wire walker, whose performance terminates in an outburst of fireworks, completely enveloping the intrepid man wille balanced in midair.
