

BETTING MONEY GOING BEGGING

Thousands of Dollars on Chamberlain and Manning Not Taken.

WORD HAS FEW BACKERS

Four Business Men Place $25,000 at 2 to 1 on Sheriff Stevens, but Little of It Is Covered During Day.

Thousands of dollars on Sheriff Stevens, Governor Chamberlain and District Attorney Manning went being yesterday. At several of the betting headquarters 2 to 1 were the odds that the Stevens supporters offered on their man, but even this tempting bait did not make the Word men loosen up.

Perhaps it is because the banks have been closed for two days that the betting so far has been very light. Unless there should be an awakening this morning, not over $600 or $800 will be bet for all of the Perkins Hotel yesterday.

At George Caldwell's there was posted on the blackboard $200 of Stevens money that did not get into action because there wasn't a Word man around with the necessary $100. There was also $250 on Chamberlain and $100 on Manning that did not get on. At Schiller's the largest deposit was made. Four prominent business men, whose names were kept secret, left $25,000 there to bet at 2 to 1 on Stevens. The instructions on this bet were "Bet it all or any part of it on Stevens and give the Word people 2 to 1 for their money."

There were bets of $5 and $10 made without end. There was nearly $100 bet that Stevens would win by 500 or more. On the other hand the wagers were scattering and very small. There were many people who thought well of Judge O'Day's chances, but the absence of tomorrow morning bet money made it impossible to get this money placed.

WARSHIPS REACH HARBOR

Early yesterday morning Harbor-master J. Speler, John Driscoll, Captain Edmund Groves, of the Port of Portland, and Harry J. Strawbridge went down the river in a launch as far as St. John, where they met the French warships and accompanied them to their moorings. The Charleston is in charge of Commander F. E. Beatty, who will relinquish the position July 1. Driscoll is in charge of Commander E. H. Cannon in charge of the Yorktown.

Salute by Excursion Craft.

The river steamers Beaver, Charles R. Spencer and the Bailey Gatzert, each heavily loaded with excursionists, sounded a cordial welcome to the war vessels that was almost drowned by the cheers of the excursionists as the craft steamed by in midstream.

Throughout the day innumerable excursion launches and other craft were drafted into service to transport the hundreds of visitors to the cruiser and the Yorktown. Officers lined up along the bank of the river and viewed the vessels. During the week visitors will be received on both the cruiser and the gunboat between the hours of 12 o'clock every afternoon. The visiting fleet can be reached by launches that will be operated throughout the week from almost any of the numerous docks, which afford a splendid view of both vessels can be had from the Steel Bridge.

Will Welcome Fleet Today.

Harbor-master Speler gave his personal attention to the wants of the commanders of the two vessels and saw that their every requirement was supplied. The wharf at the foot of Stark street has been reserved especially for the convenience of the launches from the two war vessels.

The reception committee that was named by the Rose Festival management formally to welcome the officers and enlisted men of the fleet to the city will do so today.

Late yesterday the committee communicated with Admiral Swinburne, from whom it was learned that the officers of the fleet would be in readiness to receive the committee this morning.

Wynne Johnson, chairman, immediately notified the other members to meet at the Stark street dock promptly at 10 o'clock this morning when they will proceed to the battleships.

The members of the committee will be accompanied by Mayor Lane, who is to welcome the visitors to the city; A. C. Whitmore, president of the Rose Festival; W. McMurray, chairman of the publicity committee; General F. Beebe and representatives from the Ad Men's League, who will extend to the officers of the fleet an invitation to attend the banquet at the Portland Commercial Club tonight.

Japs Visit Vessels.

Among the visitors to the Charleston during the afternoon were two innocent-looking Japanese, but they were seen to make any diagram of the guns or the general arrangement of the cruiser, which probably accounts for the fact that no particular attention was paid to them.

Sailboat Is Capsized.

At 4 o'clock the yacht Athalon capsized near the west bank of the river, opposite the Charleston, throwing its crew, Richard McKay, Robert C. Wilson and two young men friends into the river. The mishap was witnessed by some of the subordinate officers of the cruiser, who immediately ordered a lifeboat lowered, and a full crew of jacksies a few seconds later were on their way to assist the yachtsmen, who had scrambled from the water onto the upturned craft, where they were rescued by a launch which preceded the lifeboat.

"The Jolly Canemen," an organization consisting of the enlisted men on the Charleston, will give a musical ball at the Armory tomorrow night. Invitations will be issued today for the affair, which will be a military ball, all of the men appearing in uniform. The Tacoma and the Charleston will furnish music for the dancers.

The Pacific Telephone Company yesterday installed one of its instruments aboard the cruiser Charleston for the convenience of the officers and men. The telephone is connected with the local exchange. Its number is East 35.

BACK TO SAN FRANCISCO

First Division of Atlantic Fleet Drops Anchor in Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—The first division of the Atlantic fleet, under Rear-Admiral Sperry, consisting of the Connecticut, Kansas, Vermont and Louisiana, returned here today from Tacoma and dropped anchor in the man-o-war row by the side of the Maine. The battleship, accompanied by the destroyer hospital ship Relief, arrived off the heads last night but did not enter the harbor until shortly before noon today. All four vessels of the first division will be sent to the dry dock.

MANY CAN'T GET ABOARD

Throng Visits Fleet at Tacoma. Second Division Leaves.

TACOMA, May 31.—The second division of the Atlantic fleet left Tacoma today at 1 o'clock for Bremerton, where the battleships will go into drydock. Many people were unable to get aboard the vessels yesterday on account of the great throngs which crowded the vessels and jammed the gangways and today visitors were received up to 12 o'clock and a large number of the second division of the fleet, under Acting Rear-Admiral Wainwright.

FRENCH TROOPS TO LEAVE

FORCES IN MOROCCO TO BE REPLACED BY MOORS.

Situation Regarding Opposing Sultans Grows Complicated.—Feared Germany May Cause Trouble.

PARIS, May 31.—The government this week will define before the French Parliament its position relative to the evacuation of the Chaouia district in Morocco by publishing its instructions to General d'Amadeo, the commander of the French forces in Morocco, which already have been communicated to the powers. These provide for the gradual withdrawal of the French troops and their replacement by a native Moorish contingent as rapidly as they can be organized.

So far as the situation regarding the two Sultans is concerned, France intends to await developments. The change of Sultan of Alas, the Sultan of record, to retain his office, seem almost hopeless, but it is thought that there might be a shift in fortune. If, however, Mulai Hafid, the so-called Sultan of the South, enters Fez and secures the submission of Tangier, thus becoming de facto Sultan, France will not relinquish the signatory powers of the Algeiras act.

A delicate diplomatic situation then would be created, unless the powers assented to the stipulation of the Algeiras act, but anxiety exists here that Germany may provoke trouble.

MOTHER OBJECTS; IS SHOT

SUITOR IN DISFAVOR KILLS AT CLOSE OF SERVICE.

Pulls Gun and Fires Three Shots Because Attention to Woman's Daughter Are Objected To.

OAKFIELD, Wis., May 31.—While attending services at the Methodist Episcopal Church this morning Grant Pool, aged 35 years, shot and killed Mrs. E. H. Orvis, a leading resident of the village. Rev. Sabin Halsey had completed the services and had opened the vestibule door to shake hands with the members of the congregation as they left the church. Pool occupied a pew in the church directly in front of Mrs. Orvis and followed her to the door. Mrs. Orvis was about to shake hands with Mr. Halsey when Pool pulled a revolver, firing three shots in rapid succession, one bullet entering the heart, causing instant death. Mrs. Orvis fell into the arms of her husband.

Mr. Halsey asked the congregation to remain and offer prayer for the dying woman. The congregation was panic-stricken, however, and fled from the church in haste. The pastor remained and prayed over the body.

It is said that Mr. and Mrs. Orvis objected to Pool's attentions to their daughter, and that this was the cause of the shooting.

"Anarchism and the Law of the Land" was the subject of the address at the Unitarian chapel last night, delivered by Rev. W. G. Elliot, Jr. A large audience greeted the speaker and the Foresters of America were present in a body.

CLOSING-OUT SALE.

This sale is not a matter of choice, or momentary whim, it is a permanent one, in order to settle the partnership estate, and by order of the Probate Court. A chance like this to secure bargains from the sale of the contents of a life-time. McAllen & McDonnell, popular drygoods store, corner Third and Morrison.

Mail Ocean Bill Much Alive.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—That the ocean mail bill, which passed the Senate on March 29 without a division and later was sustained by the Senate in the post-office bill by a vote of 46 to 12, is not killed by the action of the House in failing to accept it on a narrow vote of 165 to 152, is the firm conviction of the friends of the measure. They believe that next December it will win by a decisive majority.

Outfitted auction, Metzger's, 312 Washington street.

NEW PARTY RULER

Theodore A. Bell, of California, Visits Portland.

OVERTHREW GAVIN M'NAB

Ex-Congressman Declares That Control of Politics by Railroads of Southern States Will End Within Two Years.

Ex-Congressman Declares That Control of Politics by Railroads of Southern States Will End Within Two Years.

Ex-Congressman Theodore A. Bell, who two weeks ago wrested the control of the California Democratic convention from Gavin McNab, for ten years Democratic boss of that state, arrived in Portland yesterday morning from Spokane and left last night for Tacoma. Although still in his 52d Mr. Bell has been acclaimed the new Moses of his party and in addition to succeeding to the control of the state organization he will head a solid Bryan delegation from California to the National Democratic convention at Fresno.

For a number of years Mr. Bell worked in conjunction with McNab, whose political methods until recently were comparatively clean, and two years ago they together defeated the Hearst forces in the Democratic party of California. When the Democrats assembled in state convention two weeks ago, McNab sought to dictate a programme that should be followed out in the interest of machine politics, but Bell rebelled, refusing absolutely to yield to McNab's dictation and his questionable methods. Bell then set out to organize the state convention in opposition to McNab, which he succeeded in doing, forcing the ex-leader to withdraw all opposition and accept the party programme as party boss. At the time McNab at San Francisco was announcing his retirement Bell in the state convention at Fresno was reading out of the party two delegates that were alleged to have been sent to the state convention by the Southern Pacific Company for the purpose of wresting the control of the convention from the rank and file of the Democracy.

"The people of California have followed the Oregon Senatorial contest with a great deal of interest," said Mr. Bell, yesterday. "Californiaans are manifesting a deep interest in the political system in use in your state. The Democrats are favorable to the initiative and referendum and the direct primary; in fact, we have declared for those measures in our platform."

"The great tendency in California politics at this time is away from party organization. The supreme issue before the people is the overthrow of the railroad domination of the political system of the state. They realize the futility of inaugurating any reforms while the railroad controls the various departments of the state government. The Democratic party has just held a convention to eliminate all railroad influences. The party is now stronger and cleaner than ever before. The conditions in the political world in the past have been such as to drive good men out of politics and to weaken the railroad will be deprived of their present political supremacy. The Democrats are better element in the Republican party. The people of California are going to vote for men of character who are absolutely free from railroad influence."

"The Republican party, which is the reform Republican party, is gaining steadily. At the recent convention at San Francisco they received 75 votes against the regular 33 votes of the railroad element. The indications are that the league will get control of the August primary. I said before, all reforms will begin with the overthrow of the railroad's political power, and the people of California are working steadily to that end."

HERMOSILLO, Mex., May 31.—After a war which has continued intermittently for more than 120 years, the Yaqui Nation is about to sever tribal relations, and its 20,000 members are to settle down into peaceable and law-abiding citizens.

On May 7 last, Louis Rulo, head of the Yaqui Nation, asked for a conference, by which peace could be arranged. With this purpose in view, a meeting of the Yaqui Nation was held in Hermosillo, Sonora, and other officers of the Mexican Army. The conference lasted three hours and it is believed to have paved the way to a lasting peace. At first Chief Rulo assumed the aggressive in his demands, but was evidently prepared to waive them as occasion demanded. In the end terms acceptable to both parties were agreed upon.

Conditions of Submission.

These provide unconditional submission of the Yaquis to the authority of the government, that the lives and property of the Indians shall be respected, and that they be protected in all the rights and privileges accorded to Mexican citizens under existing laws, provided, however, for the time being they must not go North of Ores; that all arms and munitions of war in the hands of the Indians be delivered to the military authorities; that emissaries be sent to different Yaqui bands instructing them to cease hostilities and surrender, and that the government provide all necessities for the submitting Indians until such time as work can be provided for them.

Chief Rulo, expressing himself as satisfied with the terms proposed, said he believed his people would accept them if enough time was given to unite all families and parties so as to present themselves in a body. He fixed June 15 as the date upon which the united people present themselves for ratification of the terms of settlement.

"The Indians are acting in good faith," is evidenced by the surrender of bands to the different authorities. Several already have given themselves up. The Government, however, is taking no chances. Troops are being massed in the district with all possible haste.

"The Halfbreed" at the Baker. "The Halfbreed," which the Baker Stock Company will present all this week, is a fascinating play of the Indian Territory. The plot deals with the love of a halfbreed renegade and a white man for the same woman.

"A Trip to Coney Island."

Battling Nelson is one of the attractions at the Star Theater this week. He is appearing in a play with the sparkling musical company, "A Trip to Coney Island." This is an offering of the Armstrong Company, an organization of clever comedians and bright chorus girls. Visitors to the Rose Festival should not forget that the Star is the only place where musical comedy can be found in Portland. There are three performances daily, two at night and the other a matinee.

Tonight at the Lyric.

This evening at the Lyric the famous Blunk-Arwood Stock Company will open the Portland engagement in the thrilling drama, "The Bushranger." The company is one of the leading stock organizations in America.

At the Oaks Today.

Festival visitors will find the Oaks, Portland's splendid amusement park, a veritable fairland of beauty and varied entertainment. This afternoon the famous symphony orchestra, under the direction of Herr Waldemar Lind, will give a concert at 2 o'clock in the Aldrome.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Low Docketster's Minstrels. The attraction at the Heilig Theater next Saturday afternoon and night and Sunday.

Recognizes Woman's Voice.

Mrs. Steinhilf, struck by the voice, looked at the woman and seemed to recognize her as one of her husband's models. Beyond this statement the police have no clue to the motive of the tonight it was reported that an Italian had been arrested as one of the assassins. The police believe that the murderers entered the house by the means of false keys.

Criminal Most Audacious.

Aside from the brutality of the crime, a feature of the affair is the almost inconceivable audacity with which it was perpetrated. The artist's house is situated close to a large printing works where work is proceeding all night. An almost constant stream of workmen are coming and going all the time.

For Railroad Commissioner.

26 X Alitchison, Clyde B. Regular Republican nominee, and present incumbent. Painted china auction, Metzger's, 312 Washington street.

FOR SHERIFF R. L. STEVENS

"The Record Is the Best Evidence"

R. L. STEVENS.

Each two-year term beginning July 1st gives the Sheriff one entire calendar year in office. Mr. Word's full year was 1905. Mr. Stevens' full year was 1907. During those years, neither official had any "leavings" from his predecessor to look after. Here is the result:

Table with columns: Year, Sheriff, Tax Books, Amt. Roll, Expense tax department, Cost per dollar for collecting, Delinquent roll, Percent delinquent. Rows for 1907 and 1905 comparing Stevens and Word.

These figures, taken from the official records, show the cost per dollar of tax collecting under Mr. Word's administration to have been 21.4 per cent higher than under Mr. Stevens' administration, although employees' salaries have been higher since the last Legislature advanced them, and under the new law two deputies formerly used in the tax department are now kept busy in the Assessor's office making divisions. During the 24 months in which Mr. Word was in office, he turned over to the County Treasurer $4,132,108.13. In the first twenty-two months of Mr. Stevens' term, he turned over to the Treasurer $5,385,474.48

WARNING TO VOTERS

Do not be misled by any cooked-up and juggled figures purporting to show that Mr. Word's administration of the Tax Department was any more economical to the taxpayers than my own administration. I can select certain periods of several months each, which would make a much more favorable showing than the above. Those figures, however, cover the only years in which either Mr. Word or myself had an opportunity to make a full twelve-months' showing with a tax roll. Mr. Word and his Democratic friends display a very poor opinion of the intelligence of the voters when they attempt to convey the impression that a $2,800,000 roll should be handled at the same cost as the $2,076,000 roll handled by Mr. Word. If my record was so bad and showed such wastefulness, why did not Mr. Word set forth the facts in detail, showing the size of the roll and of the delinquent tax list? Was it to the advantage of the taxpayers to have $6000 more delinquent on a roll $640,000 smaller than mine? Or was it only an advantage to the ex-Sheriff, who is speculating in tax titles, in yesterday's paper my Democratic friends stated that I had done nothing to enforce the liquor or gambling laws. The copy of an unsolicited letter of the Municipal Association thanking me for enforcing those laws appeared in the same paper and, of course, proves that someone was lying. I do not think it was the Municipal Association. The same kind of misrepresentation and vilification has been heaped on me since the beginning of the campaign; but if re-elected, I will make no change in my policy, but will continue to enforce all laws all the time, with strict impartiality. The matter of feeding the prisoners is, as I have explained before, not an issue in the Sheriff's campaign. The question is before the voters in the shape of a law, which will definitely settle the matter one way or the other. If that bill passes, neither Mr. Word nor myself can change its provisions, and in any event, the present practice of working the prisoners on the county roads will be continued. In conclusion, I will respectfully ask the voters to regard the record as the best evidence and to pay no attention to eleventh-hour campaign lies emanating from my political enemies.

R. L. STEVENS.

LONG WAR ENDED

Yaquis Indicate Willingness to Submit.

PLAN PEACE WITH MEXICO

Will Surrender Arms, Provided They Are Given Employment and Are Looked After—June 15 the Day—Cost of War Immense.

HERMOSILLO, Mex., May 31.—After a war which has continued intermittently for more than 120 years, the Yaqui Nation is about to sever tribal relations, and its 20,000 members are to settle down into peaceable and law-abiding citizens.

On May 7 last, Louis Rulo, head of the Yaqui Nation, asked for a conference, by which peace could be arranged. With this purpose in view, a meeting of the Yaqui Nation was held in Hermosillo, Sonora, and other officers of the Mexican Army. The conference lasted three hours and it is believed to have paved the way to a lasting peace. At first Chief Rulo assumed the aggressive in his demands, but was evidently prepared to waive them as occasion demanded. In the end terms acceptable to both parties were agreed upon.

Conditions of Submission. These provide unconditional submission of the Yaquis to the authority of the government, that the lives and property of the Indians shall be respected, and that they be protected in all the rights and privileges accorded to Mexican citizens under existing laws, provided, however, for the time being they must not go North of Ores; that all arms and munitions of war in the hands of the Indians be delivered to the military authorities; that emissaries be sent to different Yaqui bands instructing them to cease hostilities and surrender, and that the government provide all necessities for the submitting Indians until such time as work can be provided for them.

Chief Rulo, expressing himself as satisfied with the terms proposed, said he believed his people would accept them if enough time was given to unite all families and parties so as to present themselves in a body. He fixed June 15 as the date upon which the united people present themselves for ratification of the terms of settlement.

"The Indians are acting in good faith," is evidenced by the surrender of bands to the different authorities. Several already have given themselves up. The Government, however, is taking no chances. Troops are being massed in the district with all possible haste.

"The Halfbreed" at the Baker. "The Halfbreed," which the Baker Stock Company will present all this week, is a fascinating play of the Indian Territory. The plot deals with the love of a halfbreed renegade and a white man for the same woman.

"A Trip to Coney Island." Battling Nelson is one of the attractions at the Star Theater this week. He is appearing in a play with the sparkling musical company, "A Trip to Coney Island." This is an offering of the Armstrong Company, an organization of clever comedians and bright chorus girls. Visitors to the Rose Festival should not forget that the Star is the only place where musical comedy can be found in Portland. There are three performances daily, two at night and the other a matinee.

Tonight at the Lyric. This evening at the Lyric the famous Blunk-Arwood Stock Company will open the Portland engagement in the thrilling drama, "The Bushranger." The company is one of the leading stock organizations in America.

At the Oaks Today. Festival visitors will find the Oaks, Portland's splendid amusement park, a veritable fairland of beauty and varied entertainment. This afternoon the famous symphony orchestra, under the direction of Herr Waldemar Lind, will give a concert at 2 o'clock in the Aldrome.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Low Docketster's Minstrels. The attraction at the Heilig Theater next Saturday afternoon and night and Sunday.

Recognizes Woman's Voice.

Mrs. Steinhilf, struck by the voice, looked at the woman and seemed to recognize her as one of her husband's models. Beyond this statement the police have no clue to the motive of the tonight it was reported that an Italian had been arrested as one of the assassins. The police believe that the murderers entered the house by the means of false keys.

Criminal Most Audacious. Aside from the brutality of the crime, a feature of the affair is the almost inconceivable audacity with which it was perpetrated. The artist's house is situated close to a large printing works where work is proceeding all night. An almost constant stream of workmen are coming and going all the time.

For Railroad Commissioner.

26 X Alitchison, Clyde B. Regular Republican nominee, and present incumbent. Painted china auction, Metzger's, 312 Washington street.

Amusements

What the Press Agents Say.

"The Halfbreed" at the Baker. "The Halfbreed," which the Baker Stock Company will present all this week, is a fascinating play of the Indian Territory. The plot deals with the love of a halfbreed renegade and a white man for the same woman.

"A Trip to Coney Island." Battling Nelson is one of the attractions at the Star Theater this week. He is appearing in a play with the sparkling musical company, "A Trip to Coney Island." This is an offering of the Armstrong Company, an organization of clever comedians and bright chorus girls. Visitors to the Rose Festival should not forget that the Star is the only place where musical comedy can be found in Portland. There are three performances daily, two at night and the other a matinee.

Tonight at the Lyric. This evening at the Lyric the famous Blunk-Arwood Stock Company will open the Portland engagement in the thrilling drama, "The Bushranger." The company is one of the leading stock organizations in America.

At the Oaks Today. Festival visitors will find the Oaks, Portland's splendid amusement park, a veritable fairland of beauty and varied entertainment. This afternoon the famous symphony orchestra, under the direction of Herr Waldemar Lind, will give a concert at 2 o'clock in the Aldrome.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Low Docketster's Minstrels. The attraction at the Heilig Theater next Saturday afternoon and night and Sunday.

BEAR WALL-STREET PRICES

Several Conditions Contribute to Unsettle Speculative Market.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The speculative outlook became somewhat unsettled last week by reason of the confused factors in the sharp reaction which set in in the securities market. It was clear that this was due in large part to selling to take profits by holders who had bought in anticipation of more favorable conditions in affairs and who saw evidence of improvement which they considered favorable opportunity for realizing on their holdings. The opportunity proved less favorable than was hoped for, the improvement in business having failed to inspire so active a demand for securities as the previous speculative buyers had expected. Some of the week's events were untoward also, and helped to hamper efforts to realize.

Reports from mercantile sources reflected some improvement in demand, although advances in this field show conditions mixed. There was an appreciable movement of textile goods as a result of the price reductions which have been enforced. The influence from the side of the crops was unfavorable.

Jewelry auction, Metzger's, 312 Washington street. Your duty to the flag—vote YES on the Armory bill.

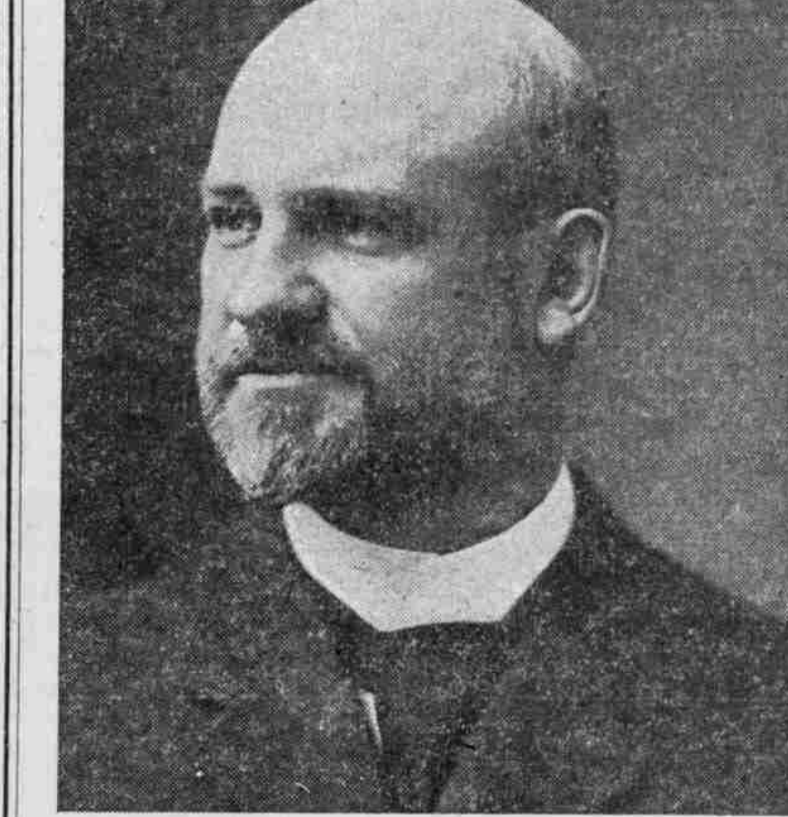

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

There are several headliners at the Grand this week and a first-class vaudeville entertainment is assured. George Wilson, one of the greatest of minstrel stars, is on the programme and a big feature will be the 10 Peckinbaums. Aside from these there will be half a dozen other acts, not one of which is less than a genuine feature. Those who want to see a bill of real advantage vaudeville cannot do better than attend the Grand this week. This is "vaudeville as is vaudeville."

New Acts at Marquand. In the Gotham Comedy Four and the three double feature for the new week at the Marquand Grand Theater, beginning today. The bill is positively announced as one of the very best offered by Panjans this season. Have your abstracts made by the Security Abstract & Trust Co., 7 Chamber of Com.

Concerning Railroad Commissioner.

Word has gone down the line to the railroad employees to vote against me for re-election as Railroad Commissioner. For days private detectives have been busy in Portland and all along the line, extorting and even threatening the men. Why? Because as Commissioner I have performed my duty fearlessly and honestly, and in the public interest. This will be my course if re-elected. I appeal for re-election on my record. CLYDE B. ALITCHISON.

ROBERT G. MORROW REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE CIRCUIT JUDGE DEPARTMENT NO. 2 NO. 32

It is now assured that Mr. Morrow will be elected Circuit Judge of Department No. 2. His professional fitness and his dignity and high character all combine to that end. Party allegiance has always prevailed in Oregon. The Democratic talk of non-partisanship has been tried before, without success. Even Judge Hailey failed of re-election on that issue. Judge O'Day was defeated for Judge of the Supreme Court of Nebraska and came to Oregon, where he tried to be elected a Circuit Judge as a non-partisan, but failed again. In 1898 he was defeated by 4500 votes for the same office. Then in 1902 he lost again for Judge of the Supreme Court. Each time the Democrats talked non-partisanship, but the Republicans repudiated it every time, and they will not now desert a dignified and worthy candidate of their own party.