SEVEN TRAINS TIED UP

Workers in Montana Block Northern Pacific Line.

LEAVENWORTH, May 1.—Offering through Montana and Idaho to boing here was the object of a stoppage by the workers on the Northern Pacific train today. The train was halted at the station for more than an hour, with the result that the train was delayed at least 20 minutes. The workers also refused to move the train on its way to the station, which caused the train to be thrown off the track. The workers are demanding a raise of 50 cents per hour.
