

GENERAL BULLER ENDS HIS CAREER

Commander Whom the Boers Thrashed Dies With Tarnished Fame.

HE ADVISED SURRENDER

After Winning High Honors in Campaigns in Many Countries, He Suffered Defeat and Was Disgraced as Climax.

LONDON, June 2.—General Sir Redvers Buller, who had been ill for some weeks past, is dead. He was born in 1839.

In April, General Buller contracted a chill in London and this indisposition was followed by a severe attack of jaundice and other complications.

The name of General Sir Redvers Buller is inseparably associated with the defeats suffered by the British army at the beginning of the Boer war, but he had before that time gained considerable fame as a military commander. General Buller was born in Devonshire in 1839 and entered the British army as an ensign in the Sixth Rifle Regiment in 1858. He served with his regiment in the Chinese war of 1860 and in the Red River expedition of 1870. He was Quartermaster-General and head of the intelligence department in the Ashanti war under General Wolseley and gained special mention for his behavior in several engagements. He served with distinction during the Boer war of 1899. He was chief of staff under Sir Herbert Stewart in the Victoria Cross in the Zulul war of 1879 by his gallantry in saving the lives of two officers and a trooper during the retreat at Isigobane. He was chief of staff under Sir Evelyn Wood in the first Boer war in 1881. In the campaign against Arabi Pasha in Egypt in 1882 he did distinguished service at Kassassin, Tel-el-Kebir and other points. He was chief of staff to Wolseley in the Sudan campaign of 1884-5, and commanded the army at the battle of Abu Klea, after Sir Herbert Stewart was wounded. From 1887 to 1890 he was Quartermaster-General of the British army, from 1890 to 1897 was Adjutant-General, and in 1891 was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-General. He was created K. C. M. G. in 1882, K. C. B. in 1885 and G. C. B. in 1894.

All his former glory was blotted out by the disasters of the Boer War in 1899 and 1900. Deaf to the warnings of Sir Alfred Milner, the British government had an utterly inadequate force on the Transvaal-Natal frontier when Kruger suddenly declared war and poured his forces through Lang's Nek. Buller was in supreme command, but a large part of his force under General White was cut off and besieged at Ladysmith. White kept the Boers occupied while Buller's reinforcements were marching. Buller began his advance by an attempt to cross the Tugela River at Colenso with the intention of relieving Ladysmith. A deadly fire from the Boer machine gunners concentrated on the heights across the river drove back the British and 31 cannon were captured. Buller drew back and advanced in another direction, but his capture of Spion Kop, a great peak which was supposed to command the Boer positions. A part of his force scaled the height to find it empty, and the fire of batteries which commanded it and unaccountable delay in strengthening this force was followed by its withdrawal after a terrible night.

By this time Buller had been superseded in supreme command by Lord Roberts, who advanced with a fresh army through Cape Colony to the Orange River. Free State and after a succession of victories which culminated in the capture of Kruger's army, drove the Boers before him across the Vaal River. This movement outflanked the Boer positions before Ladysmith and along the Tugela and at last Buller advanced and, after several days' fighting, the Boer positions were completely destroyed. Buller's successive defeats caused a storm of criticism and he was placed on the retired list in punishment for an unwise speech made after his return to England. The publication of his dispatches followed criticism of his treatment and showed that he had advised White to surrender Ladysmith. Thus a splendid military record was closed with an indelible blot.

BUILD SOON TO PORTLAND

Northern Pacific Will Construct Point Defiance Line.

TACOMA, Wash., June 2.—(Special.)—From a reliable source the information comes that the Northern Pacific will at once complete the purchase of the right of way for the Point Defiance line. Details that have been pending for over a year for the Portland cut-off are to be closed and the additional right of way necessary to connect with the main line south of the city is to be purchased at once.

Attorney Charles Murray is said to have become connected with the Northern Pacific legal department and given personal charge of the closing of the Point Defiance deals. Before his return to Tacoma recently, Mr. Murray was associated with Judge Gordon, attorney for the Great Northern at Spokane, and is in close touch with the Hill interests. The Point Defiance line and the tunnel will be built by the Northern Pacific and Great Northern jointly. The completion of the North Bank road to Vancouver makes the extension of the line to Tacoma an immediate necessity.

FLOODS TIE UP RAILROADS

Northern Pacific and Burlington Are Blocked in Montana.

BUTTE, Mont., June 2.—Northern Pacific officials tonight are hopeful of getting trains through east some time tomorrow. From the west there is little probability of a train being run across the washout until some time Thursday. Tonight nine overland Northern Pacific and Burlington passenger trains are tied up at Livingston. Also stalled in the Livingston yards are ten freight trains. The passengers on the stalled trains number more than 1500. At Drummond, Mont., four passenger trains are tied up by washouts, while at Missoula three more passenger trains, together with a number of freight trains, are stalled. At Billings, Mont., 1600 passengers are tied up on several Burlington and Northern Pacific trains. The Montana railroads succeeded tonight in getting trains from Lombard to Lewiston, Mont. The first train since Sunday night arrived tonight. Reports from the Gallatin Valley tonight state that cattle are standing knee-deep in water on the ranges and in the fields. The damage to crops will be heavy.

In the Beaverhead Valley, south of Butte, numerous grain fields have been inundated. Several wagon bridges have gone out and the ranchers are making strenuous efforts to save other bridges. Frank Meyers, of Spokane, a bridge superintendent of the Northern Pacific's Idaho division, in charge of a crew of men, was killed this morning when a bridge, was killed this morning, the pile driver turning turtle as it was passing over a soft piece of track. Several cars were derailed, blocking further efforts for the day to save the threatened structure.

Eight feet of water are going over the spillway of Senator Clark's new dam at Bonner, Mont., the flow of water amounting to 24,000 cubic feet a second. The dam has shown not the slightest indication of weakening. The water will have to rise three feet further before the big dam of the Blackfoot company will show any impression.

According to the Northern Pacific passenger agent, W. H. Merriam, it is costing that road about $4000 a day to feed the passengers stalled in Montana. Tonight it is raining again in this city with weather indications for a shower tomorrow.

OUT FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND, MINING MAN, A CANDIDATE

Boomed as Born Californian and Man Familiar With the West—Cut Loose From Guggenheims.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—After consideration of the suggestion of his Western friends, John Hays Hammond has decided to enter the contest for the nomination for Vice-President on the Republican ticket. He is being urged by his friends on the ground that he is a Californian by birth, has a very intimate knowledge of all problems, political and economic, affecting the West and is now resident of Cleveland, Mass. Mr. Hammond was formerly connected with the Guggenheim Mining Company, but has no connection with the smelting trust. Beside this, Hammond has the advantage, it is urged, of a strong following among business men and this, it is considered, may be an important feature of his candidacy for the year Mr. Hammond has been engaged independently in his professional work as a mining engineer without any connection with the Guggenheims. Mr. Hammond was in Washington today and it was after several conferences with his political friends that the decision was reached to make announcement of his candidacy. John B. Montgomery, of Colorado, will leave for Chicago tomorrow to establish headquarters in the Auditorium Annex in the interest of the candidacy of Mr. Hammond.

DUKE NOT DRUG FIEND

Shoats Says He Died of Heart Disease While Praying.

NEW YORK, June 2.—On his return from Paris to the city, the president of the Interborough Metropolitan Company, declared that the reports of the death of his son-in-law, the Duke of Devonshire, were untrue. Mr. Shoats said that the Duke's death was caused by heart disease, and that he was not addicted to the use of drugs.

"The Duke and my daughter were kneeling by their bedside in prayer," said Mr. Shoats, "and she held one arm upon him that carried him off before medical aid could be summoned. The memory of the Duke has been grossly maligned and outrageous reports were printed about the manner and cause of his death. The facts are these: On the afternoon of the day on which he died the Duke and my daughter were out riding. They dined together and then retired to their apartments. They were kneeling close together and she held one arm about his wife's shoulders. Suddenly he lurched forward and then fell unconscious at my daughter's feet. He was a big man and she slight girl. She lifted him bodily upon the bed and screamed for aid. He was dead before anything could be done for him. Upon my arrival in Paris I found my daughter in an alarming condition. Until two weeks ago we feared that her reason was gone and would never return. It was just two weeks ago Sunday when the gun for the better came."

"My wife and one of my daughters will remain with the Duchess throughout the summer. The relatives of the Duke have been more than kind to my daughter. The Duchess d'Uzes was more than a sister to her, so that she will be among sympathetic friends while she remains in France."

CLUBMAN IS ACQUITTED

Phillip Escapes Penalty for Killing Cabman, Pleading Self-Defense.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Gaston P. Phillip, civil engineer and clubman of New York and Washington, was acquitted of the murder of Frank MacAvoy, a cab driver, by a jury in Criminal Court No. 2 here today. The jury returned its verdict of "not guilty" after being out an hour and 15 minutes. The government in its rebuttal recalled John A. Heath, clerk at the Arlington Hotel, the scene of the tragedy, to show the condition of the defendant at the time he shot MacAvoy. The government asked the court to grant its contention that Phillip could not reasonably invoke the rule which says that a man may use reasonable means of self-defense when he thinks he is in danger, because of the fact that he had been drinking. Counsel for the defense objected, and contented that the time for the government to have shown this was in its case in chief. The court sustained the objection.

HEARST HAS GAINED 107

Recount in New York Steadily Reduces McClellan's Plurality.

NEW YORK, June 2.—In the recount of votes of the Hearst-McClellan election of 1905 today, seven ballot-boxes from the First Assembly District show a net gain of four votes for William R. Hearst. When the recounting of votes had been concluded for the day, 25 boxes had been reconvened, which showed a gain of 20 for Hearst. So far, 48 boxes have been recounted by the court, which gives Hearst a gain of 107.

OFFENSE IS OVERLOOKED

Judge Stafford Refuses to Stop Land-Fraud Trial by Committing Him for Contempt—Hearing Nearing End.

DRUNK, HE SHOOTS GOODE

SALEM COUNCILMAN ATTACKED BY BEN STANTON.

Latter Seeks to Force Attention Upon Goode's Daughter, Who Sends Father for Police.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—John A. Benson, the San Francisco real estate operator, who, with Frederick A. Hyde, Henry H. Diamond and Joast H. Schneider, is on trial for conspiracy to defraud the government, took the stand in his own behalf today.

While on the stand Benson refused to answer questions regarding the alleged payment by him of large sums of money to W. D. Harlan and W. E. Valk to rush lieu land selections, and Justice Stafford indicated that Benson's refusal to answer the questions of the District Attorney might result in Benson being committed for contempt. District Attorney Baker asked the witness to state whether he made a contract with Harlan to pay him money in regard to the lieu land selections, and Benson's counsel objected.

Justice Stafford ruled that the government had a right to ask the witness about that matter as affecting his credibility as a witness, but Benson still refused to answer, and the District Attorney asked that he be compelled to do so. Justice Stafford said: "I do not know of any way he can be compelled to answer. We have no thumb screws and tortures at this day, and we cannot stop the trial for the purpose of committing him for contempt."

Benson's testimony practically closed evidence on his side for the defense. His business relations from the time he opened an office as real estate agent until the indictment, were laid before the jury. He said he was 42 years old and had been in the real estate business nearly 25 years in San Francisco. He said he had signed a contract with Hyde to sell property located in Oregon, relying upon the abstract of title, which was the general method of all land attorneys.

His first intimation that the Oregon titles were no good was in November, 1902, when his legal representatives in Washington wrote him to this effect. Benson testified that he went to New York to see Theodore Sellman, who had an interest in the Oregon lands, and was informed that the title to the property was cloudy. He later notified his clients of these facts, though Hyde reiterated that his title to the property could not
