MAN'S BODY CLOGS WHEEL

Foreman of Spokane Mill Crushed in Heavy Machinery.

SPOKANE, June 5.—The heavy machinery of the Phoenix Lumber Company's sawmill on the river front in this city, stopped suddenly this morning. Going below to locate the trouble, the workmen found the body of Foreman C. Neal wedged in the gearing, his shoulders crushed, his lungs punctured, but still alive and conscious. Just how he became entangled is unknown. He is still alive, but is expected to die.

GOOD-BYE TO VESUVIUS
