BY WILL G. MAC RAE Portland, 8.

Los Angeles, 2.
Good-bye, Dolly Gray! Lew Dock-stader's band played the tune and 4800 of Portland's flower and manhood hummed it and yelled in fiendish delight hummed it and yelled in fiendish delight when Leader Cupero struck up the song. In the song they might have missed Dolly Gray, but it's a matter of history recorded by yesterday's matinee that only a few of McCredie's artillerists missed Dolly's offerings. Right in the opening session, with Ryan in pickle, Tom Raftery slammed one of Gray's pills to deep right center for three bases, and then Babe Danzig celebrated the stitch in his side by lining one over Wheeler's head, scoring the lad from Boston.

This was not enough to satisfy. Gray mislaid his range-finder and he issued promissory notes to Bassey and Johnson, McCredie, whose fancy for southpaws is akin to the devil's for holy water, fouled out to Hogan. Next it was Cooney.

out to Hogan. Next it was Cooney. Three were on the perches when Gray shoved one that hit our nifty little short-stop right on top of the bean. Cooney smiled and shook his dusky locks, tretted to first and Danzig pattered home. bases were still chuck-a-block when Madden went out.

Loo Loos Tie Score.

This was the opening inning, and it looked good enough to win, but before it came time for tea and dessert the large number of hosts within the Vaughnstreet gates saw Los Angeles tie the struggle up and a number of smashing good plays to boot. Cooney's work at short was studded with diamonds. He took care of eight chances that were bent on trouble. Oakes robbed Bayes of on trouble. Oakes robbed Bassey of a three-bagger, if not a homer, by a long, spectacular run, and the work of Ote Johnson, who, held down Casey's shoes at second because Pearl was laid up, was worth the price of admission. He was there with a couple of two-base clouts that tickled the cockles of the hearts of the put-ups.

While Jesse Garrett, the silent Texan, was pitching a game that was of the American Beauty order, Gray was as wild as a kid that had been reading dime novels. Gray walked nine men, but there was a time when it looked as if, in spite of his generosity, we weren't going to gain much. In the fourth, with Dillon in the brine, Brashear singled to right and McCredie's digits got in the way of the the brine. Brashear singled to right and McCredie's digits got in the way of the bounder and the ball went to the fence, giving Kitty a chance to reach third. Jud Smith scored him with a nicely executed squeeze play. In the fifth, the Loo cuted squeeze play. In the fifth, the Loo Diace m Loca annexed another and tied the score. Delmas drove one to left and Hogan put League. him on second with a sacrifice. Delmas went to third on Gray's out and scored on a single by Oakes. Cooney brought the crewd to its collective feet when he grabbed Wheeler's grounder off the key-stone sack and threw the runner out at third.

Four Runs in Sixth. Nothing stirring for us until the big.

joyful sixth. Garrett was repaid for his patience and walked, but Ryan fell for three of Gray's wind caroms. Raftery walked and Danzig punctured the ozone with a safe bifflet. With three on the way stations. Bassey spanked out a two-bagger that went so far out in the lot that all three runners scored. Johnson's infield grass-trimmer escaped Smith and Delmas, hit Ellis on the bunion and Bassey scored. Johnson got down to second on a passed ball and then purloined third, it was a brilliant effort, but did not count, for neither McCredie nor Cooney could get the ball out of the inclosure. Anyway, the four runs clinched the game, but just to make it safe, sure and sane, we bumped two more over in the eighth. Oakes, after a hard run, dropped Danzig's long drive to center. Bassey saw that he got to second by a sacrifice. Ote Johnson wasn't through slamming out two-baggers, so he rapped out another that Oakes came within a whisker of nabbing. This scored Danzig. John-son rambled home when Hogan missed a shot from Oakes. There were a number of familiar faces in the band, and it was only a little over a year ago that Leader Cupero furnished us with music. The large crowd thoroughly enjoyed the cornet solo, played by Mike Cupero. Come again next seasor and bring the band.

VANCOUVER WINS AT HOME

'Pioneers' Defeat "Triple T" Team by 7-3 Score.

The Vancouver "Pioneers" proved too strong for the East Portland "Triple T" aggregation yesterday, and in an exciting game played on the Vancouver diamond defeated Hal Pomeroy's braves by the score of 7 to 3.

The game was fast and full of sensational plays, which caused the Vancouver fans a great deal of satisfaction. Tim Concannon was in prime condition and managed to shoot his curves over in the most mystifying manner. This resulted in Vancouver having easy sailing during

Chit-Chat of Sporting World

BY. WILL G. MAC RAE. DITOR CHIT-CHAT: What is the difference between a baseball fan and a baseball bug? J. M. C., Salem. One is a student of the game, knows in-London team is as the American representative in the broad jump. In this department he has always been able to when a good play is pulled off on cities. maintain his supremacy over the present-day athletes. While he has not yet understand the game. He hollers his head off every time the home player makes an error and yells his head off when an outfielder catches an easy fly.

> If you want'to sit next to a dead wise baseball fan, a man whose voice is al-ways full of encouragement, no matter how bad things are breaking for th team, and no matter how far they are behind, just perch beside Billy Pangle He is the best rooter in town and you never hear him scold because some player makes an error or dumps a boneheaded play into the game. It's always, "Never mind; we'll get it back next in-ning."

> Speaking of real fans, bogus fans, bugs and crabs, Portland is lucky in baving a majority of the real article. You can always tell the bogus fan and the bug from the real article. One, if he says anything, is there with the en-couragement salve, while the others yap their heads off and think it is Patrons of a baseball game leave their charity at home. When Bob Fitz-simmens was introduced in Splatday's game he received an ovation. When he made a couple of off-colored decisions he was toasted to a fare-you-well.

Because Casey was out of the game.
Danzig was forced to put on his uniform yesterday. The hig fellow, in spite of a very sore side, accepted is chances and worked into an assist. He was there with a couple of birgles and made the circuit of the lass three times.

By playing a great game at second Ote Johnson showed the tans that he was as good an all-around infilder as there is in the league. His two games at first in the league. His two games at first were not to be sneezed at. In the sixth inning Jesse Garrett retired two men by pitching seven balls. He struck out Jud Smith with three pitched balls and got two strikes on Ellis with the next two. Ellis then fouled and with the seventh ball flew out to Raffery.

Garrett said after the game if it handn't been a corking hot day he would not have lasted four innings because his shoulder was so lame. A few days like yesterday ought to put McCredie's pitching staff in fine shape. Every player had the first chance to enjoy a good sweat without running chances of getting stiffened up during the innings.

Tomorrow and Wednesday will posi-tively be the last days for discount on West Side gas wals. Portland Gas Com-
