BULLIED ALLEN TO A FIGHTING MOOD

Witnesses Testify How Doherty Provoked Man He Shot to Death.

TRY TO TANGLE WITNESSES

Defendant's Attorney in Heppner Murder Trial Pursues Clever Tactics—Effort Will Be Made to Impeach State's Testimony.

HEPPNER, Or., June 8.—(Special.)—The trial of Dan Doherty, for the shooting of Oscar Allen, last Winter, in a Lexington saloon, is making rapid progress. Nearly all witnesses for the defense have testified, there being but one left.

Charles Breashers was called this morning and occupied the stand for some time. He proved a good witnesa for the state. William Padberg followed. When told by the District Attorney to tell the jury what happened from the time the defendant came into the Inskeep Saloon, where the trouble took place, Padberg answered: "Well, Dan said to me, 'Billy, come on, let's have a drink.' We went to the bar and took a drink. Charley Breashers came in and Dan said, 'Come, buy a drink, you cheap guy.' Breashers bought a drink. Doherty then said, 'To show you that I am all right, I'll buy a drink for the house,' so I went back and woke Oscar, who was asleep on the billiard table, and told him to come on, that Dan was buying a drink, then we would go home."

Doherty Insisted on Treating.

"Dan wanted Oscar to buy a drink, which he did. Then there were a few words spoken that I just don't remember, and then Dan wanted Oscar to buy another drink, calling him a 'cheap geeser.' Oscar said, 'you buy; I just bought the last.' Doherty insisted. Oscar told him not to ask him again. I said, 'I'll buy a drink,' and Dan said, 'No, Billy; I'll make this cheap John buy one.'

"Oscar said, 'Don't you say that again, you ——!' Dan said again to Oscar, 'You buy a drink.' Oscar struck at Dan, and I think, hit or grazed him along the face. Then Dan began shooting."

Padberg also testified that Doherty told Allen that if he (Allen) would come up to his saloon, that he would give him "four bits" to stay out, and that Allen replied: "Let us go up."

On cross-examination by Attorney Fee, Padberg got badly tangled and didn't know for a time whether, on the night of the shooting, he had drunk a barrel of whisky or less, but finally said he thought about eight or ten glasses.

What Doherty Said After Shooting.

When asked by counsel regarding testimony in transcript taken at the Coroner's inquest, the witness said there were several things in the transcript he didn't testify to.

Jerry Phillipps was called and gave testimony along the same line as the previous witnesses. He was asked by Fee, on cross-examination, if he (Phillipps) didn't stick his head in at the door of the Doherty home and say: "Lynch him," whereupon the witness answered, "No."

Art Parker was called and testified that Doherty said that he (Doherty) had shot a man, but didn't know whether he had killed him or not; if he hadn't, he ought to have, for he was no good and a pauper. Parker testified further that Doherty sang considerably during the time that he watched him in the City Hall. Ed Berry and D. A. Porter were called and both testified to almost the same features as previous witnesses of the shooting.

It may be possible for the other side to present its case tomorrow. It is thought that counsel for the defense will try to impeach all the witnesses or the main witnesses for the prosecution, as the lawyers have been working along that line.

It is expected the case will last nearly all week.

NAME ONLY BRYAN MEN

result of the November election and so enthusiastic over Bryan that it may be necessary to charter a special car to take a crowd of boosters in addition to the regularly selected representatives.

There is but one Oregon Democrat who has a certainty of being at Denver, and this is John B. Ryan, secretary of the state committee, who will be an assistant sergeant-at-arms in the National Convention. Oregon is entitled to an assistant secretary and this position will be apportioned probably as a consolation prize at the state convention today.

Inman and Miller on Slate?

The only thing that looks like a combine is the statement that R. D. Inman, of Portland, and State Senator Milt A. Miller, of Lebanon, will be the delegates-at-large. The talk for these two was strong in the political headquarters last evening.

For Multnomah's quota of two delegates, Charles K. Henry and D. M. Watson, have the inside track. These Democrats were given the backing of the Multnomah delegation at a conference held a few weeks ago. W. N. Gatens, secretary to Governor Chamberlain, made a fight against Watson yesterday, but yielded to persuasion and let it drop.

Neither Southern nor Eastern Oregon aspirants appear to have succeeded in framing up a combination thus far. There are rumors of swapping of support, but these lack foundation. There are so many active candidates that it is difficult to organize satisfactory deals.

These Are Aspirants.

Among the aspirants for the honor of being a delegate are Judge William Galloway, of McMinnville; Judge Dunn, of Condon; Mayor Herman Wise, of Astoria; J. O. Booth, of Grants Pass; L. M. Travis, of Eugene; W. F. Mattlock, of Pendleton; William F. Butcher, of Baker City; ex-State Senator W. H. Wehrung, of Hillsboro; T. M. Baldwin, of Prineville; ex-State Senator Bernard Daly, of Lakeview; and about 20 others.

Frederick V. Holman would like to be a delegate, but he has the opposition of a number of local Democrats. James Gleason would not turn down the honor. Jefferson Myers is also willing. Alex Sweek would accept, but has eliminated himself for others. John Gratke, of Astoria, has been mentioned, but is not a candidate. There are, in short, few counties in the state which do not have someone anxious to visit Denver in July.

Four Presidential Electors.

The nomination of four Presidential Electors will not be decided without at least a slight struggle. Judge Sam White, of Baker, who has been prominently identified with the party since his advent in the state, is out strong for one of the places on the ticket. Judge White has almost a certainty. E. A. Seabrooke, a young attorney, of Portland, wants to be one of the Electors. Seabrooke was the manager of John Manning in the recent campaign. The other two positions on the ticket are not going begging. L. M. Travis, of Eugene, wants to be a delegate to Denver, but his friends are now trying to switch him and have him become an aspirant for Presidential Elector. The chances of Travis being an Elector are better than his winning out as a delegate.

Mayor Wise, of Astoria, became a new contender last night for Presidential Elector. Originally, he wanted to be a delegate and is still listed as such, but the conditions have undergone a change, and he is making such an aggressive campaign that the prospects of his being one the quartet of Electors are excellent.

Each of these four is a good speaker, which is what the convention is looking for, and each is loyal to Bryan. The apportionment as outlined would take care of each geographical district, Eastern Oregon being represented by Judge White, Southern Oregon by Travis, the Coast by Wise of Astoria, and the Valley by Seabrooke, of Portland.

Organization of the new state committee was effected last night. Alex Sweek, of Portland, was unanimously reelected to the position of chairman. John B. Ryan was reappointed secretary. While the committee has the right, in the Democratic party, to appoint the temporary chairman, this was not done last night. It is tacitly understood, however, that Senator O. P. Coshow, of Douglas, will be the temporary chairman.

Following are the delegates to the convention:

GORED TO DEATH BY BULL

Aged Grand Ronde Indian Meets With Horrible Fate.

SHERIDAN, Or., June 8.—(Special.)—Bill Shufong, an old Indian of the Grand Ronde Reservation, was gored and killed by a bull last night. Particulars can only be surmised, as Shufong lived alone. His body was discovered in a corral this morning by a passing neighbor. A rope on the bull was tied about Shufong's waist. When found, the bull was still goring the lifeless Indian, and was driven off with great difficulty. The animal was afterward shot. Shufong's skull and the bones of the chest were crushed to a pulp.

Skull Crushed in Runaway.

ELMA, Wash., June 8.—(Special.)—Cecil Curtis, 19 years old, born and brought up in this vicinity, was severely injured in a serious runaway accident Saturday night. Cecil was thrown over the dashboard and while in that position was kicked a terrific blow in the temple by the flying heels of the horse. The skull was crushed, but it is believed the boy will live.

HAWLEY RETURNS FROM CONGRESS

First District Member Expresses Gratitude for Vote People Gave Him.

PLANS FOR BUSY SUMMER

Opens Office at Salem to Gather Data for Rivers and Harbors Committee in Interest of Free Locks at Oregon City.

SALEM, Or., June 8.—(Special.)—"The immense majority by which the people of this district re-elected me to Congress is indeed gratifying," said Congressman W. C. Hawley tonight, upon his return from Washington. "I am very grateful to the people of the district for this expression of confidence in me and approval of my course in acting upon public measures. The vote is certainly a strong indorsement of Republican principles. I am glad of the opportunity to serve another term at Washington, during which I hope to render more effective service by reason of the experience and acquaintance already gained."

Opens Office at Capital.

Mr. Hawley has returned to spend the Summer in Oregon and while here will devote himself to the interests of his constituents. One of his largest tasks will be that of gathering definite information upon the subject of Willamette River traffic, the purpose of which will be to convince the Rivers and Harbors committee of the next session of Congress that the Government should aid in the opening of the locks at Oregon City to free passage of boats. While here, Mr. Hawley will have an office on the second floor of the Federal building.

Spending $1,000,000,000 Big Job.

"There is little that I could say concerning affairs at Washington that has not been already published in the newspapers,' said Mr. Hawley, in the course of a conversation. "While this session has been criticised as inactve, I think comparison will show that it has accomplished the usual amount of work. There are two classes of work to be performed by Congress—the initiative of new measures of a general nature and the examination of the manner in which previous appropriations have been expended and the making of new appropriations. Passing in detail upon appropriations aggregating a billion dolars is no small task, but this is done by the several committees of Congress. Before an item of an appropriation is approved, the need for it must be shown and the manner in which it will be expended must be prescribed.

People Settled Senatorial Issue.

"This session of Congress did not pass all the measures some people desired nor all that many members would like to have passed, but it was deemed advisable to leave some of the important questions to be settled when more complete information can be had."

When asked whether he thought the Oregon Legislature should elect Governor Chamberlain to the United States Senate, he replied:

"Wasn't that the question that was settled at the polls June 1?" He declined to discuss the subject further.

Mr. Hawley tonight accepted an invitation to deliver the Fourth of July oration at Albany.

GET JURY TO TRY BARNES

Promptness of Selection Surprises Judge Brents.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., June 8.—(Special.)—Judge Brents, of the Superior Court, this morning denied the motion for a continuance in the murder case of "Bud" Barnes, and the work of securing a jury was taken up at 9 o'clock. Forty-three talesmen were examined.

Barnes appeared in the courtroom dressed in his best clothes and showing careful preparation for his appearance before the public. His confinement in the County Jail, however, has told upon him, his face showing deep lines of care. He looks ten years older than when brought down from the Dixie Hills and arraigned. The courtroom was crowded all day, many of those present being women.

Court adjourned until 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, at which time the attorneys will state their cases. Testimony will be introduced Wednesday morning, all witnesses having received instructions to report at that time. This order was given last week in the belief that it would take at least two days to secure a jury.

The jury, which is composed of the following men, is confined in the courtroom: W. D. Upton, Conrad Diettrica, L. D. Lott, Frank J. Kent, R. F. Smithen, A. J. Sherrod, D. W. Dorrance, T. G. Eagan, J. E. Ireland, John Miners, Leo F. Ferguson, W. C. Barnett.

BREAKS NELSON'S RECORD

William Hodson, of Medford, Goes 133 Miles in 6 Hours, 54 Minutes.

ROSEBURG, Or., June 8.—(Special.)—In an attempt to beat the time of the Southern Pacific passenger trains and establish a new record between this city and Medford, William Hodson, of the latter city, made the run in a Buick runabout from Medford to Roseburg in 6 hours and 54 minutes. The distance is 133 miles and the road one of the roughest in the state. Mr. Hodson failed to beat the Southern Pacific train time, owing to so many forced stops when meeting teams, but he beat the actual running time recently made by Fernando Nelson, between this city and Medford, by two and one-half hours.

Lives Three Days With Broken Neck.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., June 8.—(Special.)—After lingering in the hospital here for three days, Charles Brady, aged 35, of Toppenish, died this morning, and it was found that his neck was broken. Friday afternoon Brady was thrown by a half-broken cayuse and dragged by one stirrup. Several Indians who witnessed the accident from a distance rode after the galloping horse and stopped him, taking the injured man to Toppenish, from where he was sent here.

Tacoma Shipping News.

TACOMA, Wash., June 8.—The Blue Funnel Liner Titan, Captain Day, will leave port tomorrow morning with a big cargo for Liverpool, via the Orient. She will stop at Seattle to take on 800 tons of flour before leaving the Sound. Flour constitutes the largest item of the Titan's cargo. From this port she is taking 124,168 sacks. She also has 1,027,757 feet of lumber laden at this port.

The Blue Funnel Liner Peleus is due in at noon tomorrow with a large cargo from Liverpool and the Orient.

The steamer Zapora, of the International Fisheries Company's fleet, will leave out on another fishing cruise tonight.

To load general freight for the West Coast, the German steamer Thebey, of the Kosmos Line, is due in port in the morning.

PLAN TO COMPLETE ROAD

Receiver's Certificates May Be Issued for the Alaska Central.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 8.—(Special.)—A conference will be held here this week between Judge Silas H. Reid, of Alaska; A. C. Foster, of Chicago; John E. Ballaine, of Seattle, and others interested in the Alaska Central Railroad, to devise a way of continuing construction work on the railroad. It is proposed to issue receiver's certificates for that purpose, and if Ballaine, who procured the appointment of a receiver by Judge Reid, will consent to a second receiver, it is understood that the work will be carried on through the sale of such certificates. The contractors are willing to go ahead on that basis. Fifty-three miles of road have been constructed and the grade is completed six miles further. There is enough steel on the ground to construct 75 miles of track, and if work proceeds, the contractors can complete the 75 miles by Fall.

ARREST BARNEY CORRIGAN

Pendleton Saloonkeeper Charged With Passing Bad Bills.

PENDLETON, Or., June 8.—(Special.)—Barney Corrigan, proprietor of the Columbia saloon, in this city was arrested Saturday noon as he alighted from the Northern Pacific train, charged with having passed worthless Bank of Georgia bills in Pasco and Walla Walla. Though the arrest occurred Saturday, the matter has been kept quiet. Corrigan escaped going to jail by putting up cash bail, after admitting he passed the bills. Sheriff Havilland is expected to arrive tomorrow morning to take him to Walla Walla for arraignment. So highly was Corrigan esteemed here that the officers could hardly believe their eyes when it was found that he was the only man on the train who fitted the description.

LAD VICTIM OF OWN GUN

Huntington Boy Staggers Into House and Drops Dead From Wound.

HUNTINGTON, Or., June 8.—Elmer Almquist, aged 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Almquist, of this city, came to his death from the accidental discharge of a 22-caliber rifle in his own hands. Elmer went out to his uncle's farm, about seven miles from town, Saturday. He took his rifle, and was gone from the house only a few minutes, when he came staggering in and fell inside the door. No one can tell just how the accident happened, as there were no witnesses. His gun was found about 30 feet from the house, under a tree. The wound was on the right side, the shot ranging upward through the lung. The Coroner's jury gave a verdict of accidental death from the discharge of a gun in his own hands.

TO FINISH NATRON SURVEY

Work Is Resumed and Will Be Concluded This Year.

EUGENE, Or., June 8.—(Special.)—C. R. Rankin and a corps of 25 engineers, in the employ of the Oregon Eastern, came in from San Francisco on Sunday and left for the summit of the Cascade Mountains to renew their work on the Natron extension. This is their third year in that section, and they will take up the work where they left it when snow forced them out of the mountains last Fall. They expect to complete the survey this season.

A Gentle Dose That Never Needs Increasing

A small dose of harsh physic—salts, castor oil or pills—soon ceases to be effective.

Then you take larger doses. Else you take the physic more frequently.

That is because the physic is irritating.

The bowel lining grows hard, just as the skin becomes callouse by constant irritation.

Calloused bowels can't perform their natural functions. The result is chronic constipation—the need of constant help.

Such physic belongs to an ancient era. Modern physicians have learned its effects and displaced it.

They now help the bowels gently and naturally. They use vegetables instead of minerals.

Cascarets are purely vegetable.

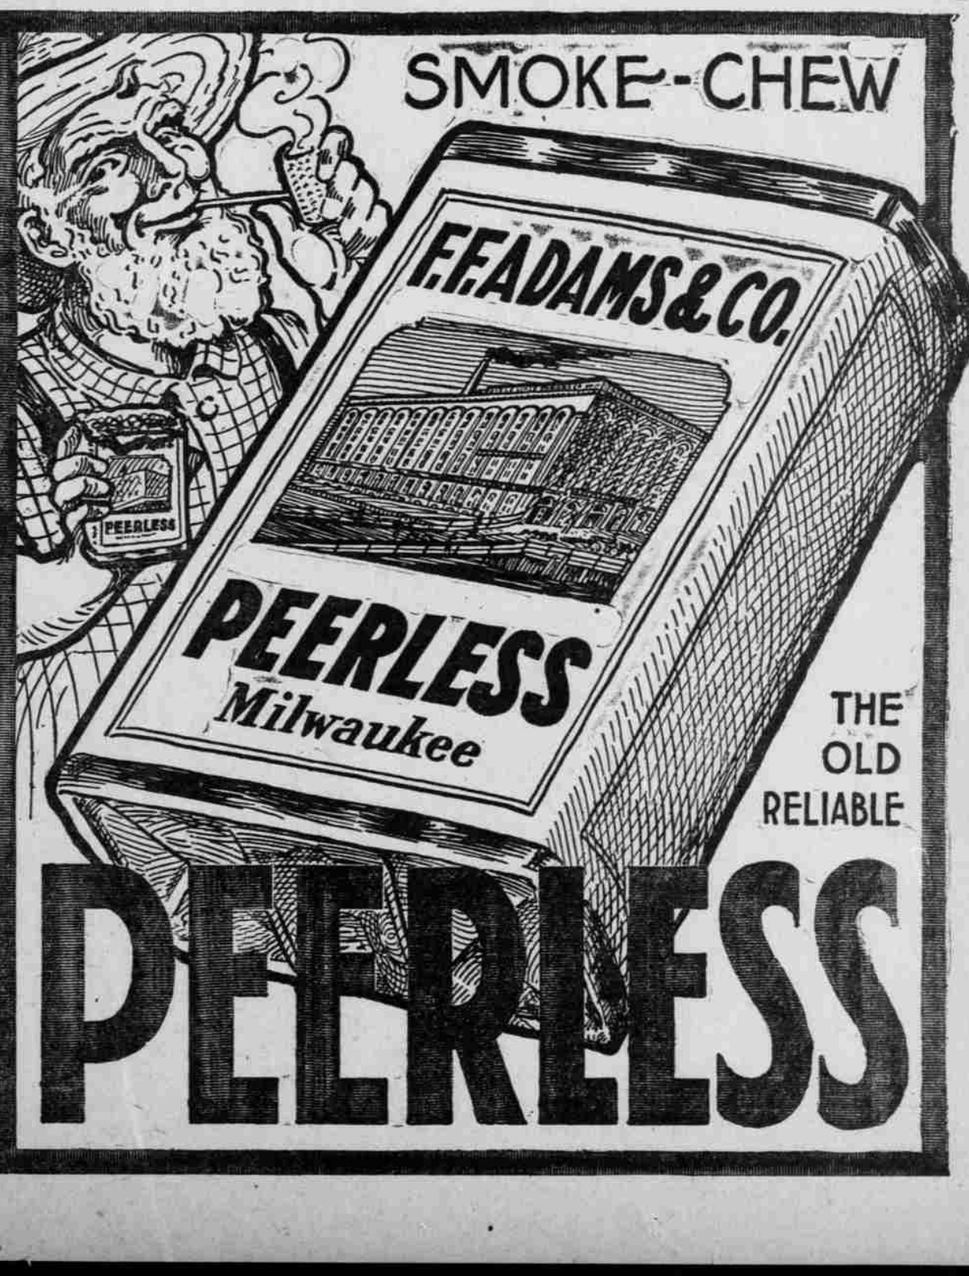
They act just as laxative foods, just as exercise acts on the bowels.

They don't harden the bowels—don't inflame the stomach—because they don't irritate.

One small, sweet dose is always sufficient, unless the bowels are already calloused.

Their use never causes pain.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The box is marked like this:

Cascarets "THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP"


The vest-pocket box is 10 cents. The month-treatment box 50 cents. 12,000,000 boxes sold annually. 870
