DEMOGRATS FOR WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Dregon Sends Eight Pledged Delegates to National Convention.

MULTNOMAH MEN VICTORS

Three Out of Eight Delegates Go to County Which Went for Chamberlain and Statement No. 1.

(Continued From First Page.) This would give Multhomah a cinch on two of the eight delegates and the delegation would have a volce in the election of the other six.

Oliver Objects to Report.

Turner Oliver, of Union, was the first outside delegate to object to the report. He insisted that if Multnomah County was to be set aside as one little state by liself, the other sections of the state should be denominated similarly and given their apportionment of the delegates to be elected.

D, W. Sears, of Polk, spoke pointedly on the attempt of Multnomah County to "gag" the convention in the interest of dictating the membership of the dele-gation. He deplored this apparent spirit of unfairness and, demanded that the election of all of the delegates be left to the convention as a whole, Lark Bilyeu, of Lane, contended that Judge Bennett Would Amend.

Judge A S. Bennett, of Wasco, confoused that he was proud of Multnomah County for what it had done for Governor Chamberiain and for Statement No. 1. Congressional Districts were elected but declared that other counties in the by acciamation as follows: First Disstate had done just as much proportionately. Judge Bennett proposed a motion amending the committee report and providing that the convention immediately proceed to the election of four delegatesat-large and then elect two delegates from each of the two Congressional dis-

Butcher took the floor, and in the most eloquent address delivered before the convention withdrew from the contest in the interest of harmony and an undivided party. Without boasting, he reviewed his active career in the interest of the Democratic party of the state and told of having repeatedly been made the Democratic target for the Re-publicans of the Second District. Referring to Bryan, the speaker spoke feelingly and cloquently of the man he so ardently admired and whom he con-sidered his warm personal friend. At the close of his remarks Colonel Butcher was warmly congratulated by nu-

It is provided that the improvement shall be Warren's bitulithic waterproof pavement, except that portion between the double tracks of the Portland Rall-way, Light & Power Company, where stone blocks will be required. This atome blocks will be required. This improvement will provide a hard-sur-face pavement between East Oak street and Alberta street, that portion south of Holladay avenue having already been mysed. n paved.

Union avenue north of Hancock to Alberta has become a business street. A large number of frame business buildings have been erected and others are being built. Union avenue carries a great travel from the district north and northeast. The city will maintain tills improvement in good repair for a period of ten years from the time the pavement is completed, so that, although more expensive than an ordi-nary improvement, it is said it will cost less in the end. Killingsworth avenue is being paved with the same material for a distance of over a mile west from Union avenue at a cost of $75,000, which, with the Union avenue mprovement, will represent an expendlture of $242,552.

tricts. Chairman Garland, of the committee, who had originally moved the adoption of the report, yielded to Judge Bennett and accepted the latter's amendment

The report as amended was adopted, after C. K. Henry, one of the delegates indorsed by the Multnomah County delegation, had announced that he had no personal interest in the controversy and was perfectly willing to leave the selection of the delegates to the con vention.

Delegates-at-Large Chosen.

The convention then proceeded to the election of four delegates-at-large, the following being named: State Senator M. A. Miller, of Linn; R. D. Inman., of Multnomah; J. O. Booth, of Josephine; and W. F. Matlock, of Pendleton. The following alternates were elected by acelamation: Dr. H. L. Henderson, of Clatsop; John Manning, of Multnomah; James H. Beeman, of Jackson; and J. D. Slater, of Union.

E. S. J. McAllister renewed the fight on the part of the Multnomah delegation to have the order of business as originally reported by the committee followed out. The truth of the matter was that the delegation from this county had pledged itself to three men for election as delegates to the Denver convention. R. D. Inman had been elected as delegate-atlarge, but it was up to the delegation to make good on its promises to D. M. Watson and C. K. Henry, and it was feared that the chances of landing both would be jeopardized seriously should the convention resolve to elect two each from the two Congressional districts. McAllister moved that the convention reconsider its former action by which the original report had been amended and proceed to the election of four other delegates-at-large, without regard to Congressional districts.

Jeffrey's Motion Voted Down.

J. A. Jeffrey, of Multnomah, who had a seat in the convention under a proxy from Jackson County, sought to have the motion for reconsideration laid on the table. This was voted down when Chairman Coshow explained that the adoption of such a motion would terminate the work of the convention in an uncompleted state. McAllister then withdrew his motion for a reconsidera-'tion and the convention proceeded to the election of the other four delegates by Congressional districts.

Dan J. Fry, of Marion, and L. M. Travis, of Lane, were elected as the two delegates from the First Congressional District, and then the members of the Multnomah delegation got busy. Watson and Henry were both placed in nomination and numerous seconding speeches were offered in their behalf. The longer the speechmaking continued the more apparent it became that the Watson-Henry combination was too strong to be overcome by Colonel W. F. Butcher, of Baker, who was the first man nominated from the Second District.

being no objection, the order of business was departed from long enough to cause the platform to be read. The declaration of principles was adopted unanimously and without debate. Nominations for four delegates-at-large

PLATFORM ADOPTED BY OREGON DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

The following platform was unanimously adopted by the Oregon Democrats at their state convention in this city yesterday:

"Resolved, by the Democratic party of Oregon, That it congratulates the people of Oregon on its successful and intelligent operation of the initialive and referendum, by and through which they have secured a direct primary law, and the election of United States Senator by direct core of the people.

"Resolved. That the Democratic purty pledges itself to reform the existing abuses and extravagances in the postal service, and that hereafter the United States shall pay no more for the transportation of mails than express companies pay for the transportation of express matter of similar weight and character; and that no payment as annual rental for a car used in the postal service shall be made.

"And we denounce the present payment of $4400 per year for annual cent, as a graft pure and simple, and that the same money might be more justipused to advance the pay of the underpaid and overworked letter-carviers.

"Resolved. That we urge that Congress enact an amendment to the inter-state commerce act, whereby the Interstate Commerce Commission may, at its discretion, upon proper complaint, suspend tariffs and investigate advances in freight rates as to their reasonablences before becoming effective.

"Resolved, That we recommend the method of guaranteeing bank deposits. both National and state, as provided in the Oklahoma Constitution, and as advocated by Hon. William Jennings Bryan, and we favor postal savings banks.

"Resolved, That we heartly indorse the administration of Governor George E. Chamberlain in the interests of the whole people, and we recommit our selves to the established law of electing United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

"Resolved. That the Democracy of Oregon is a unit in favor of that eminent statesman, William Jennings Bryan, for President of the United States, and that the whole people of the state look with favor upon his candidacy. We piedge our delegation in the National Convention about to assemble in the city of Denver, to vote for him so long us he is a candidate."
