HITCHCOCK TAKES WITNESS STAND

Actor Flatly Denies Serious Charge Made by Young Girls.

TELLS STRAIGHT STORY

Says Children Went Auto Riding With Him and Visited His Home With the Consent of

Their Parents.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Taking the witness-stand today in his own defense, Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, flatly denied the charges made against him that he had been improper in his conduct with two young girls, Helen von liagen and Elsie Voecks. Hitchcock appeared as a witness shortly after the closing of the state's case in the trial of the actor today. It is expected that the case will go to the Jury tomorrow. Hitchcock made an excellent witness, arguing the questions put to him clearly and unhesitatingly. He stated that he first met the Von Hagen girl in 1904 and that long afterward she met him at the Garden Theater and he asked her to ride with him in his automobile. The actor said he told he asked her to ride with him in his automobile. The actor said he told her to ask her mother if she might go. She returned with Elsle Voccks, saying she had obtained consent to make the trip.

Mothers Not Deceived.

Hitchcock said that after a visit to his house in the afternoon, he started to put the girls on the train for New York. He relievated that their mothers knew where they were. The last train having gone, the girls remained at his home that night. Afterward, he met them and told them he had heard that they had made remarks reflecting upon his character. The girls, he declared, denied making any disparaging re-

Flora Zabele, fittoncock's wife, testined briefly, corroborating what her husband told her of his meeting with the young girls and of the automobile ride.

Of the witnesses called today, the most important was Elsie Voecks, aged 14, one of the defendant's alleged vic-tims. She told of visits made in com-pany with Helen Von Hagen, who tes-tified yesterday to visiting Hitchcock's home at Great Neck, L. L. and a house on Forty-first street, where they met the actor on several occasions. In some respects her testimony corroborated that given by Miss Von Hagen, but on cross-examination she became badly confused several times.

Never Wronged Her.

In reply to a direct question by Hitchcock's counsel whether Hitchcock ever wronged her, she replied that he never did. She said also that Helen Von Hagen never told her of anything wrong having taken place when she had first visited the Forthy-First-street house. She contradicted the testimony of Miss Von Hagen with reference to an alleged attempt of Hitchcock te enter their room one night cock to enter their room one night when they were at Great Neck. She said she never told anyone, not even the grand fury, that Hitchcock had attempted to enter their room.

Tells of Auto Ride.

Miss Voccks told of a ride to Great Neck, L. I., in Mr. Hitchcock's automo-bile with Hitchcock and Miss Von Hagen, as described by the latter yesterday. They had to walk back to New York, the witness said, and a few days later they went to Brooklyn to visit the actor at the Montauk Theater, where he was playing. Miss Voccks then passed to the description of a meeting at Mr. Hitch-cock's room in Manhattan, on which occasion Miss Von Hagen had testified that k attempted to assault Miss This evidence was corroborated by the witness today, with little devia-tion in the story as told yesterday by Miss_Von Hagen.

Chanler May Testify.

In the course of her examination yes-terday, Miss von Hagen said she met a Mr. William Chanler in Hitohcock's Great Neck residence, on a certain Sunday, To-day counsel for William Astor Chanler had a conference with Hitchcock's attorneys, at which the testimony was dis-cussed, and as a result it is expected that Mr. Chanler, will be called by the defense to contradict the girl's testimony.

Mr. McHarg had not been informed by the political managers of the impending settlement and during his argument before the committee declared that there would be no compromise whatever, stating that he had visited the South "at the request of the next President of the United States," his words plainly referring to the Secretary of War.

The Taft men on the committee at one attempted to smooth it over, but Sena-tor Scott, of West Virginia, refused to be reconciled and declared that he believed that Mr. M'Harg had spoken ex-actly as he thought, and that he was attempting to browbeat the committee.

This closed the incident entirely, except when Mr. M'Harg called upon the Taft managers and expressed his opinior of their conduct in letting him go before the committee to make an argument like that without being possessed of full and accurate information of what the Taft people purposed to do.

The division on the Louisiana compro-mise was the first test of atrength that has been made since the committee met. and this was not decisive, because some of the Tait men voted for the settle-ment. The vote was taken at the conclusion of the hearing of the contest from Mississippi. The Alabama men called for a division and 30 members of the committee arose to their feet in favor of seating the Taft delegation. The call for the opposition was made and no one rose, and the Taft men were then assured they had 30 votes in the committee.

Late in the afternoon, when Chair, rank to Captain 202,

Mr. Lyons presided during the hearing of the Mississippi contests and acquitted himself in a most creditable manner. nan New was compelled by business

The New York candidates, tentative and otherwise, are numerous. George B. Cortelyou, Secretary of the Treasury, is also busy, as is J. Sloat Fassett. Argument for Cortelyou.

There was some talk that the placing of Mr. Cortelyou upon the ticket would result in the criticism that two members of the present cabinet would be running for ine chief offices of the country, provided that Mr. Taft is nommated for the Presidency. To this complaint the friends of Mr. Cortelyou replied that, while the Secretary might be very popular with the administration, he also possessed great strength of his own with the commercial interests of the country, which would make him an available and formidable candidate. There was a strong general him an available and formidable candidate. There was a strong general feeling, however, that an Eastern man should be given the second place on the ticket. This sentiment was used to the limit by friends of the Eastern candidates for the purpose of eliminating Western possibilities.

In addition, it was pointed out that the present situation in Iowa is unsettled, because of the recent struggle between the Allison and Cummins factions and that it would be unwise for the National party to take any step.

ALLIES PREPARING APPEAL

Will Say Favorite Son States Ignored-Cannon Builds Platform.

CHICAGO, June 9 .- The arrival of peaker Cannon and Senator Dick, or Ohio, in the city revived the activity about the headquarters of the allies. At least three conferences were held during the afternoon and evening by the leaders of the anti-Taft forces, the subject of discussion being the statement which the allies are preparing to issue in a few days. This statement, it is said, will appeal to the delegates of the convention on the grounds that "the favorite son" states—New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois—are being ignored by the National commit-tee for the sake of getting delegates from Southern states whose electoral votes are practically nil, so far as the Republican party is concerned. Defi-nite information regarding this state-ment was refused.

The tariff plank in the platform re ceived attention from Mr. Cannon. He and Senator A. J. Hopkins, of Illinois, who is expected to be chairman of the resolutions committee of the conven-tion, conferred at length upon it and agreed upon a tentative draft of the measure. Mr. Hopkins will take this to Washington with him when he goes to the capital to attend sessions of the monetary commission. Mr. Cannon is also reported to have indorsed other tentative sections of the platform, the nature of which was not announced.

WANT TO GO TO CHICAGO

Determined to Adjourn Thursday and Get Away to Convention. Well - Managed Obstructions Will Defeat Pet Measure.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 9.-Precarious in the extreme is the condition of the bills framed to carry out Governor Hughes' renewed recommendation for the abolition of the present legal protection of public gambling at race-tracks. Governor Hughes and the friends of the bill, confidently expect that Senator Foelker, of Brooklyn, whose vote is apparently indispensable to the passage of the bills and who has been absent because of illness, will come to Albany tomorrow in time to vote for the bills should they reach that stage of progress.

The point at which the measures stand tonight, however, is one that lies in the shortness of the time remaining before the hour of 2 P. M. on Thursday, when the leaders of both Thursday, when the leaders of both houses intend to adjourn the extraor-dinary session without delay, in order to start for Chicago to attend the Re-publican convention. So short is the time that well-managed obstructions in either house or both might well suf-fice to prevent the bills coming to a vote at all before adjournment. It became plain today that the oppo-

It became pinin today that the oppo-sition was depending largely on the short-ness of the remaining time to talk the bills to death. The Senate committee on judiciary and codes, to which the bills were referred, acted favorably on both. The assembly committee on codes this evening voted 8 to 1 to report them fa-vorably. The negative vote was that of Curviller, of New York, Democrat, who proposed an amendment providing for he so-called mutual system of betting on races. The bills were reported in the assembly tonight. They will be reported in the Senate tomorrow.

TAKES DARE; GIVES UP LIFE Lad of 14 Drowns Before Crowd of Companions in Lake Washington.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 9.—(Special.)

—A dare cost Peter Nelson, 14 years old, his life today. Young Nelson, with other oys, was swimming in Lake Washington near the old pumping station in the southern part of the city. Several of his companions who were a short distance out in the lake on a catamaran, dared him to swim to them. The Nelson boy was a good swimmer and started from the shore. The distance was hardly more than 106 feet. Half way out a cramp seized him and he sank. As he rose he cried out for help, but the youngsters on the catamaran laughed. Young Nelson was fond of jokes and his companions thought that he was merely en-deavoring to fool them. He sank again, however, and a third time, before the Committeeman H. C. McCoy, the member from the Philippine Islands, appeared today. This deprived Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, of his proxy.
