BLODGETT TRIAL AGAIN POSTPONED

Another Respite for Man Who Murdered Alice Minthorn Two Years Ago.

RUSH OF WORK IN COURTS

Walton Trial Also May Go Over Until Fall Term—Murder Case of Lem Woon Will Not Be Reached Before Friday.

George Blodgett will not be tried until some time next Fall.

The case of George Blodgett, charged with the murder of Alice Minthorn, a variety actress, with whom he was living in a North End lodging-house, over two years ago, was continued yesterday by Judge Gantenbein, of the Circuit Court. This action was taken in view of the congestion of cases, which will be heard before the adjournment of the July term. The motion for a continuance of the case was made by Deputy District Attorney Adams.

Lem Woon to Be Tried Friday.

The case of Lem Woon, the alleged Chinese highlander, cannot be reached before Friday, because of the length of time consumed by damage suits. Lem's trial was to have commenced in the Circuit Court yesterday morning. He is charged with murder in the first degree, the victim being Lee Dai Ho. The crime was committed March 7, last. The trial of Yee Gueng, charged with the same offense, is set for next Monday.

Asked to Continue Work

Gantenbein Requested to Remain Judge of Juvenile Court. Now that the general election is past the question is raised as to who shall be judge of the Juvenile Court. When Judge Frazer died, Judge Gantenbein consented, at the earnest solicitation of his colleagues, to assume the responsibility of the office until the next election. The law provides that the judge shall select one of their number to fill this place. Strong influence is being brought to bear to have Judge Gantenbein continue his work in this department.

Workman Sues for $21,000

W. H. Enrick Seeks Damages From Portland Lumber Company. The suit of W. H. Enrick against the Portland Lumber Company went to trial before Judge Cleland in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon. Enrick demands $21,000 for the loss of a limb September 17, 1907. He was employed by the company as a millwright. While adjusting a belt his foot slipped and he went feet foremost into an opening in which a pulley was being projected. Bolt caught his overall, he says, so that his leg was permanently injured. Enrick says the pulley was not properly braced.

Big Commission on Sale

Court Awards Frank J. Raley $22,900 for Irvington Deal. Frank J. Raley will receive 10 per cent commission, or $22,900, on a $229,000 sale of real estate as a result of the decision of Judge Gantenbein.

Number Arraigned for Larceny.

Mike McMurray and John Lund were arraigned and allowed one day in which to prepare for trial. They are charged with larceny of a watch and a ring. They were arraigned on a charge of stealing 30 pearl-handled knives from the store of J. A. White, 324 Morrison street, on April 30. They were allowed one day to plead.

Excursion Postponed.

Word comes from Hood River that the unusually warm weather which has prevailed this week has precipitated a most unusual condition in the strawberry industry. The berries have ripened so rapidly that it has been necessary to summon almost every man, woman and child in the community to harvest and pack the crop to keep from losing it, so that they cannot possibly do justice to the entertainment of visitors. The special train excursion advertised for next Saturday has therefore been indefinitely postponed.

United Railways Must Pay

Judgment of $22,703 for Oregon Traction Stockholders. L. Y. Keady and the 34 other stockholders of the Oregon Traction Company, who sold their stock to the United Railways Company, will receive $22,703.85, as the result of a decision rendered in the Circuit Court yesterday. The jury went out at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and did not return with the verdict until late in the afternoon. The verdict stipulates that the plaintiffs shall receive interest on $33,207 at 6 per cent a year from January 21, 1905. Keady individually is to receive $2933.33, but no interest. Two suits were tried as one, both involving the same question.

Twenty-five years' experience in curing diseases of men have given me a knowledge of this line of ailments that enables me to make direct and definite statements, and it furnishes me with incontrovertible proof that my statements are correct.

I say that you can be cured. I stand ready to back up this statement with positive proof. I ask you to call at my office and talk with me about it. Examination and consultation will cost you nothing, and I will explain to you my methods of curing. The methods I will tell you about are unlike those employed by any other doctor. They are, in their chief essentials, methods of my own devising. They are founded upon a knowledge of the truth in regard to the diseases of men. That's why they cure, and why they are the only methods that can soundly and thoroughly cure.

Anna Harpole Sues for Divorce and Alimony From Emory Harpole.

Charging her husband with having yielded to fits of rage, and with having knocked her down with his fist many times, Anna Harpole brought a divorce suit in the Circuit Court yesterday against Emory Harpole. They were married at Salem, April 25, 1899, but did not live together since November, 1906. It is asserted. They have one child, Beryl, who is now in St. Mary's Academy at Beaverton. Harpole is a farmer in Gilliam County, besides about $4000 worth of livestock and farm machinery. She asks $1000 alimony, and $30 a month for the maintenance of the child.

Belle King charges in a suit for divorce against Ben F. King, filed in the Circuit Court, that he deserted her face with a blow with his fist a year ago. She says she now threatens to kill her, and that her life has become a burden. They were married October 4, 1904, but Mr. King has not supported her.
