NEW WAREHOUSE BEGUN

EXCAVATION FOR CRANE COMPANY BUILDING STARTED.

Steel, Brick and Concrete Structure to Be Put Up on Irving Street, Near Thirteenth.

Excavation starts today on the site on Irving street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth, which was secured some time ago by the Crane Company for its new warehouse. The contract was awarded yesterday to C. J. Cook & Co., by the architect, W. C. Knighton, who is completing the plans for the structure and who will have charge of the work until the building is finished. The ground is 100x200, and on one-half of this a six-story structure is to be erected and on the rest a two-story building. There is to be a full basement under the entire building, which is to be of steel beams, cast-iron columns and brick walls. The floors are to be of reinforced concrete, thus making the big warehouse a strictly Class A fireproof building. Plans will not be ready for about three weeks for the letting of the general contract, or until the excavation is finished. The Crane Company now occupies the building at 34-34 Second street, and as the goods handled by the concern consist of plumbers' and steam-fitters' supplies and other heavy articles, it is necessary to have a warehouse of unusual strength. This important building will make another notable addition to the warehouse district, which is rapidly assuming proportions that will shortly make it the center of the wholesale business of the city. The cost of the building will not be announced until the plans are finally passed upon. The better sites in the southern end of the city are also attracting much attention, and a sale consummated by D. B. Mackie yesterday carries out predictions that the district is rapidly assuming a place in the business sections of the city, or rather that the congested condition further north is pushing business southward. Mr. Mackie sold for Emanuel May the lot, 50x100, at the northeast corner of First and Main streets, to Giuseppe Corgeho for $63,000. The former owner held the property for some months and is said to have purchased it for about $50,000.

M'ALLEN FOR CELEBRATION

DOES NOT APPROVE OF IDEA OF QUIET FOURTH.

Advocates Calling of Committee of Citizens to Canvass for Funds. Position of Mayor.

"Are we to have a Fourth of July celebration?" fairly yelled Dan McAllen when asked what arrangements are being made for observing the Nation's birthday. "Why, man, any American who suggests anything else is not worthy the name. Of course we shall have a celebration. Firecrackers, flags, speeches, Declaration of Independence, brass bands playing the good old patriotic tunes, kids out in red, white and blue ribbons, zizz-boom fireworks at night, 'My Country, 'Tis of Thee,' and hurrah for Yankee Doodle, you know." Mr. McAllen went on to explain that all that is necessary is for the Mayor to call a meeting of citizens to meet in the Council Chamber, as was done last year, organize committees, and in a day or two the thing's done. He disapproves the idea of allowing the day to pass without some celebration; it may be that the day's programme cannot be as elaborate as that of last year, but he said that when Mayor Lane gives the word the patriotic people will at once and with enthusiasm carry out whatever plans are agreed upon. The general committee of last year had the following officers: General O. Summers, president; H. H. Newhall, vice-president; A. R. Steinbach, treasurer; Lee M. Clark, secretary, and F. D. Nicklin, assistant secretary. The sub-committees were on editing, invitation, advertising and printing, parade, music, literary, amusements and outdoor sports, decoration, transportation, automobiles, fireworks and reception. When Mayor Lane was asked if he intended to take the initiative in having a celebration this year, he replied that to the best of his recollection a committee of citizens called upon him last year and discussed plans, and invited him to make the opening address at the literary exercises. He said if a celebration is to be given on the coming Fourth, no doubt Mr. Allen or some other merchant would start the movement by issuing a call for a meeting of those who would be willing to undertake the work of organization. He intimated that it is hardly a part of his official duty to make municipal matters of the affair, as action by the Council would be necessary to bring it up to him in his official capacity.

Accuses Building Inspector.
Charges preferred against the building inspector, by D. L. Williams, an architect, were in part heard yesterday afternoon by the fire committee of the executive board, and will be concluded at a special meeting to be held later. Mr. Williams alleges discrimination, and says the inspector makes arbitrary rulings on the building ordinance, and permits violations of the law.

PARASOLS ON SALE.

$1.50 plain linen finish parasols, 75c; $1.65 and $1.75 parasols, 97c; $2.50 parasols, $1.47. Entire stock on sale at like reductions. Supply your needs today and save money. McAllen & McDonnell, the good goods store, Third and Morrison.

Hood River Strawberry Festival and Excursion Postponed.

Word comes from Hood River that the unusually warm weather which has prevailed this week has precipitated a most unusual condition in the strawberry industry. The berries have ripened so rapidly that it has been necessary to summon almost every man, woman and child in the community to harvest and pack the crop to keep from losing it, so that they cannot possibly do justice to the entertainment of visitors. The special train excursion advertised for next Saturday has therefore been indefinitely postponed.
