

ALL WILL FIGHT FRAUD CHARGES

Alleged Umatilla Conspirators Want No Compromise, Raley Declares.

BONDS FURNISHED BY ALL

Intimation That They Might Be Freed With Fines Upon Pleading Guilty Is Not Favorably Received.

PENDLETON, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Eight of other Umatilla county men indicted for conspiracy to defraud the Government out of land, appeared before John Halley, Jr., United States Commissioner today and gave bonds to appear before the Federal Court on the first day of the next term.

For each indictment a bond of $2000 was set by Commissioner Halley, and those who have more than one indictment standing against them were required to give that amount for each case.

Those who gave bonds today and the number of indictments standing against each of them were as follows: Colonel J. H. Raley, six; William Rahe, two; William Shuster, two; John Vert, one; C. W. Mathews, one; John M. Wynne, one; John W. Crow, one; and S. N. Olmstead, one.

Two bonds were given to insure the appearance of the various defendants at the dates which will later be set for their arraignment.

Colonel J. H. Raley stated that he would plead guilty to the indictments against him, and that he believed all the other Umatilla County men would do likewise.

Asked if the report was true that the Umatilla County men had been told they would be allowed to go free with fines if they would plead guilty, Colonel Raley stated that such a thing had been intimated to them, but that they had chosen to disregard that offer. He said that even if he knew he would be given but a slight fine he would prefer to fight the case in the hope of a permanent sentence. Colonel Raley has been confined to his home for six weeks by illness and appeared on the streets for the first time a few hours after the indictments against him were published.

INJUNCTION STOPS WORK

Hawley Paper Company Accused of Encroaching on Others' Rights.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Work on the new paper mill for the Hawley Pulp & Paper Company has been brought to a partial stop today by a suit that was filed here today against the concern by the Crown-Columbia Pulp & Paper Company to restrain the Hawley interests from proceeding with the construction of their main machine building. It is stated in the complaint that the Crown-Columbia company holds a lease possession of property below the falls, just north of the basin, where the East Side pulp mill is located, and that a condition of the lease is that property west, north and south of the mill for certain distances shall be unobstructed. The mill is being prepared to erect, it is charged, concrete walls and permanent buildings 40 feet north and 20 feet west of the mill, and the concrete walls would destroy the use of the property. Judge McBride today granted a temporary injunction to the Crown-Columbia company, and the matter will be argued on a motion to make the injunction permanent.

GRADUATE AT M'MINNVILLE

Class of 21 Completes High School Course—Teachers Employed.

M'MINNVILLE, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Graduating exercises of the McMinnville High School were held at the Opera-house this evening. Twenty students completed the high school course and an interesting programme was rendered in honor of their advent into an era of business or college environment. The past school year has been very successful and the district is confronted with the necessity of providing another school building and more permanent buildings 40 feet north and 20 feet west of the mill, and the concrete walls would destroy the use of the property. Judge McBride today granted a temporary injunction to the Crown-Columbia company, and the matter will be argued on a motion to make the injunction permanent.

MRS. DIANA CURRIN DEAD

Aged Oregon Pioneer Passes Away at Currinville.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Diana Currin, one of the most prominent pioneers of Eastern Clackamas County, died Wednesday night at her home in Currinville. She was found dead in bed yesterday morning, having passed away during the night. Death was due to heart disease. Mrs. Currin was past 80 years of age, and came to Oregon in the early 40s. Her maiden name was Young, and her husband died in November, 1874. Three children survive her: George J. Currin, of Hopewell, Or.; Robert Y. Currin, of Payette, Idaho, and Mrs. Martha Galloway, of Brownsville, Or. The funeral will be held at Currinville tomorrow.

FORTY WILL GET DIPLOMAS

at Indianola, Iowa. After completing the course there Dr. Homan entered the ministry, serving for four years as a member of the Des Moines Conference. At the end of that period he removed to Evanston, Ill., where he took a three-year theological course in Garrett Biblical Institute. He graduated in 1892 and returned to the Des Moines Conference, serving with that body for three years. In 1896 he was elected vice-president of Simpson College, at Indianola, Iowa, from which office he resigned to accept the presidency of the Salem University. Dr. Homan was married in 1890 to Miss Kate W. Wilson, of Corning, Iowa. They have four children.

CRACKERS WRECK WINDOW

Lighted Match Starts Explosion in Seattle Drugstore.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 12.—(Special.)—While the proprietor of the Beacon Hill Pharmacy was in the rear room of his store this afternoon, somebody threw a lighted match or a cigarette stub into his show window, containing a quantity of fireworks, which had been placed on exhibition in anticipation of the Fourth. Instantly there was an explosion, followed by the rattle of crackers. The plate-glass window was blown out and the fragments were hurled across the street. The fireworks set fire to the store and for a few minutes it blazed brightly. It was extinguished by turning the contents of a big soda water tank upon it. The noise of the exploding fireworks brought a crowd of several hundred persons from blocks around.

SAWMILL WILL RESUME

Corvallis Enterprise Purchased by Sunset Company, of Eugene.

CORVALLIS, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—The Corvallis sawmill passed into the hands of new owners this morning. In a sale about a year ago the property brought $75,000, including a small body of timber land, but the figure in the present transaction has not been made public. The purchaser is the Sunset Lumber Company, of Eugene. The corporation owns timber land on the Mohawk and also a large tract in the hills west of Monroe, which will be reached by the Corvallis and Alsea River Railroad, now serving the region. The mill, which has been idle most of the time during the past eight months, will resume operations at once. It gives employment to 50 men.

Vancouver Barracks Notes.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., June 12.—(Special.)—Major Rudolph G. Ebert, Medical Corps, now in Washington, having completed his examination for promotion, will proceed to Vancouver Barracks and report for duty as Chief Surgeon.

Carnegie Library for Chehalis.

CHEHALIS, Wash., June 12.—(Special.)—Chehalis is proud of securing a $10,000 Carnegie library. The City Council has met all conditions imposed, having set aside park site property in the rear of the St. Helens Hotel, and passed a resolution guaranteeing the $1000 a year for maintenance. The papers have gone to Mr. Carnegie's secretary and it is expected that the matter will be arranged within the next few months.

Begin Good Roads Movement.

CHEHALIS, Wash., June 12.—(Special.)—As a preliminary to the state road campaign that is being planned for a system of state roads, connecting Eastern and Western Washington, it is expected that a public meeting will be held at an early date to meet in Chehalis. It is expected that at this meeting delegates will be in attendance from the commercial bodies and good roads organizations from all the towns of Southwestern Washington.

Chehalis Will Celebrate.

CHEHALIS, Wash., June 12.—(Special.)—Chehalis will hold a Fourth of July celebration, an active committee having been organized in charge, and a liberal subscription having been raised for the purpose. One of the principal attractions is expected to be the ball games on the 4th and 5th of July, between the Chehalis club and the Brainerd Cubs of Portland.

BUILD ROAD SOON

Forest Grove Makes Promises to Oregon Electric.

WILL GIVE RIGHT OF WAY

Property-Owners Ready to Lend Assistance for Extension of Line From Hillsboro — Company Asks for Terminal, Too.

FOREST GROVE, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Dirt will be flying on Oregon Electric Railway right of way between Hillsboro and Forest Grove within 30 days, providing the citizens of this city and along the proposed route will furnish the required 60-foot strip of land between the two cities. G. W. Talbot, general manager of the Oregon Electric Company, with M. S. Turner, general manager of Barstow & Co., contractors; C. J. Miller, chief engineer, and G. M. McDowell, right of way agent, were in the city this morning and made the proposition to extend the line to this city at once. The proposition was made to the railroad committee from the local Board of Trade at the Forest Grove National Bank and was accepted.

What the Company Asks.

Mr. Talbot outlined his requirements, which are practically as follows: Forest Grove and Cornelius to furnish the right of way and terminal grounds in this city within 30 days. The route is almost a straight line from Hillsboro and will enter the city limit 160 feet north of the Base Line and thence south across a corner of the college campus to a point near the council chamber. The company requires a franchise from the city and extending to the western limits affording an outlet for the general net work of lines announced in The Oregonian some time ago.

If the right of way can be had at once the company will transfer its tracks to the Forest Grove section and Mr. Talbot promises that cars will be running by the time rain falls. He stated that his company hoped to have the section east of Hillsboro completed in time to haul passengers to the State Fair, and from the way work was progressing the line would be finished in time to haul iron to make the extension is on the ground at Hillsboro, and before the construction crews are transferred to other parts of the state the company hopes to continue to Forest Grove.

The prospects here look particularly bright for an early completion of the line to this city, as several property owners, through whose land the route will pass, were present and promised any assistance needed. Other property holders were seen and without exception they all promised support. The committee held another meeting tonight and formulated plans and ways and means, and a delegation will be put in the field at once to secure the right of way.

SHOCKS FELT FOR MILES

EARTH TREMBLES IN CORNUCOPIA MOUNTAINS.

Dishes Rattle on Shelves and Men in Mines Refuse to Return to Their Work in the Shafts.

BAKER CITY, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Two distinct shocks, presumably caused by an earthquake or some upheaval of the earth, were felt about 8:50 o'clock last night in the northeastern part of Baker County, throughout the Cornucopia Mountain Range. The second shock followed the first at an interval of about 25 minutes and each was plainly felt for miles. In Cornucopia, dishes rattled on the shelves, foundations were shaken and miners at work on night shifts came from the mines and refused to return, so plainly were the vibrations felt. People living in that section arose from slumber and waited for what might follow. At Halfway, the station between Baker City and Cornucopia, the shock was noticed, and it is said the sky was lighted up with a purple tint. People of Richmond say the same was true there. Mineowners and others, to determine whether a magazine containing explosives was blown up, located all of the magazines of any size in the Cornucopia country and found them all intact. Reports from Willowa County late today stated that the same shocks were experienced there, and today a heavy smoke has been hanging over the mountain range. At Irondyke mine, near Homestead, on the Oregon-Idaho line, people claim to have felt the same shocks. While there is more or less mystery surrounding the matter, the shock is attributed to an earthquake or some upheaval of the earth.

RARE ROSES ON DISPLAY

OREGON CITY'S ANNUAL SHOW EXCITES ADMIRATION.

Luscious Red Berries Feature of Clackamas Exhibit—Those Who Won Rose Prizes.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Several hundred people gazed upon thousands of beautiful roses of almost every conceivable variety and color today, when the second annual rose show of the Clackamas County Rose and Carnation Society was opened in Willamette Hall. The stately Caroline Testout and graceful Maman Cochet were by far the finest ever exhibited here and excited the admiration of even the critical judges, W. S. Sisson and Mrs. Milton Smith, of Portland. Ten crates of prime strawberries were displayed in front of the exhibit by the Canby growers, the prizewinners being A. R. Cummings and H. Douglas. The sweepstakes prize was taken by C. P. Andrews for a crate of Clark, and A. J. Lewis won second place with a crate of the high-colored New Oregon berries. Charles F. Street, of Clackamas donated scores of beautiful carnations for decorative purposes. The show will end tomorrow night with a programme, and Miss Reatha Fowler, of Portland, will sing. There will be other attractive numbers and the programme will conclude with a battle of roses. The awards for exhibits were: Best six red roses—Mrs. N. R. Lang, first; Mrs. C. W. Erickson, second; Mrs. J. W. Cole, first; Mrs. Wilson, second. Best six pink roses—Mrs. Clara Morey, first; Mrs. C. E. Latourette, second. Best six white roses—Mrs. J. W.
