WHEN DO TERMS OF OFFICE EXPIRE?

Interesting Point Raised That Affects Many Just Elected.

JULY OR NEXT JANUARY

Friends of District Attorney Manning Maintain He Should Not Be Succeeded Until the First of Next Year.

Under the amendment to the Oregon Constitution adopted June 1, changing the time of the general biennial election from June to November, an interesting constitutional question has been raised. The point involved is whether public officials whose terms of office expire in July relinquish their positions next month or do they continue in office until next January. This technical point in the amendment and the interpretation that has been suggested by friends of District Attorney Manning, who contend that under the provisions of the Constitution, as amended, Mr. Manning can retain the office from Monday, July 6, 1908, until Monday, January 4, 1909. The contention as to Mr. Manning applies also to all state, district and county officers, with the exception of Governor, whose terms of office expire next month.

As amended, Section 14 of Article II of the State Constitution reads as follows: "The regular general biennial election in Oregon for the year 1910 and thereafter shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. All officers except the Governor, elected for a six-year term in 1904 or for a four-year term in 1906, or for a two-year term in 1908, shall continue to hold their respective offices until the first Monday in January, 1911, and all officers, except the Governor, elected at any regular biennial election after the adoption of this amendment shall assume the duties of their respective offices on the first Monday in January following such election."

Friends of District Attorney Manning point out that the section as amended specifically provides that all officers elected to serve until the first Monday in July, 1910, shall hold their respective offices until the first Monday in January, 1911. They then direct attention to the following clause of the amendment: "And all officers, except the Governor, elected at any regular biennial election after the adoption of this amendment shall assume the duties of their respective offices on the first Monday in January following such election."

It is contended by the friends of the District Attorney that Cameron cannot take office before Monday, July 6, that is to say, the District Attorney-elect cannot take office until that date or subsequent to the adoption of the amendment. They allege that the qualification of an officer is just as vital as the election of the officer until that date or subsequent to the adoption of the amendment. They claim that the qualification of an officer is not completed until he has qualified.

This interesting construction of the amendment has been called to the attention of District Attorney Manning, who may decide to avail himself of the situation and have the courts determine his right to hold the office for another six months. Should Mr. Manning conclude not to surrender the office Monday, July 6, he will be up to Mr. Cameron to take the initiative and by a writ of mandamus take the controversy into the courts. In that event it will be necessary for the District Attorney-elect to establish the fact that he was elected prior to the adoption of the amendment. It will be impossible for him to sustain such a contention, mandamus will not be granted to make a negative pleading, hence if Mr. Cameron institutes legal proceedings, he must show that his election preceded the adoption of the amendment in order to force the incumbent of the office to retire.

Affects Many Officials.

Should the contention of District Attorney Manning's friends be supported in the courts, the tenure of office of all state, district and county officials, which would expire on the first Monday in July, would be affected. On the state ticket, however, Justice R. S. Bean, of the Supreme Court; State Dairy and Food Commissioner, J. W. Bailey and Railroad Commissioner, T. K. Campbell and Clyde B. Atchison, all of whom were re-elected, would not be affected. But the technically would extend to all district and county officers whose successors were elected this month. In Multnomah County, Circuit Judge Bronaugh would not be affected, but Circuit Judge Thomas O'Day could retain his office until January before surrendering it to his duly elected successor, Robert G. Morrow.

State Senators elected four years ago would not profit by the condition, since it will be possible for their successors to qualify January 4, or fully a week before the Legislature will convene. Of the Multnomah County officers, the change in the amendment would not affect the following, all of whom were re-elected: Sheriff R. L. Stevens, County Clerk E. S. Folds, Assessor E. D. Sigler, Commissioner W. L. Lightner, County School Superintendent R. F. Robinson, County Treasurer J. M. Lewis, and County Philanthropist, Justice of the Peace Fred L. Olson and Constable Lou Wagner. Only two of these subordinate officials would get the benefit of the additional six months' salary. They are Coroner J. P. Finley and Justice of the Peace William Reid.

CHAPEL AT REFORM SCHOOL

New Brick Structure at Chehalis Dedicated With Due Ceremony.

CHEHALIS, Wash., June 14.—(Special.)—This afternoon the new brick chapel building at the State Training School was dedicated with due ceremony. Between 300 and 400 visitors were present. Appropriate music for the occasion was rendered by the boys' band under direction of Professor Carl Pitzer. Revs. W. J. Dickson, T. S. Frets, O. C. Francis and A. MacKenzie led in the religious portion of the service. The girls of the school also assisted in the musical programme. The principal address was by Warden Charles R. Reed, of the state penitentiary. Up to a few months ago Mrs. Reed was superintendent of the Training School.

CITIES ARE AROUSED

Steps to be Taken to Control Kansas Rivers.

HIGHER WATER COMING

Both Kaw and Missouri Expected to Reach 31 Feet—All Damage Possible Has Already Been Done.

Kaw Falls at Topeka.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 14.—The great Kaw-Missouri flood, which has almost reached its crest, drew hundreds of thousands of sightseers today to the bluffs overlooking the flooded bottoms. The water has done all the damage in its power. The railroad yards have been evacuated; the packing-houses and business establishments have vacated their lower floors; Armourdale has been entirely abandoned by its 12,000 inhabitants, and water is running 12 feet deep in its streets. There is no excitement anywhere, the evicted people having found shelter for themselves and their movable property. There is nothing to do but wait for the tide to run, as the Weather Bureau says it will tomorrow. The weather today was generally fair in the Kaw watersheds, with only a light shower here and there, and this inspired a hopeful feeling. Weather Observer Connor says:

Further Rise Coming.

"A height not to exceed 31 feet will be reached in both rivers. The Missouri was at 30 feet today. The rise of three inches since noon and rising half an inch an hour. The Kaw was 29.4 feet above low water at 6 P. M. and rising at the same rate as the Missouri. It is impossible to predict the duration of the high water or set an hour for its recession because of the weather conditions. Rain is still threatened in the North and West. The Kaw is discharging freely into the Missouri and is expected to fall before the Missouri goes. The Kaw receded seven inches at Topeka last night and continues to fall. At St. Joe the Missouri, which rose yesterday, is now stationary.

Railroads in Trouble.

The Union Station is still above water and will be safe if the rise is eight inches more. The railroads are all moving trains with difficulty, being obliged to detour in every direction. Officials and business men of both Kansas Cities express their determination to put an end to the annual floods.

During the past year the United States government has declared the Kaw a navigable stream. This gives the war department the right to order the removal of the Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific low bridges which obstructed the river and caused the overflow of Armourdale and the stocks yards at high water. One measure proposed is to cut a canal across the point of land where the Missouri makes its big bend to the east. This canal would carry the Missouri overflow from a point above Kansas City to a point several miles below. The city officials of the two Kansas Cities are co-operating in steps to control the rivers.

EVENTS OF COMING WEEK

Chicago Mecca of Politicians.

Of overshadowing importance in this week's news calendar is the Republican National convention, which will meet in Chicago on Tuesday. Chicago as a scene of political activity, however, will not be confined to the Republicans, for on Monday the members of the sub-committee of the Democratic National Committee, appointed to arrange for the Democratic National convention at Denver, will meet in the Illinois metropolis to select temporary officers for the Democratic National convention, and to make other necessary convention arrangements.

During the week Democratic state conventions to name delegates to the Denver convention will be held in Colorado, Tennessee and Mississippi.

Great Religious Gatherings.

The week will also see many religious gatherings. Delegates from a thousand churches will arrive throughout the world to meet in London to attend the Pan-Anglican Congress, the first assembly of its kind ever held. It was called by the Archbishop of Canterbury and, beginning Tuesday, will continue throughout the week. The decennial Lambeth conference of Anglican bishops will begin Monday in London. A religious gathering of note will begin at Louisville, Ky., on Wednesday, at which 200 delegates to the international convention of Sunday schools will meet to participate in the five sessions of the 12th triennial assembly.

Good Roads Convention.

The first National Good Roads Congress will be held in Chicago on Monday.

The battleships Maine and Alabama are due at Honolulu on Wednesday.

ASSEMBLE FOR LONG TRIP

WARSHIPS GATHER IN SAN FRANCISCO HARBOR.

Headed by Flagship Connecticut, Vessels Will Begin Cruise Through Three Oceans to Hampton Roads.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Assembling of the warships of the Atlantic fleet in San Francisco harbor preparatory to the beginning of the long homeward voyage across three great oceans to Hampton Roads has begun. Only nine of the fighting vessels are now in Man-of-War row, but at Mare Island Navy-Yard and in drydock at Hunter Point are on a fighting craft of various kinds, some of them among the number which will make the long voyage.

The ships of the Atlantic fleet now on the Northern Pacific Coast have been ordered to proceed to San Francisco as soon as possible. A departure schedule has been arranged whereby the Georgia will leave Puget Sound on June 16, the Wisconsin on June 22, Illinois June 26, Kentucky June 28, North Carolina June 27, Rhode Island, Virginia and New Jersey on June 28, Kearsarge on June 29.

The protected cruiser St. Louis will leave Puget Sound on June 15 for Honolulu on a practice cruise and will bring Secretary of the Interior Garfield back to the Pacific Coast. The cruiser Charleston and gunboat Yorktown are still at Bremerton, and orders for their future movements have as yet been received.

An interesting experiment is soon to be made when the torpedo destroyers Perry and Preble and the torpedo boat Paragut will be taken in tow by the cruisers Colorado, Pennsylvania and West Virginia and towed to San Diego bay. If the experiment proves a success the little craft of the Pacific fleet will be towed to Honolulu later in the summer.

All the vessels of the Pacific fleet are scheduled to return here tomorrow from San Pedro and other southern harbors. The Pacific squadron will remain in this harbor until after the departure of the Atlantic fleet for Hampton Roads on July 7. It is expected that by July 4 all the vessels of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets will be assembled in San Francisco bay, and the long lines of war vessels in the anchorage grounds will remain unbroken until the morning of July 7, when the Atlantic fleet, headed by the flagship of Admiral Sperry, the Connecticut, will steam out on the first long leg of the trip around two-thirds of the world.

PLOT TO AMBUSH FAILS

WOMEN USE GUNS AND DESPERADOES TAKE TO HEELS.

"Bootleggers" Seek to Capture Clara True, Who Broke up Their Sales of Liquor to Indians.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., June 14.—Miss Clara B. True, superintendent of the Indian Reservation in this county, and who has recently caused the arrest of a number of men and women charged with "boot-legging," or engaging in the illicit sale of liquor to the Indians, is reported to have been ambushed by half a dozen men who are believed to have suffered in her numerous raids. Seven men, all of whom are said to have been engaged in the traffic, are in custody in connection with the affair.

It is said that Miss True, after learning that a plot had been laid to lure her out of the city and murder her at a favorable opportunity, started for Highlands in company with Mrs. Hazel Glenshaw, a Deputy Sheriff. Previously, however, Miss True had enlisted the services of several officers from the army, and they were on duty before the women approached in a buggy. The men in ambush attacked the buggy, but were driven back by a volley from revolvers in the hands of the women. The officers then came to the rescue and captured the entire party.

At the meeting of the Plomogee board of guardians the clerk reported the death of George Smith, who, he stated, had been an inmate of the workhouse for more than 70 years.

RECEIVES THROG OF VISITORS

IN COUNTY JAIL.

Tells Who Kissed Him, How He Was Applauded and Rehearses His Gallows Speech.

CHICAGO, June 14.—(Special.)—The shadow of the gallows has not dimmed the love for applause and heroics in the heart of Herman Billik, the fat Bohemian fortune-teller, who has left the "death chamber" for cell 604 in the County Jail.

Billik was glad to receive visitors today. He had recovered from the shock of escaping a noose around his neck by a reprieve of only a few minutes. In the "bunble room" on the fifth-floor tier of cells he proudly told visitors what persons had kissed him, how loud had been the applause from the other prisoners, how many prayers were to be offered for him, rehearsed the speech he had intended to make on the gallows, and repeated for the hundredth time the story which he has told so often—that he is innocent of the five Vzal deaths, and that Mrs. Emma Vzal Nieman is guilty.

The claim that the intervention of the Federal Court has taken the case out of the jurisdiction of the State Courts, and that the latter tribunal cannot fix another date for the execution, was declared by attorneys to be unsupported by law.

NO VERDICT, REACHED YET

Jury in Barnes Case Cannot Agree, Will Be Discharged.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., June 14.—

The jury in the "Bud" Barnes murder case has thus far failed to reach an agreement, after having been out nearly 36 hours. It retired at 9 o'clock. The jury will probably be discharged tomorrow.

FOR PIMPLES, TOO

New Discovery Cures Eczema and Eradicates Minor Skin Troubles Over Night.

A few months ago the dispensers of poslam, the new discovery for the cure of eczema, decided to allow the druggists of the country to handle it. Previous to that time it could only be obtained direct from the laboratories.

Since this change in the method of distribution, poslam has met with the most phenomenal success of anything introduced to the drug trade in the last 30 years. All the leading druggists, including the Skidmore Drug Co., in Portland are now carrying the special 50-cent size recently adopted, also the $2 jar.

This great success is not surprising when it is remembered that, in eczema cases, poslam stops the itching with first application, proceeds to heal immediately, and cures chronic cases in a few weeks. In minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, acne, herpes, blotches, rash, etc., results show after an overnight application. Experimental samples of poslam are sent to anyone by mail free of charge. Write to the Emergency Laboratories, 82 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City.

START A ROOSEVELT BOOM

Third-Termers Hold Meeting and Lay Preliminary Plans.

CHICAGO, June 14.—A small meeting, which its participants declare will be followed tomorrow by a much larger gathering, was held tonight for the purpose of arranging a plan to present the name of President Roosevelt as a candidate for the Presidency.

Among the delegates at the meeting were Representative Thomas W. Phillips, a delegate from the Twenty-fourth Pennsylvania district, and C. T. Teter, a delegate-at-large, and several prominent men from the Fourth district of West Virginia.

It was stated that on the arrival tomorrow of the Georgia and West Virginia delegations a complete campaign will be arranged. One of the Georgia delegates, it is said, will bring with him a petition bearing between 9,000 and 10,000 signatures from men in the South, urging that President Roosevelt accept a second elective term.

The entire move is said by the more active participants to be favored by the "alikes," who believe that no nomination will be made on the first ballot. The Roosevelt boomers believe some man prominent in the convention, and who have picked Senator Lodge as the man, has a letter from President Roosevelt designed to meet the exact situation they are planning to bring about. They declared tonight that they realized that the reading of this letter "might be prevented," although just as to how this is to be done they were not exactly clear.

DOLLIVER BOOM GROWS

delegates, and Secretary Taft himself has been implored to prevent the nomination of the Iowan.

Taft Needs Mr. Dolliver.

On the other hand it is declared openly that Secretary Taft has expressed a decided preference for Dolliver and this declaration is the most potent factor operating in the Senator's behalf. Counting confidently of having Mr. Bryan as his antagonist, the Secretary is represented as having taken the position that he would need as a running mate a Western man of reform ideas, rather than an Eastern man with reactionary tendencies, and as he has found in Mr. Dolliver the best embodiment of this requirement many of his friends are doing all in their power to promote his candidacy, and they contend that Iowa should not allow her local complications to interfere with the utilization of her favored son in a broader field.

Situation Much Muddled.

Summed up, the Vice-Presidential situation may be said to have been simplified by the efforts of the past 24 hours, and
