

CROWDS AT STARB CHURCH GOES GAM

There Is Din of Drums and Marching Men, But No Old-Time Fervor.

PROMINENT MEN ARRIVE

Judge Williams on Hand With Oregon's Quota - M. H. De Young Heads California Delegation. Hunting Vice - Presidents.

CHICAGO, June 14.—With flags flying, bands playing and crowds singing, the usual Sunday calm of Chicago gave way today to the many noisy demonstrations which usher in a National Convention. State delegations and marching clubs slow in arriving passed into the city throughout the day, and there was incessant din of brass bands, marching men and exploding fun. The broad lake front, along which the headquarters of candidates and state delegations are located, was besieged by the incoming throngs, which choked the hotel lobbies, overflowed into the streets and mingled with the groups of curious onlookers on the broad plaza fronting Lake Michigan.

Ideal Summer Day.

It was an ideal summer day, with bright skies and a cool breeze from the lake, which gave better promise of good convention weather than yesterday. But despite the influx of strangers, there was no excitement, no feeling that the multitude was not as great and the enthusiasm was not as feverish as in times past. It was observed that some of the arriving delegations were limited to a strict business basis, without the usual quota of strong-jugged shouters. This brought the cancellation of hotel rooms in goodly numbers, until some of the large hotels threatened legal proceedings for this unexpected diminution of revenues. But to the veterans of convention battles, the decrease of jargon-power among the arrivals promised the more orderly and business-like convention that had often been wished during the tumultuous proceedings of the past.

Oregon's Grand Old Man.

Although many important conferences were held during the day on candidates and platform, the chief event continued to center on the arriving delegations with their distinguished personnel, and the noisy demonstration which greeted their arrival. The Californians came at noon, headed by M. H. De Young, chairman of the delegation from Oregon, including the venerable George H. Williams, Attorney-General in the Grant Cabinet, now white-haired and 88, but still a busy delegate-at-large, ready to make his choice for President and nomination of Secretary Taft, and also the men from Idaho. The Pennsylvanians were reinforced by two more detachments, one with bands and banners and 300 marchers, and another with Congressman John Dalzell, who hails from the western part of the state and is counted upon to see that tariff revision does not trench too strongly on the traditions of protection. The Hawaiian delegates, six in all, brought their wives, dainty creatures with brown faces and shrinking manner.

Can't Locate John D. Long.

When the Massachusetts delegation arrived there was widespread regret that the veteran figure of Massachusetts public life, ex-Governor John D. Long, was not among the number, having surrendered his place as delegate-at-large to an alternate. The ex-Governor had taken an independent party in the Massachusetts men come without instructions, and this had held out a prospect of interesting developments when Massachusetts made her choice for President and Vice-President. The delegations from Iowa, Montana, Virginia, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and New Mexico, in whole or in part, were among those to arrive during the day.

Sacred Concert by Cannon's Band.

Among other prominent arrivals were Senator Carter, of Montana, and Governor Stewart, of Pennsylvania. Both Low, of New York, was expected, but he will not arrive until tomorrow. Just as the New York delegation holds its first caucus, which may throw a new light on the Presidential situation. The headquarters of the Presidential candidates were full of activity throughout the day. From the veranda of the Cannon headquarters a band performed a sacred concert with occasional lapse into the sultry strains of "Hall Columbia," and much rag-time. The Taft headquarters had the usual throng of visitors, but the formal opening was deferred until the arrival of the Ohio delegation tomorrow when the real enthusiasm will be touched off. The Fairbanks headquarters were radiant with flowers and filled with ladies who accompanied the Indiana party. conspicuous among the Fairbanks workers was George Ade, the author-delegate, who a few years ago was reporting the sensational gatherings for the newspapers. The Knox headquarters had its full share of excitement with two bands and two marching clubs.

Sioux Indians From Pine Ridge.

Among the interesting groups to visit the headquarters was a band of Sioux Indians from the Pine Ridge Agency who had come on under the care of an agent to see the mysteries of the choice of a "great father." But while these scenes were going on before the eyes of all, the more important work of preparation on the platform was being gone over at private conferences of the President elect and the delegates of the various states of the hotels, where few were admitted and little was made known. One of the chief conferences of the day was with the platform, and while this was rather informal it brought about the clear understanding that the document was already drafted in accordance with the views of the President elect and Mr. Taft and would go before the convention in substantially its present form.

Stand Patters Still Active.

A goodly representation of the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives is likely to be on the platform committee, including Representative Payne, of New York, and Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, and their colleague, until he was removed to the Senate, Senator Hopkins. This strong tariff element in the platform committee will probably bring about some consideration of the details of how the work of tariff revision will be taken up by Congress, but it is not likely to vary the plans already matured for conservative revision. The financial plank is also considered outside the bounds of serious controversy, and the main provisions subject to revision are those relating to the "anti-injunction" plank urged by Mr. Gompers and that relating to railroad regulation. It is now generally conceded that Senator Hopkins will be chairman of the platform committee, the only doubt being as to whether the Illinois delegation will select him as a member of the committee, but the sentiment of the delegation tonight was that the choice which will be made tomorrow will fall upon Mr. Hopkins.

Dolliver's Boom Growing.

The Vice-Presidential contest continues to be the most enlivening feature of the preliminary work, and delegates are as much in doubt tonight as at any time since the contest began. The Dolliver element appears to be making the greatest straggle, and the new views on the reports that the Dolliver movement was now assured of success. The friends of other candidates were far from admitting that they began maturing plans for decisive action.

A call for a caucus for the New York delegation was issued for 11 o'clock tomorrow. It is now generally conceded that Senator Hopkins will be chairman of the platform committee, the only doubt being as to whether the Illinois delegation will select him as a member of the committee, but the sentiment of the delegation tonight was that the choice which will be made tomorrow will fall upon Mr. Hopkins.

FULTON SLATED FOR PLACE Favorably Considered as Chairman of Credentials Committee.

CHICAGO, June 14.—It was announced at the Taft headquarters here today that United States Senator William Warner, of Missouri, will be chosen chairman of the convention committee to make notification of the Presidential nominee of his election by the convention; that ex-Governor John F. Hill, of Maine, would be preferred to head the convention committee on permanent organization and that United States Senator Charles W. Fulton, of Oregon, was being most favorably considered for the chairman of the credentials committee.

TURN HUGHES' VOTES TO TAFT After First Ballot New York Plans to Help Secretary.

CHICAGO, June 14.—General Stewart L. Woodford, head of the New York State delegation at large, is said to be prepared to move that the nomination of Taft be made unanimous in the event of his election by the convention, and provided the uninstructed men in the New York State delegation for New York State, after that for a candidate for the National Republican Convention as the candidate of New York for the Presidency and directed us to use all honorable means to secure his nomination. We have accepted the trust and shall present his name.

WILL SEAT SPEER FACTION Colorado Democrats to Declare Partisan Contingent Irregular.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., June 14.—The real interest in the Democratic State Convention, which convenes here tomorrow to elect 10 delegates to the National Convention at Denver, centers in the fight over the contesting delegations from Denver. The adoption of ironclad resolutions binding the Colorado delegation to vote for William J. Bryan for the Presidential nomination, is a foregone conclusion, as no other name is being mentioned in this regard. The Denver contest will be fought out in the credentials committee, according to State Chairman Milton Smith, who, together with a majority of the committee, several months ago decided that the delegation supported by Mayor Speer was regular, and that ex-United States Senator Patterson's contingent was irregular. He says that 40 out of 48 members of the State Committee favor placing the Speer contingent on the temporary roll-call.

FIGHT CERTAIN OVER PLATFORM

Strong Pressure for Modification but Taft Forces Will Stand Firm to Bitter End.

ROOSEVELT KEEPING TAB

Predictions Made That Party's Declaration of Principles Will Go Through, Word for Word, as Approved by the President.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Pressure for platform modification increased today to such an extent that the Taft forces plainly see a contest in the resolution of the convention which promises to be both tenacious and prolonged. This pressure has so far only increased the determination of those directing the Taft movement to assume a more unyielding attitude.

Roosevelt Watches Every Move.

However stern may be the declaration against modification, there is not the slightest disposition to refuse to listen to those who want revision, and this has been the task of Mr. Ellis throughout the day. It is well known that both President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft have been kept informed minutely as to the developments.

Gompers Gets Ellis' Ear.

Mr. Gompers, as a result of the conference of the officials of his organization just concluded here, also presented to Mr. Ellis definite proposals intended to pledge the party to future action which would free organizations from the legal designation and responsibility of trusts.

Favor Postal Savings Banks.

Senator Carter today conferred with the friends of the platform to the advisability of incorporating a plank in advocacy of postal savings banks, with the result that he received practically unanimous approval of the party.

POWERS WELCOMED HOME Crowds Greet Him and Escort Carriage to Courthouse.

BARBOURSVILLE, Ky., June 14.—The news that Caleb Powers had been pardoned by Governor Wilson spread rapidly through the country and large crowds collected at the stations of Pennington Gap, Middleboro, Pineville and other points through which the train passed today.

REFUSES TO CUT SALARIES Philippine Assembly Proposes to Hold Fast to All Sinecures.

MANILA, June 14.—After many extended and apparently hopeless conferences, the Philippine Assembly and the Philippine Assembly have finally arrived at an agreement upon the general appropriation bill, which is believed, both the Commission and the assembly will ratify. The compromise measure appropriates 18,600,000 pesos, the assembly making a concession of nearly 1,500,000 pesos. The appropriations agreed upon in the bill are practically the same as the actual expenditures last year.

No Chance to Realize Hope of Being Chairman.

SPOILS FOR TAFT MEN

Desperate Efforts of Enemies to Control National Committee, Exclude Taft Forces to Enjoy Fruits of Their Labors.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 14.—Senator Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, general manager of the "allies" at Chicago, will not be chosen as permanent chairman of the Republican National convention, nor as chairman of the new National Committee.

TAFT SURE OF THEIR VOTES, ANYHOW.

It is not necessary, in the opinion of Secretary Taft and his friends, to throw a sop to the leaders of the allies in order to induce them to support the Republican ticket in the campaign this fall. They will all vote for Taft, whether he recognizes them or not.

ROOSEVELT HAD HIS COAT OFF.

There was but one thing that might have blocked their game had the "allies" dominated the National committee. At the first sign of difficulty on their part, President Roosevelt would have gone to Chicago and would have taken action which would have routed the "allies" and forced them to recognize merit in all the candidates.

SPILLS GO TO TAFT MEN.

That Taft dominated the Republican National Committee and will dominate the convention was due in no degree to the efforts of Murray Crane or his sympathizers. Taft's victory was gained in spite of the opposition of Crane and the allies.

SAME AS IN OREGON

He came in last night and about midnight gave out another of his justly famous second elective term bulletins. Here is a single paragraph:

Responsibility Is Hitchcock's.

Hitchcock is responsible for the great Cortelyou Presidential myth. He may or may not have had anything to do with the tenacious survival of the unnecessary opinion in Washington that the first duty of Government employees is to give Cortelyou a leg up into a position entirely beyond his deserts or merits.

Judge Williams Feeling Fine.

Judge Williams came in today at noon, five as a fiddle for the convention and the speech seconding it. He will probably make. He had a comfortable journey. He is resting today at the Wellington, where Oregon headquarters have been established, and will appear in the lobbies tomorrow. Dr. Coe got here today, having been eight days on the road through three days' detention at Spokane.
