A Nemo SELF-REDUCING CORSET FOR EVERY STOUT WOMAN

MORE than a million stout women know that the Nemo Self-Reducing is the only corset that will reduce the abdomen with perfect comfort and hygienic safety.

EVERY woman who has worn it knows that the Nemo Self-Reducing Corset is superior to all others in comfort, style and durability—that it is an extraordinary value simply as a corset, saying nothing about its invaluable and exclusive special features.

FOR 1908 we have nine handsome models (three pictured above): a model for every stout woman—tall and stout, short and stout, or just "fat." And there's a price to suit every purse.

At $3.50 The old favorites, Nos. 312 and 314, of which nearly a million pairs were sold in 1907; and for women who want the new "slender-hip" effect are the two new "Flatting-Back" models, Nos. 318 and 320, at the same price.

At $5.50 Somewhat finer are the Mercered Brocaded Corsets, Nos. 516 and 518, the French Coutil Corsets with bust supporters, No. 515; and the beautiful new "Flatting-Back" model, No. 517.

At $10 For women of luxurious tastes, who have paid $15 to $25 for imported corsets, is the superb No. 1000, with "Flatting-Back" and the new "Duplex Straps," at $10. This is the finest corset that can be made—superior in every respect to the best that come from France. It will do wonders for any stout figure, giving it the graceful lines of youth.

RAILROADS TO PUT ON LID

NO DRINKS ON TRAINS IN DRY COUNTIES.

Passenger Department of Harriman Lines Prepares to Comply With Law Passed by Electors.

As a result of the June election, at which so large a part of the state went dry, officials of the Southern Pacific and O. R. & N. are making preparations to put on the lid on Southern Pacific and O. R. & N. trains through the dry counties. No liquor may be sold on trains while they are passing through the dry counties of the state and passengers will be obliged to do without whatever intoxicating beverage they specially favor. From Gregory, on the state line to the south, to Jefferson, where the Southern Pacific crosses into Marion County, the first oasis in this state for north-bound trains, is about 300 miles, requiring almost a day's run. Through all that dreary waste of country, passengers on trains will not be able to get a drop to drink to assuage their raging thirst.

On the O. R. & N. trains it will not be quite so bad, but the drought on that line will be such as to cause thirsty passengers to wish they had never entered the state. Portland-bound, their last drink after entering the state may be taken in Baker County until they reach the friendly soil of Wasco County, where prohibition has not yet taken root. Two big generous counties in the interior of the state, Lake and Harney, would be a Godsend to thirsty travelers if they were only on the line of the railroads. Although they cover a good deal of the southern half of the state, they do not help any because the railroads do not touch them.

The passenger department of the two Harriman lines is preparing to have printed on the menu cards in the diners on both lines that drinks cannot be served on board trains while passing through the dry counties. The same plan is followed in the East when dry states are crossed by railroads. Passengers avoid the desolating effects of this regulation, however, by buying a sufficient quantity of wet goods before the lid is clapped on to last them until the train rolls into a state where the saloons have not yet been banished and the blanket of prohibition spread over the state.

The railroads cannot do otherwise than comply with the law in regard to selling liquor in dry territory and the passengers must abide by the restrictions. As the new regulation goes into effect throughout the Oregon counties, which voted themselves dry, on July 1, plans are now being made by the railroads to prevent liquor being served on board trains while passing through the dry counties after that date.

LABOR UNIONS DRAFT BILL

WILL ASK FOR EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY LAW.

Measure to Be Presented to Legislature May Also Prohibit Discrimination Against Union Men.

A bill for an employers' liability law will be presented to the Oregon Legislature next winter by the trades unions of this city. Organized labor is now having the proposed bill drafted by C. E. S. Wood, of this city, and the influence of the combined labor unions of the state will be brought to secure its favorable consideration by the lawmakers. Trades unionists have for some time complained that the laborer is not afforded adequate protection under the laws of the state and they propose, by the enactment of the bill they are having drafted, to provide that protection. While the point has not been decided finally, it is possible a provision will be incorporated in the measure by which employers will be prohibited from making any discrimination against union men. It is charged by organized labor that, under the present system many of the large employers of labor refuse absolutely to employ men that are affiliated or are in sympathy with labor unions. In this respect it is intended to make the bill similar to the laws of several other states, where it is made a penitentiary offense for employers to make the joining or withdrawal from any organization a condition of employment. Such conditions are objected to by the representatives of the labor organizations on the ground that they are an unwarranted restriction of individual rights.
