Nothing Is So Conductive

To commercial expansion as rational fixed policies. Sound principles in business inspire public confidence and promote progress and prosperity. We are now passing through the most prosperous period in our history, a condition undoubtedly due to the simple but effective policy of supplying just the merchandise wanted, just when it is wanted, at just the price one wants to pay.

TELECON IS THE LIFE

SAYS E. G. LINSTEAD AFTER BEING CURED BY J. A. LARSON.

Science of Vibration Makes Sufferer From Constipation and Torpid Liver a Well Man.

"Telecon is the life, just as James Austin Larson claims it is," said E. G. Linstead who is employed by the St. John Lumber Company, as he emerged from the apartments at the Oregon Hotel of James Austin Larson, the Telecon expert.

Linstead was asked what Telecon is, a question that is upon the lips of hundreds of Portland people at this time.

"It has certainly put new life into me," continued Mr. Linstead. "For eight years I have been a constant sufferer from constipation and torpid liver. Now I am a new man altogether, all due, I am positive, to the wonderful treatment they call Telecon."

"During all the time of my indisposition, it has been necessary for me to take strong medicines every day and yet then my head was constantly heavy and I was dull and listless and my body was so numb that I was in mortal fear of paralysis. Now, my head is clear and my mind active. The dull, heavy feeling in my body is gone and I am just as energetic as I was before."

"Telecon works quickly and surely. As a cure for such troubles as afflicted me, it is all that is claimed for it and I am glad to endorse it publicly. I have full belief in the treatment. My belief is based upon a successful trial of it."

One only needs to listen to Mr. Linstead's story to be impressed with the fact that Telecon is equal to all the claims that have been made for it by its distinguished originator, James Austin Larson. It is a cure for every disease of the liver, his treatment, sooner or later, will receive universal recognition in the curing of every prevalent complaint.

One thing is certain, and that is that a lot of Portland people are trying Telecon and all those who have been inter-treated have nothing but the warmest words of commendation for the scientific science of vibration.

You cannot but be impressed with the scientific of this man. It is just this quality in his make-up that gives thinking people confidence in him and his claims. If, as Mr. Linstead claims, Mr. Larson is a man of science, a torpid liver, his treatment, sooner or later, will receive universal recognition in the curing of every prevalent complaint.

Fond Father Fills in Birth Certificate

Martin Marks Informs Public That His Only Child, 'Baby on Earth' Has Arrived at His Home.

"The sweetest baby on earth" has arrived at the home of Martin Marks, 551 Johnson street, according to information filed at the office of City Health Officer Pohl yesterday.

Among the birth certificates filed yesterday was one which notified the world that Sylvia Caroline had reached the Marks' residence safe and sound, June 3. Evidently the fond father had filled in the blank and on the "remarks" these words were found:

"The sweetest baby on earth."

"The smallest baby on earth."

"How much did it weigh?" asked Mayor Larue.

"It was not the 'smallest' but the 'sweetest' baby," it was explained to his honor, who, having practiced medicine for 20 years, said faintly:

When this baby arrived on terra firma Dr. Large was not in attendance. Dr. George F. Wilson, however, was on the scene.
